

“I’d Almost Forgotten You” November 5, 1917

As World War I raged, Government officials had little time to think about local and state elections. In this cartoon, the god of war looks on while Uncle Sam peruses reports on the war. A small, almost overlooked figure, representing the voter, interrupts Uncle Sam with a reminder of the impending November elections.

*U.S. Senate Collection
Center for Legislative Archives*

From the Exhibit:
*Running for Office:
Candidates, Campaigns and the Cartoons of Clifford K. Berryman*

The National Archives &
Records Administration
<http://www.archives.gov>