(2) NARA administrative records. 36 CFR 1250 contains the FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for NARA administrative records made by members of the public that either explicitly or implicitly invoke the FOIA. (See fig. 1-6.)

(3) OPM records. 36 CFR 1258 contains the fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for OPM records made by members of the public that either explicitly or implicitly invoke the FOIA. (See fig. 1-6.)

d. Fee waivers. Fee waivers apply only to requests for DoD and NARA administrative records. EXCEPT THOSE FROM COMMERCIAL USE REQUESTERS, the first 100 copies and/or the first two hours of searching are without charge. In addition, there is an automatic waiver of fees if they are calculated to be less than $15.00 for DoD records, or less than $10.00 for NARA records. Multiple requests from a single requester or from those acting in behalf of a single requester in an effort to take advantage of a waiver of fees may create a situation in which the waiver should be denied. Such cases should be brought to the attention of NRPC.

CHAPTER 2. INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAIL READERS

1. Responsibilities. Mail readers perform the initial reading of an inquiry to determine if it is chargeable or potentially chargeable. The inquiry is then coded and routed to the appropriate action element.
2. Routing inquiries with remittance. Inquiries containing checks, money orders, cash, or other valuable enclosures are immediately routed to the fee clerk with the remittance attached. This action is taken in all cases, whether or not the inquiry is chargeable.
3. Routing chargeable inquiries. For inquiries which are determined to be chargeable/potentially chargeable (including FOIA requests), and which DO NOT include remittance, COMPLETE PART I OF NA FORM 13115. Attach form to inquiry. Code and route to appropriate action element.

CHAPTER 3. INSTRUCTIONS FOR PERSONNEL RESPONDING TO REQUESTS

1. Responsibilities. Center personnel who prepare responses to inquiries perform a review of the inquiry to determine if charges are required. Inquiries determined to be chargeable are routed through the fee desk, NCPCO M, for processing. The only exceptions are those inquiries received from the Research Room. These are delivered back to the Research Room attendant.
2. Completion of NA Form 13115. If it is determined that an inquiry is chargeable, complete Part I, if not already completed, and Part II of NA Form 13115. Route NA Form 13115 and the response to the inquiry to the fee clerk. Inquiries from the Research Room, determined to be chargeable, also require completion of NA Form 13115.
3. Nonchargeable inquiries. If it is determined that an inquiry is NOT chargeable, and an NA Form 13115 has been attached by the mailroom and shows no remittance has been received, the NA Form 13115 shall be destroyed and the case shall be processed as a normal non fee inquiry. DO NOT send the reply through the fee clerk.

CHAPTER 4. INSTRUCTIONS FOR FEE CLERK

1. Responsibilities. The fee clerk is responsible for:
  - a. Making fee determinations;
  - b. Returning inquiry to requester for additional information if necessary to identify records subject to fee charges;
  - c. Controlling remittances received and maintaining billing files and various logs;
  - d. Sending all fees collected to NCPMO-M for deposit;
  - e. Notifying supervisor of requesters who repeatedly fail to respond to billing notification;
  - f. Sending tracers to the appropriate branch for follow-up actions;
  - g. Generating delinquency report on the first of each month; and
  - h. Sending follow-up billings with assessed late charges.
2. Fee schedules.
  - a. DoD records. There are two fee schedules applicable to DoD records. These are:
    - (1) User Charges. 32 CFR 204 contains the User Charges which are used to determine the cost of services rendered to the public. (See fig. 4-2.)
    - (2) FOIA fee schedule. The FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for DoD records is shown in fig. 1-6.
  - b. NARA administrative records. The FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for NARA records is shown in fig. 1-6.
  - c. OPM records. The FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for OPM records is shown in fig. 1-6.
  - d. U.S. Courts of Appeals, U.S. District Courts, and U.S. Bankruptcy Courts records. The fees for these records are as follows: $ .50 per copy; $2.00 for authentication/certification (whether the certification is applied onto the document or a separate instrument).

3. Fee operation forms. The fee clerk primarily uses three forms to process fee cases. These are:

a. NA Form 13115. This form is used by the Center to control fee cases. (See fig. 1-4.)

(1) Inquiry received with remittance. If the inquiry is received with a remittance, prepare NA Form 13115 in duplicate, completing Part I and partially completing Part III. Follow procedures for deposits in subpar. 5a. Original of form accompanies inquiry to appropriate action element. Place copy of form in suspense file. EXCEPTION: If inquiry is received with a remittance to cover ONLY Federal Express charges, NA Form 13115 is not prepared.

(a) Case returned from action element. When the case is returned to the fee clerk with Part II of NA Form 13115 completed, pull the suspense file copy. The remainder of Part III is then completed. The fee clerk uses the form to show fee calculations and document appropriate actions. If a refund is NOT indicated, the duplicate copy of the form is destroyed.

(b) Case not returned from action element. A response with an NA Form 13115 should be returned to the fee clerk. If not received within 45 days, send tracer to the appropriate action element to inquire about the status of the case. After an additional 30 days, if the response and NA Form 13115 have not been routed to the fee clerk, a note will be forwarded through the Branch Chief, NCPCO, and the Assistant Director to the appropriate office.

(c) Case completed. When the case is completed, file NA Form 13115, with related information, by the deposit/refund number. See par. 14 for retention of documents.

(2) Inquiry received without remittance. An original NA Form 13115 will be initiated by the mailroom or appropriate action element and forwarded to the fee clerk with the response. No copy of the form is needed. Part III is completed by the fee clerk showing fee calculations and documenting appropriate action.

b. NA Form 13048, Fee Information Reply. This form is used to respond to the requester. Copies are maintained by the fee clerk to control pending payments. (See fig. 4-3.1.) REMINDER: When using the form for an initial billing, enter the current rate of interest for assessing late charges.

c. GSA Form 687, Register of Remittances Received. This form is used to record deposits of remittances received and refunds. Each register is assigned a number, and each entry on the register is also numbered in sequential order. The combination of these numbers becomes the control number for each transaction. (See fig. 4-3.2.)

(1) Deposits. Complete form on a daily basis to document deposit of remittances received. Checks and money orders are submitted to MPR fee clerk along with GSA Forms 687 every Thursday.

(2) Refunds. A separate GSA Form 687 is prepared on a daily basis, as needed, to list refunds. Duplicate copies of NA Form 13115 documenting the corresponding refund actions are delivered to NCPS (Budget) with GSA Forms 687 with the weekly deposit.

(3) Federal Express. A separate register is prepared for Federal Express deposits.

4. No charges for services and remittance received.

a. Less than $15.00 cash or any amount check or money order received. Check appropriate blocks on NA Form 13048 and return the remittance to the requester. Retain copy of completed NA Form 13048 for file. Probe Registry File (if appropriate), code inquiry, and route to action element for processing. Annotate on the request that the remittance was returned.

b. $15.00 or more in cash received. Convert cash to a money order at the RAC Credit Union as soon as possible. Prepare NA Form 13115 in duplicate. Check "Deposit" and annotate deposit number and date of action. Also check "Refund" and annotate the amount refunded, the refund control number, and the date of the action. List the deposit and the refund on separate GSA Forms 687. Attach copy of NA Form 13115 to refund register. Complete NA Form 13048 to notify the requester of the refund. File original NA Form 13115 and copy of NA Form 13048 in completed file. Probe Registry File (if appropriate), code inquiry, and route to action element for processing. Annotate on the request that the remittance was refunded.

5. Charges for services and remittance received.

a. Correct remittance received. The amount of the remittance received covers the charges. Deposit of remittance is required. List deposit on GSA Form 687. Prepare NA Form 13115 in duplicate. Check "Deposit" and annotate deposit number and date of action. File copy of NA Form 13115 in suspense file until case is returned from action element. Upon return, complete NA Form 13048 in duplicate. Transmit reply to requester using original NA Form 13048. Annotate on NA Form 13115 that case is completed. File copy of response with NA Form 13115 in completed file.

b. Remittance received in excess of charges. The amount of the remittance received is in excess of charges. A refund is required if remittance exceeds charges by more than $1.00. In Part III of NA Form 13115, check "Refund" and annotate the amount refunded, the refund control number, and the date of the action. List the refund on GSA Form 687. Attach a copy of NA Form 13115 to refund register. Complete NA Form 13048 in duplicate indicating refund. Transmit reply to requester using original NA Form 13048. Annotate on NA Form 13115 that case is completed. File copy of response with NA Form 13115 in completed file.

c. Inadequate remittance. The amount received DOES NOT cover charges. A billing is required if the amount due exceeds $1.00. In Part III of NA Form 13115, check "Billing" and annotate the amount due and the date of action. Complete NA Form 13048 in duplicate indicating fee. Transmit reply to requester using original NA Form 13048. File copy of reply with NA Form 13115 in suspense file. When payment is received, follow procedures for deposit of remittance as outlined in subpar. 5a. above. If payment is not received within 30 days, the case becomes delinquent and an interest penalty is assessed. (See par. 10.)

6. Charges for services and no remittance received. A billing is required. Follow billing procedures as outlined in subpar. 5c. above.

7. Processing of remittance in response to billing. Retrieve NA Form 13115 from suspense file. Check "Payment Received" and annotate the deposit number and date. Deposit remittance as stated in subpar. 5a. Annotate on NA Form 13115 that case is completed. File NA Form 13115 and related material in completed file.

8. Blank checks. Blank checks received with requests are returned to the requester along with NA Form 13048 indicating that blank checks are not accepted. If the request is later determined to be a fee case, the requester will be charged when the response is sent.

9. Checks returned due to insufficient funds. When a check that was a payment for a fee case is returned due to insufficient funds, the fee clerk sends a notice and a photocopy of the returned check to the requester informing them that the check was returned. When a replacement check is received, the fee clerk annotates on GSA Form 687 with other deposits.
10. Interest penalty on delinquent fee cases. Review monthly delinquent report to identify payments which are delinquent; i.e., unpaid after 30 days of original billing notice.
- Second billing. Thirty days after the initial billing, send a second NA Form 13048. The second billing notice, if sent to other than a local, state, or Federal agency, will reflect a new amount due consisting of the unpaid fee, an interest penalty charge, and a $15.00 administrative fee (late charge). The current interest penalty is 6% of the unpaid fee.
  - Third billing. If the fee remains unpaid thirty days after the second billing notice, a third billing notice will be sent. The new amount due will be the amount due from the second billing plus another interest penalty (currently 6% of the original unpaid fee).
  - Further action needed. All fee cases which have an original fee of more than $15.00, and are delinquent thirty days after the third billing notice, are forwarded to NCPS (Budget) for further action. Those involving unpaid fees of $100.00 or more will be sent to NAJ for referral to a collection agency. If the unpaid fee is less than $100.00, a letter denying future service, pending receipt of the delinquent fee, will be sent to the requester. The fee clerk will be notified of the action taken.
- NOTE: Interest and late charges may be added to delinquent fees only if the revised NA Form 13048 (10/92 edition) was used for the original billing.
11. Payment in advance. There are certain types of inquiries for which NPRC requires either full or partial payment BEFORE FURNISHING THE REQUESTED INFORMATION.
- Partial payment. Rosters (usually of CCC or WPA workers) are sometimes requested for conducting historical research for organizing reunions or for similar reasons. Requests for rosters are identified in the mailroom and are routed directly to the Chief, Civilian Reference Branch. A response is sent to the requester, stating the following:

This Center has in its custody some rosters for certain organizations and certain periods. Copies of available rosters may be furnished if you are able to provide the geographical location and the complete organizational designation of the organization that created it. (Without such information, we cannot locate the desired record.)

It is necessary for us to charge a fee for furnishing this type of service, since locating the roster requires extensive research and processing time. Time is also required to delete restricted personal information from the photocopies provided. We are unable to predict the exact cost of servicing your request, since most roster cases take many hours to complete.

If you wish us to service your request, please return your request to us with a check for $_____, payable to the National Personnel Records Center. Any difference between your payment and the actual charges will be refunded or billed to you, as appropriate.

We must also caution that roster requests have a low priority at this Center, since our primary function is to process requests pertaining to Federal employees' personnel records. As a result, you should not expect a response to your request for several weeks.
  - Full payment. Full payment is required for delinquent accounts. Occasionally, frequent users of NPRC's services (usually insurance companies) fail to pay outstanding debt(s). The fee clerk should be aware of such offenders by reviewing the delinquent report and should bring any subsequent requests from them to the attention of the supervisor. If the supervisor determines that the inquiry should be returned, transmit the inquiry by checking the appropriate block on NA Form 13048.
12. Fee cases involving reference service at both CPR and MPR. Fee case charges/refunds are controlled by the fee clerk who initiates the action.
- Referral of fee case to MPR. Some requests identified as fee cases at CPR are referred to MPR for completion. NA Form 13115, with fee charges for CPR services annotated, are attached to inquiry and referred to MPR fee clerk. The case and form are completed and sent to CPR fee clerk who suspends the case for collection.
  - Referral of fee case from MPR. Some requests identified as fee cases at MPR are referred to CPR for completion. Equivalent procedures as outlined in a, above, apply. The CPR fee clerk checks the 9700 Page address block on the NA Form 13048 sent to the requester.
13. Audits. An administrative audit is conducted semiannually by NCPS (Budget). The results of these audits are submitted to the Center Director.
14. Retention of documents. Documents maintained in connection with the fee systems are cut off annually at the end of the fiscal year, then destroyed 3 years from date of cut off. The authority for this is contained in the General Records Schedules, GRS 6, Item 4.

CHAPTER 5. INSTRUCTIONS FOR RESEARCH ROOM

- Responsibilities. The Research Room attendant is responsible for: advising visitors that the service provided may be chargeable under the NPRC fee system; charging and collecting the required fees; and delivering fees to the fee clerk on a daily basis.
- Advising visitor of fee system. Inform visitor, as soon as possible, that the service requested may/will be chargeable under the NPRC fee system. Also advise that the fee is payable as soon as the service is provided, unless other arrangements have been made. Payment may be made by any of the following methods: exact amount of cash, or check or money order made out to the National Personnel Records Center.
- Chargeable services. The Research Room attendant will use figs. 1-2, 1-6, and 4-2 to verify if services are chargeable and determine the appropriate fee. Normally, fees will be charged for services provided to investigative agents employed by private industry and private researchers or historians (those not under contract to, or employed by, a government agency).
- Processing fee cases.
  - Correspondence section involvement. If it is determined by correspondence personnel that the service provided requires charging a fee, Parts I and II of NA Form 13115 will be completed and attached to the requested documents and then delivered to the Research Room. When delivery is made, the Research Room attendant shall make a copy of the original signed request form and give the original to the branch representative for filing in the record.
  - Determining fee. From the information provided on the NA Form 13115, the Research Room attendant will determine the total fee and will annotate Part III of the form. Prepare an original and two copies of NA Form 13048. Check the first block and fill in the total fee for services rendered.

- c. Payment received. If the fee is paid, place into a small envelope, seal, and write the amount of remittance received on the outside of the envelope. Date and initial all copies of the NA Form 13048 and print the word "PAID" across the front of the form. The original of this form is given to the visitor, along with any documents provided. The first copy is stapled to the cash envelope and the NA Form 13115 and hand carried to the fee clerk. The second copy is retained in the Research Room for one year.
- d. Payment not received. If payment is not received, secure a mailing address from the individual. Check the first block on NA Form 13048 and complete the form. Advise the requester that if payment is not received in thirty days, a second billing notice will be mailed to his/her address and interest and late charges will be assessed. The original NA Form 13048 is given to the visitor with requested documents. The first and second copies of this form, along with the NA Form 13115, are routed to the fee clerk. Annotate the NA Form 13115, "Remittance Not Received. Billing notice issued to requester."

CHAPTER 6. FEE DESK RELATED DUTIES OF OTHERS

1. Mailroom Lead. The mail room lead shall receive and safeguard all fee desk remittances receive including cash and checks. The Mailroom lead shall receive checks by logging the checks in a ledger indicating amount, check number, date and remitter. The Mailroom lead shall safeguard checks by placing them in a locked container (key lock is sufficient) until delivery to the fee desk clerk. The Mailroom lead shall annotate the log when the checks have been transferred to the fee clerk. From receipt until deposit all checks shall be in the control of the mailroom lead or the fee clerk. Checks shall not be left unattended on desks.
2. Fee Clerk Supervisor. To help prevent fraud or errors the fee desk clerk supervisor shall review and audit all deposits before submission of the Fee Deposit to the Federal Reserve. The supervisor shall verify the accuracy of the deposit and shall sign the deposit in addition to the Fee Clerk. Periodical the supervisor shall verify the checks attached to the deposit match against the check/remittance log in the mail room.

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Authority. Various authorities provide for the charging of fees for reproduction and authentication of records. These include the Code of Federal Regulations, 32 CFR, Parts 204 and 286; and 36 CFR, Parts 1250 and 1258.
2. System requirements. The fee operation requires the knowledge and use of the NARA Order Fulfillment and Accounting System Training Guide (POS), NPRC's Fee Assessment Program, Billing List Application, Case Management and Reporting System, and Task.
3. Chargeable services. Every employee should be familiar with the types of chargeable services routinely provided by the National Personnel Records Center. Fig. 1-3 lists these services
4. Nonchargeable services. Certain services are excluded or excepted from charges. Examples of such services are provided in fig. 1-4.
5. Control of fee cases. The Case Management and Reporting System (CMRS) is used to report and control fee cases within the Center. Accurate assessment of fees requires cooperation from all Center employees involved in the processing of fee cases including mailroom personnel, all personnel responding to requests, and the fee clerks located in the Research Room.
6. General rules.
  - a. Evidence of EVERY inquiry pertaining to a record must be entered in that record. This information is absolutely necessary for proper determination of fee cases.
  - b. In chargeable cases, either the request or the tracer, but not both, is chargeable.
  - c. Only one copy of each requested document will be sent to a requester at any one time.
  - d. Inquiries from military and other federal agencies, including congressional offices, are not subject to fees. In addition, state and local government agencies, as well as foreign governments, are not charged fees.
  - e. Requesters listed as "routine uses" in the latest revision of NPRC 1865.16, Release and access guide for military personnel and related records at NPRC, are not subject to fees.
7. The Freedom of Information Reform Act of 1986.
  - a. Effect on fees. The Freedom of Information Reform Act (FOIA) of 1986 required agencies to completely change their fee schedules for services related to processing FOIA requests, as well as the criteria for waiving these fees. As a result, there are very few situations in which a fee will be chargeable.
  - b. Categories of requesters. Charges for FOIA requests are based on the category of the requester. Each request must be analyzed to determine the category of the requester. The FOIA identifies requesters in the following categories: commercial use requesters, educational institution requesters, news media representative requesters, non commercial scientific institution requesters, and all other requesters. To assist in determining the category of the requester the following definitions shall be used:
    - (1) Commercial use requester. One who is seeking information for a use or purpose that furthers the commercial, trade, or profit interest of the requester or the person on whose behalf the request is made.
    - (2) Educational institution requester. A preschool, a public or private elementary or secondary school, an institution of undergraduate higher education, an institution of graduate higher education, an institution of professional education, and an institution of vocational education, which operates a program or programs of scholarly research. The request must serve the scholarly research goals of the institution or school rather than the individual goals of the requester. A request from a student in furtherance of the completion of a course of instruction does not qualify as an educational institution request.

(3) News media representative requester. Any person actively gathering news for an entity that is organized and operated to publish or broadcast news to the public.

(4) Non commercial scientific institution requester. An institution that is not operated on a basis that furthers the commercial, trade, or profit interests of any person or organization, and which is operated solely for the purpose of conducting scientific research, the results of which are not intended to promote any particular product or industry.

(5) All other requesters. Any person who does not fit into any of the above categories.

c. FOIA fee schedules are listed in fig. 4-2.2.

- Services requested by donors with respect to their gifts.
- Requests for occasional and incidental services (including requests from residents of foreign countries), that are not requested often, when it is determined administratively that a fee would be inappropriate for the occasional and incidental services.

- Administrative services provided by reference or reading rooms to inspect public records, excluding copies of records or documents furnished.
- Requests for military locator service by financial organizations that are located on DoD installations.

Requests for military locator service by financial organizations that are engaged in the direct deposit program and that are not located on DoD installations. Requests for an address of record shall include the following:

- A statement that the financial organization is listed as a direct deposit recipient in the current U.S. Treasury Bureau of Accounts, "Financial Organizations Directory."
- A statement that the individual, whose address is being requested, has his or her pay forwarded as a direct deposit by a DoD disbursing officer.
- The individual's financial organization's account number.

Services rendered in response to requests for classification review of DoD classified records, submitted under Executive Order 12065 and implemented by 32 CFR part 159. Such services consist of the work performed in conducting the classification review or in granting and completing an appeal from a denial of declassification following such review.

Services of a humanitarian nature performed in such emergency situations as life-saving transportation for non-U.S. Armed Forces patients, search and rescue operations, and airlift of personnel and supplies to a disaster site. This does not mean that inter- and intra-Governmental agreements to recover all or part of costs should not be negotiated. Rather, it means the recipient or beneficiary will not be assessed a "user charge."

CHAPTER 2. INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILROOM PERSONNEL

1. Responsibilities. Mailroom personnel entering CMRS data determine if a case is chargeable or potentially chargeable.
2. Fee Case flag. For new requests which are determined to be chargeable/potentially chargeable (including FOIA requests), the Fee Case Flag is checked in CMRS (Request Information). A checkmark (flag) indicates that the request is a fee case or requester included cash/check/money order with a NEW request. These requests will require fee clerk action before the request can be closed.

NOTE: DO NOT enter as a request if the remittance was received as a result of a previous NPRC billing notice.

3. Overnight Delivery flag. If the request is accompanied by a payment for overnight delivery via Federal Express (FedEx), check the box for Overnight Delivery.
4. Receipt of cash, checks, or money orders. Insert cash, check, or money order in a plain white envelope. Write the CMRS Request Number on the front of the envelope. Place sealed envelope in the out box designated for the Fee Desk in the mailroom manager's office.

If cash, check, or money order is accompanied by NA Form 13048, Fee Information Reply, or reference is made in the correspondence that the fees enclosed are for payment of services, place the payment with accompanying correspondence in the white envelope.

CHAPTER 3. INSTRUCTIONS FOR PERSONNEL RESPONDING TO REQUESTS AND SUPPORT STAFFS

1. Responsibilities. Personnel who prepare responses to inquiries perform a review of the inquiry to determine if charges are required. If it is determined that the request is a fee case, check to be sure the Fee Case Flag is checked in CMRS in Request Information. If the Fee Case Flag was checked in error, DO NOT remove the check mark. Once the case is completed, the case needs to be routed through the Fee Desk for possible refund. If the response to the case is to be sent via Federal Express (FedEx), the Overnight Delivery box must also be checked in Request Information.
2. Personnel responding to requests.
  - a. Complete the case and Response Information with the number of copies, amount of time expended on the case, and check Fee Seal Flag, if appropriate. Update Request Note with comments indicating service rendered or verification of information needed to determine fee case status; e.g., "legal copies of (registry number) prepared - sent for certification," or "called and copies are for adverse attorney."
  - b. When sending a fee case to the Support Staff, be sure to identify it clearly as a fee case so that it will be handled appropriately. Staple an OF-41, Routing and Transmittal Slip, to the flap of the mailing envelope. DO NOT SEAL ENVELOPE. In the remarks section of OF-41, write in large letters "FEE CASE-RESEARCH ROOM." Be sure to attach the bar code. This includes FedEx envelopes.
3. Support Staffs. Wand the case In Dispatch. Do not put the envelope in a blue bin. Responses to fee requests must go first to the Fee Desk in the Research Room before they can go to Outgoing Mail. This applies to all FedEx mailers as well as manila envelopes. Depending on the urgency, Support Staff may hand-carry the response directly to the Fee Desk or place it in one of the brown "messenger" envelopes addressed to the Research Room. DO NOT send or deliver records to the Fee Desk.

CHAPTER 4. INSTRUCTIONS FOR FEE OPERATION

1. Responsibilities. The Research Room attendant assigned to the fee operation is responsible for:
  - a. Returning fees when no charges are assessed;
  - b. Making fee determinations on fee cases;
  - c. Controlling remittances received and maintaining billing system files and various logs;
  - d. Updating reporting systems;
  - e. Sending fees and supporting documents collected for the Trust Fund for deposit;
  - f. Sending fees and supporting documents collected for Federal Express mailings for deposit;
  - g. Sending or delivering copies of deposits and supporting documentation to appropriate offices;
  - h. Preparing documentation for refunds;
  - i. Sending or delivering copies of refunds and supporting documentation to appropriate offices;
  - j. Notifying supervisor of requesters who repeatedly fail to respond to billing notification;
  - k. Generating delinquency report on the first of each month;
  - l. Sending follow up billings with assessed late charges; and
  - m. Advising visitors to the Research Room that service may be chargeable. Charging and collecting fees from visitors.
2. Fee schedules. There are two fee schedules applicable to DoD records and one applicable to requests for NARA administrative records.
  - a. User Charges. 32 CFR 204 contains the User Charges which are used to determine the cost of services rendered to the public for DoD records. (See fig. 4-2.1.)
  - b. FOIA fee schedules. (See fig. 4-2.2.)

(1) DoD records. 32 CFR 286 contains the FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for DoD records made by members of the public that either explicitly or implicitly invoke the FOIA.

(2) NARA administrative records. 36 CFR 1250 contains the FOIA fee schedule which is used to determine the cost of processing requests for NARA administrative records made by members of the public that either explicitly or implicitly invoke the FOIA.

3. Fee waivers. For all FOIA requests, EXCEPT THOSE FROM COMMERCIAL USE REQUESTERS, the first 100 copies and/or the first two hours of searching are without charge. In addition, there is an automatic waiver of fees if they are calculated to be less than $15.00 for DoD records, or less than $10.00 for NARA records. Multiple requests from a single requester or from those acting in behalf of a single requester in an effort to take advantage of a waiver of fees may create a situation in which the waiver should be denied. Such cases should be brought to the attention of NRPM.

4. Fee application programs and reporting systems.

a. NPRC's Fee Assessment Program. This is an NPRC application program developed to record all actions required in the fee operation and create necessary forms and reports. To access the program, click on the Fee Desk icon on the PC desktop. Instructions for using the program can be found under Help (Fee Desk Procedures)

b. NARA Order Fulfillment and Accounting System (POS). POS is an acronym for Point of Sale transaction. This is a NARA based system that is used to record billing actions that meet specific criteria. To meet the criteria the payment must be for the exact amount of the first billing and all actions must be completed within thirty (30) days (including the receipt of payment). All other payments (advance deposits, FedEx, those including interest and fees) and refunds are not processed using this system. Customers that normally meet this criteria are private companies that review records in the Research Room.

To access the program, use the PC in Research Room that is dedicated for the POS program. Reference the NARA Order Fulfillment and Accounting System (POS) Training Guide for instructions on using this program or the Help button in the program.

c. Billing List Application. This is an NPRC application program developed to track billings for private companies that review records in the Research Room. This program is used as an initial step to record activity by these customers. To access the program, click on the Billing List icon. Instructions for using the program can be found under File and Application Documentation.

If the bill is paid within thirty (30) days, the action is further documented using POS. If the customer does not pay the bill within 30 days, the action is recorded using the Fee Assessment Program.

d. Case Management and Reporting System (CMRS). CMRS is used to record and track all fee cases within the Center. The fee clerk checks this system by the case reference number to be sure appropriate fields referencing fees have been populated with correct information and makes changes as needed. (See Chapters 2 and 3.)

Information recorded in CMRS (copies and time) are used to calculate and document charges. The fee clerk creates Notes in CMRS documenting actions taken. Upon completion, the status of the case is changed from "In Dispatch" to "Fee Work Done" and then to "Closed." The fee clerk then wands out the case.

e. TASK. The Task reporting system is used to record the number of Trust Fund photocopies and certifications for MPR's fee operation.

5. Types of fee operation actions. The following are the different types of actions requiring fee desk processing. Instructions for processing these actions are located in Fee Desk Procedures and the Billing List Application.

a. Returned money. A remittance received with a request that is not chargeable and needs to be returned to the requester.

b. Payment in cash. A remittance received in cash that may or may not relate to a chargeable case. NOTE: Cash must be converted to a money order.

c. Advanced deposit. A remittance received with a request that is chargeable and needs to be deposited.

d. Billings (new request). A new request received at the Center that is chargeable. The case has been completed and requires billing action.

e. Additional billings. A request that was received with an advanced deposit. The case has been completed and results in additional charges to the requester (exceeding the amount received).

f. Delinquent account. Bill not paid within 30 days and the balance is over $15.00.

g. 2nd and 3rd billings. Subsequent billing actions taken with penalties and interest when payment has not been received in 30 days and 60 days, respectively, after original bill was sent.

h. Payment received. A remittance received from a customer as a result of a billing notice.

i. Deposits. Remittance received and sent forward to the Federal Reserve Bank.

j. Refund. Amount owed to a customer as the result of fees collected that exceed the amount of the billing.

- k. Federal Express mailings. Remittance received from customer to have the response sent overnight via Federal Express (FedEx). NOTE: Excluded from billings and collections for the Trust Fund.
- 6. Fee operation forms. The forms used in the fee operation are either generated from the Fee Assessment Program or prepared manually by the fee clerk. The fee clerk enters pertinent data in the program/on the form, prints the forms or reports (if generated from the system), and sends/delivers original and copies in accordance with instructions. See fig. 4-6.1 for further instructions on the disposition of forms.
  - a. NA Form 13115, Chargeable Case Control. Part III of this form is used by the fee clerk to record fees, show fee calculations, and document appropriate action. The instructions and samples of these forms can be found in the Fee Desk Procedures. To access the form, click on Reports and NA Form 13115.
  - b. NA Form 13048, Fee Information Reply. This form is used to respond to the requester. Copies are maintained by the fee clerk to control pending payments. The instructions and samples of these forms can be found in the Fee Desk Procedures. To access the form, click on Reports and NA Form 13048.
  - c. GSA Form 687, Register of Remittances Received. This form is used to record deposits of remittances received for MPR services and remittances received for FedEx mailings. A separate register is used to record these actions. The instructions and samples of these forms can be found in the Fee Desk Procedures.
    - (1) Deposits. A separate register, GSA Form 687, is prepared on a weekly basis, or as needed, to list deposits of remittances received for MPR services. To access the form, click on Reports and Deposit.
    - (2) Federal Express mailings. A separate register, GSA Form 687, is prepared for deposits related to FedEx mailings. To access the form, click on Reports and FEDX Deposit.
  - d. GSA Form 2951, NEAR Input Transmittal. This form is used to record and transmit refunds recorded on NA Form 13115. It is prepared on a weekly basis, or as needed, to list refunds. To access the form, click on Reports and Refunds.
  - e. Standard Form 215, Deposit Ticket. This form is completed manually and is used to deposit funds to the Federal Reserve Bank. See fig. 4-6.2 for a sample of this form.
  - f. GSA Form 2935, FBF (TID) General Purpose Coding Document. This form is completed manually to document deposits reported to GSA, (6BCE). See fig. 4-6.3 for a sample of this form.
- 7. Blank checks. Blank checks or checks limiting the amount charged are returned to the requester along with NA Form 13048 indicating that these types of checks are not accepted. If the request is later determined to be a fee case, the requester will be charged when the response is sent.
- 8. Audits. An administrative audit is conducted semiannually by NRPS (Budget). The results of these audits are submitted to the Center Director.
- 9. Fee operation filing. Files are maintained containing documentation relating to deposits, refunds, and completed actions on Federal Express mailings.
- 10. Retention of documents. Documents maintained in connection with the fee systems are cut off annually at the end of the fiscal year, then destroyed 3 years from date of cut off. The authority for this is contained in the General Records Schedules, GRS 6, Item 4.

Information from Military Record Releaseable under FOIA

This information will be included in the coming revision to Figure 2-3 in NPRC 1864.113 dated December 31, 1986.

NPRC employees may release the following items of information from a military record in response to a FOIA request, without an unwarranted invasion of the subject's personal privacy. (These items may be released without the veteran's consent.)

- Name
- Dates of Service
- Rank/Grade
- Salary *
- Present and past duty assignments (including geographical location)
- Future assignments which have been finalized *
- Office phone number *
- Source of commission
- Military education level
- Promotion sequence number *
- Decorations and Awards -----
- Duty Status

NOTE: Actual awards and decorations are not releasable. Information concerning entitlement and copies of award citations are releasable.

- Photograph (non-releasable data, such as social security number, recorded on the photo must be deleted)

- Records of courts-martial trials (unless classified)

- Serial/service numbers. (Those issued prior to the use of the social security number as the service number. See subpar. 18b of NPRC 1864.102 for further details.)

- Place of Induction and Separation

This list is based on DoD Directive 5400.11 and on recent Privacy Board decisions. For deceased service personnel, the following items also may be released:

- Date and geographical location of death

- Place of burial

- Place of Birth

* Items that relate to active duty personnel are not likely to be in the records at the National Personnel Records Center.

Note that although the Privacy Act, as interpreted by the OMB Guidelines of July 9, 1975, does not protect the records of deceased individuals from disclosure, the Freedom of Information Act authorized the withholding of some data to protect the privacy of the next of kin.

Although FOIA provides for the above items to be released without the veteran's consent, it is important to remember that if there is reason to suspect an unethical or improper use on the part of the requester, the request is forwarded to appropriate official of the Armed Forces concerned. NPRC Memorandum 1864.102 (current revision) also offers definitive guidelines and instructions on the Privacy and Freedom of Information Acts.

Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal

Last Update: 07/08/2016

THE BACKGROUND INFORMATION IS FOR YOUR INFORMATION AND IS NOT TO BE INCLUDED IN YOUR REPLY.

The Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal (IRCM) is a new award for members of all service branches. Eligibility is retroactive to 15 June 2014. Respond according to the veteran's branch of service.

Air Force, Marine Corps, & Coast Guard: NPRC currently does not have military records for USAF, USMC, or USCG personnel and will refer those requests in accordance with the Case Reference Guide \(CRG\).

Navy: Requests for this medal from current, former, or the NOK of Navy personnel will be referred to the Navy Medals Team as per the CRG.

Army: This medal is not available for issuance through the Army medals web form. Reply to any request by copying and pasting the paragraph and referral address below into your response letter:

The specific medal that you are requesting (Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal) is not processed by the National Personnel Records Center. This medal may be awarded retroactively to June 15, 2014. To apply for this specific medal, you must apply directly to: Address ID: 00726

Army Human Resources Command
Awards & Decorations Branch (AHRC-PDP-A)
1600 Spearhead Division Ave.
Fort Knox, KY 40122-5408

If available, include as much supporting documentation as available, such as: DD Form 214, DD Form 1610 (Travel Order), Officer or NCO evaluation reports, a memo signed by the former Battalion Commander (or higher Commander), Deployment and/or Redeployment orders, certificate(s) of appreciation and similar type documents showing service in Iraq and/or Syria after June 15, 2014.

Background: The Army has provided eligibility requirements for award of the Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal to soldiers who have served in Iraq and/or Syria since 15 June 2014. Inherent resolve is the U.S. and allied campaign that targets military operations against the Islamic State group. The area of eligibility, or AOE, for the campaign encompasses the land areas of Iraq and Syria, and the contiguous waters of each of those countries extending out 12 nautical miles, and the airspace above those land mass areas and water. The medal was established by an executive order and secretary of defense memo on 30 March 2016, and in the Defense Department military decorations manual on 15 May 2016. Army policies are contained in the most current version of Army Regulation 600-8-22 (Military Awards).

Criteria: Soldiers qualify for the medal if they were permanently assigned, attached or detailed to a unit operating in the AOE for 30 consecutive days, or 60 non-consecutive days, or who meet one of the following criteria, regardless of time spent in the AOE:

- Was engaged in combat during an armed engagement in the AOE
- Was wounded, injured or killed, or medically evacuated from the AOE, while engaged in an operation or on official duties.

Soldiers serving as air crew members are credited for one day of eligibility for each day that they fly into, out of, or within or over the AOE. Soldiers who are assigned to a unit operating in Iraq, but who are supporting the unit from a location in Kuwait, are not eligible for the Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal unless they are physically in Iraq for 30 consecutive days, or 60 non-consecutive days.

Soldiers who have been awarded the Global War of Terrorism Expeditionary Medal (GWOTEM) for qualifying service in Iraq and/or Syria during 15 June 2014-30 March 2016 remain qualified for that medal. If they want to replace the GWOTEM with the Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal they may do so by applying to the Army. However, soldiers are not authorized to wear both medals at the same time. Soldiers are not entitled to dual medals for the same act, achievement or period of service in the same operating area. The GWOTEM is not authorized for service in Iraq or Syria that occurred after 30 March 2016. Soldiers are only authorized the Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal for service after that date. Separate bronze campaign stars (formerly called bronze service stars) will be worn on the medal and ribbon to recognize subsequent campaign phases.

Campaigns:

- Abeyance (15 June 2014 – 24 November 2015)
- Intensification (25 November 2015 – date to be determined)

The Inherent Resolve Campaign Medal may be awarded posthumously but is not authorized for award to foreign personnel.

INPATIENT (CLINICAL) RECORDS

Background

When to search for inpatient \(clinical\) records

Information Needed to Conduct Inpatient \(Clinical\) Record Search

Records not in the Patient Index Retrieval System \(PIRS\) or Medical Registry System \(MRS\)

Records in the Patient Index Retrieval System \(PIRS\) or Medical Registry System \(MRS\)

Records at Valmeyer \(Civilian Personnel Records Center\)

What clinical documents to send

Other Things to Know

Background:

Treatment records created during a service member's hospital stay are called inpatient (or clinical) records. Each year, military treatment facilities (MTF) or hospitals send their records to NPRC, (CPR) Valmeyer for storage. When requested through CMRS "Medical Registry Requests" view or manually through "Create Medical Search" smart-scripts, the staff at Valmeyer searches for these records.

When to search for inpatient (clinical) records: Few veterans know the difference between "inpatient" and "outpatient" records or know that these records are filed separately. Rarely do veterans know to ask for "inpatient/clinical" records. Typically, they submit non-specific requests for "medical records." While you do not have to order a search for inpatient (clinical) records in response to every medical records request, you must attempt to satisfy the requester's need(s). Analyze the request carefully to pick up on subtle clues that might indicate the type of medical record the requester actually wants.

THINK "CLINICAL RECORD(S)" if a requester:

- mentions being admitted to a hospital
- asks for records of surgery or treatment for a serious illness or injury (e.g., hepatitis, broken back, etc.)
- says he/she was wounded in action or involved in an auto (or any other serious) accident
- writes a second time for his/her medical records and says, "you didn't send me all my records"

NOTE: Military personnel, retirees, or their dependents may receive medical treatment outside of their designated branch of service. This means Army sponsors (military personnel) and their dependents may go to a Navy medical treatment facility, if an Army facility is not nearby.

INFORMATION NEEDED TO CONDUCT INPATIENT (CLINICAL) RECORD SEARCH:

1. Patient's name and status when treated (i.e., service member, dependent, retiree)
2. Social security number, and/or service number of member/sponsor
3. Type of record (inpatient or outpatient)
4. Date(s) and place(s) of treatment
5. Nature of illness, injury, or treatment *

*This data might not be needed if you locate inpatient (clinical) records in CMRS Patient Index Retrieval System (PIRS) or Medical Registry System (MRS).

NOTE: If veteran provides only the (geographical) location of treatment in Vietnam, check Vietnam Military Hospitals job aid in the Case Reference Guide. It will assist you in determining which hospital(s) the veteran may have received treatment.

If the veteran did not provide enough information for a search:

1. Look inside the military record for clinical record summaries, old VA Forms 3101, or previous requests that may provide additional information to conduct a search.
2. For insufficient information, SEND requester a NA Form 13042, Request for Information Needed to Locate Medical Records, and suspend request.

---

If both PIRS and MRS queries are negative for the record, you will have to create a search in medical records smart-scripts (See Page \(6\)). The smart-scripts for medical records are no longer available under the "OR Requests" view. Access them through "Create Medical Search" in the "Medical Record Details" applet.

The following explains negative CMRS PIRS queries:

When we first started using PIRS, its database did not contain all hospitalizations. Therefore, if hospitalized during the years in the branches of service shown below, a negative query is common. Simply follow the instruction in the above paragraph.

Treatment at an Air Force facility between 1951* and 1971

Treatment at an Army facility between 1955 * and 1970

Treatment at a Navy facility before 1965

If the inpatient record has not yet been retired to NPRC, Valmeyer will indicate "Record not yet retired." Both systems are extremely valuable tools to provide assistance in identifying the existence of inpatient (clinical) records.

* Special Note Regarding Clinical Record Libraries (CRL):

Air Force: The Air Force began retiring inpatient (clinical) records separate from its OMPFs in 1957 and Army started in 1960. If the retiring facility was a CRL, the Air Force record may have been retired as early as 1951 and the Army record in 1955. Make sure the treating facility was not a CRL before giving a negative reply.

Army: The Army began retiring inpatient (clinical) records separately from OMPF's in 1960. However, if the retiring facility was a CRL, the record may have been retired as early as 1955. Make sure the treating facility was not a CRL before giving a negative reply.

A list of Clinical Record Libraries is found in NPRC 1865.121, Appendix 2-D.

Records in the Patient Index Retrieval (PIRS) or Medical Registry System (MRS)

A positive PIRS or MRS query in CMRS does NOT necessarily mean records are on file at Valmeyer. Then again a negative query does NOT mean the person was not in the hospital. An actual search for the inpatient (clinical) record must be conducted before making a final determination about the status of a record.

CMRS PIRS consists of the following records:

- Treatment at an Air Force facility after 1971
- Treatment at an Army facility after 1970
- Treatment at a Navy facility after 1964
- Dependent treated at Naval facility

The CMRS MRS records are only the ones retired to NPRC after June 2003. Treatment and/or separation dates may have been from a much earlier date. Military Treatment Facilities can and have retired older records from any timeframe into this system.

Family Member Prefix (FMP) Codes are relative to both PIRS and MRS:

Family Member Prefix (FMP) Codes
1st – 19th dependent child of sponsor	01–19
Veteran/sponsor	20
Spouse (or former spouse) of sponsor	30-39
Mother or stepmother of sponsor	40
Father or stepfather of sponsor	45
Mother-in-law of sponsor	50
Father-in-law of sponsor	55
Other authorized dependents of sponsor	60–69

Beneficiary authorized by statute	90–95
Civilian emergency	98
Not elsewhere classified	99
If the query shows an FMP number not on the listing, compare date and place of treatment on the screen with information furnished in the request.

---

All MTF (inpatient, outpatient, mental health, etc) records for military personnel, retirees, and their dependents are stored at Valmeyer. In CMRS, technicians submit search requests for these records in PIRS, MRS, or smart-scripts whenever PIRS and MRS queries are negative. See Medical Treatment Facility \(MTF\) Records Ordering and Routing Procedures.

---

---

For each inpatient record request, you should thoroughly examine it to determine what the requester specifically needs. However, for most cases, you should provide copies of the following documents:

- Clinical Record Cover Sheet (branch specific or Department of Defense Form – DA Form 3647, DD Form 481, or AF Form 565–4)

OTHER THINGS TO KNOW

The earliest Navy clinical records at NPRC date back to the 1940s.

Valmeyer maintains the outpatient records for military dependents and retirees in addition to inpatient (clinical) records.

These records are filed according to the year and place of treatment. The records MTFs send to Valmeyer have two filing arrangements. MTFs compile treatment records over the years, combine them into one folder, and assign them to one location. Or they might create multiple folders and assign them to several different locations.

If a request contains insufficient information for a search, you should return it; SEND an NA Form 13042 and suspend it.

NPRC 1865.20E CHGE 1
August 26, 1988

SUBJECT: Inquiries lacking sufficient identifying and/or locator data

1. Purpose. This memorandum transmits page changes to NPRC 1865.20E.

2. Explanation of change.

- a. NA Form 13054, Request for More Information, has been revised considerably. As a result, references to that form, which is now called Return of Inquiry, have been changed throughout NPRC 1865.20E. Also, this memorandum no longer provides for the use of NA Form 13063, Inquiry-Return, since Mailroom personnel can now use the revised NA Form 13054 to transmit the SF 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records.
- b. Para. 9 has been rewritten to emphasize the kinds of information needed on requests for pre-registry records, rather than just defining what the pre-registry records are.
- c. Figs. 1 and 3 have been changed to remove personal identifiers and an erroneous date has been corrected in fig. 1.
- d. References to VA Forms 3101, Request for Information, have been changed to eliminate the number prefixes, i.e., 07 and 70. The VA may change these prefixes from time to time, but this does not mean that there has been any change to the content of the form.
- e. This memorandum no longer provides for the use of the two-sided NA Form 13075A, Questionnaire About Military Service. Only the one-sided version, NA Form 13075, is referred to. Fig. 7 has been changed to consist of only NA Form 13075, rather than NA Form 13075A with both a front and back.

3. Instructions.

- a. Remove transmittal page of NPRC 1865.20E (basic) and insert revised transmittal page.
- b. Remove pp. ½, 3 and 4, and 5-14, and insert revised pp.

1. Inquiries with insufficient identifying information. Mailroom personnel shall NOT make efforts to service an inquiry when it does not contain enough information for a routine records search. It is desirable that each inquiry contain the four basic items of identifying information, which are:

- a. Complete name of subject veteran.
- b. Service number (SN).

NOTE: The SN may be identical to the social security account number (SSAN) for periods of service after 1969 or 1972 (see par. 6).

- c. Dates of military service.
- d. Branch of service.

HOWEVER: Service number, dates, and branch are not all needed in all cases. See paragraphs 5, 6, 7, and 8 for exceptions.

NOTE: Incoming Mail Unit employees are also responsible for returning requests which lack proper signature authority. See NPRC Memorandum 1865.16, Release and access guide for military personnel and related records at NPRC.

2. Identifying information obtainable by requester. A great amount of time can be wasted trying to identify a service record when the writer did not furnish sufficient data. Mailroom personnel shall return the inquiry when it appears that either the veteran or the third party, who initiated the inquiry, DID NOT try to obtain all necessary identifying data. The writer may state "not available" or "NA" when the information is obtainable with only a little effort on the requester's part. Requests from the Veterans Administration, Social Security Administration, veterans counselors, prospective employers, probation officers, and others who have direct contact with the veteran shall always be returned if they lack sufficient identifying information. It is the requester's responsibility to furnish the data. (See fig. 4.)
3. Location of four basic items of identifying information. The most commonly used request forms that are received in the Incoming Mail Units are the: SF-180, Request Pertaining to Military Records; VA Form 3101, Request for Information, (manually-generated); and VA Form 3101-4, Request for Information, (computer-generated). Figs. 1, 2 and 3 provide samples of these request forms and illustrate the location of the four basic items of identifying information.
4. Completeness/legibility of name and attached documents. In order for mailroom personnel to consider processing an inquiry, the requester must provide a legible and complete inquiry.
  - a. Name used during service. If the requester fails to provide a complete or legible name, which is needed to identify the subject veteran, then mailroom personnel shall return the inquiry to the requester. (See fig. 4.)
  - b. Attached documents. If the requester fails to furnish legible photocopies of required documents with the inquiry, then mailroom personnel shall return the inquiry to the requester. For example, VA Form 3101-a, Request for Information, must be received in the Incoming Mail Units with an attached legible photocopy of a DD-214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or equivalent. (See fig. 4.)
5. Correct service number (SN). Mailroom personnel should be able to identify obviously incorrect service numbers. Individuals separated after the dates shown in app. A should have been assigned a service number. Information on the makeup of service numbers for all the military branches is provided in app. B.
6. Social Security Account Number (SSAN) as the identifier. The military service departments discontinued using the SN as the identifier and commenced using the SSAN as the identifier on the following dates:

• Army and Air Force	July 1, 1969
• Navy and Marine Corps	January 1, 1972
• Coast Guard	October 1, 1974
7. Dates or period of service. It is preferable that an inquiry include both the entrance and separation dates. However, the separation date alone is generally acceptable for routing action. Descriptive terms such as "WWI," "WWII," "Korean Conflict," or "Vietnam Era," are also acceptable. Service numbers and their prefixes also contain clues as to the period of service. (See app. B.)

NOTE: The dates are not needed if service was so recent that the records would be located in the registry files. Use of the SSAN as the service number is sufficient evidence of such recent service.

8. Branch of service. Mailroom personnel shall return an inquiry to the requester if the branch of service is not shown, unless the branch can be determined easily in other ways or is not needed. The prefix of the service number sometimes can tell what the branch is (see fig. B-2). Sometimes the envelope will have been addressed to the particular branch of service, even though there may not be any such indication in the request itself. The branch of service is not needed if the social security number is provided and was in fact used as the service number for that veteran. Mailroom personnel should assume, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that if the social security number is the only one provided, then it is the proper identifier. Contrary evidence would be for the requester to have provided either dates of service prior to the conversion dates, or other clues such as reference to WWI, WWII, Korea, or some other era prior to the conversion dates.
9. Inquiries that relate to records in the pre-registry collection. The pre-registry collection consists of records of Navy and Marine Corps veterans who were discharged before 1964 (Navy officers before 1968). There are different groups of records within this collection, and various filing systems. Also, some records belonging to particular groups could instead have been reaccessioned into the registry system. A familiarity with the different filing situations and what kinds of information are needed in which cases, is necessary to make the best decisions on whether to send the request back for more information.
  - a. Records filed by service number. When the record is filed by service number, it is as important for the person reading the request to have that number as it is when the record is in the registry system. Pre-registry Marine Corps enlisted and officer records and Navy officer records are usually filed by service number.
  - b. Records filed alphabetically. Navy enlisted personnel records through 1963 and medical records for Navy and Marine Corps officers and enlisted personnel separated between 1911 and 1963 are filed alphabetically, including the middle name. Different combinations of information are needed to help determine whether to send the request to Navy Search or to send it back for more information. The service number is not absolutely necessary to find these records, but it is vital that the middle name, or at least the initial, be included (or that there be an indication on the request that there is no middle name). It is also essential that there be some way to tell one record from another if more than one person has the same name. This can be accomplished with the service number or the date of birth. The decision on whether to return the request could also be based in part on how common the name is. This is a matter of judgement, but an uncommon first name and last name combination, including the middle name, could be sufficient to justify an alphabetical search, if some other partial information is included in the request and could be compared with information in the record, such as hometown or duty assignments.
10. Forms and procedures for returning initial inquiries. When it is appropriate to return the initial inquiry to the requester, mailroom personnel shall use the forms and procedures as shown in fig. 4.
11. Previously returned inquiries that are received again which still lack identifying information. Mailroom personnel shall carefully review those inquiries that are being returned from the requester, after the initial contact with NPRC (MPR), and still lack identifying information. An incomplete item on a form is one that the requester has not attempted to answer. Any item that is answered with such words as "Don't know," "Can't remember," "Unknown," "Not available," etc., is also incomplete. However, these responses indicate that the requester cannot recall more information. If necessary, the forms shall be returned to the requester in the following manner:

- a. VA Forms 3101 previously returned with NA Form 13075, Questionnaire About Military Service. Using NA Form 13012, Return Slip for VA Inquiry, return the NA Form 13075 and the inquiry as shown in fig. 5.
- b. Inquiries previously returned with NA Form 13054, Return of Inquiry. Return the inquiry again, sending the same NA Form 13054 and whatever other form(s) had been attached to the initial response. Check the ninth block on the NA Form 13054 (see fig. 6), which states: "We must have the information that we previously requested before we can search for the records needed to answer your inquiry." Sign the signature block again and enter the current date alongside the previous date.

Appendix B: Service Number Information

SERVICE NUMBER INFORMATION

- 1. Introduction. It was not until February 28, 1918, that the first service number was issued to an enlisted man. Master Sergeant Arthur B. CREAN holds the unique distinction of receiving Army service number 1. Officers did not receive service numbers until June 1921. General Pershing, who was then Chief of Staff, received the number O-1.
- 2. Periods of issuance of service numbers. Tables attached as Fig. B-1 contain service number series broken down by issuance periods as short as feasible. When not feasible to break down by short periods, an effort was made to break down series into periods closely corresponding with those covered by specific records groups, some of which were lost in the July 1973 NPRC fire. For easy reading, numbers are entered in the "Series" column in the conventional style with a comma between each three digits starting from the right, however, no relationship between this and the way numbers are encountered in correspondence and on military records is intended. The most prevalent style in which numbers are encountered in correspondence and records is depicted by the following:

Air Force	00 000 000 (older usage) or 00000000 (until 7-1-69)
Army	00 000 000 or 00000000
Coast Guard	000-000; 000-000
Marine Corps	000000
Navy	000000 for Officers 000-00-00 (older usage) for Enlisted 000-00-00 or B00 00 00 (until 7-1-71) for Enlisted

Many groups of numbers issued out of their normal sequence may be inaccurately or incompletely accounted for in this brief table. These are numbers, for instance, which were surplus due to an over estimate of needs in the area or category for which initially set aside. In these cases, however, the tables indicate general trends. "EM" means enlisted personnel (including draftees), men as well as women. "Ofcr" means officers and includes warrant officers.

- 3. Service number prefixes and suffixes. The majority of prefixes and suffixes were for Air Force and Army. None are known to have been used with Coast Guard service numbers.

For Marine Corps, only "O" (Officer) and "W" (Women) were used. Navy used "W." In addition, beginning in December 1965, Navy enlisted personnel received six digit numbers with a letter prefix. The first series used was "B10 00 00 thru B99 99 99." When all these were used, succeeding letters of the alphabet were assigned with the same series of numbers, however, letters which may have resulted in confusion with other letters or with other identification numbers were not used. The various prefixes and suffixes assigned are contained in Fig.B-2.

SUBJECT: Inquiries received by telephone at NPRC (MPR)

1. Purpose. This memorandum issues instructions and guidance for handling requests received at NPRC (MPR) by telephone other than those received through the automated telephone operation or other formalized and approved telephone request systems.
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1865.8E and NPRC 7140.1 are canceled.
3. Reasons for revision. This memorandum is revised to reflect (a) the elimination of telephone operations in several branches; (b) the consolidation and automation of these telephone operations in the Reference Service Support Branch; and (c) the need for all personnel to respond appropriately to telephone inquiries which bypass the automated telephone answering system and other formal telephone request systems established at NPRC.
4. Instructions. The instructions for responding to telephone inquiries, are contained in the attachment.
5. Forms. This memorandum provides for the use of the following forms:
  - NA Form 13075, Questionnaire about Military Records
  - NA Form 13086, Verbal or Telephone Inquiries
  - Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records

INQUIRIES RECEIVED BY TELEPHONE

1. General. The instructions and guidance provided in this attachment are for use by each NPRC employee when responding to telephone requests which bypass the automated telephone answering system and other formal telephone request systems established at the Center. In responding to these telephone inquiries, keep in mind that VIRTUALLY ALL INQUIRIES RECEIVED AT NPRC FOR INFORMATION FROM RECORDS MUST BE SUBMITTED IN WRITING.
2. Requests for general information.
  - a. Center Address. The correct mailing address for NPRC (MPR) is:
    - National Personnel Records Center
    - (Military Personnel Records)
    - 9700 Page Boulevard
    - St. Louis, MO 63132-5100
  - b. Release policy. The basic release policies for records located at NPRC are:

(1) A service person can obtain almost any information contained in his/her record upon written request.

(2) The next of kin (if the veteran is deceased) and many local, state, and federal government offices are authorized to receive most types of information from a military personnel and/or medical record, but the requests must be IN WRITING. Refer to NPRC 1865.16 for the specific release policy governing a specific request.

(3) Other requesters must have a release authorization signed by the veteran or, if the veteran is deceased, the next of kin.

c. Freedom of Information Act Requests. Requests made under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) must be IN WRITING, describe the records needed reasonably well, and indicate clearly that the request is being made under the provisions of the Act.

d. Requirements of a release authorization. A release authorization must contain the following elements:

(1) It must be signed by the subject of the record or, if the subject is deceased, by the next of kin;

(2) It must be dated and must be one year old or less;

(3) It must clearly specify the types of records to be released and clearly specify the party to whom the records/information can be released; and

(4) It must specify that the subject of the record realizes that his/her military records will be reviewed or photocopied.

e. Routine requests. If circumstances do not warrant emergency action on the part of NPRC, offer to send the caller a copy of SF 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records, and when appropriate, NA Form 13075, Questionnaire about Military Records.

3. Requests related to a medical emergency. A medical emergency is considered to be a situation of life-threatening nature in which military personnel and/or medical records are needed for immediate emergency medical treatment. In most cases, the requester will be requesting clinical records. All such calls should initially be handled by a supervisor or lead archives technician. After determining that a medical emergency exists, the call should be transferred as described below based upon which medical facility provided the treatment.

a. Request for treatment records from a Navy facility. Emergency calls requesting information from clinical treatment records of a Navy medical facility are transferred to the Navy Medical Records Liaison Officer located at 9700 Page Boulevard. The Liaison Officer will request the appropriate records.

b. Requests for treatment records from Army or Air Force treatment facilities. Emergency calls requesting information from clinical treatment records of an Army or Air Force treatment facility are transferred to the Organizational Records Section, Army Reference Branch. Requests involving the clinical records of most dependents are referred to the Records Information telephone number at NPRC's Winnebago facility (Commercial 314-425-5761 or FTS 279-5761). If doubt exists regarding the location of the dependent record, refer the caller to the Organizational Records Section, Army Reference Branch (Commercial 314-263-7146 or FTS 273-7146).

c. Information needed to locate clinical treatment (organizational) records. If necessary, obtain the following information to locate clinical treatment records by completing NA Form 13086, Verbal or Telephone Inquiry:

- (1) Place of treatment
- (2) Patient registry number (if available)
- (3) Dates of treatment (month and year) (inpatient only)
- (4) Type of medical records needed (inpatient, outpatient, or psychiatric).
- (5) Patient status (active, retired, VA beneficiary, dependent, etc.). NOTE: For dependents, obtain the sponsor's name and SSAN.

Be sure to obtain the name of the requester, the medical facility he/she is representing and the FTS or commercial telephone number. Do not accept an Autovon number as the Center does not have access to this telephone system. The time of the call as well as the date should be placed on NA Form 13086. Identify the request as a medical emergency. Should the requester need the medical records (or copies), a written request is necessary.

4. Congressional interest telephone request. Congressional inquiries receive first priority handling. All telephone inquiries from the offices of Senators and Members of Congress are transferred to the Special Inquiries Section, Reference Service Support Branch. The Special Inquiries Section handles all Congressional requests directed to this Center.

Requests from other agencies seeking information from this Center or its holdings so the CALLER can respond to a Congressional inquiry are not transferred to the Special Inquiries Section. Inform the caller to submit the request in writing.

5. Follow-up requests. Respond to a caller who is attempting to determine the status of a written inquiry previously sent to this Center by advising the caller of the normal response time to a written request (obtain current response time from the supervisor). If the caller has not received a response at the end of that time, he/she should resubmit the request in writing. If the caller indicates a deadline is near, refer the call to a supervisor or lead archives technician.

6. Requests for records not stored at NPRC. Refer the caller to another office or agency if it can be determined from the information provided that the record is not at NPRC. The chart in figure 1 may be used to determine the location of military personnel and medical records. The chart also provides addresses to which the caller may write. Other references for records location information include the NPRC "Directory of Military Personnel and Related Records" and NPRC 1865.112, External sources of information used in the records reconstruction process. If asked to provide a telephone number, inform the caller that the number is not available at the Center and that a written request will be required.

(NOTE: In emergency situations or where extenuating circumstances exist, provide telephone numbers if available.)

7. Collect calls. NPRC does not accept collect calls from any source.

Cases involving PL 95-126 (veteran received dishonorable or 'other than honorable' discharge).

If the VA asks:

"Was the veteran eligible for complete separation prior to (date of dishonorable or other than honorable discharge)? If not, please state date(s) on which this individual completed the period(s) of active service for which he/she was obligated at the time(s) of induction of reenlistment(s)."

And the veteran was not eligible for complete separation, enter in the response block:

- (1) "Veteran was not eligible for complete separation prior to (date)."
- (2) Include the date of original enlistment/induction, term of active duty, and show date active duty obligation would terminate.
- (3) Include the reason or authority for separation, if separated before date of dishonorable or OTH discharge (e.g., for purpose of reenlistment).
- (4) If the obligation was extended, include an explanation of the extension; such as, number of days and dates of 'time lost,' or extended by Executive Order # for specified period.

EXAMPLES:

(1) Veteran was not eligible for complete separation prior to (date of Dishonorable Discharge). Enlisted 1-2-72 for 4 years which would terminate 1-1-76. Reenlisted 12-1-75 for 3 years. Separation 11-30-75 for sole purpose of reenlistment. (In this example, date of Dishonorable Discharge was 6-6-76 and record shows no time lost.)

(2) Veteran was not eligible for complete separation prior to (date of OTH). Minority enlistment 3-1-62 to 2-7-66. Extended 33 days 'time lost'--AWOL 2-7-66. (In this example "date of OTH" is 3-12-66.)

(3) Veteran was not eligible for complete separation prior to (date of OTH). Inducted 9-2-49 for 2 years active duty which would terminate 9-1-51, but was extended 12 months by Executive Order 10270 (July 6, 1951). (In this example "date of OTH" is 8-6-52).

NOTE: If the term of original active duty obligation and the date when the original commitment would have been completed cannot be determined, refer the record and request to the appropriate service department. Notify the VA of the referral. NCPMR refers Army cases to DARP-PAS-EAV.

f. veteran was dishonorably discharged	do not furnish 90 day statement unless specifically requested by VA

NOTES CONCERNING CREDITABLE AND NONCREDITABLE SERVICE:

1. Creditable active service. Creditable active service is not necessarily all wartime service. If the veteran served at least one day during wartime, the entire period of active service is to be considered in computing the 90 days creditable service. Two or more war periods may be added to obtain 90 days creditable service. See NPRC 1865.37, par. 5 of definition of wartime service.

a. Computing 90 Days Creditable Service. Having determined that at least one day was spent in wartime service, begin with the first day of active service and count days in service. Use a calendar to determine the number of days in each month. Do Not use an average of 30 days per month in your computations. If the month of February is involved in

b. *Leap Year Index. The following are years in which February had or will have 29 days:

1880 1896 1912 1928 1944 1960 1976 1992
 1884 * 1916 1932 1948 1964 1980 1996
 1888 1904 1920 1936 1952 1968 1984 2000
 1892 1908 1924 1940 1956 1972 1988 2004

* 1900 was not a leap year; centenary year is a leap year only every 400 years: 1600, 2000, 2400.

c. *Other than honorable separations. If person was separated under other than honorable conditions (undesirable, bad conduct, etc., but NOT including dishonorable), include this period of service in computing the 90 days creditable service.

2. *Noncreditable service. The following periods will not be counted as creditable active wartime service:

- a. All periods of furlough time (industrial/agricultural/farm, definite or indefinite type furloughs).
- b. Time lost on absence without leave (without pay), under arrest (without acquittal), in desertion, and while undergoing sentence of court-martial.
- c. Tours of active duty "peace time" only.
- d. All periods of Active Duty for Training.

1. Purpose in using internal sources. Internal sources of information are used to reconstruct military data when the information needed to respond to a reference service request is not available in the individual's military record as a result of the 1973 fire at 9700 Page. Internal sources of information are primarily used to reconstruct military service and/or medical information.
2. Introduction to primary internal sources of information. There are numerous internal sources of information located within the NPRC (MPR) which may be used to assist in the records reconstruction process. The primary sources of information are the: Auxiliary Registry File; VA Master Index Tape; Service Number Index Tape; and various organizational records. The remainder of this memorandum: provides background information on these record sources; describes the purpose in requesting searches of these record collections; and provides instructions on obtaining these records in order to respond to reference service requests.

NOTE: As defined in NPRC 1865.104, General background and reference information concerning Records Reconstruction Branch, par. 7, 111 Winnebago (CPR) is considered a data/records procurement source outside of 9700 Page. For the purpose of this memorandum only, X-ray and pay voucher records located at CPR are considered as primary internal sources of information.
3. Additional sources of information. While this memorandum provides instructions on the use of the PRIMARY internal sources of information, correspondence personnel should also be aware of other reference material that is available; e.g., Monograph of Records Used in Reconstruction of Military Service Data, Monograph of Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department 1912-1939, and the NCPMR library. All technicians involved in records reconstruction actions should review the Monographs and become familiar with the library materials to gain an understanding of the types of records and kinds of information available in these records.
4. Deciding whether information/records from an internal source should be requested. In order to determine whether a search request for an internal source of information is appropriate, the correspondence technician shall review the inquiry, any attached documentation, and the contents of the R/B file. (See NPRC 1865.107, Miscellaneous correspondence procedures unique to Records Reconstruction Branch, par. 3.) After a review of these materials, the technician shall analyze the available information and determine if there is sufficient data to respond to the reference service request. If there is INSUFFICIENT data to respond to the inquiry, then the technician shall decide whether the information/records from an internal source can be used to reconstruct the requested information. The technician is responsible for identifying the most appropriate internal source(s) of information.

5. Auxiliary registry file.

- a. Background. The auxiliary registry file was established in 1974 to include various categories of personnel-related, medical, and payroll records. See par. 4 of NPRC 1865.104 for a description of each of these types of records, along with the related service code (QM/QT) and the registry number prefix used to identify the specific type of record. Most of the auxiliary registry file records are located in the Search and Control Section (NRPMR-S) of the Records Reconstruction Branch.
- b. Purpose in using QM/QT records. Auxiliary registry file records may be used to obtain a variety of service/medical information. For example, pay vouchers normally contain the date and character of discharge, and in some cases, the date and place of entry. In order to decide whether a QM/QT record may assist in responding to a reference service request, an Auxiliary Registry File Records Information Sheet, listing those auxiliary registry file records collections located at 9700 Page, is provided in fig. 1. This attachment shows the kinds of information found in the various QM/QT records.

6. Criteria for determining whether a search request for a QM record is appropriate. In most instances where the initial computer probe failed to locate a military service record, the appropriate QM record/information will be provided to the Correspondence Sections (NRPMR-A) without a search request. However, if an R or B file exists, or if the QM record/information is not attached to the inquiry, then correspondence personnel shall decide whether the QM records should be searched. To assist correspondence technicians in deciding whether QM records should be searched, before other reconstruction actions are initiated, a case decision logic table (DLT) is provided in fig. 2. The DLT also identifies which QM record(s) should be searched.

NOTE: Fig. 2 also illustrates the conditions under which external sources of information (data procurement) or referral action should be initiated by correspondence personnel.

NPRC1865.112, External sources of information used in the records reconstruction process, provides a more detailed explanation of external sources and their uses.

- a. Additional information regarding QM C records (Letterman General Hospital). If the DLT indicates that the QM C record should be searched, and the requester indicates treatment received at Letterman General Hospital, then request the QM C record from NRPMR-S. (See par. 8).
- b. Information regarding QM J records. NPRC is in the process of adding information from the Judge Advocate General (JAG) Tapes to the auxiliary registry file under the service and prefix codes QM J. Note the absence of QM J entries from fig. 2. This is because a QM J entry on NA Form 13096, Finding Aid Report (FAR), provides the technician with the court martial case number. Therefore, a search request is unnecessary. However, if the court martial case number is needed to verify service, and the FAR does not indicate a QM J entry, then request a search of the JAG tapes (see par. 8). After positive identification, the searcher will furnish NRPMR-A with the court martial case number on the request form. If Air Force service is indicated, the searcher will preface the court martial case number with "AFGCM" (Air Force General Court Martial); or "AFSPCM" (Air Force Special Court Martial).

7. Criteria for determining whether a search request for a QT record is appropriate. In most instances where the initial computer probe failed to locate a military service record, the appropriate QT record/information will be provided to NRPMR-A without a search request.

However, if an R or B file exists, or if the QT record/information is not provided, then correspondence personnel shall decide whether the QT records should be searched. To assist correspondence technicians in deciding whether QT records should be searched, the following information is provided concerning each type of QT record:

- a. QT * (American Battle Monuments Commission). When the FAR indicates the existence of a QT * record, check the American Battle Monuments Commission web site at [00126]: American Battle Monuments Commission \(ABMC\) if any of the following information is needed to respond to the request: Service Number, home state, date of death, place of death/burial, rank at death, awards, and/or organization.
- b. QT D (California Military Benefit Index Cards). If the QT D record is needed to verify service, and the FAR indicates the existence of a QT D record, then request the record from NRPMR-S.
- c. QT H *Surgeon General's Office (SG) Hospital Admission Card File). When the FAR indicates the existence of a QT H record, prepare and route search request to NRPMR-S for the following:
  - (1) Requests for medical information on VA Form 3101. ALWAYS obtain and send available SGO information in response to VA requests for medical records.
  - (2) Requests from other sources. Obtain and send SGO information when:
    - (a) The requester specifically asks for SGO information;
    - (b) The requester asks for all records of treatment from a specific year or years, and there is at least one SGO hit for a year that is either a specified year or within a year or two of a specified year;
    - (c) The requester specifically mentions that the information is being sought with regard to a VA claim, and the circumstances of the case are such that complete copies would ordinarily be sent to the veteran;
    - (d) No other medical records (or only incomplete medical records) are available; or
    - (e) The requester makes a specific allegation which is not covered in the complete medical records.
- d. QT K (Korean Casualty File). Search and Control (NRPMR-S) personnel are responsible for searching the microfiche related to the QT K records. If the FAR indicates the existence of a QT K record, correspondence personnel should use discretion in determining whether to have the QT K record searched. See fig. 1 to assist in making this determination.
- e. QT P (Philippine POW Cards). If the FAR indicates the existence of a QT P record, the correspondence technician shall use discretion in determining whether to have the QT P record searched. Use fig. 1 to assist in making this determination.
- f. QT W (WWII POW's). If the request pertains to prisoner of war (POW) status during WWII, and the FAR indicates QT W, use the date of capture and the date of release or return to military control, as shown on the FAR, to respond to the inquiry.

NOTE: A search request is unnecessary. However, if the request is for SERVICE AND POW information, and the separation document is not attached, then the appropriate auxiliary registry file record(s) shall be requested by correspondence personnel.

8. Requesting a search of the auxiliary registry file. All search requests for auxiliary registry file records shall be forwarded to the Records Reconstruction Branch, Search and Control Section (NRPMR-S) for processing. To request a search for a QM/QT record, correspondence personnel shall use NA Form 13105, NPRC Search Request and Reply. When using this form, correspondence personnel shall complete the requested search items on the left side of the form. (See fig. 3.) The right side of the form will be completed by the searcher.

NOTE: This form shall be used to request searches of records in the stack area, on microfilm, or on microfiche. When preparing NA Form 13105 to request SGO information (QT H), indicate the source of your request; e.g., SSA, VA, veteran, etc. in the upper right hand corner of the form.

9. Responses to search requests for QM/QT records. In response to search requests, NRPMR-S personnel will either furnish the original record(s), photocopies of the record(s), or provide pertinent information on the search request depending on the type of record(s) requested. For example, in response to a search request for a QM E record, the searcher will write the enlistment date next to the appropriate entry on the search request. More detailed information regarding the responses to search requests for the various types of QM/QT records is provided below:

- a. Response to search request for QM D or QM P record. The requested QM D or QM P record may be a single name or a multiple name document.

(1) Single name document. A single name document may either be one single sheet or a group of documents. For example, a single name pay voucher may have an attached order listing several names. This is still considered to be a single name document. The requested document or group of documents will be removed from the file and forwarded to NRPMR-A. After correspondence personnel complete the case, these single name documents then become part of the reconstructed "R" record. (See fig. 4.)

(2) Multiple name document. The multiple name document is only removed from the file for photocopying by search personnel.

(a) Multiple name pay voucher. In response to a search request for a multiple name pay voucher the technician will normally receive a photocopy of four pages: the front cover, the reverse of the front cover or the page containing the discharge authority (usually page 2), and any additional pages where the individual's name and/or signature appears. A red check mark will be placed next to the veteran's name wherever it appears on the voucher. (See fig. 5.)

(b) Multiple name discharge order. In response to a search request for a multiple name discharge order, the technician will receive a photocopy of the first page (front) of the order. If the veteran's name does not appear on the first page of the order, then a copy of both sides of the order will be furnished. The front page usually contains the discharge authority. A red check mark will be placed next to the veteran's name where it appears. (See fig. 6.)

- b. Response to search request for QM C record. In response to a search request for a QM C record, the technician will receive the requested clinical record from the NRPMR-S file area( see fig. 7.1); or a blowback copy of the medical card from NRPMR-S microfilm sources. (See fig. 7.2)
  - c. Response to search request for QT D record. In response to a search request for a QT D record, the technician will receive blowback copies of the requested record from NRPMR-S microfilm sources. (See fig. 7.3.)
  - d. Response to search request for QT H record. In response to a search request for a QT H record, the technician will receive a blowback copy of the applicable microfiche page and two copies of a printout which decodes the information from the fiche. (See fig. 7.4.)
- NOTE: One copy of the printout is sent to the requester and the other retained as a file copy. Because the printout DOES NOT CONTAIN the name of the patient, it is imperative that the printout be checked thoroughly to determine if the information pertains to the subject individual. If there is any doubt as to whether the information pertains to the subject veteran, then the correspondence technician should seek assistance from the immediate supervisor or lead technician.
- e. Response to search request for QT K record. In response to a search request for a QT K record, the technician will receive a blowback copy of the requested record from NRPMR-S microfiche sources. (See fig. 7.5.)
  - f. Response to search request for QT P record. In response to a search request for a QT P record, the technician will receive the requested Philippine POW card from the NRPMR-S file area. (See fig. 8.)

10. VA Master Index Tape (VA Index).

- a. Background. Prior to January 1972, the Veterans Administration (VA) maintained a card index with the name and partial information about each veteran who had insurance applications and conversions, and veterans who had filed claims with their agency. There were also cards for veterans who were paid a World War I bonus. This card system covered the period from 1917 to January 1972, and contained the names of over 34,000,000 veterans. In 1974, the NPRC was able to obtain a copy of this microfilm index. The VA Master Index tapes are filed in microfilm file cabinets located in the Search and Control Section office area and are searched by NRPMR-S personnel.
- b. Purpose in requesting searches of the VA Index. The VA Index may be used to verify or obtain a variety of service information. This information may include the veteran's name, service number, date of birth, VA claim #, dates of entry and discharge, home address at time of enlistment/induction, VA insurance number, and in some cases, the first organization to which the individual was assigned.
- c. Requesting searches of the VA index. Correspondence personnel should use NA Form 13105 to request a search of the VA Index. The searcher will furnish ALL the information as shown on the VA Index card, regardless of whether or not the information is requested. (See fig. 10.)

11. Service Number Index Tape (SN Index).

- a. Background. The Service Number Index Tape (SN Index) provides Army WWII enlistment/reenlistment dates. The microfilm covers the period from January 1, 1940 through September 1946. Computer cards were completed for each veteran. The SN Index tapes are filed in microfilm file cabinets, located in the Search and Control Section office area, and are searched by NRPMS-S personnel. (Electronic ASNF)
- b. Purpose in requesting searches of the SN Index. The purpose in requesting a search of the SN Index is primarily to verify or obtain the date of enlistment/induction. The cards record the following information: service number, name, date of enlistment (or reenlistment), rank at time of enlistment, and in some cases, the year of birth.
- c. Requesting searches of the SN Index. Correspondence personnel shall use NA Form 13105 to request a search of the SN Index. (See fig. 11.)
  - (1) Before and after dates. NRPMS-A personnel shall request the dates of enlistment for the individuals shown immediately "before and after" the service number of the individual originally requested, when the veteran has two periods of service and the date of entry for the first period of service is needed. If the requested service number is skipped on the film, the searcher will furnish the service numbers "before and after" with the enlistment dates. The NA Form 13105 will be annotated "before" and "after". (See fig. 11.)
  - (2) E.R.C. STATISTICAL. Some of the SN Index cards also carry a notation which reads: "E.R.C. STATISTICAL." This notation stands for "Enlisted Reserve Corps." In these cases the date the veteran began active duty may differ from the date the veteran enlisted in the reserve. If "E.R.C. STATISTICAL" is noted on the card, the searcher will annotate "ERC" on the NA Form 13105.

12. X-rays at CPR.

- a. Background. During the early 1940's, the Department of the Army began requiring a routine chest X-ray as part of the induction physical examination. In the later 1940's a chest X-ray was also required a few days prior to discharge. (This practice was continued by the Air Force in 1947 when it became an independent branch of service.) The X-rays provide name, service number, rank, and date and place of X-ray. Occasionally, additional information such as unit may be annotated. These X-rays are stored at CPR, 111 Winnebago.
- b. Purpose in requesting searches of X-rays. Since X-rays were taken just prior to entrance or separation from service, the dates provided are not exact dates of entry and/or separation from service. However, the approximate dates can be used to make further searches.
- c. Requesting searches of X-rays from CPR. Correspondence personnel shall use NA Form 13026, MPR-CPR Request/Reply Form, to request a search of X-rays from 111 Winnebago. As X-rays are primarily filed in service number order, NRPMS-A personnel must furnish the correct service number and name of the veteran. In addition, the approximate dates of service (if known) shall be provided on NA Form 13026. (See fig. 12.)

NOTE: See NPRC 1865.112 for more detailed information regarding data procurement procedures.

13. Final Payroll Vouchers at CPR.

- a. Background and purpose in requesting searches of final payroll vouchers at CPR. The screening of payroll records at CPR is an ongoing project. Some final payroll vouchers for officers and enlisted personnel from 1938-1942 are located at CPR (111 Winnebago). These records, like those in the QM P auxiliary registry file, provide basic service and pay information.

NOTE: These records will NOT be indicated on the FAR as a QM P.

- b. Requesting searches of final payroll vouchers from CPR. Correspondence personnel shall use NA Form 13026 to request a final payroll voucher from 111 Winnebago. At a minimum, NRPMR-A personnel shall furnish the name and service number on the request. (See fig. 13.)

NOTE: See NPRC 1865.112 for more detailed information regarding data procurement procedures.

14. Organizational records sources.

- a. Background. Organizational records (OR) are supplementary records created by specific organizations within the military services and may pertain to either personnel related matters or administration. Personnel related records contain additional information on service personnel and their dependents which may be used to supplement incomplete Official Military Personnel Folders. Non-personnel related records pertain to the functional aspects of the military organizations, and not the individual service person. Most of the organizational records used in the records reconstruction process are located in the Records Reconstruction Branch office area. Search requests pertaining to these records are serviced by OR technicians in NRPMR-O.
- b. Determining if organizational records should be searched. In order to decide whether the contents of an organizational record may assist in responding to a reference service request, an Organizational Records Information Sheet is provided in fig. 14. The information sheet lists the organizational records that are most commonly used in the records reconstruction process. In addition, the information sheet shows the kinds of information found in the various organizational records, and the information that is needed in order to conduct a search of these records.

NOTE: OR searches shall be requested only if sufficient information is available to conduct a search. The period of time to be searched shall be limited to not more than three months and the organizational designation must be more complete than just the regiment or division level organization.

- c. Requesting a search of organizational records. To request a search of organizational records, correspondence personnel shall use NA Form 13105. (See fig. 15.) Route the original and one copy of NA Form 13105 to NRPMR-O. A third copy of the form shall be placed in the IBR file when a "B" or "R" record is available.

NOTE: All requests for OR searches will be returned to the technician who made the request, whether or not a record is attached to the case, except for VA Forms 3101, Request for Information, as described in subpar. 14d, below.

- d. Referring inquiries to NRPMR-O. OR searchers are responsible for responding directly to VA Forms 3101 when:
- the request is for medicals only

- the medical records are not available and
- a completed NA Form 13055, Request for Information to Reconstruct Medical Data, is attached

Under these circumstances, the correspondence technician shall route the request to NRPMR-O using NA Form 13098, NPRC Routing Slip, and report the case as an IBR.

15. *Combining the use of internal sources of information in the records reconstruction process.

- Initial steps. Specific steps shall be taken by correspondence personnel in order to utilize internal sources of information to the maximum extent. When available and appropriate, the auxiliary registry file records (QM/QT) shall be used according to the procedures and conditions prescribed in pars. 6 and 7.
- Negative FARS and BIRLS responses. When both the FAR and the BIRLS response are negative, or the BIRLS response is negative with the QM/QT records NOT FOUND or inappropriate to use for reconstruction purpose, specific steps shall be taken in order to utilize other internal sources of information. In order to assist correspondence personnel in their reconstruction efforts, Decision Logic Tables (DLT's) are provided in figs. 16 and 17.

NOTE: Fig. 16 refers to enlisted personnel and fig. 17 refers to officers.

INVESTIGATION REPORTS

---

The basic provisions for the Privacy Act, as it applies to military and civilian records at NPRC, are to provide safeguards for an individual against an invasion of personal privacy by—

- Permitting the individual to determine what records pertaining to him/her are maintained.
- Permitting the individual to prevent records pertaining to him/her from being used or made available for purposes other than the purpose for which they were created, and
- Permitting the individual to gain access to his/her records, to have copies made of all or any portion thereof, and to correct or amend such records.

Under the Privacy Act, agencies may exempt certain types of records from certain provisions of the Act. However, the system of records must specifically exempt a category or type of records in order to prevent its disclosure. Investigative material compiled for law enforcement purposes is exempt from the Privacy Act. If investigative reports are found in the military service record, they are not releasable. Requesters should be referred to:

1. General. Original discharge certificates are only issued/reissued by NPRC under specific circumstances. If it can be determined, with reasonable assurance, that an original discharge certificate was issued to the veteran at the time of discharge from the military service, then process the request in accordance with the procedures outlined in the latest revision of NPRC 1865.51, Request for replacement of separation document. Before issuing a discharge certificate, the requester must state that the original discharge certificate was NEVER received. Fig. 1 provides background information on discharge certificates.

NOTE: Air Force Reference Branch does not issue discharge certificates unless the original is found in the record (see par. 3 and NPRC 1865.51).

2. Authorized requesters. A request for issuance or reissuance of an original discharge certificate is considered for action if it is from the veteran or the surviving spouse. If a request is received from other than the authorized requesters, return the request using NA Form 13044, Reply Concerning Military Records. Check the block that indicates that discharge certificates or certificates in lieu are only issued to the veteran or surviving spouse.
3. Original discharge certificate in record. In processing any request for issuance or reissuance of a discharge certificate, if the original certificate is found in the record, furnish this, provided of course the requester is eligible to receive it.
4. Insufficient time elapsed for certificate to have reached veteran. Always consider whether there has been sufficient time for the certificate to have been prepared and to have reached the veteran. If not, advise the requester of the date of discharge and state that if the certificate is not received within the next 60 days to complete Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records. Furnish a blank SF 180.
5. Action. If it is determined that the issuance or reissuance of an original discharge certificate is appropriate, then follow the procedures in the attached figures. Fig. 2 provides a table for determining the action for these requests. Fig. 3 provides instructions for completing discharge certificates.
6. Type of discharge certificates. DD Form 256, Honorable Discharge Certificate, and DD Form 257, General Discharge Certificate, are the only two types issued or reissued by NPRC. These two documents are used for both officer and enlisted personnel. The service record indicates the type of discharge to which the person is entitled. (See latest revision of NPRC 1865.3, Reference service source document guides.) If the veteran received an OTH discharge, return inquiry using NA Form 13018, Reply to Inquiry (NCP), and state, "The Armed Forces do not issue discharge certificates to individuals who received a (type of discharge)."
7. Use of NA Form 13085, Armed Forces Discharge Certificate Worksheet. This form is intended for use when the certificate is typed by someone other than the person who extracts the information from the record. Aside from that, it may be used on an optional basis.
8. Requests for DD Form 363, Certificate of Retirement.
  - a. Air Force. Using NA Form 13051, Transmittal, forward requests to AFMPC/DPM (DOA1 for enlisted members and DOO1 for officers), Randolph AFB, TX. Attach a copy of the retirement orders. DO NOT send the records. Notify the requester of the referral using NA Form 13053, NPRC Acknowledgement/Referral. If the request is from a retired reservist, forward request along with copy of the retirement orders to ARPC, Denver, CO, using NA Forms 13051 and 13053, as previously described.
  - b. Navy. The Department of the Navy no longer reissues retirement certificates. Respond to the requester using NA Form 13018. Attach copies of the record service pages showing retirement date and write the following statement:

"The Department of the Navy does not issue replacement Retirement Certificates. Attached are copies of service record pages showing date of retirement."
  - c. All others. Using NA Form 13008, Loan or Transfer of Records, forward the request and records to the appropriate address as shown below. Notify the requester of the referral using NA Form 13053. Under remarks write:

"Request for Certificate of Retirement."

- Coast Guard: Commandant, USCG, Washington, DC

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON DISCHARGE CERTIFICATES

1. Background. Although military discharge certificates are, as a rule, issued at time of discharge, a great many individuals for various reasons have left the service without receiving one. This accounts for the occasional receipt in NPRC of requests for issuance of original discharge certificates. To a far greater extent, the Center is called upon to REISSUE discharge certificates because of correction of character of discharge or because of other corrections in the record. Such corrections must first be approved by the proper military authorities, who then issue a directive or notification which comes to NPRC as authority to effect the change in the record, and in some cases, to reissue the discharge certificate. Discharge certificates may be reissued for any of the following, but not all inclusive, reasons:

- a. Name. To show correct name when entirely different from the name recorded on the records and the original separation document.
- b. Character of discharge. When a military Discharge Review Board or Board of Correction authorizes a change in character of discharge.
- c. Numerous errors. When the original certificate contains numerous errors.
- d. Removal of derogatory remarks. When the request is for removal of certain entries from the original certificate that should not have been included, such as remarks concerning medical information or specific reason for the discharge when it is uncomplimentary.

2. Periods when discharge certificates were NOT issued.

- a. Eligibility to receive. It is known that the following service members, though eligible, did NOT receive discharge certificates:
  - Army. Some WWI officers whose service was terminated by resignation; officers who held inactive temporary AUS commissions which were terminated April 1, 1953, "by operation of law;" and some of the officer and enlisted personnel of the Army Reserve.
  - Navy. Enlisted members during the periods November 1, 1916 to June 5, 1925, and November 17, 1942 to July 1, 1947, if they reenlisted immediately in the Navy.
  - Marine Corps. Reserve officers during WWII period discharged to enlist in the Regular Marine Corps; and enlistees in the Reserves who accepted a discharge to enlist in the Regular Marine Corps during the years 1952 - 1953.

b. NOT eligible to receive. Prior to February 1, 1948, Naval officers were not "discharged" in the sense of being awarded a formal certificate. Also, Naval officers separated by dismissal pursuant to sentence of a General Courts-Martial are not entitled to a certificate of discharge. (See NPRC 1865.51.)

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING DISCHARGE CERTIFICATES

1. General. Discharge certificates are prepared in original only. No punctuation is to be used on these forms. When discharge certificates are reissued because of some corrective action, type in CAPS, "CORRECTED COPY" in the center of the top margin.
2. Army, DD Forms 256A or 257A. (See part 2, this fig.) Prepare these documents in the following manner:

Key to Korean Casualty File

Disposition*Subject: Korean War Casualty FileTo: Dir Adm Svc Dir, TAGOFrom: CG, USADATCOMDate: 22 JAN 1965Attn: AGARComment 1: (Mr. Reed/mlm/74564)

1. During the month of April 1964, a representative of the Comptroller, TACO conducted a general management survey of the Data Preparation Branch, Data Processing Division, USADATCOM. The survey report subsequently received from that official included a recommendation that action be taken to convert the punched card file of Korean War casualties to magnetic tape. The objective of this recommendation was to dispose of a relatively inactive file of approximately 110,000 punched cards.
2. In response to that recommendation, a plan was developed to convert the card file to two identical magnetic tape records sequenced alphabetically by state, county within state, and within country. This sequencing of data was dictated by past experience indicating that future research activity would be based largely on requests from the general public for name listings by state and country of residence. The plan included provisions for (1) destruction of the card file, (2) retention of one tape by USADATCOM for a five-year period, and (3) shipment of the second tape, together with a listing, to the Army Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri. This plan was concurred in by Mr. Ollon D. McCool during a telephone conversation with Mr. Linto Reed, of this Command, on or about 20 July 1964.
3. Pursuant to that verbal agreement, a magnetic tape record and listing of the Korean War casualties are inclosed for storage at the Army Records Center. The listing (three volumes) is arranged in the same sequence as the tape record with each state beginning on a new page. Individual items of information contained in each casualty record are printed in separate columns. A key to the column headings, record format, and codes printed on the listing is also inclosed to facilitate its use as a source of historical information.

1. The material discussed in paragraph 3, comment 1, is forwarded for retention in USARCEN.
2. Representatives of Staff Support Division, TAGO, have examined the inclosed material and determined it would not be useful for answering inquiries for casualty statistical information. Staff Support Division utilizes other sources for answering casualty statistical inquiries routed to that activity for action in accordance with TAGO Mail Routing Manual.

WHAT ARE AUTHENTICATED COPIES AND CERTIFIED COPIES?

Authenticated copies are documents reproduced on legal-size paper (8 1/2 x 14"), then bound, ribboned, and placed under an authentication slip (NA Form 13040-B) and signed by an agency official authorized to sign for the Archivist of the United States. (Correspondence technicians do not possess this authority.) The agency official, usually a core manager or assistant core manager ("Acting") in the absence of core manager, certifies that the reproductions are a "true" and "correct" copy of records in the agency's custody. No redactions are made to the copies. When authenticated copies are sent, use Get Pattern Letter»Legal Demands»Valid Court Order with Judge's Signature.docx. This letter includes the same information as NA Form 13021 and is loosely inserted underneath the authentication slip.

Certified copies are documents reproduced on legal-size paper (8 1/2 x 14"), then prepared the same as authenticated copies EXCEPT that any third-party personal identifiers in the records are redacted UNLESS the requester is a "routine user" of the records. DD Forms 214 (or the equivalent older versions) are not redacted when sending certified copies, regardless of the requester. When certified copies are sent (whether or not redacted) the letter that includes our agency's court order requirements (NA Form 13027) is furnished in place of using the letter indicated above or sending NA Form 13021.

SENDING AUTHENTICATED AND CERTIFIED COPIES--FOUR RULES

1. Always send authenticated copies for legal demands.
2. Carefully evaluate routine use requests to determine whether to send authenticated or certified copies.
3. Send certified copies, when requested, in response to "non-routine use" requests provided the veteran or next of kin's written or digital authorization is furnished; and in cases where the veteran/next of kin authorization is present and the requester provides an affidavit or record certification form to be filled out.
4. If the request is not a legal demand, not a routine use, or does not include a release authorization, send a copy of our Court Order Requirements. \(NA Form 13027\)

NOTE: If the records are needed for litigation (court or "legal" purposes), send copies of all requested records—not an extract—whether or not copies are under seal/ribbon.

PREPARING NA FORM 13040-B

Since Core Technicians are now using DPRIS to access electronic service records for Army veterans, NPRC will be authenticating or certifying complete copies of records under two different authorities. Therefore, NA Form 13040-B has been revised to include a checkbox for records held at NPRC that are certified under the authority of the Archivist, and a checkbox for electronic records obtained from DPRIS that are certified under the authority of the Department of the Army.

The process for preparing NA Form 13040-B is listed below:

1. Core Technicians will be responsible for preparing NA Form 13040-B. The form should be accessed in CMRS under Get Forms>>>NA Forms>>>NA Form 13040-B.
2. Core Technicians should select the correct checkbox to indicate whether the records are being authenticated or certified under the Department of the Army (records were accessed through DPRIS), under the Archivist (records are held at NPRC) or both if the veteran has paper records held at NRPC and electronic records held by the Army.
3. Since a copy of this form must be retained by NPRC, it is important to create this form as an attachment to the response document. This will ensure it is retained in CMRS for future reference.
4. Once NA Form 13040-B is prepared for the Core Manager's signature along with an appropriate response document and the veteran's record has been screened for third party information (if necessary), submit the package to your support staff to bind, ribbon and affix a seal to the documents in preparation for routing to the Core Manager. Note: Support Staff are responsible for copying the veteran's record prior to screening by Core Technicians.
5. Core Manager reviews and signs NA Form 13040-B. The request is processed out of core.

FEES: CERTIFIED COPIES FOR AN ARCHIVAL AND NON-ARCHIVAL RECORD

(Work archival record in accordance with the Archival Response Guide)

- When we have an archival record and non-archival record (and both are chargeable), we will process as archival and will not charge any non-archival fees.
  - Complete appropriate (archival invoice form) NPRC Test Form 2009...with Certification - the archival invoice form will cover the archival and non-archival record.
  - Send customer archival invoice that will be processed by the archival fee desk when payment is received.
  - After receipt of payment the technician will prepare one certified package consisting of the archival record copies on top followed by the non-archival record copies: see NOTE under NON-ROUTINE USES.
  - If payment is not received within the time allotted, the request is automatically closed and the (archival and non-archival) records are returned to file.

LEGAL DEMANDS

What is a legal demand?

A legal demand is a court order or subpoena signed by a judge of a “court of competent jurisdiction.” A “court of competent jurisdiction” is defined as either a state or federal court. While court orders can be signed by a clerk of the court and subpoenas signed by anyone, NPRC does NOT consider them valid legal demands.

A legal demand can be: (1) an original manually signed by a judge; (2) a photocopy or reproduction of the original signed by a judge; (3) a photocopy or reproduction of the original which has the stamped, printed signature of the judge; or (4) an electronic signature (eSignature) of a judge. Note: A judge's eSignature is only accepted from a court. If you cannot read the signature (because it's illegible) or you are unsure about whether the signature belongs to a judge, telephone the court or the attorneys involved. Upon receipt of a legal demand, NPRC furnishes authenticated copies to a recipient named in the demand, usually an attorney or the clerk of the court.

Legal Demands and Age

Unlike a release authorization, there is NO age limit on a legal demand. However, if a legal demand is over a year old save yourself unnecessary labor by telephoning the attorney(s) involved. The case may have been tried already, plea bargained (if a criminal prosecution), or settled (if a civil suit).

Legal Demands and Courts

Federal Courts - can issue legal demands affecting or interfering with the conduct of NPRC. Most federal trials are held in U.S. district courts. The only name they have is “United States District Courts.” Occasionally, you will also see court orders from the “U.S. Claims Court,” which hears cases in which an individual or corporation sues the U.S. government.

Non-Federal Courts - (state and lower courts) do not have the authority to issue legal demands affecting or interfering with our conduct. Still, we furnish authenticated copies to state and lower courts so long as the release of the records is not restricted by federal law or by the armed force whose records are involved. There are a variety of names for state and lower courts, including:

Superior Court
Circuit Court

Chancery Court
District Court
Court of Common Pleas
Magistrate Court
Justice of the Peace Court
Municipal or County Court

ROUTINE USES

Some ROUTINE USERS Who Receive Authenticated Copies

Federal Agencies

A federal agency may be a part of litigation between the agency and the person whose records are involved. When this occurs, we will provide authenticated copies for an agency's use in litigation. Besides U.S. Attorneys in the Justice Department, NPRC receives requests from such federal offices as the U.S. Treasury Department, the U.S. Postal Service, and the FBI.

The Armed Forces

Letterhead requests are often received from the Office of the Judge Advocate General (JAG) for copies of records, possibly in connection with a lawsuit filed against a service department. If the armed force requesting the record is the legal custodian of the record, furnish authenticated copies immediately. If the armed force requesting the record is not the legal custodian of the record (example, a request from the Department of the Army concerns a Marine Corps record), ask the liaison officer how to process the inquiry. The liaison officer (for Navy and USMC) may want to telephone the requester for details about the inquiry before authorizing the release of records. No instructions exist when Army, Air Force, or Coast Guard records are involved. Regarding Coast Guard records, if in doubt, Loan and Transfer them to Coast Guard HQ.

U.S. Attorneys

U.S. Attorneys are the main administrators of federal law enforcement in the Justice Department. There is a U.S. Attorney in every federal judicial district. Requests from U.S. Attorneys are usually submitted as subpoenas. We will honor these requests (subpoenas) if they are signed by either a U.S. Attorney or an Assistant U.S. Attorney (AUSA). If not signed by a U.S. Attorney or AUSA, the request is returned for signature.

State Workers Compensation Offices

A worker's compensation subpoena or order is NOT considered a legal demand because a judge of a "court of competent jurisdiction" does not sign it. Records are furnished directly to the board because it is a state routine use of records. NOTE: The names of these judges can vary from state to state.

Any documents released must be sent directly to the state board. If the request does not contain the address of the state board, the technician must attempt to locate the address by phone or by searching online. If unable to obtain an address, respond with the Workman's Compensation Letter and Information Handout Sheet in Get Paragraph—Legal Demands. Place the case in suspense in CMRS, with reason of Requestor and a 45 day due date.

Often a worker's compensation subpoena or order, signed by the Administrative Law Judge, will direct you to send the records to a third party, perhaps the employer's attorney(s) or a copy service. DO NOT FOLLOW THIS DIRECTIVE. If records are to be sent to a third party, the requestor must produce either a valid legal demand (signed by a judge of a "court of competent jurisdiction"); or the veteran's written or digital (signature) consent. (See Sample information sheet at the end of this section of the guide).

Guardians Ad Litem

A Guardian Ad Litem is a person appointed by the court to protect the interests of a minor or legally incompetent person in a lawsuit. The Guardian Ad Litem will probably submit a subpoena that he or she has signed. The subpoena is honored only if the Guardian Ad Litem also sends a copy of the court appointment.

Certified Copies are provided to:

State and Local Offices and Agencies

Requests from state and local offices and agencies are submitted by attorneys called a "prosecuting attorney," "county attorney," "district attorney," or "state's attorney." Requests will also be signed by an assistant attorney. If the requester indicates the records are needed for litigation, send certified, but not redacted, copies.

Grand Juries

A Grand Jury is a body of citizens whom the court summons to decide whether and against whom it should file criminal charges. It decides whether there is enough evidence to bring a person to trial. A grand jury may investigate possible criminal behavior or corruption. It has broad investigative powers, including subpoena power. Because the grand jury is an investigative body, NPRC sends certified copies in response to a grand jury subpoena.

NON-ROUTINE USES

With the Written or digital (Signature) Consent of the Veteran

NOTE: DD Forms 214 (or equivalent older versions) are not redacted when sending certified copies, regardless of the requester. Third-party personal identifiers in the records must be redacted when the requester is a non-routine user, following the usual redaction policies in the CRG at Redacting PII.

Attorneys

Veteran's Attorney

The veteran's attorney may be a private attorney or a public defender. Send redacted, certified copies--if requested. Otherwise, send regular copies.

Adverse Attorney

The adverse attorney is the attorney in a civil suit that is NOT representing the subject of the records. Send redacted, certified copies--if requested. If not requested, send regular copies. NPRC always bills the adverse attorney in a civil suit. In CMRS use the following procedures to bill adverse attorneys:

- In the Response Information applet check the Fee-Seal Flag field.

Note: A check in this field indicates the documents are provided as part of a fee case and are sealed with a NARA Official Seal. Check mark is entered by the technician completing the request and used by the fee desk to establish billing.

- In Fee-Copies field enter the number of copies furnished.

*Note: This is the number of copies provided in response to a request for chargeable services. Click on drop down arrow and enter the number of pages furnished. REQUIRED entry if the FEE Flag is checked.

- In Fee-Time field enter length of time in minutes.

*Note: This is the length of time spent working the request. Click on drop down arrow and click the number of minutes spent working the request. REQUIRED entry if the FEE Case Flag is checked.

Copy Services

Copy services are companies hired by attorneys to obtain and reproduce records. Often the copy service will submit its own subpoena. DO NOT honor it. However, if the request includes an acceptable release authorization from the veteran, redacted, certified copies are furnished to the person(s) named in the release authorization. Always contact the copy service if you can't determine if they are working for the veteran's attorney or the adverse attorney. When copy services work for adverse attorneys, we bill them. Follow the same billing procedure as indicated above under adverse attorney.

NOTE: When NPRC responds to a subpoena or court order (civil case) issued at the request of the adverse attorney, the technician must also send a copy of the response document to the last known address of the individual whose records were released or to the individual's attorney. However, it is not necessary to seek a more current address than the one provided in the record if an address is not provided in the request. If you can verify the veteran's death (from acceptable documentation provided by the requester or one of our online proof of death links), no notification to the next-of-kin or other party is required.

If ONLY copies of an Archival record are being sent to the Adverse Attorney there is no need to inform the veteran or the veteran's attorney.

If copies of BOTH Non-Archival and Archival records are being sent to the adverse attorney, the veteran or veteran's attorney must be notified.

COURT ORDER REQUIREMENTS

Send an NA Form 13027, Court Order Requirements, in reply to a request which is not a legal demand, not a routine use, or does not include the authorization of the veteran. The form explains that NPRC requires a court order or subpoena signed by a judge and cites the authority for this requirement. It also explains what personal information is needed to locate a record in our custody.

MEDICAL RECORDS

If all medical records are requested, you must send the health record. In addition, send any clinical records on file in either of the following two situations: (1) if the request is a true legal demand (court order or subpoena signed by a judge of a "court of competent jurisdiction") or (2) if the request specifically asks for clinical or hospitalization records.

(See encyclopedia entry for clinical records.)

If all medical records are requested and the health record was lent to the VA or retired to the Records Management Center, you must advise the requester about the health record's location and send any clinical records on file.

If x-rays are requested, advise the requester, "X-rays cannot be loaned to the court. However, they may be loaned to a physician appointed by the court, who will testify to the reading of the x-rays."

If mental health or psychiatric documents are in the record, they may be released for a legal demand or routine use. If the request is from the veteran's attorney with the written or digital (signature) consent of the veteran, take the following action:

1. Army/Air Force/Navy/Marine Corps. Provide the documents to the attorney, but insert the caution statement listed below in the response.
2. Coast Guard. Forward the records to the service department for a determination.

If you are sending the mental health or psychiatric documents in reply to a legal demand or routine use include the following caution statement:

"Some of the information contained in these records may prove injurious to the physical or mental health of the subject of the record if released to him/her; therefore, appropriate measures should be taken to ensure that this information is not disclosed to the individual except to the extent that such disclosure is essential to the issues of the pending proceedings."

ALCOHOL AND DRUG REHABILITATION RECORDS

If a legal demand is received and records involve participation in the military's Alcohol and Drug Rehabilitation Program the records must be sent to the clerk of the court. If demand directs you to send records to an attorney(s), telephone the attorney and obtain the address for the clerk of the court.

If request is from a Federal routine use, send the records.

If request is from a State routine use, withhold only the documents/records pertaining to the rehabilitation program and send an NA Form 13078. (Prosecuting Attorneys and Workers Compensation Offices are examples of state routine uses.)

If you are sending records because of an authorization from the veteran, withhold only the documents/records pertaining to the rehabilitation program and send an NA Form 13078 UNLESS the authorization specifically allows the release of rehabilitation records.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES INVOLVING LEGAL CASES

Request for Deposition or Court Appearance

A deposition is a pre-trial statement of a witness under oath, taken in question and answer form as it would be in court. Depositions may be oral or in the form of written questions. NPRC DOES NOT appear for oral depositions or respond to depositions in the form of written questions unless a party to the action. Authenticated or certified copies of the record will be furnished instead.

If you receive a legal demand for a court appearance, telephone attorney(s) involved, and explain to him/her that our agency's policy is to provide records in lieu of a court appearance. (See NPRC 1864.107 for additional information.)

Motion to Quash

A motion to quash is an application before the court to cancel or overthrow a subpoena, order, injunction, etc. If you receive a copy of a motion to quash a legal demand (from the veteran or his attorney), telephone the adverse attorney (the party seeking the records) and advise him or her that NPRC will take no further action until the judge has ruled on the matter. If you receive a telephone call from the veteran or his/her attorney claiming a motion to quash has been filed, advise caller to fax you a copy of the motion.

United States IS a Party to the Litigation

If the U.S. government, a specific agency of the U.S. government, or possibly the head of a U.S. government agency is either the plaintiff or defendant in a lawsuit, ask the appropriate liaison officer about how to process the inquiry. If an inquiry involves a Coast Guard record, Loan and Transfer the record.

The law firm of Berry & Berry

Berry & Berry is a law firm handling a class action suit concerning asbestos exposure. In response to court orders issued on behalf Berry & Berry, send regular copies of the military personnel and health record. Do NOT redact information from the record.

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF WHEN RESPONDING TO AN INQUIRY

Was the record in the custody of NPRC or obtained from DPRIS?

Who is the plaintiff/defendant?

Is the United States a party?

Is this a civil or criminal case?

Is the subpoena or court order signed by a state or federal court judge?

Is requester a routine use? If yes, is it a state or federal routine use?

Is the requester an adverse attorney? Is this a fee case?

Where should the records be sent? What does the subpoena/order or release authorization direct?

Do I need to send a cc to the veteran or his/her attorney?

Are there psychiatric or alcohol/drug abuse treatment records?

Does this case involve anyone in the news? Is this a controversial issue? If the answer to either of these questions is yes, and the record concerns Navy or USMC service, ask the appropriate liaison officer for guidance.

For additional information about legal demands, see NPRC 1864.107

For additional information about routine uses, including Workers Compensation Offices, and non routine uses, see NPRC 1865.16

LEGAL GLOSSARY

(Following is a glossary of legal terminology and expressions that you will find helpful)

Administrative Law Judge - the presiding officer at an administrative hearing with power to administer oaths, take testimony, issue subpoenas, rule on questions of evidence, regulate the course of proceedings, and make agency determinations of fact. The officer does not sit as a law judge, and his/her power is essentially one of recommendation. The Administrative Law Judge's decision can be appealed to the agency for which he or she hears cases, and then to a court of law.

Administrator - one appointed to handle the affairs of a person who has died intestate [without leaving a valid will]. Administrators cannot obtain a complete copy of a deceased veteran's record without the written authorization of the next of kin.

Admissible Evidence - evidence that can be legally and properly introduced in a civil or criminal trial.

Affidavit - a written ex-parte statement made or taken under oath before an officer of the court or a notary public or other person who has been duly authorized so to act. An affiant is one who makes such a statement.

At Issue - the contested points in a lawsuit are said to be "at issue"

Capital Case - a criminal prosecution involving the death penalty

Cause - a lawsuit, litigation or action; any question civil or criminal, litigated or contested before a court of law

Chancellor - name used in some states to signify any judge sitting in a court of chancery. A chancery court is guided primarily by equitable [fair] doctrine. Examples: bankruptcy court. Some states with chancery courts: Delaware, Tennessee, Mississippi.

Civil Action - mostly involve the settlement of private conflicts among people or institutions such as businesses. Many civil cases involve domestic relations issues--divorce, child support, custody, and the like. Personal injuries probably account for more claims, called tort actions, than any other cause. In civil cases, the people or businesses involved in disputes file suits.

Class Action - a lawsuit brought by one or more persons on behalf of a larger group

Clerk of the Court - a court officer whose duty it is to keep records, issue formal writings, enter judgements and the like

Commissioner, or Court Commissioner - a person appointed by a judge to find facts, hear testimony, or perform a specific function connected with certain types of cases. A commissioner is not a state or federal court judge, and therefore has no authority to sign a legal demand for military records.

Conservatorship - the legal right given to a person to manage the property or financial affairs of a person deemed incapable of doing that for him or herself. Conservators have somewhat less responsibility than guardians. For a request submitted by a Conservator, follow guidance provided under Conservatorship or Executor of Estate

Continuance - the adjournment or postponement to a later date of an action pending in court

Criminal Action - involve the upholding of public or official codes of behavior. In a criminal case, the government brings charges against the person or business who supposedly committed the crime.

Decree - an order of the court

Discovery - formal process of trial preparation in which the parties exchange information to find out details relevant to witnesses. It also reveals other evidence each side will present at trial. Discovery allows the parties to know before the trial begins what facts the other may present. The trial judge may set a deadline date by which all information to be used at trial must be revealed.

Et Al - and others

Executor - a person who either expressly or by implication is appointed by a testator [one who dies leaving a will] to carry out the testator's directions concerning the dispositions made under the will. For a request submitted by a Executor, follow guidance provided under Conservatorship or Executor of Estate.

Ex-Parte - in behalf of, on the application of, one party, by or for one party. An ex-parte judicial proceeding is one brought for the benefit of one party only, without notice to or challenge by an adverse party. It refers to an application made by one party to a proceeding in the absence of the other.

Guardian - one who legally has care and management of the person or estate, or both, of an incompetent who cannot act for himself; an officer or agent of the court who is appointed to protect the interests of minors or incompetent persons and to provide for their care, welfare, education, maintenance and support. A legally appointed guardian may receive a copy of the veteran's record provided he/she includes a copy of the court papers appointing him/her as a guardian with the request.

Indictment - an accusation by an grand jury charging a person with a crime

Justice of the Peace - a local magistrate empowered to try minor cases, administer oaths, and perform marriages. This office has been abolished in most states, with similar powers transferred to municipal or district courts.

Litigants - the parties involved in a lawsuit

Magistrate - a judicial officer exercising some of the functions of a judge; it can include inferior judicial officers such as justices of the peace. United States Magistrates (i.e., federal magistrates) are appointed by federal court judges. These magistrates' powers include the ability to hear and determine any pre-trial motion pending before the court, to conduct hearings, including evidentiary hearings, and to submit proposed findings of facts and recommendations for disposition.

Motion - an application to the court requesting an order or rule in favor of the applicant. Motions may be made orally, or more formally, in writing, by a Notice of Motion. They may be determined without notice to the adverse parties [ex-parte] or argued by adverse parties.

Notary Public - a public officer under civil and commercial law, authorized to administer oaths, to attest to and certify certain types of documents, to take depositions, and to perform certain acts in commercial matters. The seal of the notary public authenticates a document. In many jurisdictions attorneys can act as notaries.

Parties:

Plaintiff/Petitioner - the “state” or “people of the state” in a criminal prosecution; the person bringing the suit, the offended party in a civil suit.

Defendant/Respondent - person being criminally prosecuted; the person or institution against whom a civil suit is filed. The plaintiff’s name will always appear first. Examples: The State of Michigan v. John Doe or Jones v. Smith.

Power of Attorney - an instrument in writing by which one person, as principal, appoints another as his agent and confers upon him the authority to perform certain specified acts or kinds of acts on behalf of the principal. The primary purpose of the power of attorney is to evidence the authority of the agent to third parties with whom the agent deals. If a requester has a valid Power of Attorney, he/she may obtain a copy of the veteran's record. However, the extent of a Power of Attorney varies. Therefore, it is important to carefully review the document to determine if the Power of Attorney authorizes the designated individual to receive personnel or medical records.

Public Defender - a government lawyer who provides legal defense services to a poor person accused of a crime

Settlement - a compromise achieved by the adverse parties in a civil suit before final judgment, whereby they agree between themselves upon their respective rights and obligations, thus avoiding a trial

Stipulation - an agreement, admission, or concession made by parties in a judicial proceeding or by their attorneys

Subpoena - an order issued under the authority of a court to compel a witness to appear and testify

Subpoena Duces Tecum - type of subpoena issued by a court at the request of one of the parties to a suit requiring a witness to bring to court or to a deposition any relevant documents that are under the witness’s control

Workers' Compensation - various state and federal laws which seek to provide benefits to workers and their families as compensation for work-related injuries, diseases, and deaths. Under these laws, employers compensate individuals for injuries, including medical expenses and permanent or temporary disability, regardless of who was at fault. Families will get benefits if the worker dies because of an injury. Workers’ compensation laws not only cover injuries that occur on the job, but they also cover “occupational diseases” resulting from on-the-job exposure, such as asbestosis, silicosis, and black lung disease, if the job presents a greater risk of getting the disease than other jobs. All states have some type of workers’ compensation. State laws vary in the amount of benefits provided but are similar to each other. Workers’ compensation boards or courts exist in most states with jurisdiction to review cases arising under the laws.

In workers’ compensation, an injured or ill employee submits a claim to the employer’s insurance carrier and to the workers’ compensation agency in the state. If the claim is not challenged by the employer, payment is made by the insurance company. If the employee is unsatisfied with the award or the employer contests the claim, a hearing is scheduled and evidence relating to the circumstances of injury and extent of injury is presented before a workers' compensation judge (sometimes called an administrative law judge, hearing examiner, or hearing officer) who will decide the matter.

In most states, if a workers' compensation law covers an individual, it prohibits the individual from filing a civil suit against the employer for conditions covered by the law. In many states, though, the worker can still sue other negligent parties who may have played a role. Such parties could include coworkers, producers of defective machinery, etc.

OBTAINING FEDERAL PERSONNEL AND MEDICAL RECORDS (MILITARY OR CIVILIAN) PURSUANT TO COURT ORDER OR SUBPOENA

COURT ORDER REQUIREMENTS

Access to military or civilian personnel and medical records on file at the National Personnel Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri, may be gained pursuant "to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction." Valid court orders should be addressed to this Center. Subpoenas qualify as orders of a court of competent jurisdiction only if they have been signed by a judge. To be valid, court orders must also be signed by a judge. Authority for these requirements is 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(11), as interpreted by Doe vs. DiGenova, 779 F. 2d. 74 (D.C. Cir. 1985), and Stiles vs. Atlanta Gas and Light Company, 453 F. Supp. 798 (N.D. Ga. 1978).

Please furnish the address of the clerk of the court so that photocopies may be furnished in the form of a certificate under seal to the clerk of the court issuing the order. Or, the photocopies may be sent to a recipient other than the clerk of the court as long as the order of the court names another recipient and gives the appropriate address. Under applicable Federal Law, photocopies so certified shall be admitted into evidence as original records 44 U.S.C. Sec. 2116(b). It is also helpful to furnish the names and addresses of attorneys involved.

The court order must describe the records and information desired in sufficient detail to identify them with accuracy. A minimum of detail would include as many of the following as possible: The complete name, service number, social security number, date of birth, branch of service or Federal agency by which employed, and dates of military service (active, reserve, or retired) or of Federal employment. If clinical treatment records are needed, include also the dates, places, and type(s) of treatment given. The court order should be addressed and sent to:

WORKERS' COMPENSATION INFORMATION SHEET

Access to military personnel/medical records in the custody of the National Personnel Records Center is limited by the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), and Department of Defense Regulations. The Privacy Act permits release of information from these records, without the permission of the veteran, to a "routine use" of the records. The Department of Defense has determined that State Workers' Compensation Boards/Offices are generally considered to be routine uses of the records. This exception applies only to the Boards/Offices of each state, however, and not to third parties representing another interest. Even if the State Board/Office specifies release to a third party, we will comply by sending the information only to the routine use, i.e., the State Board/Office. Therefore, please submit one of the following:

1. The address of the State Board/Office of Workers' Compensation where the information can be sent. Without the veteran's authorization, we will provide information only to the "routine use."
2. The signed and dated authorization of the veteran or his designated representative, specifically, directing that information from the military record be provided to you. Authorization can be a written or digital signature, but it must be dated within the last year. If veteran is legally incompetent, the designated legal representative or guardian must sign the request and furnish a copy of the court appointment or power of attorney (POA) that clearly places the individual over the veteran's affairs. It should be specific enough to mention the disclosure of records.

Note: The above time limit requirement for a valid signature does not necessarily apply to court ordered appointments or POAs. Each will be evaluated to determine if it is in compliance with current regulations.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION
National Personnel Records Center
St. Louis, Missouri 63132-5100

NPRC 1864.107D
May 9, 1997

SUBJECT: Legal demands for records and/or information

1. Purpose. This memorandum issues instructions for processing legal demands for records and/or information. These instructions do NOT apply to a request for certified or authenticated copies received from a routine use of the record, the veteran, or a third party who has the written authorization of the veteran (e.g., a record copy service or a veteran's representative including an attorney).
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1864.107C is canceled.
3. Reason for revision. This memorandum is revised to:
  - a. provide instructions on when to search the Patient Retrieval System (PRS);
  - b. provide instructions on how to process legal demands for medical records that are loaned/sent or retired to the Department of Veterans Affairs; and
  - c. update forms.
4. Applicability. This memorandum is applicable to all reference branch correspondence personnel and Records Reconstruction Branch correspondence personnel.
5. Definitions.
  - a. Subpoena Duces Tecum. This is a REQUEST issued by a court. It may be directed to a person requiring his/her attendance at a particular time and place to testify. It also requires that he/she bring with him/her certain papers or records in his/her possession or under his/her control which may tend to clarify the subject matter of the trial or hearing. In February 1981, the Office of Management and Budget reaffirmed its earlier guidance that a subpoena duces tecum signed by a clerk of the court did not constitute a proper court order under the provisions of subsection (b)(11) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a. A subpoena duces tecum signed by a judge becomes a court order as defined in subpar. 5b below.
  - b. Court order. This term refers to a DEMAND from a judge of a court for records, or authenticated copies thereof, or for the testimony of a representative of NPRC in deposition form, which may tend to clarify the subject matter of the trial or hearing.
  - c. Deposition. A testimony of a witness taken under oath, but out of court, and reduced to writing, to be used in trying some question of fact in a Court of Justice.
  - d. Criminal action. A prosecution for a crime brought in the name of a government entity, and which is based upon the assumption that the injury done is to the public generally, as opposed to a private person. An injury to a private person is compensated by a civil suit for damages even when the injury involves a crime.

e. Civil action. Every action presented for trial other than criminal.

f. Adverse attorney. In a civil action, the attorney NOT representing the subject of the record requested.

6. Instructions. The instructions for handling the various types of legal demands under different situations are found in the attachment.

LEGAL DEMANDS FOR RECORDS AND/OR INFORMATION

1. Request sources. Legal demands, which are court orders/subpoenas signed by a judge, come from the various types of courts of the judicial branch of government at all levels in the United States, both Federal and non-Federal. A subpoena signed by an attorney or the clerk of the court is not a valid legal demand.

NOTE: We frequently receive requests, often via subpoena, for authenticated copies of records from various routine users such as U. S. Attorneys, Office of the Judge Advocate General, Federal Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Army Criminal Investigative Division, U. S. Air Force Office of Special Investigations, etc. These requesters do not have to submit court orders for authenticated copies but can receive them upon written request. For case processing instructions, see the most current version of NPRC1865.16, Release and access guide for military personnel and related records at NPRC. Responses to requests from the sources cited above are not the subject of this NPRC memorandum.

A subpoena from a state workmen's compensation office is not a valid legal demand. Moreover, an administrative law judge of a workers compensation office is NOT a judge of a court of competent jurisdiction. NPRC provides certified copies of documents or information to state workmen's compensation offices as a routine use of the records. The documents or information can be released to that office only upon receipt of a subpoena signed by a Magistrate or Administrative Law Judge. The records may only be released to the Magistrate or Administrative Law Judge. Be aware that the titles of hearings examiners for state workmen's compensation agencies vary from state to state.

2. Value of records in court proceedings. Courts of law submit subpoenas signed by a judge or court orders for records because of the value of these records in court proceedings. This value is indicated in Section 1733, Title 28, U. S. Code (1995 edition):

(a) Books or records of account or minutes of proceedings of any department or agency of the United States shall be admissible to prove the act, transaction or occurrence as a memorandum of which the same were made or kept.

(b) Properly authenticated copies or transcripts of any books, records, papers or documents of any department or agency of the United States shall be admitted in evidence equally with the originals thereof.

NOTE: This paragraph is informational only and is not to be cited as a reference in any response to a request.

3. Authority for NPRC to respond to legal demands. See Appendix A.

- a. Federal courts. The basic authority allowing a response by NPRC to court orders issued by courts is contained in Section 1254.8(a), Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations. This authority, however, is subject to restrictions imposed by the respective armed force or agency whose records are involved, as brought out in this memorandum. See also Section 1254.32.
- b. Non-Federal courts. State and lower courts do not have the authority to issue legal demands affecting or interfering with the conduct of Federal activities. However, legal demands made on NPRC by or through non-Federal courts should be handled in a manner similar to requests from Federal courts; photocopies of the records may be produced if not restricted by law or by the respective armed force or agency whose records are involved.
- c. Authority for NPRC to authenticate copies of records. On occasion, attorneys telephone concerning NPRC's authority to maintain records or to authenticate photocopies of records. Or, the attorney may want to address/send the court order to a specific branch chief or archives technician. Appendix A outlines four general subjects which attorneys may ask about and the authority NPRC may cite in responding to those questions. Refer questions of a more complicated nature to the assistant branch chief or branch chief.

4. Requirements for proper court orders (legal demands).

- a. General. Exact requirements for an acceptable legal demand cannot be precisely outlined, as the procedures of the different courts vary. An overall appraisal of each legal demand must be made to determine sufficiency. Each demand must be examined considering the following factors as well as the special conditions/restrictions in par. 6 before honoring any request.
- b. Duplicate copies. Either the original or duplicate copy of the legal demand is acceptable.
- c. Nature/purpose. Requests should state the nature of the legal action and the parties involved. Those from United States courts should indicate whether the United States Government is a party to the litigation. This will often eliminate the need for follow-up telephone calls for more information.
- d. Contents/wording. The requirements for the proper contents/wording of a legal demand are outlined on NA Form 13027, Court Order Requirements. (See fig. 1) Be sure to note that it is not always necessary to send the authenticated copies of the records to the clerk of the court. With few exceptions (see subpar. 6b\(2\) and 9d below), if the court order names another recipient and gives the appropriate address, the photocopies are sent to that designated party.

- e. Signature. Court Orders must be signed by the judge of the court. Subpoenas, including those from a grand jury, must be signed by a judge to be honored as a legal demand. Any of the following are acceptable:

(1) An original manually signed by a judge,

(2) A photocopy or reproduction of the original manually signed by a judge, or

(3) A photocopy or reproduction of the original which has the stamped, printed signature of the judge.

This third type does not have a manual signature on the copy submitted to NPRC. However, since there are criminal penalties attached to requesting or obtaining records covered by the Privacy Act under false pretenses, NPRC can reasonably rely on a judge's stamped, printed signature as adequate evidence of the validity of the legal demand.

If you cannot determine if the signature is that of the issuing judge, clerk of the court, or an attorney, the archives technician telephones the attorney or court for verification of the signature.

NOTE: If a legal demand does not meet any one of the criteria outlined above, it should be returned by using the NA Form 13027.

- f. Court seal. Legal demands need not necessarily bear the court seal. However, the court seal on a legal demand may compensate for some other suspected deficiency in determining the acceptability of the demand.
- g. Age of legal demands. The date a legal demand was issued should not normally be a determining factor of its acceptability unless it specifies a date of trial or date required that is well past. If there is a question concerning the age, a telephone call to the attorney or court involved may be necessary for verification purposes.
- h. Requests for information as to how a legal demand should be prepared. These should be answered primarily by furnishing a copy of NA Form 13027. Read the paragraphs to attorneys who telephone NPRC seeking information on what criteria are necessary to submit a valid court order to this Center.

5. Action on legal demands if requirements are not met. Upon receipt of a legal demand which is not considered sufficient, return the demand with a properly annotated NA Form 13027. A court order should meet the criteria outlined in the first two paragraphs on the NA Form 13027 or it should not be honored.

6. Action if requirements are met.

- a. Legal demands involving litigation in which the United States is a party. Legal demands which involve the United States government can be identified by noting that either the Plaintiff or the Defendant listed is the United States government, a specific agency of the United States government, or possibly the head of a United States government agency. When a legal demand listing the United States as a party is received, forward the legal demand and pertinent records to the appropriate office of the armed force, employing agency, or legal custodian for processing. If the National Archives and Records Administration is a party to the litigation, coordinate with NRPC/NRPM in requesting advice through the NARA General Counsel (GC).

b. Legal demands involving litigation in which the United States is not a party.

(1) Conditions for forwarding to the armed force or agency concerned. If any of the following conditions exist, forward the legal demand and pertinent records to the appropriate office of the armed force or agency concerned.

(a) Records concern anyone prominent in the news.

(b) A controversial issue is involved.

(c) Some information is available that raises doubt as to the materiality, relevance, or usefulness of the requested information in the litigation.

(d) Records concern a person with some type of current military status.

NOTE FOR NRPMN ONLY: If case involves Navy medical records only, case need not be forwarded if otherwise proper for action by NPRC.

(2) Security classified records. On rare occasions, a record or documents in the record needed to respond to a legal demand may be security classified. The armed force or agency whose records are involved are to be informed of the request through the branch chief.

(3) Conditions in (1) and (2), above, not present. If none of the foregoing conditions exist, take action as indicated below:

(a) NPRC response to routine court orders. Respond to court orders (or a subpoena signed by a judge) by furnishing authenticated copies of records under authentication certificate (see figs. 2 and 3) transmitted by letter or NA Form 13122, Reply to Subpoena/Court Order, (see fig. 4) to the clerk of the court. If a formal letter is used as a transmittal, the language used on NA Form 13122 is to be followed. If the court order does not specify to whom the records are to be sent, the records are to be sent to the clerk of the court. Records may be released to a recipient other than the court if:

(i) The stipulation (signed by the subject of the record or a representative of the person whose records are involved) names another recipient; or,

(ii) The order of the court names another recipient.

Also attach a copy of NA Form 13021, Admissibility in Evidence of Copies of Records Authenticated by the National Personnel Records Center. (See fig. 5) See pars. 9 and 10 for further details.

NOTE: When NPRC responds to a subpoena or court order (civil case) issued at the request of the adverse attorney, a carbon copy of the transmittal form/letter must be sent to the last known address of the individual whose records were released, or to his/her attorney. It is not necessary to seek a more current address than that provided in the record if one is not provided in the request. If the subject of the records involved is known to be deceased, no notification to the next-of-kin or other party is required.

(b) NPRC response to a FEDERAL court order or subpoena signed by a judge requesting a personal appearance in court. When a subpoena or court order issued by a Federal court (and signed by a judge) requesting a representative of NPRC to appear in court with records is SERVED ON an NPRC representative, or upon learning that such a demand is forthcoming, attempt to obtain agreement with the attorney or court representative concerned to satisfy the request by furnishing authenticated copies of the records. Explain that such copies are admissible in evidence in accordance with Section 2116(b), Title 44, U.S.C. If this is agreed to, process in the same manner as a court order (see subpar. 6b\(3\)\(a\), above). If agreement cannot be reached to furnish photocopies of the records, coordinate with NRPC/NRPM in requesting advice through the NARA General Counsel (NGC).

(c) NPRC response to a STATE court order or subpoena signed by a judge requesting a personal appearance in court. When a subpoena duces tecum issued by a State or lower court requesting a representative of NPRC to appear in court with records is SERVED ON an NPRC representative, retain the demand and furnish authenticated copies, following instructions in subpar. 6b\(3\)\(a\), above. If this action is contested, explain the action, by letter or telephone call, using subpar. 3b of the attachment as a basis. If an actual complaint regarding the action is received, coordinate with NRPC/NRPM in seeking advice through the NARA General Counsel (NGC).

(d) Depositions. If the U. S. Government has no interest in the litigation involved, legal demands for NPRC representatives to testify in deposition form at this Center (or any other U. S. Government property) are not honored. Records or copies are not taken to any other location for use by NPRC personnel in testifying in deposition form. If NPRC's response is protested, or if the deposition is requested for use in litigation in which the U. S. Government has an interest, coordinate with NRPC/NRPM in requesting advice from the NARA General Counsel (NGC).

7. Certifying information and/or attesting to absence of information.

Certifying information. There are instances when it is better to provide a brief, authenticated statement of record facts than it is to furnish copies of the records under seal. In some cases the legal demand calls for such a statement. If the policies outlined in this part permit release, furnish a certificate of the desired information on formal letterhead (see fig. 6). Forward certificate to the court, using either a NA Form 13122, or a letter of transmittal.

- a. Attesting to absence of information (excluding NRPMR). When a legal demand calls for information which, if it existed, should be in the files at NPRC but which cannot be found, furnish a certificate attesting to the fact that, after diligent search, no record or entry of the nature specified is found to exist in the records at NPRC.

NOTE: NRPCR personnel should also include a statement notifying the lawyer or court to contact the current or last employing office of the individual concerned. Use the completed sample (see fig. 7) as a guide. Forward certificate to the court, using either an NA Form 13122, or a formal letter.

- b. Attesting to absence of information (NRPMR). If a legal demand calls for information which, if it existed, would have been on the sixth floor prior to July 12, 1973, furnish a certificate indicating that extensive efforts to locate the record have been unsuccessful. Use the samples (figs. 8 and 9) as guides. Forward certificate to the court using NA Form 13122.

- c. Combined certificate of record facts and absence of other record facts. There are instances when it is necessary to both certify given record facts and at the same time attest to the absence of other data. When this happens, combine the two certificates on formal letterhead stationery. Example:

C E R T I F I C A T E I HEREBY CERTIFY that the official records of the Department of the Army in the physical custody of the National Archives and Records Administration filed at the National Personnel Records Center, (9700 Page Ave., or 111 Winnebago St., as appropriate) St. Louis, Missouri (63132-5100 or 63118-4199) show that John J. Doe, service number 00 000 000, gave his beneficiaries as Mrs. Mary Doe, wife, and John J. Doe, Jr., son. Mrs. Doe's address is shown as 1000 Plover Street, Chicago, Illinois. I HEREBY FURTHER CERTIFY that after a diligent search of the records covering the service of John J. Doe, service number 00 000 000, in the United States Army from August 5, 1948, to August 4, 1952, no entry indicating any overseas service during that period has been found.

8. Certifying copies of records AND attesting to the record facts or absence thereof. There are cases which require both a certification of copies of records and an attestation to record facts contained in other records (or absence of such record facts). Prepare authentication certificate for the former (see figs. 2 and 3) and a certificate on formal letterhead stationery for the latter (see figs. 6 and 7).

9. Selecting and arranging records to be photocopied and furnished.

- a. Information not releasable because of subject matter. Records of a discharge review board are excluded when photocopies are made or information is furnished from a military record. If proceedings are specifically requested, forward the legal demand and pertinent records to the appropriate office of the armed force or agency concerned. If questions arise as to whether a particular document or paper (e.g., pay records, prison records) is considered to be a part of the personnel or medical record, consult the "categories of records in the system" description in the appropriate system of records. These may be obtained by contacting the management analyst in the Office of the Director (NRP) who serves as the liaison to the NARA General Counsel.
- b. Selecting and assembling records comprising a complete medical history of an individual. When a complete medical history of an individual is sought and the subject of the court order is a veteran, the record is reviewed for any medical records and for any indication that the service member was a patient in a military hospital. Documents in the record which can reveal patient status include clinical cover sheets in the outpatient medical records and assignment history extracts such as the DA Form 20, Enlisted Qualification Record; AF Form 7, Airman's Military Record; AF Form 11, Officer's Military Record, and pages 5, 12, or 13 in Navy/Marine Corps records. If NRPC has responded to any requests from the Department of Veterans Affairs, the request/response form, VA Form 07-3101, Request for Information, may also be a source of the patient status of the veteran. If the veteran served in the military subsequent to 1964, use the on-line computer to search the Patient Retrieval System (PRS) in addition to reviewing the record. The PRS is checked to determine if there are entries in the system which would indicate that the individual had been hospitalized. If the PRS inquiry results in a screen display of an entry or entries, a clinical record may exist in NPRC holdings and a search for that clinical record should be initiated.

If the subject of the court order is a dependent or a retiree, the PRS must be probed to determine if there are any entries to indicate that a clinical record may be in the NPRC holdings. The outpatient treatment records of a dependent or the post retirement outpatient treatment records of a military retiree can be searched only if the requester provides the last date and place of treatment. The PRS is of no value in searching for these outpatient records.

Please see the latest version of NPRC 1865.103, par. 1-9, for procedures used to request searches for clinical records.

c. Selecting and assembling medical records.

(1) Separate records to be photocopied, temporarily setting aside duplicates and such nonmedical papers as letters, orders, etc.

(2) Do not attempt to assemble the selected records in chronological order.

(3) Replace the records assembled for copying and the miscellaneous material temporarily set aside in (1), above, in the records folder/jacket.

d. Drug/alcohol abuse patient records. The records covered by the Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act of 1972 are records maintained in connection with the treatment, rehabilitation and training of drug/alcohol abuse patients. It is the court's responsibility to weigh the public interest and the need for disclosure against the injury of the patient when treatment, rehabilitation, and training records are involved. These types of records are rarely found in records at NPRC. When such records are found, the entire response should be sent to the clerk of the court. (See the latest version of NPRC 1865.103 for more information.) Most information on drug/alcohol abuse found in military records are collateral and incidental entries which NPRC is not required to screen. Such collateral and incidental entries in the records are provided when requested and as directed by a court of competent jurisdiction.

e. Mental health records. Mental health records may be released as directed by the court. Be sure to alert the court to these records by checking the appropriate block of the NA Form 13122.

f. Selecting and assembling records, other than complete sets of medical records. Remove duplicates, routing slips, notes, etc., and arrange papers to be copied in no particular order. Assemble the copies for authentication. Replace the originals in the record in same order as the photocopies.

10. Forwarding completed replies for authentication and dispatch. Route completed reply to appropriate official for signature. See latest revision of NPRC 1804.1, Signature authority, Center correspondence, for proper signature authority. After authentication, dispatch to NRPMO-M or NRPCO-M, as appropriate.

11. Action when health records are not at NPRC.

NOTE: Even if conditions described in paragraphs 11a or 11b below exist, a probe of the Patient Retrieval System must still be made and any appropriate searches are to be conducted.

1. Pertinent medical records loaned to Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). If a VA 3101 or other document in file indicates that the health record was loaned/sent to the VA, inform the requester and provide the VA toll free number and Claim Number for assistance in locating the requested records. If a part of the record is on loan to the VA, certify the records on file at this Center. DO NOT check BIRLS for the claim folder location, check mark the appropriate block on the NA Form 13122 to inform the court that the records have been loaned to the VA; provide the VA Claim Number and VA toll free number.
2. Pertinent medical records retired to Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), Records Management Center (RMC). The military service departments, except the Coast Guard now retire the military health record to the RMC. (See the latest revision of NPRC1865.103, Requests involving health records of former military members, par. 1-13.) Use the NA Form 13122, check mark the appropriate block to inform the court that the requested record was not retired to this Center, and provide the VA Claim Number and VA toll free number.
3. Records divided between Page and Winnebago. When it is discovered that a portion of the records are at Page and a portion at Winnebago, the technician at the building who initially receives the request should prepare the record to be photocopied and authenticated. The technician's supervisor or section chief should then telephone the other building to request photocopies of the remaining records. The supervisor or section chief who places the telephone call should remind the supervisor or section chief who receives the call that the request is first priority. Inform the court or attorney concerned, as appropriate, of the delay. The case is suspended and when the records arrive from the other building, one certification and response, signed by the Director, is made.

NOTE: When x-rays located at Winnebago are specifically requested as part of a court order received at Page, a copy of the court order is forwarded to Winnebago for separate reply. This is done because x-rays are not duplicated, authenticated, or normally forwarded to the court.

4. Records divided between NPRC and another depository (except the Department of Veterans Affairs, see subpars 11a and 11b above). Reply to the part pertaining to NPRC and refer the request to the other depository for completion of action. Inform the court or the attorney concerned, as appropriate, of this referral. Use the telephone if urgent.
5. Misaddressed legal demands. Contact the court or attorney and inform them that records are not located at NPRC. Ask if the court order should be forwarded to the proper custodian or sent back to originator.
12. Fees. Fees may be charged for authenticated copies of records provided in response to subpoenas and court orders issued at the request of an adverse attorney. Records copy services are not charged unless the request for records is from the adverse attorney. This is true, however, only in civil actions in which the United States is not a party. See the latest revisions of NPRC 1852.1 and NPRC 1852.2 for information and instructions regarding applicable fees for litigation cases.
13. Loan of x-rays to the court. X-rays may be loaned to a physician appointed by the court upon/after receipt of a proper court order. The x-ray should not be sent to the clerk of the court. In these cases, the following statement may be added to the NA Form 13017, Reply to Medical

Records/X-Ray Requests:

X-rays cannot be loaned to the court. However, they may be loaned to a physician appointed by the court, who will testify to the reading of the x-rays.

14. Special instructions for NRPMPR.

- a. Negative BIRLS and VA index. If the computer index does not indicate that a record or auxiliary record source is available, the BIRLS index and VA tapes are checked. If the latter sources also prove to be negative, telephone the attorney and offer to send a certificate attesting to the loss of the record.
- b. Auxiliary record(s) at NPPRC. If the computer index does not indicate the presence of a military record, but does indicate that an auxiliary record is present at NPPRC, assemble the available auxiliary record information prior to telephoning the attorney. To avoid misunderstandings, the attorney should be informed that verification of service and character of separation is all that can be furnished.
- c. Requested records recovered after the fire. If the records necessary to answer the request were recovered after the fire, explain the condition of the records. This courtesy helps to avoid any misunderstandings when the records are received in court. If documents recovered from the fire provide proof that the medical records were loaned to the VA, furnish the VA Claims Number and suggest the requester call the VA toll free number for assistance in locating the claims folder. Include a statement in the cover letter indicating that the records were in the area which suffered the most damage in the fire here on July 12, 1973.
- d. Medical records not on file. If the court order seeks medical records and if BIRLS is positive, furnish the VA Claims Number and suggest the requester contact the VA toll free number for assistance in locating the claims folder to see if medical records may have been loaned to the VA prior to the fire.

15. Personnel identifiers in authenticated copies of military records. The Privacy Act has established that pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, a record may be disclosed without the written consent of the individual involved. In addition, it requires that the agency make reasonable efforts to serve notice on an individual when any record on that individual is made available through legal process. However, NPPRC employees should make no deletions of personal identifiers prior to disclosing records in response to a court of competent jurisdiction. NPPRC is not obligated to notify individuals (other than the subject of the record) that information has been made available through compulsory legal process. WHEN A RECORD IS FOUND TO CONTAIN NAMES AND PERSONAL IDENTIFIERS OTHER THAN THOSE OF THE SUBJECT OF THE RECORD, NPPRC employees should include the following statement in the transmittal letter to the court, or check the appropriate block on NA Form 13122:

The copies of the enclosed military records contain the names of and certain personal information relating to individuals other than the veteran named in the court order. Under the Privacy Act of 1974, such personal information should be safeguarded. Further release of this information should be in accordance with the rules and regulations implementing the Privacy Act of 1974.

Appendix A: Authority for NPRC to authenticate copies of records

1. If challenged regarding the legal custody of records stored at NPRC, the following references may be of help:

36 CFR 1252.2

Federal records center records (hereafter referred to as "FRC records" means records which, pending their deposit with the National Archives of the United States or their deposition in any other manner authorized by law, have been transferred to a Federal records center operated by NARA.

36 CFR 1254.32 FRC records (see the following paragraph)

Requests for access to records on deposit in Federal records centers shall be addressed directly to the appropriate agency or to the FRC director at the address shown in Part 1253. The use of FRC records is subject to access rules prescribed by the agency from which the records were transferred. When the agency's rules permit, NARA makes FRC records available to requesters. When access is precluded by these rules and restrictions, the FRC director will refer to the responsible agency the requests and any appeals for access, including those made under the Freedom of Information Act.

36 CFR 1252.2 Federal records centers

"Federal records centers" include the Washington National Records Center, National Personnel Records Center, and the Federal Records Centers located at National Archives Centers listed in Section 1253.6.

2. If challenged regarding the authority for NPRC to honor legal demands:

NPRC is authorized to honor legal demands pertaining to records on file at this Center if no restrictions have been imposed by the agency that transferred the records (to this Center). If restrictions have been imposed by the transferring agency, the authority issuing the legal demand is so notified and asked to take up the matter with the transferring agency. Reference 36 CFR Section 1254.8 here quoted in part:

Section 1254.8 subpoenas and other legal demands for records transferred to the National Archives and Records Administration.

(a) Access to records transferred to a Federal records center is controlled by the instructions and restrictions imposed on NARA by the Federal agency that transferred the records to the Federal records center. NARA will honor a subpoena duces tecum or other legal demand for the production of these records, to the extent required by law, if the transferring agency has imposed no restrictions. When the transferring agency has imposed restrictions, NARA will notify the authority issuing the subpoena or other legal demand that NARA must abide by the agency-imposed restrictions and will request the authority to pursue the matter directly with the transferring agency.

3. Only the "Director" may be served with a court order:

The "Director" is the only person at NPRC who may be served a court order. Reference 36 CFR 1254.8(b), here quoted in part:

(b) The Archivist of the United States, the Director of the Legal Services Staff (NSL) or his designee, and the Director of the Federal Records Center in which the records are stored are the only NARA officials authorized to accept a subpoena or other legal demand for records transferred to a Federal records center.

36 CFR 1252.2 "Director" means the head of a Presidential library, the head of an office of the National Archives division, branch, or unit responsible for servicing records, or the head of a Federal center.

IMPORTANT

NOTE: For employees at 111 Winnebago, the court order may be sent to the Director, NPRC, NARA, 111 Winnebago, as outlined on NA Form 13027, Court Order Requirements.

4. If challenged regarding NPRC authority to authenticate copies of records and admissibility in evidence of copies so authenticated, the following paragraph will be helpful:

The official seal of the National Archives of the United States is affixed to these certificates. The admissibility in evidence of certificates affixed with this seal and certified by the Archivist is established by 44 U.S.C. 2116(b), here quoted:

(b) There shall be an official seal for the National Archives of the United States which shall be judicially noticed. When a copy or reproduction, furnished under this section, is authenticated by the official seal and certified by the Archivist, the copy or reproduction shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original from which it was made.

NOTE: NPRC uses the National Archives and Records Administration, 1985, Seal to authenticate copies of records.

The Legion of Merit, the first United States decoration created specifically for award to citizens of other nations, was established by an Act of Congress of July 20, 1942 amended by an executive order of March 15, 1955. It is conferred on officers and enlisted men of the Armed Forces of the United States and on nations of other countries "who shall have distinguished themselves by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services" since September 8, 1939, the date of the President's proclamation of the state of emergency that led to World War II. The Legion of Merit may be awarded for combat or noncombat services; in the case of American military personnel, if the award is for combat service it is shown by the wearing of a combat "V."

The Legion of Merit is also the first award to have different degrees. If a holder of the Legion of Merit in one degree is subsequently given another such award, it is never in a degree lower than the original one. The degrees of Chief Commander and Commander are conferred on members of foreign governments only and are awarded for services comparable to those for which the Distinguished Service Medal is given to members of the United States Armed Forces.

The Legion of Merit was established on July 20, 1942.

LIST CASES

Last Modified: 09/23/2004

A list case is a request in which more than one name is submitted for action.

What are examples of list cases?

- A single letter/form requesting information about two or more veterans
- A letter/form request with an attached listing of multiple names

What should not be considered as a list case?

- Multiple SF 180s, Request Pertaining to Military Records, or other request forms (SF 813, DD 877, DFAS form, etc.) received in the same envelope
- Several individual request forms or letters received under one fax transmittal sheet from the same requester, such as a Congressional office
- Requests that qualify as special projects (refer to NRP 2004-15 memorandum)

The manner in which NPRC responds to list cases is based on the type of information requested, whether or not the records are on file here, and our release/access policies. The procedures for routing and determining what, if any, special handling will take place in responding to a list case are set forth in the NPRC source document.

LOST AND MISSING SERVICE RECORDS (Non-Fire Related)

---

If a record that has been retired to NPRC cannot be located after numerous searches (both verification and misplaced), or if it was removed from the files to answer an inquiry and has not been returned to its proper file location within a reasonable time, the record is probably lost. A missing service record is one that has never been retired to NPRC. The following sections will assist you in responding to inquiries when the records are lost or missing (never retired to NPRC) records.

---

RECONSTRUCTING LOST OR MISSING MILITARY PERSONNEL RECORDS (Non-Fire Related)

- Navy Personnel Discharged Prior to July 1, 1976, and Marine Corps Personnel Discharged Prior to July 1, 1977
  - Navy Personnel Discharged on or after JULY 1, 1976, and Marine Corps Personnel Discharged on or after July 1, 1977
  - Army and Air Force Personnel

NAVY PERSONNEL DISCHARGED PRIOR TO JULY 1, 1976, AND MARINE CORPS PERSONNEL DISCHARGED PRIOR TO 7/1/77

1. Obtain the health record and verify the service dates from record, if possible. Dates can often be taken from the enlistment exam, final physical, abstract of service, and chronological record of medical care. Create a temporary folder and file copies of all medical documents used to reconstruct service in the temporary folder. Be careful about determining character. The character of service may or may not be in the health record. If it is not, look at other data in record. If the veteran was separated by reason of "EE" (expiration of enlistment) or "EOS" (expiration of obligated service); if it appears the veteran was not reduced in rank; if it appears he had no time lost or disciplinary problems, you are fairly safe in determining a character. However, if the health record indicates that the member had time lost, disciplinary or psychiatric troubles, do not determine character. Also be wary of discharges for "Unsuitability" (The character can be either Honorable or General, Under Honorable Conditions). Always consult the appropriate liaison office if character is in doubt.
2. If you cannot verify service from the health record, probe the BIRLS system. If the BIRLS is positive, telephone the VARO or the Records Management Center (RMC) and ask that office to fax copies of any/all separation documents and VA 3101s which verify service. (There is a master list of telephone numbers for VAROs and adjudicators. Use the VA claim number's last two digits [called terminal digits] to obtain from the master list the telephone number for the correct adjudicator.) If the veteran served in the Marine Corps, and you cannot obtain a separation document or service verification on a VA 3101, Loan and transfer the health record with the request to Headquarters, USMC. Advise the requester of this action. That office can reconstruct service from unit diaries.

3. If the veteran served in the Navy before 1952, try a search of the Navy enlisted tapes. These tapes are photostatic copies of shipping articles (in card form). The front of the card shows the enlistment date, component, place, active duty date, home of record, and prior service. The back of the card may show the date of separation and character or may be blank. These tapes are located in the Navy Search Section.
4. If the veteran was a Navy nurse during World War II, try an OR search for the Pro-Jacket.
5. If the veteran was a reservist, try an OR search for drill attendance cards.
6. If veteran was an officer, try Navy and Marine Corps officer registers in the Navy reference library.
7. If veteran had subsequent service in another branch of the armed forces and the record is on file at NPRC, request that record. It may contain a separation document for the prior service or, at least, show the prior service on an enlistment contract.
8. If the record was loaned and transferred to the service department within the past year, ask the appropriate liaison office to check whether or not the record was returned, and, if yes, when. If the record was charged out to the service department several years ago, ask liaison office to determine if the veteran has any current status with the military.
9. If a discharge under other than honorable conditions is indicated, telephone the Board for Correction of Naval Records or Discharge Review Board. Perhaps veteran has an application before the board.
10. If you cannot reconstruct service from the above sources, compose a reply to veteran and advise him or her to send copies of any/all documents relating to service. You can also send an NA Form 13075. While this form is used primarily by the Records Reconstruction Branch, it can also elicit information which can help reconstruct Navy/Marine Corps data. If the completed NA Form 13075 reveals that the veteran served in the National Guard and the guard service was subsequent to the veteran's Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard service, the state Office of the Adjutant General may have a copy of the separation document and can fax it to NPRC. If the veteran lists the units with which he served and the veteran was in the Marine Corps, this information could be forwarded to Marine Corps HQ for a unit diary search. If the completed NA Form 13075 reveals that the veteran was employed at one time by the Federal Government, a separation document may be obtained from CPR. Check for the location of the Official Personnel Folder by probing the CPR registry system.

Ask the appropriate liaison office to obtain the master microfiche from CPR. When master received, duplicate fiche and create a temporary folder.

ARMY AND AIR FORCE PERSONNEL

1. Probe the BIRLS system. If the BIRLS is positive, telephone the VARO or the Records Management Center (RMC) and ask that office to fax copies of any/all separation documents and VA 3101s which verify service. (There is a master list of telephone numbers for VAROs and adjudicators. Use the last two digits [which are referred to as terminal digits] of the VA Claim Number to obtain the telephone number for the correct adjudicator from the master list).

2. If veteran had subsequent service in another branch of the armed forces and the record is on file at NPRC, request that record. It may contain a separation document for the prior service or, at least, show the prior service on an enlistment contract.
3. If the record was loaned and transferred to the service department within the past year:
  - a. Army: Contact the agency (AR.-PERSCOM or U.S. TAPC) to determine if the record has been returned and, if yes, when? If record was charged out more than one year, check to see if veteran has any current military status.
  - b. Air Force: Contact the AF liaison office to check whether or not the record was returned, and, if yes, when. If the record was charged out to the service department several years ago, ask liaison office to determine if veteran has any current status with the military.
4. Determine if a master microfiche copy of the service record is available.
  - a. Army: If there is a possibility that a master microfiche existed, submit a written request (you can use ARPC-PRB-C, Apr 97 Form OR DARP Form 3871, May 92, these forms are not available through automation - make copies locally) to AR-PERSCOM for a copy of the microfiche. At this time there is no automated database available to NPRC to check for the existence of a microfiche/PERMS record. A master microfiche should exist for Active Army (Officer and Enlisted - Sergeant (E5) and above), USAR (Officer and Enlisted), National Guard Officers (not National Guard enlisted) with service between 1973 and 1992. Before 1972 microfiche was not used and after 1992 the Army started using PERMS.
  - b. Air Force: CPR maintains AF microfiche. To obtain an AF Microfiche from CPR we need four things:
    - (1) Veteran's Name
    - (2) SSN
    - (3) When the record was retired to NPRC
    - (4) Who retired it - AFPC or ARPC

We don't have accession numbers. The only way for CPR to find the Air Force fiche is for us to give them some idea of when it was retired to them and who retired it.

For the Air Force, records are retired to NPRC from only two places. Air Force personnel who are discharged, retired, or die while on active duty, have their records sent to NPRC from HQ Air Force Personnel Center (AFPC), Randolph AFB, TX. If they are discharged, retired or die while in the reserves, their records are retired to NPRC from HQ Air Reserve Personnel Center (ARPC), Denver, CO.

To find the date when the record was retired to NPRC, you check the NPRC End of Month Registry Numbers. You can find it at Common on 'Stlmp2\Shared'(S:) then click on Registry. The registry numbers shown are those that were the last record accessioned that month.

5. Army PERMS: Certain military documents were permanently saved by AR-PERSCOM, starting in the mid 1980's through current records. See your team coach for assistance in requesting a PERMS search.
6. If a discharge under other than honorable conditions is indicated, the veteran may have an application before the board.

- a. Army: Telephone the Army Review Boards Agency Support Division (ARBA), which is located on the 4th floor of Bldg. 100.
  - b. Air Force: Contact the office of the Secretary of the Air Force (MIBR), at Randolph AFB, which is the office for the AF Discharge Review Board.
7. If you cannot reconstruct service from the above sources, compose a reply and ask the veteran to send copies of any/all documents relating to service. You can also send an NA Form 13075. While this form is used primarily by the Records Reconstruction Branch, it can also elicit information which can help reconstruct some Army and Air Force service. Examples of some information which the NA Form 13075 may elicit:
- a. Service performed in the National Guard subsequent to service in the Army or Air Force. The state Adjutant General's Office may have a copy of the separation document and will fax it to NPRC.
  - b. Units of assignment in chronological order. A search of morning reports can be conducted to verify dates/character of service. Air Force morning reports are available through June 30, 1966, and Army morning reports are generally available through September 30, 1974.
  - c. Federal employment (civil service). A military service data/separation document may be available at CPR.

NOTE: If you can verify service, but the request is for a complete copy of the service record, advise requester as follows:

"The military record needed to answer your inquiry was removed from the file area in order to respond to a prior request. An extensive search has been made to locate the record. Unfortunately, all efforts have proven unsuccessful. The file location has been flagged and upon locating the record, a complete copy of the record will be furnished to you.

"We are enclosing NA Form 13038, Certification of Military Service, which will verify your military service and may be used for any official purpose. The information used to prepare the NA Form 13038 was obtained from an alternate records source".

8. Create a temporary folder to be placed in the file location of the lost record. You will then prepare an NA Form 13131, Important Notice, and place it in the temporary folder, along with your completed case and record of all search/reconstruction actions.

The Medal of Honor is awarded by the President, in the name of Congress, to a person who, while a member of the Army, distinguishes himself or herself conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his or her life above and beyond the call of duty while engaged in action against an enemy of the United States; while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an opposing foreign force; or while serving with friendly foreign forces engaged in an armed conflict against an opposing armed force in which the United States is not a belligerent party. The deed performed must have been one of personal bravery or self-sacrifice so conspicuous as to clearly distinguish the individual above his or her comrades and must have involved risk of life. Incontestable proof of the performance of the service will be exacted and each recommendation for the award of this decoration will be considered on the standard of extraordinary merit.

The Medal of Honor was established in 1862.

Awards and medals are issued when the originals have been lost, destroyed, or rendered unfit for use through no fault of the person to whom they were given. NPRC has responsibility for providing verification of entitlement for some awards for the Army and Air Force; however, NPRC does not furnish the actual awards. For Air Force awards, NA Form 13059, Transmittal of And/Or Entitlement to Awards is prepared and forwarded to the Air Force Personnel Command for issuance of the awards. Army awards requests are created on line and submitted electronically to the U.S. Army Tank Automotive and Armament Command for issuance of the awards.

OTHER THAN HONORABLE DISCHARGE

Individuals who were discharged under other than honorable conditions are not entitled to any medals earned during the less than honorable period of service.

An other than honorable discharge may be characterized as Bad Conduct Discharge, Dishonorable Discharge, Undesirable Discharge, or Under Other than Honorable Conditions Discharge. For medals issuance purposes, a General Under Honorable Conditions Discharge will be processed in the same manner as an Honorable Discharge.

When a veteran had only one period of service and the entire period is other than honorable, no medals will be issued. Respond using the pattern paragraph Medals-Entitlement & Eligibility for Issuance-Medals Request for Under Other than Honorable Conditions. Provide a list of awards earned for purchase from civilian dealers.

If a veteran had more than one period of service, and at least one period resulted in an honorable or general under honorable conditions discharge, he may be issued only the medals earned during the honorable period(s) and a list of the medals earned during the less than honorable period provided.

AIR FORCE, ARMY AIR CORPS (AAC) and ARMY AIR FORCE (AAF)

The Department of the Air Force is responsible for servicing requests for awards earned by members of the AAC or AAF who served prior to July 1, 1948. When requested, copies of any information pertaining to awards and commendations should be furnished.

Instructions for preparing the NA Form 13059:

- NA Form 13059 must be typed - no handwritten NA Form 13059 will be accepted.
- The NA Form 13059 must be completed with either initials or a signature on the "Prepared By" line.
- If the record shows both a SN and SSN, both numbers need to be placed on the NA Form 13059.

NOTE: A review of the record should be made to ensure replacement medals have not been issued. If the record contains a previously issued NA Form 13059, do not process another request. Inform the veteran the Air Force only replaces the medals on a one time basis. If the veteran is deceased, the Air Force will issue a replacement set on a one time basis to the primary next of kin (NOK). The Department of the Air Force defines primary NOK as the following:

Unmarried deceased veteran with no children

- If parent(s) is living, parent(s) is the primary next of kin (PNOK).
- If parent(s) is not living, sibling(s) is the PNOK (order of birth does not matter).
- If parent(s) not living and no sibling(s) - grandparent(s) served in "loco-parentis" status - grandparent(s) is PNOK

Married deceased veteran

- If spouse is living, spouse is the PNOK.

Unmarried (single, divorced, unremarried widow or widower) deceased veteran with children

- If veteran had children, children are the PNOK (proper proof of kinship might be required & order of birth does not matter).

Three copies of NA Form 13059 are prepared and dispatched as follows:

- Send original to [\[00141\]](#): HQ, Air Force Personnel Center, Attn: AFPC/DPSIDR, 550 "C" Street West, Suite 12, Randolph AFB, TX 78150-4714
- Send a copy to the requester
- Place a copy in the record

The National Personnel Records Center does not process requests for replacement of certificates of decoration. Most requests can be satisfied with a copy of the award citation, or order. If a requester insists on having a certificate of decoration replaced, refer the inquiry and the record to [\[00141\]](#): HQ, Air Force Personnel Center, Attn: AFPC/DPSIDR, 550 "C" Street West, Suite 12, Randolph AFB, TX 78150-4714. Congressional inquiries are referred to [\[00142\]](#): HQ AFPC/IG, 550 C Street West, Suite 1, Randolph AFB, TX 78150-4703.

If the original certificate is found in the record, it should be sent to the veteran or the NOK, after making a copy and placing the copy inside the record.

If the veteran requests his awards be listed on his separation document, a DD Form 215, Correction to DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Release or Discharge from Active Duty, should be prepared.

FREQUENT ERRORS NOTED ON NA FORM 13059 - PER RANDOLPH AFB

- Good Conduct Medal (Army) w/Loops: A Loop cannot be a "1". Loops start with the number "2", etc
- The Presidential Unit Citation (PUC), formerly the Distinguished Unit Citation, is located on the left-hand side of NA Form 13059. This is the one issued by the United States. If you are issuing a foreign PUC (e.g. Republic of Korea, Philippine Presidential Unit Citation Badge, or etc) use the Presidential Unit Citation ____ (Note 1) located on the right-hand side of NA Form 13059. This particular PUC is for FOREIGN AWARDS ONLY.

DETERMINING ENTITLEMENT TO AF, AAC and AAF MEDALS:

If the veteran/NOK has requested "medals," the following service record documents should be used to identify those medals to which the individual was entitled:

Report of Separation
 AF Form 7, Airman's Military Record
 AF Form 11, Officer's Military Record
 AF Form 1712, Uniform Military Personnel Record
 Service record book, orders, citations, etc.

Air Force Unit Awards

An excellent source for information about Air Force unit awards is available at the following website:

<http://www.afpc.af.mil/library/awards/index.asp>

Unit awards will be verified by searching the Air Force unit book, AFP 900-2, Volume 1, Books 1 and 2.

Book 1 covers Air Force units in numerical order, from the 1st Aerial Port Group through the 317th Maintenance Squadron, for World War I, World War II, Korea, and Vietnam.

Book 2 covers units in first numeric, then alphabetical order, from the 317th Motor Vehicle Squadron through Willford Hall USAF Hospital, for World War I, World War II, Korea, and Vietnam.

Newer unit awards can be searched on the Air Force website at

<http://http://access.afpc.af.mil/AwardsDMZNet40/Default.aspx>

NOTE: All of the linked unit award sources above are official Air Force sources. Using these sources to verify a unit award is NOT making a determination of the award. The eligibility to the unit award has already been made by the Air Force, and those eligible units are then compiled into the books and database.

When the service record was lost in the fire and a computer search fails to identify a B or R file, ask the requester to submit a copy of the separation document. If the requester does not have a copy, check the VA Index for possible VA claim number. If positive, run BIRLS and procure the separation document. Complete NA Form 13059 upon receipt of the separation document.

If the request is for a specific medal and documentation is not found on in the military personnel record, request a search of the Awards Card File. The cards have been alphabetically consolidated for surnames A through G. Searches involving surnames H through Z must be conducted by the specific medal. The file contains awards for the years 1939 through 1963. Provide the veteran's name, service number and denote the specific medal veteran is requesting. A list of the medals in the card file is located in NPRC 1865.110. If an entry is found for the veteran, OR will provide a copy of the card or transcribe the award info on NA Form 13105.

NOTE: The majority of the awards found in the card file are personal awards, such as the Purple Heart Medal, Bronze Star Medal, etc. However, some unit awards are also included. The unit awards are arranged by the number of the unit, from 1 through 83, such as the 1st medal Group or the 83rd Military Police Group. There are no numbers higher than 83. Some units are listed by alpha, A through W. (e.g. Western Pacific Command). When the request concerns a fire-related record and you have not been able to locate a copy of the separation document, you may submit a request to OR for a search of the Awards Card File.

POW Medal for AF/AAC/AAF: Applications should be submitted on DD Form 2510, Prisoner of War Medal Application/Information. However, other forms of correspondence are acceptable if all of the required information has been provided and proper authorization is received. The Department of the Air Force is responsible for determining eligibility for and issuance of the medal. The veteran/NOK must provide the complete name, service number, date and place of birth, branch of service, dates confined as POW, and the unit of assignment when captured. Additional information that may be helpful is place of imprisonment and disposition after release or escape. - FAR showing POW dates
- Any evidence in the service record which pertains to POW status (e.g. telegrams, casualty reports, etc.)

EXCHANGING ARMED FORCES EXPEDITIONARY MEDAL (AFEM) FOR VIETNAM SERVICE MEDAL (VSM)

A former service member may elect to exchange the AFEM for the VSM provided the requirements of DoD 1348.22 V2, item 17, Vietnam Service Medal (VSM) are met. When these requests are received, Core Loan and Transfer (Core L&T) the request (or web signature page), record, and CMRS All Service Details page with notation(s) to [\[00141\]](#): HQ, Air Force Personnel Center, Attn: AFPC/DPSIDR, 550 "C" Street West, Suite 12, Randolph AFB, TX 78150-4714. Air Force Personnel Command (AFPC) will determine eligibility for the exchange and prepare a DD Form 215.

The requirements for the exchange are indicated below:

Para (a) (2) allows service members who qualified for award of the AFEM by reason of service in Vietnam between July 1, 1958 and July 4, 1965, to exchange their AFEM for the VSM, essentially making the VSM retroactive to July 1, 1958. However, service members are prohibited award of both the VSM and the AFEM for the same period of service in Vietnam.

IF UNABLE TO DETERMINE ENTITLEMENT TO MEDALS (AF/AAC/AAF):

This Center has limited authority concerning the determination of eligibility for awards. NPRC 1865.110 contains a list of awards for which NPRC cannot determine eligibility. (Note: In addition to the awards listed, NPRC cannot make a determination for award of the Good Conduct Medal for AF/AAC/AAF personnel.) AF Regulation 900-48, Awards, Ceremonies and Honors contains information about these awards, in addition to DoD Manual 1348.33M.

When unable to verify all medals, issue those verified by the record on the NA Form 13059. Refer to the appropriate Air Force office for determination of the remaining medal(s) that could not be verified.

ARMY

On November 4, 1998, the function of processing Army replacement medals and certain certificates was transferred to the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC). The Memorandum Of Agreement (MOA) establishes guidelines and responsibility in regard to processing requests from veterans for replacement of Army medals and certain certificates. The MOA also stipulates that NPRC will not make Army award determinations. They will be forwarded to [\[00160\]](#): DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY, ARMY HUMAN RESOURCES COMMAND, ATTN: AHRC-PDP-A, 1600 SPEARHEAD DIVISION AVENUE DEPT 480, FORT KNOX, KY 40122-5408. Specific instructions for forwarding requests to U.S. Army Human Resources Command are outlined below.

If only a partial list of medals can be verified from the record or other official documentation, issue those medals on the Army medals web form. Refer to AHRC for determination of the remaining medal(s) that could not be verified. Ensure that your response letter, the request letter, or CMRS Notes specifies which medal(s) need to be determined.

Purple Heart determinations: Send a copy of the request, and PHOTOCOPIES of as many of the following documents as are available, to U.S. Army Human Resources Command:

- Separation document (DD 214, WD AGO 53-55, 53-98)
- Form 20, 2-1, or 66
- Medical documents pertaining to wounds
- SGO listings
- Telegram notification to next-of-kin
- Casualty notice
- Other award citations that mention wound
- Morning reports/hospital records (if available)
- If POW, repatriation physical/sworn statements of witnesses

DO NOT send Purple Heart requests to U.S. Army Human Resources Command without documentation. If nothing is available pertaining to wounds received in action, request additional documentation from the veteran before forwarding.

Medal of Honor (MOH) requests: If there is documentation, either in the record or submitted by the requestor, to show Medal of Honor was recommended or awarded, send a copy of the request and photocopies of the documentation to U.S. Army Human Resources Command. Notify requester of referral. If a separation document shows an individual was awarded the Medal of Honor, forward request to U.S. Army Human Resources Command and notify requester of referral. Do not attempt to verify any other awards; U.S. Army Human Resources Command will handle the entire case. If there is no documentation available, do not send to U.S. Army Human Resources Command. Use the pattern paragraph set up for MOH requests.

Brigadier General 07 and above requests: If the General himself is writing, send request to U.S. Army Human Resources Command and notify requester. If the General is deceased, NPRC will handle the request like a routine medals case.

For all other determinations, send a copy of the request and photocopies of all pertinent documentation to U.S. Army Human Resources Command and notify requester of referral. At a minimum, ALWAYS SEND a copy of the request, and - if available - photocopies of 214 (or equivalent) and Form 20 (or equivalent). Ensure that your response letter, the request letter, or CMRS Notes specifies which medal(s) need to be determined.

In addition to Army award determinations, U.S. Army Human Resources Command is also responsible for:

- Requests for awards that were recommended but never approved, e.g., no orders cut.
- Requests where the veteran thinks he should have gotten an award but did not.
- Requests to upgrade an existing award to something higher.

In these cases, send a copy of the request and any pertinent documentation, always including the 214 and Form 20 when available, and notify the requester that the request has been forwarded. If there is no documentation available for the specific medal requested, you might need to use the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) paragraph to respond to the requester.

Routine requests handled by NPRC: NPRC verifies entitlement to Army awards, and then the U.S. Army Tank Automotive and Armament Command in Philadelphia processes the 'order' and ships awards to requesters. Requests are submitted to Philadelphia via the Army Awards Web Interface. Requests will be honored from the original recipient of the award, or if deceased, from his or her primary next of kin in the following order: Surviving spouse, eldest child, father or mother, eldest sibling, or eldest grandchild. The types of medals awarded to Army members fall into the following categories: Military decorations, unit awards, foreign decorations and service awards, service medals, badges and appurtenances. If a customer wants to contact the U.S. Army Tank Automotive and Armament Command in Philadelphia, you may give the following address [\[00529\]](#): U.S. Army TACOM, Clothing and Heraldry (PSID), P.O. Box 57997, Philadelphia, PA 19111-7997. Do not give out the phone number.

National Guard medal requests. Requests from National Guard (NG) veterans requesting replacement medals for their active duty service will be processed, if the records are available in NPRC's holdings. Requests for medals for which records are not available, or for state awards, will be returned to the veteran with instructions to contact the Adjutant General of the state in which he/she served.

ARMY AWARDS WEB INTERFACE:

Effective October 7, 2002, the Army awards web application replaced DA Form 1577, Authorization for Issuance of Awards, as the way requests are submitted to Philadelphia for processing. Specific instructions may be found at the following links:

Awards Database

AHRC has a database containing some general orders for Vietnam-era awards. Orders from any other era are not available from AHRC. In order to locate orders in the database, NPRC technicians must supply the following information to AHRC:

- Year the order was issued
- Headquarters that published the order (1st Infantry Division, 101st Airborne, etc. Usually the division to which the soldier was assigned at the time of the action for which he was decorated.)
- Veteran's full name, SSN, service number if any
- Name of the award in question

Send a request for a database search by either fax or email. Fax to 502-613-4531, or email requests to usarmy.knox.hrc.mbx.tagd-awards@mail.mil.

Be sure to state that you are requesting an awards database search. Include the required information listed above, your name and phone number, and your fax number so that the orders, if located, can be faxed to you. Do NOT provide the above e-mail or fax number to anyone outside of NARA to request copies of Army orders from this awards database.

Medal of Honor

- Most prestigious award issued by the service departments
- Also known as 'Congressional Medal of Honor'
- CANNOT be issued by NPRC, only by Army Human Resources Command (AHRC), Alexandria, VA

Requests asking why a veteran received the Medal of Honor can easily be answered using the Medal of Honor (MOH) website <http://www.history.army.mil/moh.html>

Full narrative citations are posted on this site for each period of hostilities in which the MOH has been awarded.

Any request asking for initial issuance of the Medal of Honor or reissuance of a lost Medal of Honor must be forwarded to AHRC for action.

AUXILIARY SOURCES OF INFORMATION (Mostly Army, but some other branches):

Organizational Records - clinical records, morning reports, rosters, etc.

General Orders for Vietnam-Era Awards - Requests for a search of the Vietnam-Era Award General Orders (GO) will be recorded daily and transmitted weekly via FAX to U.S. Army Human Resources Command Awards Branch. VIP and congressional cases may be telephoned in to U.S. Army Human Resources Command. NOTE: These orders are filed by division or Major Command and the year; therefore, that information is very important when making a request to U.S. Army Human Resources Command. Check OMPF/discharge for unit and refer to DA PAM 672-3.

CD-ROM listing of Gulf War Veterans (Desert Storm/Desert Shield) - A CD-Rom is available which provides the dates veterans served in Southwest Asia during Desert Storm and Desert Shield.

Prisoner of War Books WWI, WWII, and Korea - Books are in alpha order and include service number and rank.

Silver Star, Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, and Congressional Medal of Honor Recipients - We have fairly comprehensive Silver Star and Distinguished Service Cross lists for each war, from WW2 through Vietnam, plus WW1 Army Air Corps (AAC) recipients of the DSC. The lists are alphabetical, but most (see exceptions below) do not contain service numbers. They contain only general order number, year, and headquarters that published the order.

These lists, plus some other awards-related information, are in two separate loose-leaf books, both in the Team 5C area, Room 2077. The smaller, black book pertains only to members of the AAC/Army Air Forces (AAF), and then the Air Force. It contains DSC recipients during WW1, WW2 and Korea, and it DOES include service numbers for WW2 and Korea. This book also contains AAC/AAF and USAF members who received the

1. Distinguished Service Medal during WW2 through April 1960-INCLUDING SERVICE NUMBERS; and
2. Congressional Medal of Honor during WW1, WW2, and Korea. Extensive biographies are included on each man.

Casualty Listing of WWII and Korean service members - An alpha listing which is useful for Purple Heart verification. Contains all branches of service.

General Order Books WWI - Book of veterans that served during World War I, listed by unit.

Purple Heart Policies for WWII - Policy binder for award of Purple Heart during World War II.

General Orders for various awards during the 1950s – Microfiche index book of units listing fiche location of Recommendations for Awards, General Orders showing veteran is entitled to the Purple Heart and other awards during the 1950s.

Microfiche Index and General Order awards for WWII and Korea – Fiche index that shows what microfiche to check to find a General Order number for awards, by division and year, during World War II and Korea.

Precedent Files WWI - Precedent files of specific award cases of rulings made for World War I.

Microfiche of Korean POW Listings – Microfiche listing of Korea POW's in alpha order.

WWI Card Files and Orders – Alpha card file of Army veterans who were entitled to the Silver Star, Purple Heart and Campaign Stars during World War I. Does not show campaign stars; however, some show locations of service.

VERIFYING ENTITLEMENT TO MEDALS (Army: non-fire-related cases)

When verifying entitlement to medals review all the source documents show below if found in the record:

DD Form 214 (or equivalent), Separation Document
 DA Form 20, Enlisted Qualification Record
 DA Form 66, Officer Qualification Record
 DA Form 24, Service Record
 ORB, Officer Record Brief
 ERB, Enlisted Record Brief
 DA Form 2-1, Personnel Qualification Record, Part II
 Orders, citations, etc.

Review the entire record, in addition to the documents above, if the requester asks for a specific medal.

If the above source documents show entitlement to a campaign medal or service medal, but do not indicate the number of service stars to which the veteran is entitled, the technician must review the unit books (DA Pamphlets 672-1 or 672-3) and determine the correct number of service stars to attach to the medal. Links to the unit books follow:

http://www.apd.army.mil/pdffiles/p672\_1.pdf World War II & Korea

Medals-p672-3.pdf Vietnam

For more detailed information about the unit books, see the Online Sources of Information for Army Medals section of this guide.

If specific medal(s) is/are requested, review above suggested documents for verification. If documentation is not found, review the entire OMPF for general orders, citation, etc. to substantiate the requester's entitlement to the desired medal(s).

If evidence is not found in the service record, search appropriate auxiliary sources. If these sources do not produce results, furnish negative reply to the requester. Suggest the requester submit copies of any supporting documentation in their possession.

An excellent source for information about Army awards is available at the following web site: <http://veteranmedals.army.mil/awardg&d.nsf>. Pay particular attention to lower and upper case letters when accessing this web site.

If the requester again requests the medals, but provides no or inadequate documentation, refer the case to U.S. Army Human Resources Command. If there is evidence in the OMPF that the case has already been reviewed and the award disapproved, send the requester a DD Form 149, Application for Correction of Military or Naval Records under the Provisions of Title 10, US Code Sec. 1552.

VERIFYING ENTITLEMENT TO MEDALS (Army: fire-related cases)

Using Official or Unofficial documents to respond to fire related medals requests. In accordance with NRPM 2009-03, Instructions for annotating documents received from unofficial sources, reconstruction cases will retain the same verification rules now in practice.

Please use the following guidelines when processing these requests:

- Primary Procedure - Medals will be verified with official documentation as identified in the Guide to Reconstruction Sources job.
- Alternate Procedure - Unofficial documentation can be used to issue medals, if...
  - there is no official documentation for reconstruction cases only;

- o dates and character of service have been verified through official sources provided in the guide above;
- o medals are not related to benefits;
- o no high level award(s) like the Medal of Honor (see NOTE below), Distinguish Service Cross, Purple Heart, Silver Star, or etc is being claimed;
- o unofficial document does not appear to be altered.

The Expert Technician or Coach must assist in this decision making process and enter in notes under the CMRS service request number that unofficial documentation used to issue medals.

NOTE: The Medal of Honor (MOH) CANNOT be issued by NPRC. Only Army Human Resources Command (AHRC), Ft. Knox, KY [00160] can determine eligibility for this award. See above information under Army for further guidance about how these requests are processed.

With the exception of MOH, if a General Order (GO) number is furnished with a high level award on an unofficial document, conduct a search of Microfiche Index and General Order awards for WW II and Korea. Add a note in CMRS to indicate that the G.O. file was checked and the medal verified or no information was found.

If the official or unofficial source document shows entitlement to a campaign medal or service medal, but does not indicate the number of service stars to which the veteran is entitled, the technician must review the unit books (DA Pamphlets 672-1 or 672-3) and determine the correct number of service stars to attach to the medal. Links to the unit books follow:

http://www.apd.army.mil/pdf/files/p672\_1.pdf DA Pam 672-1 World War II & Korea

Pre-World War I – In 1981, the Army, as well as the other military services, discontinued manufacture of pre-World War I service medals.

Certificates

Certificates are issued for decorations only. No certificate will be issued to the veteran without an order. Exception: a certificate can be created without an order for the Bronze Star Medal, only if awarded based on the award of the Combat Infantryman Badge or Combat Medical Badge, during World War II only. Use the following paragraph in the "For" section of the certificate: "meritorious achievement in ground combat against the armed enemy during World War II in the _____ Theater of Operations." (Use either Asiatic-Pacific or European-African-Middle Eastern in the blank space.)

- List of Army Decorations with Certificates:

  - Distinguished Service Cross
  - Distinguished Service Medal
  - Silver Star
  - Legion of Merit
  - Distinguished Flying Cross
  - Soldier's Medal
  - Bronze Star Medal

Citations

Citations are normally issued in an original only at the time of the award. If found in the OMPF provide a photocopy upon request.

Purple Heart

Requests for the Purple Heart not supported by documentation (other than while POW) are returned to the requester with instructions to provide medical records, assigned unit, and date of injury. It is NOT the responsibility of NPRC to procure medical records on fire-related cases to substantiate entitlement to the Purple Heart. Upon receipt of documentation from the requester, NPRC will check organizational/auxiliary records sources for evidence to support request, and forward packet to PRESCOM, Awards Branch for determination. Requests for Purple Heart as a result of being a POW are handled in the same manner. In addition to providing any available supporting documentation from our in-house sources, NPRC will verify POW status prior to forwarding to U.S. Army Human Resources Command.

Army Weapons Qualification Badges

The Army issues qualification badges to those who qualify with various weapons. The badges are issued in three levels. From lowest to highest, they are: Marksman, Sharpshooter, and Expert. You may also see levels called 1st Class and 2nd Class; 1st Class is equivalent to Sharpshooter and 2nd Class is equivalent to Marksman. If you see the notation "Fam" or "Familiarization" in a record, this indicates that the veteran did not qualify with that weapon and is not entitled to a weapons badge. You may also see only a score listed; we are not able to determine a badge when only a numeric score is given.

Weapons badges are most commonly found on the DD Form 214 in the Decorations & Medals block; and on the DA Form 20, 2-1, or 66 in block 29, Qualification in Arms, and block 41, Awards and Decorations. (NOTE: Older versions of these record documents may have different block numbers.) The record may also contain orders for weapons badges. In the absence of documentation in the record, we cannot make determinations of eligibility for weapons qualification badges.

Various types of weapons are grouped together under a bar, which is attached to the badge to indicate the weapon with which the veteran has qualified. Multiple bars can be attached to one badge; therefore, if a veteran qualified as an expert with a rifle, a pistol, and a hand grenade, he will be issued only one badge with 3 bars attached to it. A list of the allowable bars is shown in the automated Army medals issuance form, and in AR 600-8-22, chapter 8, table 8-2.

In the Army automated medals issuance form, use the CTL key to add additional weapons to a badge; for example, Expert Badge with Rifle Bar and Grenade Bar. You will not issue two separate Expert Badges.

If the weapon named in the record is not shown on the list of allowable bars, see the CRG item titled Weapons Conversion List to determine which bar to use. For example, if the veteran qualified with a howitzer, there is no bar called "Howitzer". For this weapon, you would issue the Field Artillery bar.

If the veteran qualified at more than one level with the same weapon, he will be issued only the highest badge earned with that weapon. Be sure to look at all the DD Forms 214 and all versions of the DA Forms 20, 2-1, or 66 to ensure that the highest qualification is identified.

Sharpshooter Badge with Pistol Bar

Weapons badges are abbreviated in the record in various ways. For a Marksman Badge, you may see MM, MKM, M, or MMQUALBDG, with a weapon named after it. The Sharpshooter Badge may be shown as SS, SPS, S, or SSQUALBDG. The Expert Badge may be entered as EXP, EX, X, or EXQUALBDG. Be aware that the acronym "BAR" on a document may also stand for "Browning Automatic Rifle".

For all branches of the military:

Korea Defense Service Medal (KDSM) not to be confused with the Korean Service Medal (KSM).

KDSM is for service in Korea from the "end" (28 July 1954) of the Korean "War" to the present (and retroactively awarded). The KSM is for service in Korea during the Korean "War."

UPDATED 4/15/2014

Both the Army and the Air Force have received stock of the KDSM. The temporary procedures implemented in April are no longer in effect. It is not necessary to issue the KDSM alone on a separate web form, or on a separate NA Form 13059. ### ARMED FORCES RESERVE MEDAL

Prior to 1996, the Armed Forces Reserve Medal (AFRM) was awarded to recognize 10 years of reserve service. For each subsequent period of 10 years of reserve service, an hourglass device in either bronze, Silver, or gold was added as an appurtenance to the medal.

In 1996, regulations were revised to authorize the Armed Forces Reserve Medal with bronze hourglass device as the initial award for 10 years of reserve service, and to create the M Device (mobilization).

Retroactive changes:

- those who previously received the AFRM alone to denote 10 years reserve service should now also be issued the appropriate hourglass device
- the AFRM with M Device is awarded to denote active service in support of a designated contingency operation

Armed Forces Reserve Medal with Hourglass Device

After first qualifying 10 year period of reserve service, the medal with bronze hourglass is awarded.

After second qualifying 10 year period of reserve service, a Silver hourglass is awarded.

After third qualifying 10 year period, a gold hourglass is awarded.

After fourth qualifying 10 year period, both gold and bronze hourglasses are awarded.

The AFRM is awarded for honorable and satisfactory service as a member of one or more of the Reserve Components of the Armed Forces of the United States, for a period of 10 years under the following conditions:

- 10 years of service must have been performed within a period of 12 consecutive years
- Each year of active or inactive honorable service prior to July 1, 1949, in any reserve component is creditable
- After July 1, 1949, service members must accumulate a minimum of 50 retirement points during each retirement year in order for that year to count towards the 10-year minimum
- Service in a regular component of the Armed Forces is excluded, unless there is concurrent service in a reserve component (example: regular component enlisted soldier holding a Reserve commission)

The following are excluded in computing the 10 year minimum, but are not considered a break in the period of 12 consecutive years:

- Service in a regular component of the Armed Forces
- Holding office as an elected state official
- Holding office as a member of any state or federal legislature
- Service as a judge on any state or federal court

Armed Forces Reserve Medal with M Device

The AFRM with bronze M Device is awarded to designate mobilization in support of U.S. military operations on or after August 1, 1990. Any reserve component member who is involuntarily called to active duty in support of a call-up or designated contingency operation, or who volunteers for active duty, is authorized the M Device. ## 6. Miscellaneous information

- a. Not more than one Republic of Vietnam (RVN) Gallantry

Cross Unit Citation will be worn by any individual. This precludes wear of the Vietnamese Fourragere which represents additional unit awards of the RVN Gallantry Cross. Although wear of multiple awards of this unit citation badge is not authorized, official military personnel and historical records will indicate all awards received. In those instances, however, where a single unit received duplicate Vietnamese unit awards during the same period only one will be recorded in official military personnel and historical records. As an illustration, Battery D, 5th Battalion, 2d Artillery, was awarded the RVN Gallantry Cross with Palm during the following periods: 1 September 1968 to 15 March 1969 and 1 September 1968 to 30 September 1970. Members of this unit, who were assigned during either of these two periods, are eligible for only one award.

b. RVN Gallantry Cross Unit Citation takes precedence over the RVN Civil Actions Unit Citation and is beneath all United States unit citations, the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation, Republic of Korea Presidential Unit Citation, and Vietnam Presidential Unit Citation. Where an individual has been assigned to a unit which was cited by two or more military command levels of the Republic of Vietnam, the appurtenance worn will be that of the highest level. Only one appurtenance will be worn on each badge. The RVN Gallantry Cross was awarded by the Vietnamese Government for valorous combat achievement in four degrees, as follows:

- (1) With Palm—To a unit which is cited before the Armed Forces.
- (2) With Gold Star—To a unit which is cited before a Corps.
- (3) With Silver Star—To a unit which is cited before a Division.
- (4) With Bronze Star—To a unit which is cited before a Regiment/Brigade.

c. One bronze service star is authorized for each campaign for combat service within the territorial limits for Vietnam and adjacent waters. It is worn on the Vietnam Service Medal. One bronze service star is authorized for wear on the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal for the Grenada Operation. See paragraph 8 for campaign information.

d. Department of the Army General Orders (DAGO) 8, 1974, announced award of the RVN Gallantry Cross Unit Citation with Palm for service in Vietnam to the following units:

- (1) Headquarters, United States Military Assistance Command and its subordinate units during the period 8 February 1962 to 28 March 1973.
- (2) Headquarters, United States Army Vietnam and its subordinate units during the period 20 July 1965 to 28 March 1973.

7. Assault landing credits

a. DAGO 48, 1971, as amended by DAGO 8, 1979 announced award of assault landing credits to participating units in an airborne assault in the vicinity of Katum, Republic of Vietnam, between the hours of 0900 and 0907, inclusive 22 February 1967. The arrowhead is authorized for wear on the Vietnam Service Medal for this assault landing in Vietnam.

b. DAGO 33, 1984, announced award of assault landing credits to participating units in the airborne assault in the vicinity of Point Salinas, Grenada, between the hours of 0635 and 1300, inclusive, 25 October 1983. The arrowhead is authorized for wear on the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal for this assault landing in Grenada.

8. Campaign participation credits

An organization is given campaign participation credit if it actually engaged the enemy in combat, was stationed in the combat zone, or performed duties either in the air or on the ground in any part of the combat zone during the time limitations of the campaign. Service stars are worn on the service and campaign medals to denote participation in campaigns. The following are lists of campaigns for the Vietnam Conflict and the Grenada Operation.

MEDICAL REGISTRY SYSTEM (MRS) REQUEST PROCESSING PROCEDURES

Background. The Medical Registry System (MRS) is a web-based electronic index of medical records retired to NPRC from Military Treatment Facilities (all branches of service). It was developed through the joint efforts of the military service departments, the Department of Defense, and NPRC to improve control, accountability, and retrieval of inactive medical records of military members, retirees, and their dependents. See the Medical Registry System Contents and Access job aid for comprehensive information about the MRS contents and for access instructions.

MERCHANT MARINES

BACKGROUND. Merchant Marine (MM) requests are not worked at this Center; however, we do refer Merchant Marine requests to their respective address or inform the customer where these requests are to be sent. These requests might be seeking medals, service or medical records. The referral address for matters involving personnel records serves a dual purpose. It is the location where requests asking for service information are sent, but it is also the office where active duty determination is made for WW II MM service.

NOTE: It's rare, but dependent upon what is requested, more than one referral address might be furnished in response to a request.

WW II Merchant Marine service might belong to Civilian or Contractual Groups that have been considered "active duty" by the Secretary of Defense for the purpose of veteran benefits. This Center has no authority to make active duty determinations for either group.

On January 19, 1988 the Secretary of the Air Force, Edward C. Aldridge, Jr. determined that the service of the American Merchant Marine in Oceangoing Service during the period of armed conflict, December 7, 1941 to August 15, 1945 shall be considered "active duty" under the provisions of Public Law 95-202 for the purposes of laws administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

On Veterans Day 1998, President William (Bill) J. Clinton signed Public Law 105-368. A provision of this law states that service during the period, August 16, 1945 to December 31, 1946 shall be considered active duty for the purpose of eligibility for certain limited benefits. For additional information about how a former Merchant Marine might qualify and become eligible for veterans benefits, we suggestion that you visit the following website:

http://www.uscg.mil/nmc/records\_request/veteran\_request.asp.

The following are the procedures for answering Merchant Marine requests:

Meritorious Unit Commendation

The Meritorious Service Unit Plaque was established by War Department Circular No. 345, dated 23 August 1944. The circular provided that military personnel assigned or attached to an organization were entitled to wear the Meritorious Service Unit Insignia on the outside half of the right sleeve of the service coat and shirt, four inches above the end of the sleeve. Additional awards were to be indicated by a gold star to be placed on the plaque. War Department Circular No. 54, 1946, provided that additional awards would be indicated by placing a golden numeral inside the wreath.

The Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to units for exceptionally meritorious conduct in performance of outstanding services for at least six continuous months during the period of military operations against an armed enemy occurring on or after 1 January 1944. Service in a combat zone is not required, but must be directly related to the combat effort. CONUS based units are excluded from this award as are other units outside the area of operation. The unit must display such outstanding devotion and superior performance of exceptionally difficult tasks as to set it apart and above other units with similar missions. The degree of achievement required is the same as that which would warrant award of the Legion of Merit to an individual. Only in rare cases will a unit larger than a battalion qualify for award of this decoration. For services performed during World War II, awards will be made only to service units and only for services performed between 1 January 1944 and 15 September 1946. Effective 1 March 1961, the Meritorious Unit Commendation was authorized for units and/or detachments of the Armed Forces of the United States for exceptionally meritorious conduct in performance of outstanding services for at least six continuous months in support of military operations. Such service is interpreted to relate to combat service support type activities and not to the type of activities performed by senior headquarters, combat, or combat support units.

The emblem is worn by all members of a cited organization and is considered an individual decoration for persons in connection with the cited acts and may be worn whether or not they continue as members of the organization. Other personnel may wear this decoration while serving with an organization to indicate the unit has been awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation.

The Meritorious Unit Commendation was established on 23 August 1944.

Archival and Pre-Archival Charge-out Procedure for Unit Records and Finding Aids

Background: NPRC's collections of military unit records on microfilm, as well as various finding media on microfilm, are uniquely valuable holdings of our agency. A major portion of these microform materials have been accessioned into the National Archives already; all of them are permanent and the remaining portion will be accessioned in the not-too-distant future. NARA, like all credible archival institutions, has in place rigorous requirements for ensuring that its holdings are protected from loss or disarrangement. One of the most basic requirements is the responsibility, borne by all employees with access to areas where NARA holdings are stored, to place a properly executed charge out in file whenever an employee removes a record from its storage location. The following guidance provides in written form the specific charge out procedure that applies to NPRC's microfilm holdings.

In order to retrieve archival and pre-archival unit record microfilm and microfilm finding aids, it is necessary to place a charge out card in the file drawer before removing any microfilm reels. White dummy boxes are placed in trays on top of the file cabinets in the microfilm area for use with the charge out cards. The white dummy boxes serve a dual purpose: first, as space holders ensuring that pulled microfilm reels are returned to the same position(s) in the drawer(s) from which they were removed; and second, as charge out holders ensuring that charge out information does not become lost.

Attn of : AFN 2011-07

Subject : Microfilm Reels, Archival and Pre-Archival Charge-out Procedure for Unit Records and Finding Aids

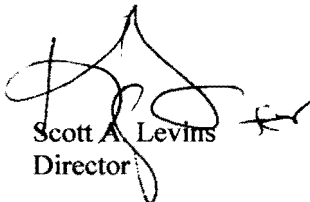

To : All AFN-M employees

This memorandum will make amendment to NPRC 1865.113.

Background. Organizational records maintained at National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) contain a variety of personnel-related information recorded by military units during the first half of the 20th Century. The data in these records give genealogists, researchers and other members of the public the opportunity to document further the service histories of former members of the armed forces. So too, these records provide invaluable insight into the administrative functions of the Military Services during this period. Most importantly, organizational records play a vital role in reconstructing service data from files lost in the 1973 fire.

Purpose. A major portion of these organizational records, microfilm unit records and finding aids, have been accessioned to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) already; all of them are permanent and the remaining portion will be accessioned in the not-too-distant future. The most basic requirement in ensuring that NARA's holdings are protected from loss or disarrangement, is the responsibility to place a charge out file whenever an employee removes a record from its storage location.

Procedure. In order to retrieve archival and pre-archival unit record microfilm and microfilm finding aids, it is necessary to place a charge out card in the file drawer before removing any microfilm reels. White dummy boxes will be used as charge out cards. These dummy boxes serve a dual purpose: first, as space holders ensuring that pulled microfilm reels are returned to the same position(s) in the drawer(s) from which they were removed; and second, as charge out holders ensuring that charge out information does not become lost. Once the search request is completed, the searcher will pull the white dummy box(es) with visible charge out card from microfilm drawer. They'll remove the charge out card from the white dummy box(es), and replace the microfilm reel(s) in drawer. See the attachment for more detailed instructions.

MILITARY OCCUPATIONAL SPECIALTY (MOS) CODES, AF SPECIALITY CODES (AFSC), & NAVY ENLISTED CLASSIFICATION CODES

Army and MC Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) Codes, AF Specialty Codes (AFSC), and Navy Enlisted Classification Codes (NEC) identify a member's job title, position description and job qualifications. Normally, members are assigned a primary MOS (e.g. infantryman) and a secondary MOS for their day-to-day job classification. If the requester requires a complete description of the duties of a particular MOS, AFSC, or NEC, that information will be found in manuals which are currently located in the Reference Libraries of the respective branches. Machine copies can be reproduced for the requester.

ARMY

Shown on separation document and the DA Forms 20/2-1 or their equivalent.

AIR FORCE

Shown on separation document, AF Forms 7/11 or their equivalent, and APRs (Airman Performance Reports) or OERs (Officer Evaluation Reports). Position descriptions are usually shown on APRs/OERs.

MARINE CORPS

Shown on separation document or in the Service Record Book. The MOS is a four digit code, the first two digits identifying a general category (e.g., 04 for logistics, 08 for field artillery, 21 for ordnance) and the other two identify a specific role within that category.

NAVY

Shown on separation document or page 4, which contains education and promotion data. NEC code is also called a billet or rate code. Members may receive up to five NEC codes, generally in order of proficiency.

SUBJECT: Military finance center requests

1. Purpose. This memorandum issues instructions for handling requests for information from the military finance centers.
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1865.73B is canceled.
3. Reason for revision. This revision provides updated instructions for handling military finance center requests. Effective January 1991, the military finance centers became a single organization known as the Defense Finance and Accounting Service.
4. General information. Information requested by Defense Finance and Accounting Service varies according to the purpose for which it is to be used. These purposes include: settlement of claims, making audits, adjusting pay accounts, reconstructing pay records, and determining benefits due as a result of corrections by the correction and review boards.
5. Request sources. Requests are received from the Defense Finance and Accounting Service--Cleveland Center, (formerly Navy Finance Center); the Defense Finance and Accounting Service - Denver Center (formerly Air Force Accounting and Finance Center); the Defense Finance and Accounting Service - Indianapolis Center (formerly U.S. Army Finance and Accounting Center); and the Defense Finance and Accounting Service - Kansas City Center (formerly Marine Corps Finance Center). The various request formats are shown in the sample figures at the end of this memorandum.
6. Processing responsibilities. Finance center requests fall into various levels of difficulty, and are answered on the levels indicated in the Mail Routing Guide. All requests are processed in the correspondence sections.
7. Processing military finance center requests. Finance centers request information on forms designed specifically to obtain the information needed. Whenever possible, reply to the item(s) checked directly on the request form in the space provided. Copies of documents or pertinent sections of service record are furnished, if requested. Furnish a copy of DD Form 214, Report of Separation from Active Duty, if a report of discharge is requested. If DD Form 214 is not available, furnish NA Form 13041, Statement of Service.

NOTE: Normally, finance centers provide original and one copy of request form. If a copy is not provided, a photocopy is made for the personnel folder. If a statement of service cannot be prepared because of insufficient data, refer the request and record to the appropriate service department.

8. Forms. This memorandum provides for the use of the following forms:

DD Form 214, Report of Separation from Active Duty.
NA Form 13041, Statement of Service.
AFAFC 0-163, Retired Pay Information
AFAFC 0-183, Request for Search and/or Information.

Military Post Offices (1980's)

The term Military Post Office pertains to both Army Post Offices (APOs) and Fleet Post Offices (FPOs). Note: APO used by (A - Army/F - Air Force) and FPO used by (N - Navy/M - Marine Corps/G - Coast Guard).

APO's and FPO's were used to route mail to overseas military units and military ships. APO's/FPO's during the 1980's consisted of either a 5 digit or 9 digit code (like a ZIP or ZIP+4 Code). The US Postal Service also used the following two letter "state" abbreviations: AA - Americas, AE- Europe area, AP - Pacific area.

Military Post Office Location List \(MPOLL\)

Records after 1990 should contain the foreign duty location name and dates, however in older (pre-1990) military personnel records, the duty location may contain only an Army Post Office (APO) or Fleet Post Office (FPO) instead of the foreign location name.

For a listing of WWII APO's, see separate CRG entry. Army Post Offices \(WWII\)

MILITARY RETIREE MEDICAL RECORDS

---

For retirees, NPRC (MPR) stores records of inpatient, outpatient, dental, and mental health treatment. These records reflect health care for former members during their retirement years. Some record collections date from the 1940's and 1950's, but more comprehensive information exists beginning in the 1960's. The retiree records are sent to NPRC (MPR) from medical treatment facilities after 1-3 years of inactivity and are retained for 50 years from the year of last patient activity. Health records were formerly retired to NPRC with the personnel record portion when a member retired from the military service. (Exception: Navy and Marine Corps were filed in the medical record portion.) Since the early 1990's, most health records are retired directly to the VA, RMC.

Medical treatment records are filed as organizational records by hospital name or number. Information needed to conduct a search includes:

- 1) name,
- 2) service number/SSN
- 3) whether inpatient, outpatient, dental, mental health record is desired
- 4) place of treatment
- 5) dates of treatment

NOTE: For inpatient records, the numerical designation (e.g. 102nd Evacuation Hospital) and/or the city/country/base of the treatment facility are vital.

CHAPTER 1: GENERAL PROCEDURES

1. Coverage. This chapter covers general procedures used in the processing of reference service requests that are unique to Records Reconstruction Branch, Correspondence Sections (NRPMR-A/B). This instruction should be used as a supplement to, NOT A SUBSTITUTION FOR, other NPRC correspondence procedures with Centerwide application. Appendix 1-A provides additional sources of NPRC instructions.
2. Incoming work. Incoming work in the Correspondence Sections can be divided into two broad categories: reference requests with file folders attached; and reference requests without file folders attached ("papers"). The latter results when computer probes are negative for the "R", "B", and "S" registry files; however, in some cases, auxiliary file records may be attached.

- a. Requests WITH file folders. Reference requests with "R" or "B" file folders attached are routed to NRPMR-A/B from Search and File Sections. Reference requests with "S" file folders attached are routed from the Search and Control Section (NRPMR-S).
- b. Requests WITHOUT file folders. Reference requests without "R", "B", or "S" file folders are reviewed by the Analysis and Control Technician in NRPMR-S to determine the most appropriate initial action within the Records Reconstruction Branch. These initial actions are most often:

(1) Date procurements. When an initial data procurement action to a VARO, FRC, or RPC is deemed appropriate, the reference request is forwarded to the data procurement operation in NRPMR-A/B, where the initial data procurement request is initiated. Upon receipt of the procurement reply, the request with appropriate S-file attached, is assigned to a correspondence technician or aid for completion.

(2) Assignment or referral to correspondence technicians/aids. Correspondence technicians/aids receive the reference requests with appropriate auxiliary registry file records attached; or without any records attached if no appropriate auxiliary registry file record is identified which would enable correspondence personnel to respond to the request. These require additional analysis on the part of correspondence personnel to determine the next appropriate action.

3. Initial steps in answering an inquiry. When beginning to answer an inquiry, correspondence personnel shall review the following:

- Has the correct record been pulled? Does the veteran's name, service number, and date of birth on the inquiry agree with those in the record?
- What is the veteran/next of kin requesting? What must be furnished? Can the information be reconstructed? Be alert for more than one request; a situation which may not have been recognized in the mailroom.
- Does the request contain the proper signatory authority? If not, it must be returned.
- Does the record contain an entry date?
- Does the record contain a discharge/release from active duty (RAD) date?
- Has a BIRLS check been made? If so, was the correct name and service number entered?
- Has the VA been contacted and asked to furnish separation document(s) or medical records?
- Has the veteran/next of kin ever been sent NA Form 13075-A, Questionnaire About Military Service (FL), to request all available information?
- Has the VA index or service number (SN) tape been checked?
- Has the requester been sent a delay notice?

- Is the identifying data shown on the folder label correct? This should be checked before dispatching the record.

REMEMBER: Keep all copies of the inquiry, FARS, search requests, referral notices, IBR actions, and data procurement requests in the record to document all actions taken.

4. Privacy Act instructions. Release of information from records obtained from agencies outside NPRC, such as Selective Service System, is not specifically covered by the Department of Defense approved release guide and extreme care must be exercised in releasing such information to "third parties" (see NPRC I865.I6, Release and access guide for military personnel and related records at NPRC). When using information from an outside source to answer a request, be sure there is a signed authorization which applies to the data obtained from the outside source. However, actual military information that may be a part of an outside agency's files, such as dates of entry and separation, copies of DD Forms 214, Report of Separation from Active Duty, etc., may be used in the usual way, under the provisions of NPRC I865.I6.

5. Early removal of requests from the reference service pipeline.

a. Requests for information NOT releasable under release policy and laws.

Correspondence personnel shall determine whether the requested information may be released under current release policy and laws. If a request does not bear the appropriate authority DO NOT attempt to procure documents or reconstruct record (see fig. 1-5.1).

b. Requests for which NRPMR-A/B is NOT responsible for providing reference service.

Correspondence personnel are responsible for providing reference service and records reconstruction service on Army military personnel and medical records dating from Nov. 1, 1912 through 1959; and on Air Force records with surnames Hubbard through Z, dating from Sept. 25, 1947 through 1963. If the reference request concerns records other than these, route the request to the proper NPRC (MPR) reference element. If an R file exists, for an individual that would otherwise be excluded from NRPMR-A/B reference service responsibility, then route the request with the R file to the proper NPRC (MPR) reference element; or to ARPERSCOM and refile the R folder.

NOTE: Some Army reservists records through 1963 were destroyed in the fire and require reconstruction by NRPMR-A/B.

c. Requests for information NOT available in records. Certain types of information may be requested that are not available in the records; e.g., test scores, marriage licenses, etc. In such cases, correspondence personnel shall return the request using NA Form 13062, Release of Information, as the transmittal. Check the appropriate blocks on the NA Form 13062 (see fig. 1-5.2).

6. Initial and subsequent data procurement actions on "30 day old cases." Prior to taking an initial or subsequent data procurement action on a case which is 30 days old (or older), correspondence technicians shall recommend the proposed procurement action to the supervisor. If the supervisor concurs with the recommendation, the technician shall take the following actions:

a. Initial data procurement action. When an initial data procurement action is taken on a "30-day old" case, correspondence personnel shall write "30 DAYS" on the date tag IN RED. Prepare and dispatch the S file accession in the usual manner (see pars. 11 and 12). After the S file is accessioned, the Suspense File Control Technician will charge out and deliver the file folder to the Correspondence Section Chief for distribution to the telephone technicians. The telephone technician shall maintain the file until the reply to the data procurement request is received; or until a follow-up action becomes necessary (see fig. 1-6).

- b. Subsequent data procurement action. When a subsequent data procurement action is taken on a "30 day old" case, correspondence personnel shall write "30 DAYS" on the date tag IN RED, and annotate on the data procurement request form/letter, "2nd procurement." Send the requester a second delay notice using NA Form 13039, Delay Card (Recon). Dispatch the S file folder for "refile" in the usual manner (see par. 12). The Suspense File Control Technician will charge out and deliver the file folder to the Correspondence Section Chief for distribution to the telephone technicians. The telephone technician shall maintain the file until the reply to the data procurement request is received; or until a follow-up action becomes necessary (see fig. 1-6).

7. Follow-up action to data procurement requests (40 days old). "S" file folders will be removed from the Suspense File on a daily basis for follow-up action when a response has not been received within 40 days. The Suspense File Control Technician will deliver the file folders to the Correspondence Section Chief for distribution to the telephone technicians. Before placing a tracer telephone call on a data procurement request, the telephone technician shall analyze the request, data procurement actions(s), and other contents of the folder to determine if the request can be answered by using internal sources of information (including CPR). If the technician determines that a response to the request is not possible using internal sources of information, a follow-up telephone call is required (see fig. 1-6).
8. Receipt of original military documents or other personal papers. In order to reconstruct military data NRPMR-A/B personnel often times solicit the requester for additional information. In some instances the requester may inadvertently send ORIGINAL military documents or personal papers to NPRC. In these cases, NRPMR-A/B personnel shall photocopy the military documents for the record; and return all ORIGINAL papers to the requester.
9. Multiple records in one jacket. When portions of, or complete records, for one veteran are found within the folder of a second veteran, route the misfiled record material to the clerk typist (NRPMR-A).
10. Multiple requests for one veteran. Occasionally, two or more requests pertaining to the same veteran are received in NRPMR. For example: one may be submitted by the veteran and a second submitted by the VA. It is essential that multiple requests and available record(s) be brought together with a minimum of delay. Second requests (from the original requester or another source) shall be brought to the supervisor's attention who will correct batch sheets to reflect an additional request.
11. Records accession and deletion actions. Under certain circumstances, correspondence personnel shall initiate records accession and deletion actions pertaining to the "R," "B," and "S" registry files. (See fig. 1-11.)
  - a. Accessions. Correspondence personnel shall underscore in red identifying information for each accession action. This includes last name, first name, middle initial (if available), and service number (SN). When the SN is not available, the Social Security Account Number (SSAN) is used as the identifier. The date of birth (DOB) shall be used as an identifier only if the SN and SSAN are unavailable. If the date of birth is used as the Identifier, write "DOB" in green ink in the lower left hand corner on the front of the file folder. On ALL file folders the technician shall write in the lower left hand corner on the front of the folder: "AR in black ink to indicate Army service; or "AF" in red ink to indicate Air Force service.

NOTE: When initiating an "S" file accession DO NOT remove colored coded date tags, red tags, or other special tags affixed to the request by the mailroom.

- b. "R"/"B" file deletions. Correspondence personnel shall initiate an "R"/"B" file deletion actions when consolidating file folders. When more than one "B" or "R" file folder exists for a subject veteran, the technician shall consolidate the material from all folders into a single folder; normally, the highest numbered "R" folder. However, if a "B" file folder contains a volume substantially greater than the "R" folder, material shall be consolidated in the "B" folder and the "R" registry number shall be deleted.

NOTE: If the subject veteran's record is contained in a 4-1/2 x 8-3/8 inch size jacket, and the record and correspondence material will not fit in the jacket, then consolidate the material in a new blank kraft letter-size folder and accession into the "R" file, then delete the "B" file registry number.

12. Routing of completed work. Correspondence personnel shall deliver completed work to the Search and Control Section (NRPMS-S). Completed responses and data procurement requests are dispatched in outgoing mail bins. Refiles, accession and deletion actions, change of chargeouts, and search requests shall be dispatched in appropriately marked bins.

13. Service indicators when no separation document is available. The data contained in many of the alternate record sources often requires some interpretation on the part of correspondence personnel. Certain remarks were used in the recording of data that are considered positive indicators of a particular happening. On occasion, the particular manner in which a record was initiated, and the purpose therefore, is sometimes considered sufficient to establish a specific fact of service.

a. Indicators of service component.

- Service number (see NPRC 1865.104)

b. Indicators of dates of service.

PREFACE

Since the fire at NPRC (MPR) in July 1973 it has been necessary to use auxiliary records known as "organizational records" to "reconstruct" portions of individual military personnel records which were lost. The losses include major portions of World War I Army personnel records, World War II Army and Army Air Corps personnel records, and Post World War Army and Air Force personnel records (Air Force 1947-1963, Army WW I 1959).

The objective of this monograph is to assist employees involved in records reconstruction in using Army and Air Force "organizational records" which may be defined as permanent records created by military organizations and designed to document events and happenings involving members of a unit. The descriptions of the different types of records set forth the pertinent kinds of information contained in each. In working with the personnel of the Records Input and Reconstruction Branch, it became evident that, due to the mass of information and numerous types of organizational records, it was essential to develop an arrangement for this monograph that would be easy to use and understand, while holding cross references to a minimum. An outline of the monograph's arrangement is included in the following pages. We anticipate that, as more organizational record sources are developed, they will be described and added to the monograph.

It should be noted that the monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department, prepared by Grace Pennell in 1966, can be used as an additional source of information on World War I records. Because the Pennell monograph contains many valuable illustrations, it was not necessary to include them in this source. However, cross references to these illustrations have been included where appropriate. Since the fire in 1973 the Pennell monograph has become even more valuable than it was previously as a source of information about World War I records.

In order to find the location of any type of organizational record or book it is only necessary to know 1) the period it covers and 2) whether the record is still in paper form or if it has been microfilmed. It is also possible that it could be in a card index or book form (paper forms). The location of each type of organizational record can be found to the right of the title and, in most cases, the abbreviations are self-explanatory. They are:

MPR	NPRC (Military Personnel Records)

I would like to thank all the personnel involved in records reconstruction who took the time to explain various types of organizational records and the way in which they had to be indexed. In addition, Mr. Lawrence Cromshaw deserves a sincere "thank you" for his editorial assistance and for his suggestions on topic headings and their arrangement.

*A concluding date for the Post World War Period can not be precisely defined. A concluding date of around 1960 needs further explanation because within the Post World War Period some of the types of organizational records described in this monograph end in the 1950s while others conclude in the 1960s. Some people at National Personnel Records Center (MPR) regard January 1, 1960, as the end of the Post World War Period due to the fact that on that date the computerized Registry System for filing personnel records was initiated. This date, January 1, 1960, has added significance because personnel folders in the computerized Registry System were not affected by the fire. Therefore, most Post World War reconstruction efforts would involve military personnel who were discharged before 1960 and only organizational records up to 1960 would need to be used. In the final sections of the monograph on Post World War sources more precise dates for each type of organizational record are offered.

I. WORLD WAR I PERIOD (ca. 1907 - 1939)

A. LIBRARY SOURCES

LOCATION

AIR FORCE ACES, 1917-1953, A PRELIMINARY LIST OF

GSA LIBRARY

This pamphlet is described in Part III, Post World War Period, Section A, Library Sources.

AWARD ROSTERS      Air Force

GSA LIBRARY

"Award Rosters" is a general title used to include Medal of Honor recipients as well as those who received the Distinguished Service Cross, Purple Heart, Bronze Star, Silver Star, etc. The Award Rosters cover the World War I Period through the Korean War including the periods of peace in between. They comprise eleven volumes and are described in Part III, Post World War Period, Section A, Library Sources.

BATTLE PARTICIPATION OF ORGANIZATIONS OF THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES IN FRANCE, BELGIUM, AND ITALY 1917-1918

RECON LIBRARY

This book is composed of two major sections: the first lists divisions and brigades and battles those units participated in, and the second section lists major offensive and defensive campaigns and brigades that were involved in them. The value of this source is not for information on individuals as much as for information about the brigades that were involved in particular offensive and defensive campaigns in 1917-1918.

CHAPLAINS      Army Air Units 1917-1946

GSA LIBRARY

This book is a general history of American Chaplaincy dating from the Revolutionary War. It is primarily concerned with the growth of Air Chaplaincy. The concluding portion of the book contains an index listing the names of all Chaplains who served between 1917 and 1946. This thirty-year period is broken into three divisions: 1) 1917-1919, 2) 1920-1939, and 3) World War II - 1940-1946. Within each of these divisions the Chaplains are listed alphabetically.

CONNECTICUT

RECON LIBRARY

"Connecticut Roster 1917-1920"

This three-volume set lists all Connecticut servicemen in alphabetical order by their home town. It gives the serviceman's date of birth, branch of service, companies and units during the war, his character of discharge, and rank at the time of discharge. It notes awards, if applicable, and those who deserted.

LOCATION

DEATHS FEBRUARY 1, 1912, TO APRIL 30, 1917

RECON LIBRARY

This source actually offers information for the pre World War I period. It is a ledger which lists in alphabetical order all those personnel who died in service between February 1, 1912, and April 30, 1917. Beside each name, the organization and date of death are also recorded.

DEATHS - ENLISTED MEN ALL BRANCHES

RECON LIBRARY

The names of all those who died between April 1917 and October 1918 are contained in two large ledgers. The service personnel are listed alphabetically by the month and year of their death. The ledgers show name, rank, organization, date of death, whether that death occurred in Europe or the United States and the cause of death. A microfilm index to these ledgers listed in alphabetical order all the men who died and gives the page on which they are listed in the ledger books. The index would be of assistance in case the date of death was not known.

DECORATIONS OF THE U. S. ARMY 1862-1926 with Supplements 1&2 GSA LIBRARY

Those American, British, and French soldiers who received the Congressional Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Soldiers Medal, or Distinguished Flying Cross are listed in these books. The men who received one of these medals are listed alphabetically along with a brief account of each man's heroism or extraordinary service. Each soldier's rank and service number are also listed. These books were published by the War Department.

DESERTER LIST Air Force Only

RECON LIBRARY

This record is divided by years, beginning in 1918 and running through October 1966. Within the yearly divisions the Air Force deserters are arranged alphabetically. The record includes the rank at the time of desertion, Air Force service number, the last installation of service and the date the airman was declared to be AWOL. This record does not include any information about the ultimate character of discharge, or any events which might have occurred since the desertion.

DESERTER LIST, WORLD WAR I

RECON LIBRARY

The local draft boards within each county during the early 1920's helped to put together this listing of World War I deserters. The deserters are shown in alphabetical order according to state, county, and local draft board. This list contains no information about the ultimate character of discharge or about the branch of service. It does not include any dates of service or partial service, nor are there any identifying numbers to accompany the names.

LOCATION

EMERGENCY OFFICERS RETIRED LIST

1917-1918

RECON LIBRARY

This alphabetical listing records the names of several thousand officers who served in 1917 and 1918. These officers were not Regular Army Officers, but were disabled in the line of duty and became eligible under provisions for retirement for Emergency Officers. This listing was published by the Adjutant General's Office in 1956. It includes the officer's service number and rank at the time of retirement.

GENERAL ORDERS, WAR DEPARTMENT AND DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

GSA LIBRARY

The volumes of War Department and Department of the Army General Orders cover the period from 1910 through 1974. The orders are mixed with War Department Circulars and Bulletins and are not complete for all years. Only the General Orders mention personnel by name. Most orders concern appointments, assignments, decorations and awards, and establishment and disestablishment of bases. The number of the order and year are needed for a quick search.

ILLINOIS

RECON LIBRARY

"The Adjutant General's Report - Illinois"

This book lists Illinois National Guard personnel by order or rank by company. The National Guard units mentioned in this book were federalized during the summer months of 1917. The book does not offer any service numbers. In order to use this source it is necessary to know the serviceman's company, detachment, or battery, in addition to the city in which the National Guard company was located before it was federalized. This book does offer the original date of enlistment in the Illinois National Guard, and the date the soldier was mustered into federal service. The concluding portions of the book are devoted to the Illinois Naval Militia which was also called to active federal service in 1917.

MARYLAND

RECON LIBRARY

"Maryland in the World War 1917-1919"

This five volume set lists Maryland's servicemen in alphabetical order, and includes two volumes of World War I maps. This set was published in 1933. It contains the date of birth, date and character of discharge, branch of service, and, in some cases, duty areas for each serviceman.

LOCATION

MEDAL OF HONOR 1863-1908

RECON LIBRARY

This book is divided into sections based on the wars or campaigns in which Americans were involved. In the World War I section, those who won the Medal of Honor are listed alphabetically. There is a brief explanation of the meritorious deeds done to deserve the award. This source does not contain service numbers or date or character of discharge.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS MUSTERED INTO FEDERAL SERVICE, LISTING OF (DURING 1917-1918)

RECON AREA

This pamphlet is composed of two sections. The first records the composition of new Federal divisions, brigades and regiments on April 13, 1918. The National Guard units which were mustered into each Federal unit are listed next to the Federal units.

The second portion of the pamphlet lists the National Guard units which were mustered into Federal service according to the state or origin. Next to each National Guard unit is the number of the Federal unit to which it was assigned or reorganized. The number or designation of the division to which it was assigned is also included.

NORTH DAKOTA

RECON AREA

"Official Roster of North Dakota Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines World War 1917-1918"

This four-volume set lists alphabetically all those people from North Dakota who served in 1917-1918. It gives date of birth, branch of service, date of entry, and units and companies of assignment. It also includes overseas duty, or service in the U.S., and the date of discharge, although it does not contain character of discharge. In some cases it gives a service number or the percent of disability, if this latter fact was established before 1931. It lists deserters, those who died while in military service, and those who received decorations or awards.

NURSES WHO SERVED IN THE WORLD WAR

RECON LIBRARY

This two-volume set is a straight alphabetical listing of nurses who served in the First World War. No information or identifying numbers accompany the list of names. Dates of service and duty areas are not included.

LOCATION

OFFICERS ARMY LIST AND DIRECTORIES AND REGISTERS

GSA LIBRARY

These volumes date from September 29, 1789, to March 2, 1903, and from 1915 to 1972. The Registers list in alphabetical order all the officers on active duty and all those who were retired. The Registers contain service number, date of birth, place of birth, date of entry into the service, plus information on appointments and service units.

The List and Directories contain an alphabetical listing of officers including service number and organization. One section of the List and Directories shows the relative seniority of each rank of officers. Those with the most seniority are listed first and so on to the officer at each rank with the least service at that rank.

OFFICERS OF THE ARMY STATIONED IN OR NEAR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

GSA LIBRARY

These volumes list officers in or near the District of Columbia in January 1920, December 1933, and July 1943. The officers' names are arranged alphabetically including rank, service assignment, plus business and home address.

OHIO

RECON LIBRARY

"Official Roster of Ohio Soldiers, Sailors and Marines 1917-1918"

This twenty-three-volume set was published in 1926. It is a straight alphabetical listing of service personnel from Ohio. It contains date of entry and discharge, duty areas, character of discharge, branch of service, and rank while on duty. It also lists the birthdate, service number, and in some cases, the percent of disability, if this was established by the time the books were printed.

ORGANIZATION DIRECTORIES SHOWING STATIONS AND POST OFFICE ADDRESSES OR ORGANIZATIONS OF THE ARMY

RECON AREA

These directories are sometimes referred to as "Blue Books" by the people of the reconstruction sections. There are approximately thirty-five of these directories and each lists World War I Army units according to their organizational designation and number. In most cases, an APO number is listed for the unit. Valuable information about the unit may be offered in the remarks column. These directories cover Army personnel who served in France or stateside in 1919.

LOCATION

POSTHUMOUS COMMISSIONS, REGISTER OF

RECON LIBRARY

This book contains the name and brief account of service for American officers who served and died in World War I. Each of these Americans received a promotion or appointment shortly before or after his death. In these cases the serviceman was never made aware of this commission. Under Section II of the Resolutions of Congress, approved March 3, 1925, a posthumous commission was sent to the next of kin by the War Department. The men and their stories are arranged by rank from Brigadier-General to Second Lieutenant. An index is contained in the first portion of the book to assist the reader in locating the officers.

PRISONERS OF WAR, AMERICAN WORLD WAR I

RECON LIBRARY

This book was compiled by the United States Military Mission in Berlin after World War I, and was completed in August 1919. The Military Mission worked with the German Department of Fallen Soldiers to try to trace all the Americans who had been prisoners of war, or who had been killed in action, and had been buried by the German forces. This is a straight alphabetical listing of Americans, which includes unit, company, or squadron. It contains the dates of capture and repatriation. In some cases a serial number and the next of kin is also given.

SOUTH CAROLINA

RECON LIBRARY

"The World War Honor Roll - of South Carolinians"

The Adjutant General's Office of South Carolina compiled this book which was published in 1921. It lists alphabetically all Army, Marine Corps and Navy personnel who died during the First World War. The listings are divided into officer and enlisted men categories for both the Navy and Army. The casualties are also broken down according to race. The rank at the time of death, cause of death, home town, and date of death, accompany each man's name.

STATION LISTS OF THE AEF

RECON AREA

This source, composed of approximately twenty-five books, lists Army units according to their numerical designation. The list of Army units is cross referenced to another page in the book which offers the physical location (sometimes a general area or in a region near a town) of the unit. If it is not clear whether the unit's location was in France, Germany, Luxemburg, England, etc., another section of the Station Lists is devoted to further defining general area by sector or country.

B. PAPER SOURCES

LOCATION

ACADEMIC RECORDS 1930-1967

3RD FLOOR

Academic Records begin in the year 1930 and are indexed by a card file which sits atop the Army Organizational Records Index cabinets on the third floor. See Part II, World War II Period, Section B, Paper Sources, for a complete description of Academic Records.

AEF CARD FILE

RECON AREA

This card file lists those who served in Europe in 1917 and 1918. This source usually gives a service number, rank and organization. It occasionally notes temporary appointments, service assignments, and dates of arrival in France or departure from Europe. Minor charges filed against the soldier are recorded in some cases, and fluency in French is even mentioned on a few of the cards.

ARMY AIR CORPS PERSONNEL REPORTS

Officers

ROOM 1180

The Army Air Corps Personnel Reports for Officers are arranged alphabetically by the officer's last name. They include name, rank, station, organization, and date (month and year) of the report. These records were completed once a month and include principal duties performed by the officer each month, any sick or regular leave taken during the month, and an account on any classes taken during the month. The majority of these Personnel Reports cover the period from 1925 to 1934.

ARMY NURSES PAY INDICES

3RD FLOOR

These pay indices are arranged alphabetically by the last name of the Army Nurse. There were several forms used, so all the indices are not identical in appearance and information contained. The forms usually record the paying officer, the voucher number, the period paid for, and the rank or title of the Nurse. There may be a column for remarks. Usually the Army Nurses Pay Indices are not as complete as they could be, because many payments were apparently not recorded. Figures 1 and 2 illustrate two types of pay indices that were used during these years.

CLINICAL RECORD COVER SHEETS AND MEDICAL CARDS

ROOM 1180

NPRC (MPR) has Medical Cards for 1939, the last year of the "World War I" Period. See Part III, Post World War Period, Section B, Paper Sources, for a full description of Medical Cards. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department also has illustrations and a description of World War Medical Cards starting on page 54.

LOCATION

DISCHARGE ORDERS

1918-1920

ROOM 1180

Discharge Orders are arranged alphabetically by the name of the camp, and in a chronological sequence by the date the camp cut the orders. To locate a particular man on these orders it is necessary to know which camp discharged him and the approximate date of discharge. The orders for each camp contain the names of men discharged from the AEF on a particular date in late 1918, 1919, or early 1920. The men's names are usually arranged alphabetically on the orders, but there are a few exceptions. Service number and rank at discharge are included as a part of the records.

A portion of these Discharge Orders has been keypunched and computerized. After the computer check, if a man's name is located on one of the pages of the Discharge Orders, the location will be listed on the computer printout. However, since all of these Discharge Orders have not been keypunched, a "not-found" on the computer printout does not mean that the man's name is not located on the Discharge Orders, only that it has not yet been keypunched. Figure 3 illustrates a Discharge Order for the 1918-1920 period.

ENLISTED MEN'S FINAL PAY VOUCHER INDICES

3RD FLOOR

There are about sixty-two boxes of these index cards, all of the cards being arranged alphabetically. Unfortunately, the vouchers to which these cards apply have been destroyed. The cards themselves give the organization to which the serviceman was attached, and the date of payment. Possibly the most important piece of information on some of these cards is the final pay, which is indicated by the word "Final," written before the voucher number at the left of the card. The date of the final payment and the release from duty were usually the same. Figures 4 and 5 illustrate the front and back of these index cards.

ENLISTED MEN'S FINAL PAY VOUCHERS

3RD FLOOR

The bulk of these Final Pay Vouchers are for the period from November 1918 to November 1919. The Enlisted Men's Final Pay Vouchers are grouped, a few to a folder. (The number in each folder varies.) Each folder is assigned a "file folder number," which has been keypunched into the computerized Registry Index. It is anticipated that the Enlisted Men's Final Pay Vouchers will be completely keypunched and transferred to Military Personnel Records by November, 1975. Until the keypunching and transfer of vouchers are complete, the vouchers are still in searchable order if the voucher number is known.

There are two kinds of Final Pay Vouchers for the Enlisted Men: 1) the individual Final Pay Vouchers contain the name and service information for only one soldier, 2) the multi-name Final Pay Vouchers contain the names and information for many soldiers who received their final payments at the same time. The individual Final Pay Vouchers include the enlisted man's name, rank, company and regiment, (organization), date and place of enlistment, character of discharge, and date of discharge. Payments due the soldier and remarks are recorded on the voucher. The name of the Quartermaster who made the payment is also included. (The Quartermaster for WW I is comparable to the Disbursing Officer for the next decades.) The multi-name Final Pay Vouchers contain Army serial number, rank, date and place of enlistment, allotments, credits, collections, and balance paid to the soldier. Unfortunately, the organization to which the soldier was attached was not recorded, only the organization or demobilization group which discharged him. The multi-name voucher also records the name of the Quartermaster who made the final payment.

Once the Enlisted Men's Final Pay Vouchers are key punched and computerized, the printouts will carry a QM, P, and the file folder number. (The file folder number will be preceded by several zeroes.)

MEXICAN BORDER CARD FILE

RECON AREA

These are the files of the National Guard personnel who were federalized in 1916 and 1917 during the Mexican border crisis. There are two series of records within this group. The first series is for enlisted men only, and is arranged by alphabetical order by state. To use these records it is necessary to know which State National Guard the man was affiliated with. Usually this is the same as his state of residence. These files contain rank and unit designations. As the service number system was begun at a later date, these records do not contain any identifying numbers. The second series holds officers' records in a straight alphabetical order. These records (both series) signify that the man began a period of Federal military service in 1916 or 1917. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department has illustrations of both enlisted and officer's records on page 259.

NORTH CAROLINA WORLD WAR I INDEX CARDS

RECON AREA

This card index is arranged in alphabetical order. It contains a 3 x 5 inch card for each citizen of North Carolina who served in the military or as a Nurse during 1917-1918. Information on the card includes character of discharge, any period of overseas duty, entrance and discharge dates, and dates of transfer from one unit to another. The cards note those who died while in service, and those who were wounded, including the severity of the wound. The percentage of disability is reported on the card if any disability was established before discharge. Deserters are recorded as well as the date and place of desertion.

LOCATION

OFFICER PAY VOUCHER INDICES AND FINAL PAY VOUCHERS 1917-1921

3RD FLOOR

Military Personnel Records (MPR) has the indices (pay cards) and Final Pay Vouchers for World War I officers. The indices and Final Pay Vouchers are located on the third floor in boxes. The indices are arranged alphabetically by the first letter of the last name. Although the indices are not a complete record, they do carry name, rank, the date of enlistment or entry into the service, date of discharge, and the name of the Disbursing Officer. If a bonus is recorded on the individual index card, then it can usually be safely assumed that the serviceman was discharged honorably. If there was no bonus paid or mentioned, then the Final Pay Voucher should be checked to determine the character of discharge. Figures 6 and 7 illustrate two different types of WW I officer pay index cards. Figures 8, 9, 10, and 11 illustrate Special Orders and a Final Pay Voucher. The Special Orders will sometimes be found in the Final Pay Vouchers.

Final Pay Vouchers can be located through the Disbursing Officer Index which is on microfilm, located in the Reconstruction Section. The officer index cards give the name of the Disbursing Officer who made the final payment. Record the name of the Disbursing Officer, the date of the payment, and the voucher number. Check the Disbursing Officer microfilm, which offers the settlement account number. (It is also known as a "W" number.) On the third floor the settlement account number or "W" number is printed on the outside of the Final Pay Voucher boxes. Once the correct box has been located, the voucher number will aid in the selection of the correct Final Pay Voucher.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION RECORDS, WORLD WAR I

ROOM 1180

These medical records are located in boxes against the firewall. The records are arranged alphabetically for the most part. But many are out of proper order, so a wide search is often necessary (until such time as these medical records are rechecked and realphabetized). Various forms were used to report the findings of the physical examination. *The form may record whether the man passed the physical examination; it may record his selective service number; it may record his army serial number (be sure not to confuse these); and it may record a physical and psychiatric evaluation. Unfortunately, the forms did not record date of birth or serial number in all cases, so it is difficult to positively identify a man on the basis of these records. Apparently these records apply to Army men only.

*The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department illustrates the various forms used on pages 125-130.

RETURN OF THE NURSE CORPS

RECON AREA

Recorded on large, ledger-like sheets, these reports list those nurses who were attached to United States Camp Hospital formations in the U. S. and Europe. The reports were completed on the last day of the month. Nurses' names are listed in alphabetical order in most cases. However, on some of the sheets there is no alphabetical or chronological order to the listings. Leave With Pay and Leave Without Pay categories are included on the sheets, as well as a "Remarks Category" which explains transfers and other official actions. Losses and additions to the staff are included at the conclusion of the sheets. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department contains illustrations of Return of the Nurse Corps on pages 280-281.

SAILING LIST OF NURSES FOR AEF

RECON AREA

These lists show the names of nurses who sailed to Europe in 1918 as a part of the American Expeditionary Force. The nurses' names are listed in alphabetical order by the Base Hospital or group to which they were to be assigned upon arrival in Europe. There are three folders of these sailing lists in the cabinets at the end of the Return of the Nurse Corps records. The Sailing Lists contain the name of the ship upon which the nurses sailed, as well as the sailing date, and the duty status of the nurse. A few of the lists record the names and addresses of the next of kin to be notified in case of emergency. Some of lists also contain the port of embarkation. It appears that mosts of the lists are for 1918.

This source is not on microfilm. The Sailing Lists are stored in cabinets in the Reconstruction area. Figures 12 and 13 illustrate two types of Sailing Lists of Nurses for AEF.

I. WORLD WAR I PERIOD (ca. 1907-1939)

C. MICROFILM SOURCES

DAILY REPORTS OF CHANGES July 1, 1918 to April 1919

RECON AREA

These reports were begun July 1, 1918, and continued through the entire World War I era. However, the Reconstruction Branch only has Daily Reports of Changes on microfilm for the period from July 1, 1918, to April 1919. Thereafter they were filed in the personnel folders. The Daily Reports of Changes substitute for the Muster Rolls which were discontinued after June 30, 1918. They give full name, service number, rank, and information under the remarks column. These reports are arranged in straight alphabetical order for each company. In some cases the men's names are arranged alphabetically for each regiment, so that a company assignment is not needed in every case. Enlisted men are on one report, and officers on another. The Daily Reports of Changes list promotions, those men who were transferred, those who were sent to and returned from special duty, those who went on/or returned from furlough, those returned from the hospital to duty, those given special passes, those sick in quarters, those discharged and those returned to duty from AWOL, or AWOL from duty. These records contain many details regarding duty, absence, hospitalization, courts martial sentences, and passes which are not reported on the Rosters which were prepared once a month. The Reports of Changes are a most important source of information for the last months of the First World War. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department has illustrations of World War I Daily Reports of Changes on page 287-288.

There are approximately fourteen hundred reels of World War I Daily Reports of Changes. The fastest and most effective way to locate a specific unit is to use the index to the Daily Reports of Changes. Each company, battalion, squadron, or unit should be listed in the index on a separate card. The cards are arranged by the type and number of the unit, once the general category has been located. Those units which did not have a number are found under the "all others" category. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer an item number. By using the item number, in the area where the Daily Reports of Changes are stored, it is possible to find the correct reel of microfilm.

RECON AREA

Now on microfilm, these reports were completed each day during the period from 1921 through 1939, although some go back to 1917 and 1918. The names contained on them are not listed in alphabetical order, but are carried by regiment, battery, or company. An Army serial number generally accompanies the name along with grade, date when sickness began, whether it was in the line of duty or not, and the Medical Officer's Report. The disposition of the illness is included; whether the man was hospitalized, assigned to quarters, or returned to duty. The earliest Sick Reports did not have a special blank for the Army Serial Number, so that its inclusion was optional, while the later Sick Reports almost always carried the number in a special blank. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department has illustrations of Daily Sick Reports on page 257.

LOCATION

There are over eleven hundred reels of World War I Army Sick Reports. The fastest and most effective way of locating a specific unit is to use the index. Each company, battalion, squadron, division, or unit is listed in the index on a separate card. The cards are arranged by the type of unit, that is, brigades, companies, detachments, etc., and by the number of that unit. Those units which did not have a number are found under the "all others, not numbered" category. Some of the units are listed with their station codes, which help to identify them. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer a microfilm box number. By using the box number it is possible to find the correct reel of Army Sick Reports. Sick Reports also can be indexed by using the WW I paper index.

FIELD CLERKS CARD FILE     Army     1917-1919     RECON AREA

The Army Field Clerks Card File was put into only two rolls of microfilm, so it may be a bit difficult to locate. (It is adjacent to the Nurses Card File Microfilm.)

The Army Field Clerks cards are arranged in alphabetical order. The cards contain the clerk's name, date of appointment for camp personnel, duty, and the date he was discharged. If the clerk was honorably discharged, it is noted on the card, or if he left the service under other conditions, it is noted in most cases.

LISTS AND DIRECTORIES     Army     1912-1939     RECON AREA

Army Lists and Directories are on microfilm in the Reconstruction area. They are also in book-form in the GSA library. Army Lists and Directories are difficult to describe because they contain so many sections with various types of information.

One of the opening sections of these books lists the corps areas and the forts and camps within each corps area. It is followed by a section which offers the geographic location or station for companies, squadrons, battalions, regiments, and headquarters units based on the arm or service of the Army each unit was assigned to. In this way, a specific company could be located with the Quartermaster Corps and would be found under that arm's listings. Other examples of Army arms are Signal Corps, Ordinances, Infantry, Corps of Engineers, etc.

Army each unit was assigned to. In this way, a specific company could be located with the Quartermaster Corps and would be found under that arm's listings. Other examples of Army arms are Signal Corps, Ordnances, Infantry, Corps of Engineers, etc.

Another section of these books lists officers by rank according to the department of the Army each served with. An example of the various departments would be the Adjutant-General's Office, the Finance Department, the Medical Department, the Ordnance Department, etc. The Relative Rank section has lists containing the names of all Army officers broken down by rank--colonel, lieutenant colonel, major, captain, etc., with those who had the most seniority heading the list in each of the categories of rank. These Relative Rank lists were compiled for Infantry Officers, Cavalry Officers, Quartermaster Officers, and other arms or services within the Army.

The Promotion Lists section grouped all the Army officers of the same rank, regardless of their arm or service within the Army, and assigned them a Promotion List number denoting relative position.

Another section has an alphabetic listing of all officers, regardless of rank, which includes organization and address.

"Changes Among Commissioned Officers" is a section which records all appointments, promotions, or transfers of Army officers within a designated period.

MONTHLY ROSTER OF OFFICERS 1920-1939

RECON AREA

The Monthly Rosters of Officers were completed at midnight on the final day of the month. The camp or regiment to which the officers were attached listed their names alphabetically by rank, with the highest ranking officers listed in the first section of the roster. The officers' company usually followed his name. The information contained in the Monthly Rosters varied widely depending upon the unit or clerk who compiled the roster. Some report periods of sick and regular leave taken by the officers. Others note those officers who were hospitalized, or sick in quarters. Officers attached from other organizations are included in some of the Monthly Rosters. A few offer a brief description of the type of work each officer did. Monthly Rosters usually close with a report on personnel losses during the month. One of the most useful pieces of information - an officer serial number, could have been included in these rosters, but in many cases it was not. Officer serial numbers were issued after May, 1921, but many rosters do not record them even in the 1930's. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department contains an illustration of a Monthly Roster on page 291.

LOCATION

The microfilm of the Monthly Roster of Officers is arranged in general groupings, with each grouping utilizing an essentially alphabetical order. 1) The first group is arranged according to the general designation of type of unit the officer was assigned to. For example, the general designation could have been Coast Artillery, Corps area, General Staff Corps, Medical Units, Ordinance, etc. 2) The second contains officers listed according to the name of the camp or base to which the officer was assigned. 3) The next consists of reserve officers arranged by the name of the camp to which assigned. 4) The next consists of ROTC officers arranged by the name of the university with which they were affiliated. 5) The last consists of Warrent Officers arranged by unit designation, then Warrent Officers arranged by camp and university.

MORNING REPORTS NOVEMBER 1912 - DECEMBER 1939

RECON AREA

The Morning Reports were usually completed daily at the company or squadron level. The Morning Reports may carry special alphabetical lists of those persons who were assigned to a company or reassigned. They recorded individuals who were absent from duty due to illness, and those who were returning from sick leave to duty. When a serviceman joined a company, his name was entered on the Morning Report. Temporary duty assignments (TDY), corrections, those who were AWOL, and those missing due to accidents were all noted on these reports. Service numbers were sometimes recorded with each man's name. World War I Morning Reports often do not show individuals joining an organization, but show group actions, such as "60 men assigned." It may be more difficult to read and use Morning Reports for most of the World War I period than for later periods because they were hand written and because the clerks sometimes recorded only the soldier's last name. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department contains illustrations of World War I Morning Reports on pages 262 and 264.

There are over seventeen hundred reels of World War I era Morning Reports, but the job of finding the correct reel is made easier because the Morning Reports are indexed. Each company, battalion, squadron, or unit is listed in the index on a separate card. The cards are arranged by the type of unit, such as: Medical Company, Machine Gun Battalion, Quartermaster Detachment, Ordinance Detachment, Signal Company, etc., and by unit number. Some of the units which did not have a number are found in the "miscellaneous" category. Once the proper index card has been found, it will offer a microfilm box number where the Morning Reports for that unit can be located. It is then only necessary to go to the cabinet area where the World War I Morning Reports are stored, to pick up the correct box.

MUSTER ROLLS AND ROSTERS 1912-1939

RECON AREA

Muster Rolls These microfilm records covering the period from November 1, 1912 to June 30, 1918, list Army personnel alphabetically by rank. Each man's grade follows his name and is nearly always accompanied by his enlistment date. Muster Rolls were completed once a month and contain many pieces of information; usually more on officers than on enlisted men. The Muster Rolls carry: 1) AWOL time-specifically the date the man was first absent and the date he surrendered or was captured, if applicable; 2) confinements - the place of incarceration and the date the term was begun and concluded; 3) furloughs; 4) leave of absence; 5) transfers - mentioning the man's former assignment; 6) losses due to transfer or discharge; 7) hospitalization - which includes the name of the camp hospital and pertinent dates; 8) discharges; 9) appointments - recording former rank, date of appointment, and authorization. After June 30, 1918, Muster Rolls were superseded by Rosters which carry much of the same type of information. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Record of the War Department illustrates Muster Rolls on pages 268-276.

Rosters Army Rosters cover the period from July 1, 1918, to December 31, 1939, and were completed once a month. They list personnel alphabetically by rank. The rosters are more brief than the Muster Rolls but do include service number, personnel losses, and furloughs.

There are approximately two thousand microfilm reels of World War I era Muster Rolls and Rosters. Fortunately, they are indexed. To use the index it is only necessary to find the general category of unit, such as Quartermaster unit, M. P. Company, Medical unit, hospital, Coast Artillery Corps, etc., and then look under the number assigned to that unit. The numbered units are arranged in numerical sequence. Once the proper index card has been located it will offer a microfilm box number. By using the number it is possible to find the correct reel of microfilm, which will contain the Rosters or Muster Rolls for that unit.

NOMINAL CHECK LIST FOR REPORT OF SICK AND WOUNDED 1917-1920 RECON AREA

These records were completed by the camp or base hospital once a month, at the end of the month. They cover the period from 1917 to December, 1920. Each man who was hospitalized had his name, rank, organization, and company recorded on the Nominal Check List. His case was assigned a Register number, but this number is of no real value to the Reconstruction Branch, as all of the camp hospitals did not follow the same policies in assigning them. A few of the camp hospitals included a service number with the man's name, but many did not. These monthly records indicate if treatment was concluded during the same month it was initiated. However, the Check Lists have no way of indicating the duration of treatment, if it lasted longer than the calendar month in which it was initiated. If a patient stayed in the hospital from one month into the next, his name was automatically dropped from the Nominal Check List for the second month of his hospitalization. Thus, even though he remained a patient his name did not appear after the initial month's report. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department has an illustration of a Nominal Check List on page 278.

LOCATION

Nominal Check Lists are arranged alphabetically by the name of the camp, for those camps which were located in the United States. The Check Lists for camp hospitals in Europe follow, and are arranged in numerical sequence according to the number assigned to the camp hospital. The Nominal Check Lists for Report of Sick and Wounded occasionally appear on the same microfilm as the Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded. As both of these report similar kinds of medical information, it would be advisable to check the description of Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded.

NURSES MEDICAL CARDS ARMY 1912-1939

RECON AREA

These cards are arranged in alphabetical order by last name and may include data about age, home state, length of service, register number, service number, company and rank. As a source of medical and dental information, each card may contain date of admission and release, name of hospital, illness or injury which caused hospitalization, and whether that illness or injury was incurred in the Line of Duty.

OFFICERS CARD FILE 1917-1919

RECON AREA

This card file covers Army officers with service during the 1917-1919 period. The cards have been microfilmed and are arranged in alphabetical order, so no index to the microfilm is necessary. The officer's name is at the upper left corner and is accompanied with various degrees of information. Sometimes a home address or address of next of kin is below the name. The officer's rank in service, unit designation, date of the conferral of that rank, and the date the rank was accepted are recorded on some of the cards but not all of them.

REGISTER OF ENLISTMENTS JANUARY 1913-APRIL 30, 1917

RECON AREA

The Registers of Enlistment show name, date of enlistment, period of enlistment, home town, and home state for each man who joined the Army during this five year period. In addition, the original regimental assignment is noted in the latter books of this period, while the earlier books have a physical description of the enlistee, which is not carried in the latter books. These records are helpful if the approximate date of enlistment is known. The Enlistment Register is kept by date and first letter of last name. Thus, all men whose last name begins with the letter R, and who enlisted on the same day will appear together, but not necessarily in exact alphabetical order. Box #10, the last reel of Register of Enlistments, shows the names of Philippine Scouts (arranged alphabetically), and Register of Enlistments containing the names of Puerto Ricans who served during the period.

REPORT SHEETS OF SICK AND WOUNDED 1920-1939

RECON AREA

During the First World War the Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded were compiled from the Nominal Check Lists for Report of Sick and Wounded. The Nominal Check Lists record the name of each man who was sick or wounded but the Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded are primarily a numerical compilation of the sick and wounded at individual Army camp hospitals. The Nominal Check Lists for Report of Sick and Wounded are on microfilm for the period 1917 - December 1920 and the Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded on microfilm begin in 1920 and run to the end of the World War I era (1939).

The title "Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded" may be somewhat misleading as these sheets also record information on marriages, physical examinations, deaths and mass immunizations. The individual cases involving birth, death, or marriage at the camp hospital are assigned a register number and are listed by category: births, marriages, or deaths and the date. The register numbers have no real significance. The Monograph on Military Personnel and Related Records of the War Department has two illustrations of Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded on pages 284 and 285, as well as a description of the information found on these sheets.

The reels of Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded for the World War I era follow the Nominal Check Lists for Report of Sick and Wounded. There are many reports for various units on each reel of microfilm, but the Report Sheets are indexed. The index is broken down into one group called "Prior to 1923," and into individual years after 1923, up to 1939. For each year the medical units are listed by number and by title or designation. Some of the units did not have a number and appear by title only. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer an item number. By using the item number, among the reels of Report Sheets of Sick and Wounded, it is possible to locate the correct reel, which may contain the medical report on the unit and individual in question.

VA MASTER INDEX

RECON AREA

Although this source covers the World War I period, due to the unique title breakdown of the Index, it seemed most appropriate to list it under the World War II section on microfilm sources. A description of the VA Master Index may be found there.

RECON LIBRARY

This book is divided into sections based on the wars or campaigns in which Americans were involved. In the World War II sections those who won the Medal of Honor are listed alphabetically. There is a brief explanation of the meritorious deed(s) done to deserve this award. This source does not contain service numbers, or dates, or character of discharge.

NORTH DAKOTA

RECON LIBRARY

"North Dakota Veterans, World War II, 1941-1945, and the Korean Conflict 1950-1953"

This volume, published in 1968, lists in alphabetical order all military personnel who served during the periods 1941-1945 and 1950-1953. No attempt is made to separate the personnel according to the period of service, either World War II or the Korean Conflict. This source gives the service number, character of discharge (if known), date of birth, branch of service, date of entry, and separation, and rank at separation. Information is also included for those who died in service or were killed in action.

PRISONERS OF WAR, WORLD WAR II, ALPHABETICAL LISTING OF

RECON LIBRARY

These five reels of microfilm include the names of those Army and Air Force personnel who were prisoners of war during the 1941-1945 period. The man's service number is recorded beside his name, as well as the dates of capture and release.

LOCATION

RESERVE AND NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS ON ACTIVE DUTY - ARMY DIRECTORY

GSA LIBRARY

This book lists reserve and National Guard Officers on active duty on July 31, 1941, and was published by the Adjutant General's Office. This source is an alphabetical listing of the officers which included Army serial number, rank, service organization, and place of service.

SOUTH CAROLINA

RECON LIBRARY

"Official Roster of South Carolina, World War II 1941-1946, Servicemen and Servicewomen"

These five volumes list service personnel in alphabetical order and include information concerning date of entry and discharge, the branch of service, the character of discharge, and the area of duty during the war. The man's service number is a part of this information and in addition, any medals or awards he may have received are noted. This source gives less complete information for those who were killed in action, or died of wounds while on duty.

AIR FORCE COMBAT UNITS OF WORLD WAR II (1961)

AF REF BRANCH

COMBAT SQUADRONS OF THE AIR FORCE WORLD WAR II (1969)

These two volumes were published in different years but due to the similarity of the subject matter in each, they form a "natural" set. They both contain the history of various Air Force units including each unit's commanders and the commander's period of service, the campaigns in which the unit participated, geographical stations, decorations and other awards made to the unit. In some cases the unit insignia is also included if one existed, as well as the motto and activation and inactivation dates. Presently, the only copies of these books in the Center are in the Air Force Reference Branch.

ACADEMIC RECORDS

3RD FLOOR

It is difficult to formulate a description of Academic Records because many types and forms were used, depending upon the schooling or classes that were reported. Some of the Academic Records report on classes that were taken in residence on a base or at a hospital. Other records report studies that were sent to the individual, completed and returned; a kind of correspondence course. Many include test scores and the final rank in the class. A few include the instructor's evaluation of the student's growth or learning potential, or evaluation of the student's leadership ability. Nearly every form reports the title of the course or classes completed, the period of enrollment in the class, and the graduation date. Figures 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18 illustrate five of the many kinds of Academic Records that may be found.

Academic Records are intermixed with other kinds of Organizational Records on the third floor and would be impossible to locate if they were not indexed. To locate Academic Records for the years 1953-1967, it is necessary to look in the Army Organizational Records Index cabinets on the third floor under the general topic "schools." The various types of schools - Engineers, Food Service, Intelligence, Medical Service, etc., are listed alphabetically. The name of the camp, hospital or installation at which the school was located also helps to further alphabetize the various types of schools. Once the proper page in the Organizational Records Index has been located, it lists Academic Records as "Individual Academic Training Records", and gives the number for the box in which the records are located. The index covering the years 1930-1953 is located atop the Army Organizational Records Index cabinets. The cards in this index are arranged by unit number or by the title of the school.

Academic Records, being a part of Organizational Records, were no longer accessioned at Military Personnel Records after the fire in July 1973. Depending upon the retention period for these records, usually four to six years at the base, and the time it took the military base to send its Organizational Records to Military Personnel Records, the last Organizational Records accessioned were for the years 1967 and 1968. Academic Records were accessioned at Civilian Personnel Records after July, 1973, and begin with the years 1968 and 1969.

RECON AREA

Directories are a record of the physical location of an Army unit on a specific day, month, and year. The unit may be a division, regiment, battalion, company, detachment, wing, group, squadron, etc. The Directory may contain an index which gives the page location in the Directory, where a general category of units -- such as Armies, Divisions, Field Artillery, or Medical Departments is listed. In checking the lists, which are arranged in alphabetical and numerical order, the unit is recorded along with its geographic location at a base, or in a country, or in an island. If an index is not present in the Directory, it is still possible to find a particular unit because they are arranged in a general alphabetical order based on the title or description of the general type of unit, and the lowest numbered unit. Thus, if a clerk were looking for Company B, 753rd Military Police Battalion, he would have to look under Military Police Battalions, because battalions would not be specific enough. Then he would have to locate the number (753rd), and then the companies listed under the 753rd. If Company B, 753rd Military Police Battalion, were part of a numbered regiment or division, it would still be necessary to look to the lowest numbered unit, which in this case would be the battalion.

Station Lists record all Army Units (battalions, regiments, companies, etc.,) at a post, camp, depot, or station on a given day, month, and year. The posts or stations are listed in alphabetical order by the service command in which they were located. (There were nine service commands during the Second World War.) The units at a post are listed in alphabetical and numerical order. The opening section of the Station Lists offers an alphabetical listing of Army posts, camps, and stations, which includes the geographic location of each. This alphabetical listing though, does not tell which units were located at that base.

The World War II Directories and Station Lists are also on microfilm in the Reconstruction area. Those in book form are located in cabinets in chronological order. The Directories and Station Lists cover the World War II period from June, 1940, through 1946.

LOCATION

PAY VOUCHERS

1936-1949

CPR & MPR

The bulk of Military Pay Vouchers for Army and Air Force personnel for the years 1936-1949 are located at National Personnel Records Center (NPRC), Civilian Personnel Records (CPR), 111 Winnebago, St. Louis. A portion of the Enlisted Men's Final Pay Vouchers and Pay Rolls for the period October 1944 through January 1949 (approximately) have been screened from other types of accounts and were keypunched into the computerized Registry Index. The Final Pay Vouchers were transferred to NPRC, Military Personnel Records (MPR), during the summer of 1975. These records are in the "QM" series (auxiliary records at MPR). The Registry number which is preceded by the prefix "P" designates the folder in which the Final Pay Voucher will be found. The registry numbers of the folders in each box are shown on the outside. Each folder may contain up to fifty individual Final Pay Vouchers or one or more multi-name Final Pay Rolls. Figure 19 contains the names of military installations or FOUSA (Finance Officers U.S. Army) Offices where personnel received final payment. The dates covered at each installation are indicated.

The remainder of the Military Pay Vouchers; all officer Final Pay Vouchers, all Officer Pay Cards (see attached section) and those for enlisted men, primarily, for the years 1936 through September 1944, and for 1948 through 1949 will remain at CPR. These pay vouchers will not be computerized and will continue to be searched manually by the CPR personnel. It should even be noted that some of the Enlisted Men's Final Pay Vouchers for the years, 1944-1947, may have been missed in the screening process, and might not have been entered into the computerized Registry Index.

There may be some confusion regarding Military Pay Vouchers because they are also referred to a "GAO Accounts" and "Disbursing Officer Accounts." The reference to the "GAO Accounts" comes from the fact that these Pay Vouchers were audited by the General Accounting Office. The reference to "Disbursing Officer Accounts" comes from the fact that these pay vouchers are arranged by the name of the Disbursing Officer who made the payments. There are millions of Pay Vouchers, perhaps thirty million, but that figure is only an estimate because no one has ever attempted an accurate enumeration. The Pay Vouchers are grouped in voucher number order into bundles according to the monthly accounts of the Disbursing Officer who made the payments. Since the vouchers are not grouped alphabetically, or by service number, it is necessary to use two different index systems to locate a particular pay voucher. Military and civilian employees who received government payments for salary, rations, travel, or mustering out settlements, at any time during the 1936-1949 period should have a pay voucher in this collection. The military Pay Vouchers are primarily for Army and Air Force personnel. There are several different kinds of vouchers present in the collection: 1) Enlisted Men's Final Pay, 2) Officer's Final Pay, 3) Regular Pay, 4) multi-name Final Pay Rolls, and 5) multi-name regular Pay Rolls.

The first index system is actually twenty-three alphabetical sets of card files based on the last name of the individual who received a payment. These card files contain Individual Payment Cards for only military personnel. Each of the twenty-three sets of card files runs from A through Z. (See Figure 20 for a more complete breakdown of the twenty-three sets of card files.) Some of the card file sets are based on the payments made by one Disbursing Officer, but the names of the individuals who received payments from the Disbursing Officer are arranged alphabetically. When a request is received by a clerk at Civilian Personnel Records, he must use his judgment as to which of the twenty-three sets of card files to search to locate a particular Individual Payment Card. Based on a probable date of discharge or the exact date of discharge included in the request, it is possible to judge in which year the Final Payment was made, and then judge which of the card file sets would probably contain an Individual Payment Card for that person. The average request involves a search of at least three or four card sets. It should be noted that one soldier may have an Individual Payment Card in more than one of the card sets.

If an Individual Payment Card is located, it will contain the name of the post or organization to which the soldier was assigned when the payment was made. The soldier's serial number, the name of the Disbursing Officer, the voucher number, and the month and year of payment are included.

The voucher number, Disbursing Officer, and date are vital pieces of information. With the name of the Disbursing Officer and the payment date it is possible to go to the second set of indices, called the "Disbursing Officer Books". These books are set up alphabetically by year. For each of the years, the Disbursing Officer Books contain the names of all the Disbursing Officers who made payments in that year. Once the name of the Disbursing Officer has been located in the proper book, it will offer an "H number" which is also known as the final settlement number.

The monthly accounts of the Disbursing Officer, containing the Pay Vouchers are assigned an H number, and are stored on shelves. These monthly accounts of the Disbursing Officer are tied together into bundles averaging about seven to eight inches thick. Using the H number from the Disbursing Officer Book, it is possible to find the row and bundle or bundles of Pay Vouchers which were assigned that H number. If there are several bundles with the same H number, it is then necessary to check the Voucher numbers which are also printed on the front of each bundle. (Some bundles covering the early 1942 period do not have voucher numbers printed on the front, but they are the exception.) The range of voucher numbers contained in each bundle will be printed on the bundle cover so that it is possible to find the exact bundle which should contain the voucher to answer the request.

The vouchers are normally in voucher number order, which is to say, in numeric sequence. It is then possible to untie the bundle, find the correct voucher, and extract the correct information from the Final Pay Voucher or other voucher, which normally contain the following kinds of information: years of service, character of discharge and reason, residence at time of discharge, dates of discharge, place of original enlistment, component, and Final Pay information, including terminal leave payments, mustering out pay, travel pay, etc. The serial number is shown, as well as the latest organizational assignment and Disbursing Officer who made the payment. See figures 21 and 22 for illustrations of Final Pay Vouchers. The Final Pay Vouchers for officers for the later periods show prior service, including any enlisted service. If an individual Final Pay Voucher has been located to answer a request, it is extracted from the bundle and a chargeout is inserted in its place. The individual Final Pay Voucher is then sent to Military Personnel Records to be placed in the Master Personnel Record. If it is a multi-name voucher, information is extracted and sent to Military Personnel Records, but the voucher is left in the bundle and returned to the shelf.

OFFICER PAY CARDS

CPR

Officer Pay Cards are filed alphabetically during the fall months, 1974, a portion of the Officer Pay Cards were transferred from cube boxes to archive boxes to make a search of the Pay Cards easier and faster. Officer Pay Cards are used as an index to the Pay Rolls and Final Pay Vouchers because the Pay Cards contain the necessary information to find a particular Pay Voucher. For the period 1936-1949, there may be more than one Pay Card for an officer especially if that officer served at more than one duty station, or served more than one year in the military. The Pay Cards carry officer, serial number, rank, paying officer (disbursing officer), voucher number, month of payment, gross pay per month, monthly deductions of various types, bonds, and net pay amount. Dependents are also recorded and a final column was reserved for remarks. Figure 23 illustrates an Officer Pay Card.

With the voucher number, name of Disbursing Officer, and the date of final payment, it is possible to use the Disbursing Officer Books to obtain an H number which would lead to the correct bundle of vouchers.

LOCATION

ROSTERS      Army and Army Air Force      1944-1946      3RD FLOOR

Army and Army Air Force (AAF) rosters for the years 1944, 1945 and 1946 are grouped into Army officer and enlisted men categories and Army Air Force officer and enlisted categories. Enlisted men's rosters were always kept segregated from the officer rosters.

There is no index to these Army rosters. To locate a specific roster, it may be helpful to consult the "Training Aid for Locating Rosters on the Third Floor." First, it is necessary to find the rows which contain the rosters for the Army or AAF. (The Training Aid offers the row numbers.) Then, the enlisted or officer roster areas within either the Army or AAF rows must be located. AAF rosters are arranged by organization level and by numbered designation of the organization. Army rosters are arranged alphabetically by the names of the branches or arms, e.g., armor, cavalry, field artillery, infantry, or service units. Once the arm or branch has been located, the final step is to find the numbered unit at the lowest level within the branch concerned. This numbered unit could be a division, regiment, battalion, company, or platoon. The lowest numbered unit is important because the rosters were ordinarily completed by the lowest level numbered unit which could be the 1st Army, or the 263rd Infantry Regiment, or the 240th Quartermaster Battalion, or the 3506th Quartermaster Truck Company. It should also be noted that service units and unnumbered units follow the branches or arms. Some of the service units may be designated by the city or post in which they were located. Service Units for stateside organizations are arranged alphabetically by the name of the camp or installation at the end of the rosters for arm or branch units. Overseas units are arranged numerically by the APO number.

Officer Rosters      Army and Army Air Force

The following statements are true for both the Army and AAF. Officers are listed on monthly rosters alphabetically by rank. See figures 24 and 25 which illustrate Officer Rosters. Officer serial number, grade, service arm, subunit, and current enlistment date generally accompany each name. The monthly rosters were completed on the final day of the month. An Initial or Final Roster was included with the monthly rosters when a unit was being activated or deactivated. The Initial or Final Rosters contain the same kinds of information as the monthly rosters, i.e., serial number, name, grade, service arm, date of enlistment, component, and military occupation specialty.

ARMY AIR FORCES CLASSIFICATION AND AUDIT LIST - OFFICERS

Enlisted Men's Rosters (Pay Roll Rosters) Army and Air Force

The following statements are true for both the Army and AAF. The enlisted men were recorded on Pay Roll Rosters alphabetically by rank, Regular Army first, followed by "OTHER COMPONENTS." Due to the fact that many of the Pay Roll Rosters are lengthy, thirty to forty pages, it was apparently impossible for clerks to always list the men in perfect alphabetic order by rank. The Pay Roll Rosters do tend to list sergeants on the opening page continuing the listings in descending grade order. See figures 26 and 27 which illustrate World War II Enlisted Men's Pay Roll Rosters. Privates were generally the last to be recorded, but sometimes they were the first. Gains or losses since the completion of the Pay Roll were noted near the end or beginning of the roster. Corrections were often necessary to revise inaccurate information which may have been recorded in an earlier Pay Roll Roster.

Pay Rolls were prepared monthly usually at the company level. The name, serial number, allotments, collections, and date of enlistment were recorded as vital data. Furlough time, appointments, payments due to the United States, erroneous deductions, and dates of payment are all pieces of information included as a part of the Pay Rolls.

II. WORLD WAR II PERIOD (1940-1946)

C. MICROFILM SOURCES

ARMY SICK BOOKS

RECON AREA

The Army Sick Books for the World War II Period, 1940-1946, are on microfilm. While the Army Air Force and Air Force records of sick are referred to as Sick Reports, the Army records of sick are actually entitled "Daily Sick Reports", but are referred to as "Sick Books". These books were usually completed at the company level. They were submitted each day, listing the personnel who were currently ill or injured. Next to the name the Army serial number was recorded, plus the grade, date when injured or taken sick, and a judgement whether the illness was incurred in the line of duty. The medical officer's report on the illness completes the entries and records whether the sick man was hospitalized or treated and returned to duty. (This is the disposition of the case.)

One note of caution about Army Sick Books should be included. The procedures for completing them varied from company to company. In some cases the clerk recorded the name of the man who went on sick call only on the day he was hospitalized and on the day he returned to duty, even if several days or weeks had intervened. In other cases, a man who was hospitalized for a long period was recorded on the Sick Book every third or fourth day. No consistent order was followed in recording the names of the sick or injured men. Some of the companies attempted to list those men who had been hospitalized for the longest period at the first portion of the Sick Book.

There are over seven thousand reels of Army Sick Books, which are indexed. Each company, battalion, squadron, or unit is listed in the index on a separate card. The cards are arranged by unit number. Those units which did not have a number are found under the "all other" category. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer a box number for each year of the Army Sick Books. By using the box number it is possible to find the correct reel of microfilm.

DAILY SICK REPORTS Army Air Force 1940-1946

RECON AREA

These reports were completed by the Army Air Force on a daily basis, usually at the squadron level. The reports are arranged on the microfilm by date of report and numerical designation of the unit completing the report. Each individual report should include the date of the report, the airman's name, serial number, grade, date when taken sick, and judgement as to whether the illness occurred in the line of duty. The medical officer's report concludes the Sick Report and notes whether the service man was hospitalized or sent back to duty. There is no apparent order to the way men's names were listed on the Sick Reports. It is necessary to check all of the entries for a single day to prevent the overlooking of a single airman's name.

LOCATION

There are over one-thousand rolls of Army Air Force Sick Reports, which are indexed. Each squadron or unit is listed in the index on a separate card. The cards are arranged by unit number. Those units which did not have a number are found in the "all other" category. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer a box number for each year of the Army Air Force Sick Reports. By using the box number it is possible to find the correct reel of microfilm.

JAUNDICE QUESTIONNAIRES

RECON AREA

These questionnaires can be an extremely valuable source of information because they usually give date of induction, place of induction, grade and serial number, as well as dates of arrival and departure from all camps or stations while serving in the Army. The immunization record is also included. See Figure 28, which illustrates a Jaundice Questionnaire. The Questionnaires are on microfilm following the 1940-1943 World War II rosters. They are arranged by the name of the camp, station, or hospital where treatment was given. In a majority of cases the patient recovered. However, the fatal cases are grouped together on one reel of microfilm.

MORNING REPORTS

1940-1946

RECON AREA

There are over twenty-four thousand reels of Morning Reports on microfilm covering the 1940-1946 time span. The individual microfilm reel boxes carry only an item number. In order to locate a particular man in a specific unit on a given date, it is necessary to use the index to the Morning Reports. Each company, battalion, squadron, or unit should be listed on a separate card. The cards are arranged by unit number. The units which did not have a number are listed in the "all other" category. Once the proper index card has been located, it will offer an item number for each month and year of the Morning Reports. The item numbers contained on each reel of microfilm are listed on the top of the box which holds the reel of microfilm. Using the item number, in the proper month and year location of the microfilm, it is possible to find the correct reel.

During this period, Morning Reports were filled out each day. They are one of the most valuable remaining sources of information for this period. Usually the company or squadron had the responsibility for completing these reports, which carry the date and unit designation at the top of the page. The reports note the name, serial number, grade and code for Army personnel who were affected by a change in duty status, such as: those going on leave (furlough), those returning from leave, those being transferred to or from another facility, those going from duty to the hospital, or returning to duty from the hospital, those who were to be discharged, those who were absent without leave (AWOL), and those who were being promoted, or those on temporary duty (TD). Occasionally the Morning Reports will report information about the soldiers' morale, unit activities, or physical or geographic location, especially if the unit was in the process of moving.

The bottom section of the World War II Morning Reports contains an area for information on officer and enlisted personnel strength. Sometimes the clerk who completed the Morning Reports filled in this section, and at other times he did not. The Morning Reports for the World War II period are listed on the microfilm by date for each unit.

PATIENT ROSTERS      Army      1940-1946      RECON AREA

Patient Rosters for the World War II period, 1940-1946, are on microfilm. The patients' names were listed on ledgers maintained by the hospitals. The patient rosters were microfilmed in alphabetical order based on the first letter in the name of the hospital or the numerical designation of the hospital.

The patient's name was recorded on the ledger when he was admitted for medical treatment at one of the camp hospitals. All patients were assigned a register number, which probably had significance only to the hospital at that time. Generally, they contain the name, grade, Army serial number, and organization for each patient. Because the format for the patient ledgers varied from hospital to hospital and was revised from time to time, information on them also varied. Therefore, it is not possible to make a comprehensive statement about all of the kinds of information which are contained on the patient roster. Some of the rosters offered a diagnosis of the illness, as well as the date of admission, time of admission, number of days of treatment, date of dismissal, and a judgement as to whether the injury or disease occurred in the Line of Duty (LOD). If, during the disposition of the case, the service man remained on duty, this is noted as "duty" or if the illness or disease resulted in a medical discharge, this is noted as "CDD," Certificate of Disability for Discharge. Of course, the service man could also have been hospitalized for treatment.

PUBLICATIONS      Army Air Force      1940-1946      RECON AREA

Publications of the Army Air Force for the World War II period are on microfilm. The Publications include special orders, personnel actions memoranda, certificates, and extracts. A complete description of the kinds of information recorded by the Publications is included in Part III, Post World War Period, Section C, Microfilm Sources. Illustrations of Publications are included as a part of the Post World War Section on Paper Sources.

LOCATION

ROSTERS      Army and Army Air Force      1940-1943      RECON AREA

A portion of the World War II rosters are on microfilm. The rosters for the years 1940, 1941, 1942 and 1943 have been microfilmed. The rosters for 1944, 1945, and 1946, are not on microfilm. The original rosters for 1944-1946 are in boxes on the third floor. The microfilmed rosters are arranged by the numerical designation of the battalion or unit, and by the general category of the creating unit, such as: Engineers Battalion, Infantry Regiment, Infantry Training Battalion, or Signal Battalion.

Army - Enlisted Personnel Rosters

Two types of rosters appear on the microfilm for the years 1940-1943. An Initial Roster of Troops lists men alphabetically by rank. The Initial Rosters are present on the microfilm, although the World War II Pay Rosters predominate. The Initial Rosters include name, serial number, service designation, component, date of enlistment, race and military occupation specialty. In most cases, one Initial Roster accompanies twelve Pay Rosters, or one monthly Pay Roster for each of the twelve months.

Pay Rosters also list the names of personnel alphabetically by rank. Service number, years of service, date of enlistment, allowances or allotments, government insurance deductions, government laundry deductions, and other general deductions are recorded. Transfers, AWOL time, and last date of pay are noted.

Army - Officer Rosters

Officer Rosters, utilizing A.G.O. Form 309, list officers in alphabetical order by rank with the highest ranking officers in the opening section of the roster. Name, officer serial number, service designation, component, date of current enlistment or commission, race, and principal duty are included. The Officer Roster (Form 309) is usually followed on the microfilm by a Monthly Personnel Roster For Officers (A.G.O. Form 305a) which is similar to the Officer Roster and contains similar information. Pay cards are not included on the microfilm with the Officer Rosters.

Most frequently a unit of officers will appear on the Roster of Officers (Form 309), followed by twelve Monthly Rosters. The Monthly Rosters will probably appear on the microfilm in reverse chronological order, so that December and November, precede February and January. Sometimes, one of the twelve Monthly Rosters will be omitted from the sequence. The Officer Rosters were not put on the microfilm with a high degree of accuracy or consistence. Occasionally, a unit of officers will appear with only one Monthly Roster. In some cases the Officer Roster is designated as the Final Officer Roster before the unit was disbanded, or was designated as the Initial Officer Roster after the unit was redesignated. At other times, the appearance of just one Officer Roster with one Monthly Roster seems to be a mistake.

The Monthly Rosters were prepared on the final day of the month; the Officer Rosters apparently were prepared on any day of the month.

Army Air Force - Enlisted Personnel Rosters

During the years 1940-1943, the Army Air Corps kept at least three different types of rosters to monitor the enlisted personnel strength of its units. The three types of rosters were: 1) Initial or Final Rosters, when a unit was being organized or disbanded, 2) Monthly Rosters, which reported those assigned to the unit, 3) Pay Roll Rosters which were completed once a month. Records Input and Reconstruction Branch has microfilm covering the period 1940-1943, for the Army Air Corps and all three types of rosters appear on it. However, the Pay Roll Rosters predominate.

The Pay Roll Rosters monitored all the personnel changes during the month. Personnel losses, gains and transfers are recorded. The Pay Roll Rosters also list the name, grade, serial number, date of enlistment, years of service, allowances, and deductions for the permanently assigned airmen. All the above information is recorded for the men who were transferred also. The Initial and Final Rosters and Monthly Rosters note similar kinds of information. All three types of rosters record airmen by their rank in alphabetical order.

In the process of putting the Pay Roll Rosters on microfilm the pages have become slightly jumbled. Frequently they do not appear in numerical order, but in an arrangement like reverse numerical order. It is sometimes difficult to search the Pay Roll Rosters because of the unusual page arrangement, and the searching problem is further complicated because the Pay Roll Rosters did not always record the highest ranking enlisted men first. Occasionally, the privates preceded the sergeants. The enlisted men are arranged alphabetically by rank, but it is necessary to look through most of the pages of these rosters to find airmen of a specific grade or rank.

Army Air Force - Officer Rosters

During the period 1940-1943, the Army Air Corps did not record the names of its officers and enlisted men on the same rosters. While the same basic types of information were recorded for both officers and enlisted men, the roster forms were slightly different. The Officer Rosters do not contain information on pay or deductions, as the Pay Roll Rosters for enlisted men do. The Officer Rosters were designed to classify and audit officer strength on a monthly basis. The roster forms used to do this, were revised during this four year period, so it is not possible to describe all the details of a single form. The Officer Roster forms did record officer names alphabetically by rank, with those of the highest rank in the first section. The Army Air Corps serial number, year of birth, service arm, military occupation specialty, and the date of rank were standard information items.

Indices to the 1940-1943 Rosters

There are over four thousand reels of Army enlisted personnel rosters on microfilm, approximately two hundred reels of Army officer rosters, over one thousand reels of Army Air Force enlisted personnel rosters, and approximately two hundred of Army Air Force officer rosters. It would be nearly impossible to locate a man in a specific unit if these thousands of reels of microfilm were not indexed. There are four indices: 1) Army officers, 2) Army enlisted personnel, 3) Army Air Force officers, and 4) AAF enlisted personnel.

Both of the Army indices list each company, battalion, regiment, division, or unit on a separate card. In both of the Army indices the cards are arranged in order of descending organizational structure i.e., regiment, (depot, base) battalion, and company. Each of the numbered units within these categories is listed in numerical order. Other odd units, such as Marine Ways Utility, Island Command, Headquarters - Headquarters detachment, General Hospital, etc., are listed in the "all other" category. Hospitals, postal units, and camps are also included at the end of the index.

Both of the Army Air Force indices list each group, squadron, or other unit on a separate card. In both of the AAF indices the cards are arranged in order of descending organizational structure, i.e., group and squadron, basically. Each of the numbered units within these categories is listed in numerical order. Other units which can be identified by camp, APO, or country designations are included at the end of the indices.

All four of the indices have similarities, as described above. Once the proper index card is located in any of the indices, it will offer an item number. By looking within the correct roster area, at the boxes which are labeled with the item numbers on each reel, it is possible to select the one reel which will carry the roster needed to answer the request.

Prior to January 1972, the Veterans Administration kept a card index with the name and partial information about each veteran who had insurance applications and conversions and veterans who had filed claims with their agency. There were also cards for veterans who were paid a World War I bonus. This card system covered the period from 1917 to January 1972, and contained the names of over 34,000,000 veterans. The cards were put on microfilm according to the VA breakdown of the fifty-six year time span into two periods: 1) 1917 through 9-19-1940, called "Prior Wars", and 2) 9-20-1940 to January, 1972, called "World War II". Thus, if a man served prior to 9-20-40, his card would be in the Prior Wars group, if he served after 9-19-40 his card would be in the World War II group. If he were serving before and after September 1940 his card would be in the World War II group. In 1974, NPRC (MPR) was able to obtain a copy of this microfilm index. The VA has retained the Master Card File.

Both the Prior Wars and World War II groups use a library-like system. The arrangement of cards is essentially alphabetical with primary and secondary guides. The primary guides are based on the first four or five letters of the surname while the secondary guides are based on the first letter of the first name. Surnames with very similar spellings are grouped together under primary guides. The first step in using the VA Master Index microfilm is to find the area of the tape where the surname should be located, then the secondary guides are based on this pattern: A&B, C, D&E, F&G, H&I, J&K, N through S, and T through Z. Only the first letter of the first name is used for the secondary guides.

If a clerk were looking on the Master Index tapes for Lawrence S. Hayne, it would be necessary to first find the primary group in which the name, Hayne would be located. After finding the probable primary group, it would be necessary to go through the first six secondary guides to get to the L&M group. Lawrence S. Hayne would then be listed in alphabetical order based on the last name. If there were more than one Lawrence Hayne on the Index, then the middle initial S. would have to be taken into account, placing Lawrence S. Hayne after all those with the middle initials A through R. In summary, the library system 1) groups similar surnames and 2) lists them in groups based on the first letter of the first name. Once the correct secondary breakdown has been reached, the names are listed in exact alphabetical order.

The VA Master Index cards usually contain the following information although each card may not contain all of the different types of information:

1. Name - always in the upper left corner
2. Rank - it could be the final rank held by the veteran at discharge from the service, or it could be the first rank of the man when he entered the service and filed for government life insurance
3. Branch of service
4. Address - either at the time of entry or after discharge
5. Service number
6. Date of birth
7. Enlistment date
8. Discharge date
9. Date of death (if applicable)
10. VA claim number (if claim was filed)
11. Bonus paid or adjusted compensation
12. Insurance number

AIR FORCE ACES, 1917-1953 A PRELIMINARY LIST OF

GSA LIBRARY

This source was published in 1962, by the USAF Historical Division, Research Studies Institute. This pamphlet is divided into three sections: one on the First World War, one on the Second World War and one on the Korean War. It defines the term "ace" and the criteria for being considered an ace during each of these periods of war. Those pilots who had destroyed the most enemy aircraft during each of these three periods of war are listed alphabetically in each of the sections.

AIR FORCE (U.S.) CREDITS FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF ENEMY AIR CRAFT, KOREAN WAR

GSA LIBRARY

This pamphlet was published by the U.S.A.F. Historical Division in 1963. It is an alphabetical listing of the airmen who were awarded credits for the destruction of enemy aircraft. It includes each airman's rank, serial number, unit designation, and other information on the destruction of the enemy aircraft.

AIR FORCE REGISTERS      January, 1949 - January, 1972

GSA LIBRARY

The registers were published once a year, by the Department of the Air Force. The commissioned officers on active duty are listed in alphabetical order in one volume, and the retired officers in another. The retired officers are listed alphabetically by last name along with their serial numbers, retired grade, and date of retirement. The officers on active duty are accompanied by SSAN, grade, and date of grade. The date of birth and other types of information are given for officers on active duty in the more recent volumes of the registers.

AWARD ROSTERS      Air Force

GSA LIBRARY

"Award Rosters" is a general title used to include Medal of Honor recipients as well as those who received the Distinguished Service Cross, Purple Heart, Bronze Star, or Silver Star, etc. The Award Rosters cover the World War I Period through the Korean War including periods of peace in between. They comprise eleven volumes.

Medal of Honor Recipients offers a summary of Air Force service for those who received the Medal of Honor. Included in the summary are serial number, promotions, citations, and organizations to which the airman was attached. The particular episode in which the airman displayed extraordinary courage or valor, resulting in the Medal of Honor, is described in this roster.

Rosters for the Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Purple Heart, Bronze Star, Legion of Merit, and Soldiers Medal are each a straight alphabetical listing of those who won one of these awards. Included with the name are serial number, grade, year of award, organization and home state.

Many additional pieces of information are included about each person including alphabetical order. Both of these types of clinical records have been keypunched and computerized. If an Army or Air Force name is run through the computer and gets a "hit" on a Cover Sheet or Medical Card, the computer printout will show the location as "QM C," plus a four digit number and two three digit numbers. The QM stands for auxiliary military records located at MPR. The C stands for Clinical Records. The four digit number stands for the box number, which is marked on the outside of the boxes. The first three digit number stands for the folder location inside the box. The second three digit number stands for the Cover Sheet or Medical Card location inside the folder; in this way, 025 would be the twenty-fifty Cover Sheet or Medical Card in the folder.

Once the Clinical Record Cover Sheet has been located it will show the man's name, rank, serial number, military occupation specialty, age, race, religion, length of service, and next of kin. The Cover Sheet usually contains a diagnosis, as well as therapeutic procedures that were administered. The date of admission, duration of treatment, and nature of disposition are recorded at the bottom of the sheet, along with the name and location of the hospital or treatment facility. Medical Record Cards (form 52-Medical Department USA or W.P.A.G.O. form 8-24) carry name, serial number, grade, company and regiment, age, race, service and date of admission. The injury or illness is explained on the Medical Card, as well as the dates of disposition and place of treatment.

DIRECTORIES AND STATION LISTS

RECON AREA

Directories and Station Lists are described within Part II, World War II Period, Section B, Paper Sources. The general format for Directories and Station Lists did not change radically after the war. Most of the Directories have an index, unless it has become detached. In order to use the Directories it is necessary to understand that Army units (divisions, battalions, companies) are listed under the general category of their function or title. To put this system of organization in other terms: a company or battalion will be found in the Directory by the kind of work it performs, i.e., chemical, medical, military police, signal, transportation, or etc.

The Station Lists are broken down by the six United States Army areas of the world, and other areas of the world, such as Latin America or the Far East and Pacific area. Paper copies of the Directories and Station Lists for the years 1946-1967, are located in cabinets in the Reconstruction area. Some of these are also duplicated on microfilm. The Directories and Station Lists for the years subsequent to 1967 are in the vault because they are classified as secret.

LOCATION

MORNING REPORTS    Air Force    1960-1964

RECON AREA

In order to use Air Force Morning Reports for the above period, it is necessary to check the Air Force index, located in the Reconstruction area, for an item number. Air Force units are arranged in numerical order in the index by their numerical designation. The index will serve as a cross reference and will offer an item number. The Morning reports are stored in year groupings, which make it necessary to find the row or rows which contain the reports for the year of inquiry. Once the proper area or row is located, item numbers marked on the outside of the boxes make it possible to find the exact box location.

Air Force Morning Reports for this period were completed daily, usually at the squadron level. There are four or more pages to each Morning Report which list personnel strength, gains, losses, duty status, remarks, and military population. Figures 31 and 32 illustrate Post World War Air Force Morning Reports. Airmen being reassigned, relieved from an attachment, given a temporary duty assignment, or other change in duty status are noted by name on these reports. Service number and grade are accompanied by remarks explaining the change in duty status. The relevant dates for those duty changes are noted as a part of the remarks.

3RD FLOOR

Passenger Lists are grouped according to the country of embarkation, when the port of embarkation is overseas, e.g. Germany. Thus, if an American soldier had sailed from Germany to the United States after World War II, his name would be on a Passenger List which could be found in the "Germany" grouping. When the country of embarkation is the United States (CONUS), the Passenger Lists are grouped by the port of embarkation, e.g. Boston. Within each country grouping, the Passenger Lists are filed in folders according to the date of arrival at the destination, or debarkation date. (CAUTION: some are filed according to the date of embarkation)

The Passenger Lists are stored in boxes which are grouped according to the country of embarkation - - a few of the most common are Germany, France, Panama, the Philippines, England and Okinawa. The boxes will have the country of embarkation and dates of embarkation printed on them. This makes it easier to search the boxes, so that a clerk does not have to look in every box marked "Germany" if he knows that the ship sailed in a specific month and year.

Passenger Lists are filed in the boxes by the debarkation date. See Figure 33. Each folder contains the Passenger Lists (there are many kinds of Passenger Lists for the same ship) for only one sailing and the ship's name is printed on the folder. See Figures 34, 35, and 36. The Passenger Lists themselves record the names of all the passengers who sailed, as well as the type of ship, control status, sailing date, and arrival date. The lists of military personnel include name, grade, Army serial number, military occupation speciality, branch or arm, and home street address and city. Sometimes the organization to which the man is being transferred is shown. The Passenger Lists are usually headed by a sort of summary sheet which contains general information about the ship and the total number of personnel on the ship, broken down by rank.

To search the Passenger Lists it would be necessary to know the country of embarkation. If the clerk knew the approximate day and month as well as the name of the vessel, this would simplify the search. However, the vessel's name and the exact day of sailing would not be absolutely necessary. If a veteran were absolutely sure of the name of the ship and the date it sailed, it would also be possible to search several countries to find the correct country of embarkation.

The Reconstruction Branch has a card index to the Passenger Lists. However, it is difficult to use the index because the cards are arranged by "shipment number". (When a group of military personnel sailed, they were assigned a shipment number.) In order to discover which ship a veteran may have sailed on, or when, it is necessary to know what his shipment number was. It is unlikely that many veterans would remember this number, since it had little meaning for the military man at the time it was assigned. The cards in the index carry the name of the ship, when it sailed, and the port of embarkation. These are all useful pieces of information, but, unfortunately, they can not be readily utilized unless the shipment number is known.

PAY VOUCHERS

CPR

Enlisted men's Final Pay Vouchers for the period from approximately October 1944 through January 1947 are located at NPRC (MPR) as a part of the Computerized Registry Index. These records are fully described as a part of Part II, World War II Period, Section B, Paper Sources. The enlisted men's Final Pay Vouchers and officers Pay Vouchers and indices for the years 1947-1949 (approximately) are still at CPR. They can be searched to furnish information for Post World War Reconstruction cases.

LOCATION

PUBLICATIONS 1954-1957 Air Force

3RD FLOOR

(See the definition of Publications, Army Air Force, under the Post World War microfilm section.) Air Force Publications for the years 1954-1957 are in boxes on the third floor. In order to use these Publications it is necessary to check the Publications index (a card file type index), located in the Reconstruction area, for an item number. Air Force units are arranged in the index alphabetically by the title of the unit and numerically by the number of the unit. Once an item number, also called a unit number on the index card, has been ascertained, it is necessary to check the Index to Publications Files, for a row number on the third floor and an approximate box number. See Figure 37 an Index to Publications Files is attached. State in another way, it is necessary to check two indices to get an exact row number and an approximate box number. The first index gives the item number, the second index offers a row number and approximate box number for the location of the Publication. Based on the item number alone, it would be nearly impossible to find the location of a Publication. Please note that the Publications index does offer an obsolete box number location which may be of some assistance once the Index to Publications Files has given the appropriate row and approximate box number.

The actual paper publications on the third floor may include Special Orders, Personnel Actions Memoranda, Requests for Leave and Duty, and Requests for Rations. Figures 38, 39, and 40 illustrate three types of Air Force Publications. The Special Orders cover assignment to training classes, emergency leave, temporary duty, and moving instructions and authorizations. The Personnel Actions Memoranda include reductions in grade, assignments of added duty, changes from prisoner status to military duty, and changes in position or occupation.

Service Number Ledgers are arranged by state and date. In order to understand these ledgers it is necessary to know that service numbers were customarily assigned to states in large blocks, perhaps of a thousand numbers or more. The ledgers list the service number, usually in numeric sequence, and the name of the man to whom that number was assigned on a specific date.

The ledgers were kept by the state and information recorded by the state personnel varies widely. Michigan recorded the address and home town, period of enlistment, year of birth, and original rank of enlistee or inductee, in addition to the name and service number. Some states recorded only the number, name and branch of service; Air Force or Army. Others noted the race of the enlistee or the original base assignment. Figure 41 illustrates a Post World War Service Number Ledger.

LOCATION

The Service Number Ledgers can be searched in various ways: 1) by looking within a particular block of numbers for a specific name, 2) by selecting a specific date and checking numbers and names on that date, or 3) finding an exact number to check name and date on which that number was assigned.

SPECIAL ORDERS

January 1951, into 1960s

3RD FLOOR

Special Orders cover a variety of topics, such as transfers promotions, appointments, and changes in military occupation specialty (MOS). Reconstruction personnel primarily use the Special Orders which discharge service personnel, and those which show entry date and entry information -- known as Special Orders for enlistment, or enlistment Special Orders. The names of Army and Air Force personnel being discharged on a given date at a designated Army or Air Force base are listed on Special Orders. Figures 42 and 43 illustrate Special Orders which discharge personnel. The individual's rank or grade accompanies his name, as well as his service number, branch of service, military occupation specialty, home of record, mailing address, and place of entry on active duty. Unfortunately, the names are not always listed alphabetically, but in an arrangement which may be close to alphabetical order. It is necessary to check the entire page of pages of Special Orders for a man's name on any given date.

Discharge Orders were generally found in a Special Orders group. They were scattered through all the Special Orders in a given year. A project was undertaken in 1975 to bring all the Special Orders for discharge from the major Army bases together in one area of the third floor. However, it is possible that a few minor groups of Special Orders may have been missed and could be found under any of the following categories: transfer stations, transfer centers, transfer points, separation centers, personnel centers, training centers, Command, Division, or installation. Often installations will offer a cross reference to a specific organization which may do the discharging. It is important to remember that as a rule one unit did the discharging on an Air Base for a period of time, perhaps as long as a year. One unit usually did the bulk of discharging at an Army installation, but as many as three organizations have been found to publish discharge Special Orders for a given date at the same Army installation. Special Orders are a useful record of discharge information if the veteran can not recall the exact unit to which he was assigned at the time of discharge. If he is able to recall the name of the base at which he was discharged and the approximate day, month and year, he can probably be traced in the Special Orders.

Special Orders discharging Army personnel cover the period from January 1951 through December 1959, and into the late 1960s. However, the Records Input and Reconstruction Branch is primarily interested in the Special Orders for the 1950s, although the collection is not fully complete for this decade. Army Special Orders are located in boxes, primarily in rows 144 and 145 on the third floor.

The Index to the Special Orders showing entrance information is located in a filing cabinet on the third floor. These Special Orders are listed under US Army Recruiting Main Station in the city and state in which the man was inducted or enlisted. The cities and states are listed alphabetically by each of the six Army Areas. The Special Orders carry the anticipated period of active duty, reporting date, effective date of change of strength accountability and the man's name and service number. Air Force enlistees, and information pertaining to them, are also found under US Army Recruiting Main Station. Special Orders cover the period from December, 1951, into the 1960s.

Army Sick Books were discontinued by the Army in 1953. See Figure 44 which illustrates Post World War Army Sick Books. The description of the Army Sick Books and the kinds of information contained in them for the years 1940-1946 also applies to the Sick Books for the years 1947-1953. The description of the Sick Books for the 1940-1946 period appears in the Part II, World War II Period, Section C, Microfilm Sources.

DAILY SICK REPORTS

RECON AREA

Daily Sick Reports were discontinued by the Air Force during 1951, however, an "Excused from Duty" page was included in the Air Force Morning Reports for the period from 1951 through approximately 1959. The Post World War Air Force Sick Report form was very similar to the Army Sick Books even though the Air Force acquired independent branch status in 1947. See Figure 45 which illustrates Air Force Sick Reports form. The airmen's names were recorded on these reports on the day when they were taken sick. For each day there is no particular order to the way in which the names were written into the Sick Reports. Therefore, it is necessary to look at each entry for a particular day to see if an airman's name is listed. Normally, an Air Force squadron completed the Sick Reports. The statements describing World War II Army Air Force Sick Reports and the information contained in them also apply to the Post World War Period Sick Reports for the Air Force.

There may be some confusion with regard to the Air Force Daily Sick Reports stored with the Air Force microfilm records and the Army Air Force microfilm records stored with the Army records. The two sets of microfilm for the Air Force are essentially the same.

MORNING REPORTS

Air Force

1947-1959

RECON AREA

Air Force Morning Reports are on microfilm for the years 1947 through 1959. During this period the Morning Report form was revised several times. In June 1949 the Personnel Strength Section was moved from the bottom to the top of the page. Figure 46 is an illustration of the Morning Report used prior to June 1949. The preceding section of this monograph on Paper Sources, contains two illustrations of Air Force Morning Reports used after June 1949 (Figures 31 and 32). The section on Personnel Strength does not record airmen by name. However, this section does record the number of permanently assigned officers and enlisted airmen who were present on duty or absent on a given day. Morning Reports were completed each day and generally noted name, serial or service number, grade, and military occupation specialty for those airmen who experienced a change in duty status. The change in status could be a discharge, temporary duty, absence, return from absence, reassignment, period of hospitalization, etc.

It is impossible to formulate a comprehensive statement about the method used to list airmen's names on the Morning Reports. At times, the men were listed alphabetically by rank, with the highest ranking officers recorded first. At other times, the airmen's names were recorded without regard to the alphabetical or grade order. The length of the Morning Reports can vary from one to many pages, depending on the unit and the personnel changes that day.

Post World War Morning Reports are indexed by year. To find the 7th Rescue Squadron in 1949, or another unit in a different year, it would be necessary to follow these steps: 1) Find the portion of the index which covers the year 1949. 2) Look under the category "squadrons", which will be arranged by numerical designation. 3) Find the squadrons designated as 7th, and

MORNING REPORTS

Army 1947-1964

RECON AREA

Morning Reports were continued after the Second World War, and contain many of the same kinds of data as their predecessors. However, in the years after the war a few extra pieces of information were added and the form the Army used was modified in 1951 and 1962. During the Post World War period, the Air Force became an independent branch of service in September 1947. Before that month the Air Corps Morning Reports had been included with those of the Army. After 1947, the Air Force Morning Reports continued to resemble those used by the Army.

The post war Morning Reports for the Army were completed daily, usually at the company level. Name, serial number, and grade were still the basics, supplemented with military occupation code, race, and the date of expiration of service. Reassignments or transfers may cite paragraphs of Special Orders as the authorization for a specific personnel action. Some of the post war Morning Reports have supplemental pages attached to them, which usually list men who were being reassigned.

In August 1951 the Morning Report form for the Army was redesigned moving the section on assigned gains and losses from the bottom of the page to the top of the page. See Figures 47 and 48 for illustrations of the Morning Report form which was used until August 1951 and the form as it was revised in August 1951. Often during the Second World War this section of the Morning Report had not been completed by the clerk.

Army Morning Reports on microfilm cover the years 1946-1964. Morning Reports for the years 1946 through 1959 are indexed. For the Post War period the index is broken into individual years. If you wished to find the 581st Transportation Truck Company in the year 1947, 1) be sure to find the correct year - 1947 - in the index. 2) Locate the general category or type of unit - groups, regiments, platoons, squadrons, companies, or detachments. In this case it would be companies. 3) Each of the types of units are arranged by numerical designation. Look in the 580s and you should find a card for the 581st Transportation Truck Company. It should offer an item number for each month's Morning Reports for the year 1947. Once you have the item number, go to the correct drawer of Morning Reports and find the box which contains that item number.

PATIENT ROSTERS

Army 1947-1948

RECON AREA

Patient Rosters for the Post World War period 1947-1948, are on microfilm. The patients' names were listed on ledgers maintained by the hospitals in the order of admission. The patient rosters were microfilmed in alphabetical order based on the first letter in the name of the hospital or the numerical designation of the hospital.

The patient's name was recorded on the ledger when he was admitted for medical treatment, at one of the camp hospitals. All patients were assigned a register number, which probably had significance only to the hospital at that time. Generally, they contained the name, grade, Army serial number, and organization for each patient. Because the format for the patient ledgers varied from hospital to hospital and was revised from time to time, information on them also varied. Therefore, it is not possible to make a comprehensive statement about all of the kinds of information which are contained on the patient roster. Some of the rosters offered a diagnosis of the illness, as well as the date of admission, time of admission, number of days of treatment, date of dismissal, and a judgement as to whether the injury or disease occurred in the Line of Duty, (LOD). If during the disposition of the case the service man remained on duty, this is noted as "duty", or if the illness or disease resulted in a medical discharge, this is noted as "CDD", Certificate of Disability for Discharge. Of course, the service man could also have been hospitalized for treatment.

PUBLICATIONS

Army Air Force 1940-1953

RECON AREA

"Publications" for the Army Air Force, 1940-1947, and for the Air Force, 1947-1953, is a very general word used to describe the special orders, personnel actions memoranda, certificates, and extracts published by the Air Force during this fourteen year period. Special orders and personnel action memoranda account for a large portion of the publications. They cover a wide variety of topics ranging from temporary and permanent promotions, appointments, transfers, and authorization of leave to authorization of meal tickets and subsistence payments. Special orders and personnel action memoranda help the Air Force to regulate and account for its personnel.

The subjects of Air Force publications varied from year to year. During times of conflict, more of the publications were concerned with combat missions and recommendations for air medals and meritorious achievement awards. At all times some of the publications were concerned with the administration of military justice. The authorization convening a special court-martial was distributed, while another was published with the findings of the trial. Prisoner orders transferred convicts and helped to carry out sentences of the court-martial and are also a part of the Air Force publications.

LOCATION

Air Force publications for the years 1940-1953 are on microfilm. These publications can be used to verify an inquiry concerning an airman or several airmen. To use the publications, it is necessary to know the base to which an airman was assigned in a given year. The publications are indexed by year and unit. The units are listed alphabetically by title or name designation, such as, Instructor Squadron, Motor Vehicle Squadron, or Operation Squadron. If there are one or more numbered units of a particular designation, then the units will be arranged in numerical order following the name designation, such as, 3650th Instructor Squadron, 3750th Instructor Squadron. Once the correct index card has been located, it will list the item number (also called unit number) where the information can be found on the microfilm regarding the Air Force unit.

ROSTERS (Enlisted and Officer Personnel)

Army	1947-1959	RECON AREA
Air Force	1947	RECON AREA

This source is called a "monthly Personnel Roster of the Active Army", but the rosters appearing on the microfilm have dates indicating that they were completed only on the final day of January and July. This is due to the fact that the microfilm omits all the monthly rosters except for January and July. The enlisted men's names are carried on one set of rosters, and the officers' names on another set. When these rosters were photocopied for microfilm the same distinctions were followed; Officers' Rosters were put on one set of microfilm, Enlisted Men's Rosters on another.

The Enlisted Men's Rosters list permanent Army personnel in alphabetical order. Each person's service number, grade, race, component, "category-term", (term of enlistment), military occupation specialty, and expiration of term of service is included. The unit which completed the monthly rosters varied depending on the size of the battalion or regiment, but the unit which customarily completed these rosters was larger than a company.

The Officers' Rosters carry only the names of Army officers alphabetically by rank. The highest ranking officers were listed at the beginning of the roster, continuing with descending ranks down to Second Lieutenant. The name, service number, grade, race, and military occupation specialty are included for each officer. Usually a division, regiment, or special unit completed the Officers' Rosters.

Some of the rosters on the microfilm for the Post World War Period are difficult or impossible to read. The pages are small and the printing in some cases is extremely faint. It should be noted that the roster form changed several times during the Post World War Period and each of the various revisions tended to carry a little more information than the previous form, or to carry the information in a little different way.

LOCATION

Army Air Force Rosters are on microfilm for approximately the first half of 1947. Army Rosters for the years 1960 and 1961 are on microfilm which is presently stored in the Air Force File section. Beginning in 1962, Army Rosters appear on the Army Morning Reports microfilm. The Rosters appear after the January 31 and July 31 Morning Reports. None of the Post World War Rosters are indexed. The microfilm on which the Rosters appear is arranged in a similar fashion to the World War II Rosters which are on the third floor. See the World War II description of Rosters (Paper Sources) for an explanation of the arrangement.

MORNING REPORTS AND UNIT ROSTERS

Morning reports are unit records that were filled out each day to reflect changes in duty status for personnel assigned to the unit; such as, gains, losses, leave, transfers, TDY, promotions, etc. The entries show the name of service member, service number/SSN, and rank. Also shown are unit strength, the location of the unit, and sometimes a Record of Events. Army morning reports were discontinued approximately September 30, 1974, and AF discontinued June 30, 1966.

Information needed to conduct a search:

- Complete name of the unit (to the smallest echelon: company, battalion, regiment, etc.)
- The month (or season) and year of allegation (OR will normally search a three month period of time to verify allegation.)

INDEX SYSTEM

Microfilmed morning reports are filed by unit (organization) and the year of the reports (shown on film box), and unit identification code (UIC).

- For the years 1967 to 1974, each unit's UICs shown in the Army Directories.
- To index morning reports for the years 1960 to 1966, index cards are located in the cabinets. The cards are arranged by organization and item number. The item number is necessary to locate the morning report microfilm. DO NOT REMOVE THE INDEX CARDS! All finding media data is recorded on the Organizational Records Search Report.

---

Archival Morning Reports

Army morning reports 1912 to 1959 are archival.

Due to the poor quality of the film reproduction, NPRC will no longer offer photocopies of microfilmed Archival Army morning reports through the mail, nor will we offer to sell duplicate reels of morning report microfilm. The requester may:

- Visit our archival research room, or
- Hire an independent researcher

PROCESSING HOMELESS VETERAN REQUESTS

Last Updated: 1/29/2015

MPR is obligated to respond to requests from homeless shelters on behalf of homeless veterans in a timely manner. The following procedures apply:

1. Mail and Data Input Section (MDIS)

- a. The Mail and Data Input Section (MDIS) has a fax machine dedicated to homeless veteran requests.
- b. Various facilities send homeless veteran requests to MPR using the dedicated homeless veteran fax line, 314-801-9201. Their cover sheet should indicate clearly that this is a homeless veteran request.
- c. If a homeless veteran fax comes in on a different fax machine, send it to MDIS (Room 169) using NA Form 13098, NPRC Routing Slip. Show "HOMELESS VETERAN REQUEST" on the routing slip.
- d. Requesters should not email requests on behalf of homeless veterans; instead they should fax them to our dedicated homeless veteran fax line.
- e. MDIS enters a homeless veteran request in the Case Management and Reporting System (CMRS); selects "Homeless Vet" as the "Source of the request", and "Medium" as its priority level.
  - (1) If the requester asks only for the separation document, the level of complexity is "Separation Doc."
  - (2) If the requester asks for more than a separation document, the level of complexity is "Others."

2. Records Retrieval Branch – In the search units and the staging area, Homeless Veteran cases are placed in priority search batches, with purple search request forms.

3. Cores:

- a. Homeless Veteran requests (which have a purple search request form attached to the record) are to be worked before any routine requests. Response time for sending the separation document is within ten workdays.
- b. The technicians sort their pre-processing requests according to priority level. Next, they first order the records for any Homeless Veteran requests.

NOTE: A "Homeless Veteran" request, as the source of a request, may mistakenly not get selected as the correct source in CMRS. If you discover a homeless veteran request with your "routine" requests, work it without further delay. The procedure below explains how to handle this type of request, if you find it in your routine requests.

- c. Provide a complete response to requests in which requesters may ask for more than just the separation document.
- d. Fax the separation document to the fax number provided. The fax cover is in CMRS Response Applet under "Fax HV." Ensure that the photocopy you fax is readable. This is - critical, because you can expect some loss of image clarity by the time the customer receives the fax.

- e. If you cannot fax the separation document due to mechanical problems, use a different fax machine to send it. And report the problem to your coach right away.
  - f. In addition to the faxed copy, if the requester asks, mail raised-seal embossed copies of the separation document. If the requester asks only for mailed copies of the separation document, then send the same here, too. (NOTE: Most times we fax separation documents, but requesters may ask for only a mailed copy. If you mail a separation document, send raised-seal embossed copies.)
  - g. For homeless veteran requests that ask for more than just the separation document, it is usually sufficient to send the other documents by mail. When you fax the separation document, add a note to the fax cover sheet that shows you will comply with the remainder of the request. You can say that the separation document--if it is the only thing mailed--or the remainder of the reply will follow by mail. The technician will make the effort to mail the additional documents quickly: just to get the case completed and/or the requester has asked for a fast turnaround. The ten-day requirement does not apply to these additional documents.
  - h. When you mail anything after transmitting the fax, the support staff will have to wand the bar code on the envelope to log the case out of core. Thus, you do not need to ask the coach to make the status change. Just be sure to send the envelope to the support staff immediately when the separation document is the only thing you are mailing.
  - i. When core technicians send only a fax:
    - (1) They notify their coach that a fax has been sent and change the request status to "Case Completed."
    - (2) In CMRS, the coach first selects "In Dispatch" as the request status to show the request is "Out of Core." Next, the coach selects "Closed" to show that it is "Out of Center." Making these status changes will insert the current date in the "Out of Core" and "Out of Center" fields.

MEDICAL TREATMENT FACILITY (MTF) RECORDS ORDERING AND ROUTING PROCEDURES

Background. This process pertains to requests for medical treatment facility (MTF) records (MTF records include inpatient, outpatient, dependent, and mental health records) of all service branches for military personnel, retirees, and dependents, including both Medical Registry System (MRS) and non-MRS records, located at MPR, CPR, and/or the Annex. All non-MRS records that were formerly located at CPR now are housed at the Annex. Nearly all MRS records from both CPR and MPR have been relocated to the Annex.

General Procedures. Requests for medical records stored at the Annex will be serviced in CMRS by the Annex staff and the requested records will be transported to MPR via a courier. CPR staff no longer will handle MTF records requests except to route them to the MPR Mailroom for data entry into CMRS. The table below will direct you to the procedures for various situations involving MTF records:

IF you are ...	AND request for MTF records is ...	THEN go to ...
CPR Mailroom personnel	received from any source	Table 1.
MPR Mailroom personnel	received on DD Form 877 or VA Form 3101	Table 2. received from the public by letter, form, or web or from an on-site agency on NA Form 13105	Table 3.
Core Technician	on DD Form 877 or VA Form 3101, and assigned to you in CMRS	Table 4.
	a letter, form, or web request from the public or NA Form 13105 from an on-site agency, and assigned to you in CMRS	Table 5.
Annex personnel	on DD Form 877 or VA Form 3101, and assigned to you in CMRS	Table 6.
	an on-line MRS record order from an MTF (not in CMRS)	Table 7. an OR Search in CMRS (created by core technician)	Table 8.
OR Section personnel	on DD Form 877, and reassigned from the Annex because records shipment is still on file at MPR	Table 9. on VA Form 3101, and reassigned from the Annex because records shipment is still on file at MPR	Table 10. a "2nd Search" CMRS search request created by Annex staff because records shipment is still on file at MPR	Table 11.
	an on-line MRS record order from an MTF, and referred from Annex because records shipment is still on file at MPR	Table 12.

MUSTERING OUT PAY (MOP)

---

Veterans who served honorably, or under honorable condition, during the following dates may have been eligible for mustering-out pay:

December 7, 1941 to June 30, 1947

June 27, 1950 to January 31, 1955

Requests for MOP info usually concern veterans who are entitled to the New York State real property tax exemption. If you receive a request for this information, review records for documentation of MOP. MOP may appear on the separation document, within the service record, or in auxiliary/organizational records. Some specific areas are:

NAVSANDA Form 550, Mustering Out Payment

NAVSANDA FB/680 K, Authorization for Mustering Out Payment

Service Record Book (NAVPERS 601[9])

Miscellaneous correspondence

If documentation is not found, you may calculate the payment. First review 1865.101B, Appendix B, pages 1 and 2, for circumstances under which MOP was NOT awarded. (Paragraph 6 of the memo shows how to compute MOP, if necessary.)

INSTRUCTIONS TO CERTIFYING OFFICER

Persons who are serving or have served honorably under specified conditions in the armed forces of the United States, inclusive of the reserve components of the armed forces of the United States, are granted certain exemptions from the general requirements for naturalization. The law requires such service to be established by a duly authenticated copy of the records of the executive department having custody of the record of service, showing whether the serviceman served honorably in an active-duty status, a reserve-duty status, or both, and whether each separation from the service was under honorable conditions. For that purpose, the certified statement on the reverse of this form, executed under the seal of your department, is required and should cover not only the periods of service shown above, but any other periods of service (active, reserve, or both) rendered by the serviceman.

The reverse of this form should be completed, or the information called for furnished by separate letter, and the form and letter returned to the office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at the address in the box immediately below.

The answer to your inquiry is furnished below. This abbreviated form of reply has been adopted as a means of supplying information speedily. The Department of Defense Privacy Program, 32 CFR 286a.41(d) prohibits the release of the home address of current or former service personnel. However, when contacting the veteran(s) is in the best interest of the parties concerned, we will forward your correspondence to the last address of record. For your information, the addresses in most military records are usually those furnished by the veteran at the time of discharge; therefore, any address on file may be obsolete. If you do want us to forward your correspondence, please enclose each letter in an unsealed, stamped envelope. Write only the veteran's name on each envelope, and we will complete the veteran's address. Do not include a return address on the envelope. Since we have no way of knowing if the available address is current or if the communication will be delivered, items of value should not be submitted for forwarding. If we are unable to locate a record or home address, your correspondence will be returned. To identify the proper record(s), PLEASE RETURN THIS FORM with as much identifying data available about the veteran(s). Include full name, service number/social security number, branch of service, unit to which assigned, and approximate dates of service. Please also provide place of active duty if possible.

The answer to your inquiry is furnished below. This abbreviated form of reply has been adopted as a means of supplying information speedily.
We regret that we are unable to provide a forwarding service on requests of this nature. Many hours are required to search for the records, extract the latest address in each, and then address and mail the envelopes. It is important to note that the addresses in military records are usually those furnished by the veteran at the time of discharge and do not usually remain valid for more than a few months. As a result, a significant amount of mail forwarded by using the last available address would be returned as undeliverable. We are, therefore, returning your request without action. We understand that some individuals have had success in locating former members of the military by placing advertisements in publications of various veterans' organizations such as the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Former GSA Form 7149

NATIONAL PERSONNEL RECORDS CENTER
NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

ST LOUIS, MISSOURI

ADMISSIBILITY IN EVIDENCE OF COPIES OF RECORDS AUTHENTICATED BY THE NATIONAL PERSONNEL RECORDS CENTER

1. GENERAL. The Archivist of the United States (hereinafter called the "Archivist"), appointed by the President of the United States with the advice and consent of the Senate, is the head of the National Archives and Records Administration. (Rel: 44 U.S.C. 2103(a))
2. AUTHORITY FOR THE NATIONAL PERSONNEL RECORDS CENTER TO MAINTAIN AND SERVICE RECORDS.
  - a. The Archivist, maintains and operates the National Personnel Records Center (hereinafter referred to as "NPRC" or "this center") for the storage and servicing of certain records. (Rel: 44 U.S.C. 2907)
  - b. The records on file at NPRC were transferred, for reasons of substantial economy, to this center for storage and servicing. (Rel: 44 U.S.C. 3103)
3. AUTHORITY FOR NPRC TO HONOR LEGAL DEMANDS. This center is authorized to honor legal demands for protection of records on file here if no restrictions have been imposed upon their use by the transferring agency. If restrictions have been imposed by the transferring agency, the authority issuing the legal demand is to be so notified and asked to take the matter up with that agency. (Rel: 36 CFR 1254.8)
4. AUTHORITY FOR NPRC OFFICIALS TO AUTHENTICATE COPIES OF RECORDS. 36 CFR 1214.76 authorizes the responsible director, or any of his superiors, to authenticate and attest copies of records on deposit in Federal records centers. The word "director," as it applies to NPRC, is defined in 36 CFR 1252.2 to mean, in part, the "head of a Reference Service Branch in a Federal Records Center." The Reference Branches, NPRC, are Reference Service Branches. The NPRC is a Federal Records Center (Rel: 36 CFR 1228.150). Consequently, the Chiefs of the Reference Branches, NPRC, are the "heads of Reference Service Branches in a Federal Records Center" and therefore are "directors." The Assistant Directors, NPRC, and the Director, NPRC, are the superiors of the Chiefs of the Reference Branches, NPRC, and therefore are "superiors of directors."
5. ADMISSIBILITY OF RECORDS AUTHENTICATED BY NPRC OFFICIALS. Government records are not admissible in legal proceedings until authenticated by the offering party. Records which meet the requirements of Rule 902 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, 28 U.S.C. Appendix, are self-authenticating. Satisfaction of the Rule 902 requirements is sufficient also to satisfy other Federal evidentiary requirements for proof of official records. (Rel: Fed R. Cr. P. 452, (c) (1982); Fed R. Crim. P. 27 (1982))

In order to comply with Rule 902, authorized NPRC officials should certify, under seal of the National Archives and Records Administration, all subpoenaed records. The seal certifies that the attesting official is authorized to authenticate records; the signature of the official attests to the authenticity of the records in his legal custody.

NA FORM 13038, CERTIFICATION OF MILITARY SERVICE

The NA Form 13038 is primarily used to replace a lost or destroyed Report of Separation. MPR uses this form most often when reconstructing military service data lost in the fire.

NA Form 13038 may be prepared to replace a lost or destroyed Report of Separation that covered only one period of service, or more than one period of service may be included on a single form. If separate NA Forms 13038 are prepared, each should reflect the same service information the original separation document contained. If all periods are combined onto a single form, the form must show the from-to dates of the last period, and the from-to date of each period of prior service must be shown in the Remarks section.

However, an NA Form 13038 must not be prepared in the following situations:

1. to verify service for which a separation document would not have been issued. DO NOT prepare an NA Form 13038 if service member was a reservist who performed no active duty or active duty for training of 90 days or fewer. Send the requester the appropriate pages from the service record (enlistment contract, discharge order or page). If verification of active duty training dates is needed, prepare a Complex Statement of Service.

2. to document an individual period for which a separate DD Form 214 was never issued because the veteran performed consecutive periods of service and each of these periods was included within one final DD Form 214. This applies to the Air Force separation documents issued since 1979, whenever the member re-enlisted immediately after being discharged. See paragraphs 3 and 4 of the CRG entry on Separation Documents.

The NA Form 13038 will verify the service member's name, component, service number or social security number, date of entry on active duty, date of separation from active duty, and rank at separation. Primary source documents for extracting this data are enlistment contracts, active duty orders, commission/appointment papers, and discharge orders or pages. Promotions and reductions can be found on SRB pages, AF Forms 7 or 11, and DA Forms 20 or 2-1.

IMPORTANT! You must verify the data directly from the record. If a previously prepared NA Form 13038 is in file, DO NOT assume the data shown to be correct. If you discover the previously prepared NA Form 13038 to be in error, write void across the top and draw a large "X" or diagonal line through form.

PREPARING NA FORM 13038: DO NOT Abbreviate. Exception: Navy, but only if necessary.

- Branch

Different branches of service cannot be verified on a single NA Form 13038. A separate NA Form 13038 MUST be prepared for each branch of service. You may not combine Navy and Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Navy, Army and Air Force, etc.

Note: When appropriate, reenlistment data should be shown in the remarks area.

- Dates

Consecutive periods of Honorable service, in the same branch of service, may be combined on a single NA Form 13038. In other words, you may string all consecutive periods of service together by providing the first/original enlistment date and the last/final discharge date.

Nonconsecutive periods of service may be shown on one NA Form 13038. In this instance, you would show data for the last period at top and all prior service in the remarks area.

- Character of Service

The ACTUAL CHARACTER of service should be shown as indicated in the record:

- Honorable Discharge
- Under Honorable Conditions Discharge
- Undesirable Discharge
- Bad Conduct Discharge
- Dishonorable Discharge
- General Discharge Under Honorable Conditions

NOTE: If some other terminology appears in the record, consult source: NPRC 1865.51, Figures 3-5.4 and 3-5.5

Different characters of service (e.g., Honorable, Undesirable, Other Than Honorable) may be verified on a single NA Form 13038. However, the last period is shown on top and all prior service is shown in the remarks area. Under NO circumstances may a period of less than Honorable service be combined with an Honorable period of service.

Types of Separation

- Discharge
  - Death
  - Relief from Active Duty
  - Release from Active Duty
  - Transfer to Fleet Reserve
  - Furloughed to _____ Reserve
  - Mustered Out
  - Terminated by Operation of Law
  - Retirement
  - Dismissed

- Ranks

MAY NOT BE ABBREVIATED. Exception: Navy, but only if necessary.

- REMARKS

The space available under "Active Duty Dates" MUST BE USED TO SHOW DATE AND PLACE OF BIRTH, IF AVAILABLE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR RECORDS BEING USED TO CREATE THE NA FORM 13038. The date and place of birth should be used, along with the other identifying information in the request and in the records being used, to verify that the certification is being prepared for the correct veteran. If the date and/or place of birth is not available to you, show "DATE AND PLACE OF BIRTH: NOT AVAILABLE."

The space available under "Active Duty Dates" may also be used for specifically requested additional information, or to clarify the certification itself. Information such as Active Duty dates, foreign service, or prior military service dates may be listed here.

- #1  We are unable to answer your request as written, because it lacks sufficient information and/or an appropriate signature. Please complete the attached Standard Form 180 to the best of your ability and return it to this Center. Be sure also to return this form, the original request, and any other attached papers. Please pay particular attention to any part of the Standard Form 180 that might be checked or circled.
- #2  We have also enclosed NA Form 13075 and/or NA Form 13055. After you complete the SF 180, you may also need to fill out one or both of these. The NA Forms 13075 and 13055 are needed ONLY if you want information or papers concerning a person who was discharged from the Army before 1960; or was discharged from the Air Force before 1964 and has a last name that comes alphabetically between Hubbard, James E. and Z. The records of such veterans may have been lost in the fire here in 1973. If so, the additional information will be needed to locate alternate sources of information which may enable this Center to reconstruct service/medical record data lost in the fire.
  - a. Fill out NA Form 13075 if you are asking for papers or information from a military service record, such as verification of dates and character of service.
  - b. Fill out NA Form 13055 if you need information concerning medical treatment while in service.

These documents will help us to verify entitlement to the medals/awards, and if you can provide such documentation for all of the requested medals/awards, you will not need to complete the NA Form 13075. Even if you can provide such documentation, you will still need to fill out the NA Form 13075 if you need other assistance besides medals/awards.
- Please fill out the enclosed NA Form 13055 or NA Form 13042 and return it to us along with this form, your original request, and any other attached papers.

<input type="checkbox"/> UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974, WE MUST HAVE THE WRITTEN CONSENT (SIGNATURE) OF THE INDIVIDUAL WHOSE RECORDS ARE INVOLVED BEFORE CONSIDERING YOUR REQUEST. IF THE INDIVIDUAL IS A MINOR DEPENDENT OF A VETERAN, THE PARENT OR LEGAL GUARDIAN MUST SIGN THE RELEASE. IF THE PERSON IS MENTALLY INCOMPETENT, THE LEGAL GUARDIAN MUST SIGN THE RELEASE. (THE LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE OR GUARDIAN SHOULD FURNISH A COPY OF THE COURT APPOINTMENT.) ALTHOUGH THE PRIVACY ACT DOES NOT APPLY TO THE RECORDS OF DECEASED INDIVIDUALS, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE INSTRUCTIONS INDICATE THAT WE MUST HAVE THE WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE NEXT OF KIN IF THE INDIVIDUAL IS DECEASED. FOR THE PURPOSES OF THE RELEASE AUTHORIZATION, THE NEXT OF KIN IS DEFINED AS ANY OF THE FOLLOWING: UNREMARKED WIDOW OR WIDOWER, SON, DAUGHTER, FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHER, OR SISTER. IF YOU ARE ABLE TO OBTAIN THE WRITTEN CONSENT, PLEASE RETURN YOUR REQUEST TO US. THE AUTHORIZATION REMAINS IN EFFECT FOR ONE YEAR FROM THE TIME THE PERSON SIGNS AND DATES IT.
<input type="checkbox"/> THE SIGNATURE ON YOUR REQUEST WAS WRITTEN MORE THAN A YEAR AGO. TO PROTECT THE PRIVACY OF THE PERSON WHOSE RECORDS ARE BEING REQUESTED, WE REQUIRE THE SIGNATURE THAT AUTHORIZES RELEASE OF THE RECORDS/INFORMATION TO BE LESS THAN A YEAR OLD AT THE TIME THE RESPONSE IS SENT. Note 1. The requested copies are enclosed. We regret that some of the copies may be of poor quality; however, they are the best copies obtainable.

Note 2. A record for the patient named above was not on file. If you are able to obtain additional information from the treatment facility regarding the retirement of the record, please resubmit your request and we will make a further search. The following information is needed from the treatment facility: accession number, box number, and location number.

Note 3. These records have not yet been retired to this Center. We suggest you contact the treatment facility at the address shown below to obtain the requested record.

National Guard Military Records (Army and Air)

The National Personnel Records Center does maintain some Army and Air National Guard personnel records (see <http://www.archives.gov/st-louis/federal-records/index.html>). When a veteran of the National Guard requests copies from their personnel record a check of the NPRC registry system must be made to determine whether the record is stored at this Center. If a record is found, request the record and determine whether we can answer the veteran's request. If we are able to answer the veteran's request do so and close out the case. If no record is found, utilize the existing pattern paragraph to explain to the veteran that we do not possess the record and that they should check with the Adjutant General's office of the state in which military service was rendered. If we have the record but the record does not contain the material the veteran is requesting then explain that to the veteran and suggest they contact the Adjutant General's office of the state in which military service was rendered.

National Guard Military Records (Army and Air)

Last Update: 9/8/2014

Background. The National Guard is a militia force organized by each of the several states and territories of the United States. Established under Title 10 and Title 32 of the U.S. Code, state National Guard serves as part of the first line defense for the United States. Each state National Guard operates under their respective state governor or territorial government. The National Guard may be called upon for active duty by the state governors or territorial commanding generals to help respond to domestic emergencies and disasters such as hurricanes, floods, and earthquakes.

Members of the states' National Guard are also members of the National Guard of the United States, a joint reserve component of the United States Army and the United States Air Force. They may be called up for federal active duty in time of Congressionally-sanctioned war or national emergency. State National Guard may also be called up for federal service to repel invasion or suppress rebellion. The National Guard can enforce federal laws if the United States or any of its states or territories are invaded or are in danger of invasion by a foreign nation or if there is rebellion or danger of a rebellion against the authority of the federal government. Because both state National Guard and the National Guard of the United States relatively go hand-in-hand, they are both usually referred to as just National Guard.

Many Army and Air National Guard personnel records are held at the states because the members did not perform any federal service. However, the National Personnel Records Center does maintain some Army and Air National Guard personnel records (see www.archives.gov/st-louis/military-personnel/frequently-requested-records.html). NPRC provides records to veterans for records at NPRC, but for records not held, refers veterans to the states where the veteran served.

For each state there is a single Adjutant General's Office for both Army and Air National Guard matters. The web address to find National Guard Adjutant General's Office by State is: [\[00388\]: Army National Guard](#)

The procedure for responding to requests for National Guard military records is shown below.

Procedure - Responding to Requests for National Guard Military Records. For National Guard records do a registry search, and/or DPRIS search, when appropriate, order available records, and follow the table below.

NAVY, MARINE CORPS and COAST GUARD MEDALS

Updated 5/5/2017

Background. The Department of the Navy has transferred the medals issuance function to NPRC for most Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard veterans. Headquarters, Marine Corps, continues to assume responsibility for Congressional medals requests for Marine Corps members. Coast Guard will now issue medals for Coast Guard veterans in both routine and Congressional requests.

NOTE: The Navy Medals Team on Core 3 will work all Navy medals and Coast Guard cases (to include: paper, mixed and digital records). Technicians will continue to electronically refer requests for Navy and Marine Corps medals if the veteran's record has not been retired to NPRC, generally those separated in 1995 and later for Navy, and in 1999 and later for Marine Corps. The Navy Medals Team on Core 3 will work cases with paper records at NPRC, or mixed records (both paper and digital), as specified in the table below.

(NAVY RATINGS 1970-Present)

This part provides an alphabetical listing of rating abbreviations with long titles for the ratings and pertinent remarks concerning the abbreviations.

During the years, several abbreviations have been used more than one time. If you see the abbreviations used more than once then check the Remarks section to see during what period the abbreviations were in use. For example:

Abbreviation	Long Title	Remarks
AM	Aviation Structural Mechanic	(after 1948)
AM	Aviation Metalsmith	(before 1948)

In the instance above, the AM abbreviation in use after 1948 was Aviation Structural Mechanic. If the AM that you were interested in was in use before 1948, the long title would then be Aviation Metalsmith.

Several other forms of abbreviations were added to the rating abbreviations. If perchance the abbreviation was followed by a "T" then this was the period when advancements were temporary and were so designated, so again using the above illustration, if the rating you are interested in is AM1 "T" or AM1T in the year 1950, the long title would be Aviation Structural Mechanic First Class "Temporary." Additionally, another letter used was "A" for acting, and this "A" could also possibly follow the rating abbreviation and precede the "T". Again using the above illustration, if you are interested in the abbreviation of AMC (A) "T" or AMCAT during the year 1950, the long title would be Chief Aviation Structural Mechanic (Acting) "Temporary".

(NAVY RATINGS 1775-1969)

This listing of enlisted ratings and apprenticeships in the U.S. Navy from 1775 to 1969 has been compiled primarily for use by members of the Permanent Board for Control of the Enlisted Rating Structure which has the responsibility for conducting a continuing study of the enlisted rating structure, and for reviewing and making appropriate recommendations concerning proposals for changes to the structure.

Since the concept of rates, ratings, and other occupational entities to describe naval careers has undergone considerable change during the evolution of the rating structure, the ratings included in this listing are not necessarily comparable. The present philosophy and concept of the enlisted rating structure and its sub-systems, i.e., service ratings, emergency ratings, etc., are described in the Manual of Qualifications for Advancement, NAVPERS 18068B.

While the ratings and historical notes as listed are based on factual data extracted from official publications and other readily available sources, it is recognized that there may be some omissions and discrepancies.

National Guard Military Records (Army and Air)

Background. The National Guard is a militia force organized by each of the several states and territories of the United States. Established under Title 10 and Title 32 of the U.S. Code, state National Guard serves as part of the first line defense for the United States. Each state National Guard operates under their respective state governor or territorial government. The National Guard may be called upon for active duty by the state governors or territorial commanding generals to help respond to domestic emergencies and disasters such as hurricanes, floods, and earthquakes.

Members of the states' National Guard are also members of the National Guard of the United States, a joint reserve component of the United States Army and the United States Air Force. They may be called up for federal active duty in time of Congressionally-sanctioned war or national emergency. State National Guard may also be called up for federal service to repel invasion or suppress rebellion. The National Guard can enforce federal laws if the United States or any of its states or territories are invaded or are in danger of invasion by a foreign nation or if there is rebellion or danger of a rebellion against the authority of the federal government. Because both state National Guard and the National Guard of the United States relatively go hand-in-hand, they are both usually referred to as just National Guard.

Many Army and Air National Guard personnel records are held at the states because the members did not perform any federal service. However, the National Personnel Records Center does maintain some Army and Air National Guard personnel records (see www.archives.gov/facilities/st-louis/military-personnel/frequently-requested-records.html). NPRC provides records to veterans for records at NPRC, but for records not held, refers veterans to the states where the veteran served.

For each state there is a single Adjutant General's Office for both Army and Air National Guard matters. The web address to find National Guard Adjutant General's Office by State is: [SA00388]: <http://www.ng.mil/resources/states.aspx>

The procedure for responding to requests for National Guard military records is shown below.

Procedure – Responding to Requests for National Guard Military Records.

For National Guard records query systems for and order available records.
Prepare response following the table below.

IF record is...	AND documents on file...	THEN... partially satisfy the request	respond with the requested documents and refer the requester to the state using the pattern paragraph. From the MSWord CMRS tab, select Get Paragraph &gt; National Guard Records &gt; National Guard Service only, Record at NPRC, Partial Documents.

Non-OMPF ARCHIVAL RECORDS

Last Updated: June 21, 2016

The National Archives at St. Louis (RL) has legal custody of the archival Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs) and the non-OMPF archival series listed below. The following rules apply to situations in which a request may involve those non-OMPF archival series.

- A. If a request for a fire-related archival OMPF (or separation document) involves benefits and is from a veteran, the veteran's authorized legal representative, or the next-of-kin of a deceased veteran, you may request copies of these documents (for reconstruction purposes) and use the data to prepare NA Form 13038. Do not provide copies of the archival documents to the requester.
- B. If a request specifically asks for copies of records from any of the series listed below, do not respond to the requester. Ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov (with "Reassign" and the SR number in the subject line) to have the request reassigned to RL-SL (Archival Operations). Do not change the status to "Case Completed". NOTE: If archival QM records(s) were ordered, have the coach or ET mention that in the email. If copies of the QM records are delivered to the core, ask the coach or ET to contact Archival Operations to arrange for the copies to be sent there.
- C. If a request seeks copies of both an OMPF and a non-OMPF archival record, ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov(with "Dual Request" and the SR number in the subject line). Archival Operations will create a new SR for the non-OMPF archival record. When you send an invoice or other response to the requester, please include the pattern paragraph "DualRequests_PartArchivalReference". When work on the OMPF-related response is done, change the status to "Case Completed".

If these instructions do not cover a specific request or situation, ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov with "Non-OMPF Archival Question" and the SR number in the subject line.

Series added since the previous version are marked with an arrow in the "NEW" column.

Non-OMPF ARCHIVAL RECORDS

21 August 2014

The National Archives at St. Louis (RL) has legal custody of the archival Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs) and the non-OMPF archival series listed below. The following rules apply to situations in which a request may involve those non-OMPF archival series.

A. If a request for a fire-related archival OMPF (or separation document) involves benefits and is from a veteran, the veteran's authorized legal representative, or the next-of-kin of a deceased veteran, you may request copies of these documents (for reconstruction purposes) and use the data to prepare NA Form 13038. Do not provide copies of the archival documents to the requester.

B. If a request specifically asks for copies of records from any of the series listed below, do not respond to the requester. Ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov (with "Reassign" and the SR number in the subject line) to have the request reassigned to RL-SL (Archival Operations). Do not change the status to "Case Completed". NOTE: If archival QM records(s) were ordered, have the coach or ET mention that in the email message. If copies of the QM records are delivered to the core, ask the coach or ET to contact Archival Operations to arrange for the copies to be sent there.

C. If a request seeks copies of both an OMPF and a non-OMPF archival record, ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov (with "Dual Request" and the SR number in the subject line). Archival Operations will create a new SR for the non-OMPF archival record. When you send an invoice or other response to the requester, please include the pattern paragraph "DualRequests_PartArchivalReference". When work on the OMPF-related response is done, change the status to "Case Completed".

If these instructions do not cover a specific request or situation, ask your coach or ET to send an email message to stl.archives@nara.gov with "Non-OMPF Archival Question" and the SR number in the subject line.

Series added since the previous version are marked with an arrow in the "NEW" column.

SUBJECT: Release of information from archival Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs)

1. Purpose. This memorandum issues guidance for releasing information from archival OMPFs.
2. Applicability. The provisions of this memorandum apply to all NPRC personnel who screen archival OMPFs in response to requests for information received from the veteran, the veteran's authorized representative, Primary Next of Kin, federal agencies, and the general public.
3. References. This memorandum supplements procedures outlined in NARA Directive 1601, Screening Federal Records for Information Covered by FOIA Exemptions and the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552).
4. Background. Under a joint decision by NARA, the Department of Defense, the military service departments and the United States Coast Guard, legal custody of OMPFs is transferred to the National Archives 62 years after the date of the member's discharge, death in service or retirement. With the transfer of the OMPFs to the National Archives, the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) no longer applies. However, in order to protect the privacy of the veteran, his/her family, and third parties named in the records, the personal privacy exemption of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552 \(b\) \(6\)) may still apply and preclude the release of some information. The guidance provided in the attachment outlines what information should and should not be released.
5. Forms. This memorandum provides for the use of the following forms:

SUBJECT: Release of information from archival Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs)

1. Purpose. This memorandum issues guidance for releasing information from archival OMPFs.
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1600.1 is cancelled.

3. Reason for revision. This memorandum is being revised to:

- a. Amend screening requirements for archival Official Military Personnel Files to exclude autopsy or death scene photographs.
- b. Modify guidance for redacting references to alcohol/drug abuse.

4. Applicability. The provisions of this memorandum apply to all NPRC personnel who screen archival OMPFs in response to requests for information received from the veteran, the veteran's authorized representative, Primary Next of Kin, federal agencies, and the general public.

1. General Guidelines for Screening Archival OMPFs for Release to the General Public

a. Release Authorizations. NPRC does not require a release authorization from the veteran to provide archival OMPFs. However, if the veteran provides an unsolicited authorization to release records to a third party, then the screening guidelines for the veteran outlined in paragraph two of this attachment should be followed.

b. Screening Requirements.

(1) Member's date of birth is 100 years ago or greater.

(a) Redact all Social Security Numbers (SSNs) from the photocopied archival records. This includes the SSN of the service member as well as those of third parties.

(b) Remove any autopsy or death scene photographs.

(2) Member's date of birth is less than 100 years ago.

(a) Veteran is deceased. If you find acceptable evidence that the veteran is deceased, the following information must be redacted or withheld from the photocopies sent to the requester:

(i) All SSNs as described above in par. 1b \(1\).

(ii) Very sensitive personal information similar to what is described below in 1b \(2\) \(b\) \(ii\) if it pertains to someone other than the subject of the record.

(iii) Any autopsy or death scene photographs.

(b) No evidence the veteran is deceased. If there is no documentation indicating the veteran is deceased, presume the member is alive. The following information and documents must be redacted or withheld from the photocopies sent to the requester:

(i) All SSNs as outlined above in par. 1b \(1\).

(ii) Any reference to rape, family abuse (child or spouse), bestiality, incest, homosexuality, psychiatric/mental health conditions, alcohol/drug abuse and sexually transmitted diseases (Chlamydia, Crabs, Gonorrhea, Hepatitis, Herpes, Genital Warts, Scabies, HIV/AIDS and Syphilis).

(iii) A medical diagnosis and/or treatment for alcohol/drug abuse. References to drug or alcohol use without a corresponding medical diagnosis do not need to be redacted.

(iv) Any correspondence from/to the veteran regarding his/her OMPF. For example, if the veteran requests a copy of his/her DD-214 using a SF-180, that document and NPRC's reply should be withheld from the photocopied archival record. However, if the veteran authorized a third party to access his/her records, that correspondence should be included along with the other documents sent to the requester.

(v) Dependent birth certificates if the date of birth is less than 75 years ago.

(vi) Very sensitive personal information similar to what is described above in 1b \(2\) \(b\) \(ii and iii\) if it pertains to someone other than the subject of the record.

c. Medical records. Except as indicated in par. 1b \(2\) \(b\) \(ii and iii\) above, release all medical documents found inside the OMPF pertaining to the subject of the record, including loose documents or those affixed within a health or dental folder.

Note: Medical records filed separately from the OMPF (such as those filed in the non-registry Navy Medical Block, registry records with NM service codes, or clinical records from military treatment facilities) are not accessioned records and remain subject to the Privacy Act and Freedom of Information Act restrictions. See NPRC 1865.16 for guidance.

- d. Reference requests, forms/questionnaires, replies, work notes, routing slips, finding aid reports, search reports, CMRS reports, etc. With the exception of the correspondence from/to the veteran as discussed above in par. 1b \(2\) \(b\) \(iv\), all correspondence and other documents generated by NPRC that were filed in the OMPFs when they were transferred to the National Archives are now a part of the record and are considered archival. These documents should be screened and released in the same manner as other documents in the record.
- e. Notifying requester of withheld information. If information is redacted or withheld from the copies sent, you must specifically state that in the response letter, indicating the record contains social security numbers or certain sensitive personal information. The specific cite for this action is the personal privacy exemption of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552 \(b\) \(6\)). You must also include the requester's appeal rights. The standard text for this response is located under Get Paragraph >> Archival >> Copies Enclosed-Info Deleted or Withheld.

2. General Guidelines for Screening Archival OMPFS for Release to the Veteran, the Veteran's Authorized Representative, the Primary Next of Kin or the Primary Next of Kin's Authorized Representative

a. Definitions.

(1) The Primary Next of Kin is defined as the deceased veteran's surviving spouse (even if remarried) or child. The Primary Next of Kin may designate a third party to receive the record of a deceased veteran.

(2) The veteran's authorized representative is defined as either:

(a) An individual designated in writing by the veteran to receive the OMPF.

(b) The court appointed legal guardian of a veteran who has been declared incompetent.

b. Screening Requirements. The following information and documents must be redacted or withheld from the photocopies sent to the requester:

(1) All SSNs except for the subject of the record.

(2) Very sensitive personal information similar to what is described above in 1b \(2\) \(b\) \(ii and iii\) if it pertains to someone other than the subject of the record.

(3) If information is redacted or withheld from the copies sent, you must specifically state that in the response letter, indicating the record contains social security numbers or certain sensitive personal information. The specific cite for this action is the personal privacy exemption of Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552 \(b\) \(6\)). You must also include the requester's appeal rights. The standard text for this response is located under Get Paragraph >> Archival >> Copies Enclosed-Info Deleted or Withheld.

3. General Guidelines for Screening Archival OMPFS for Release to Federal Agencies.

Federal agencies will have full access to archival OMPFs to facilitate their review for official government business. Agents for federal agencies may review the record on site in the research room or NPRC will send them a complete copy. Under no circumstance will the archival OMPF leave NPRC.

St. Louis, Missouri

NPRC 1600.2A
April 30, 2010

SUBJECT: Loans of accessioned Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs) from the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC) to the originating Military Service Departments

1. Purpose. This memorandum establishes internal procedures for loaning accessioned (archival) OMPFs to the originating Military Service Departments.
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1600.2 is cancelled.
3. Revision for revision. This memorandum is being revised to reflect new guidance published in NARA 1611, Loans of Archival Holdings to Federal Originators. NARA 1611 replaces the previous guidance which was located in Parts 2 and 3 of NARA 1701, Loans of Holdings in NARA's Physical and Legal Custody. A major change is that the custodial unit that maintains the OMPF will negotiate a written loan agreement with the borrower.
4. Background. On July 8, 2004, the Department of Defense and the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) implemented a records schedule (Standard Form 115) for the Official Military Personnel Files (OMPFs) that references the ability of the Military Service Departments to request loans of archival OMPFs for official purposes.
5. Applicability. The provisions of this memorandum apply to staff in the Archival Operations and Facility Planning Branch and the Preservation Branch of the Archival Programs Division.
6. Instructions. The instructions concerning requests for loans of archival OMPFs to the originating Military Service Departments are contained in the Attachment.
7. Forms. This memo provides for the use of the following form and agreement:

NA Form 14014, National Archives and Records Administration Loan Receipt Terms and Conditions for Interagency Loans

R. L. HINDMAN

1. Introduction. This memorandum provides a summary of procedures for handling loan requests for OMPFs. For detailed procedures on loans back to originators, see NARA 1611, Loans of Archival Holdings to Federal Originators. For detailed procedures on transporting loans, see NARA 1702, Transporting Holdings in NARA's Physical and Legal Custody.
2. Routine access to accessioned records. In accordance with NARA 1611 and in an effort to provide the quickest response to such a request, NPRC will routinely make the record available in its public Research Room or furnish a complete copy of the requested record. There is no charge for photocopies of OMPFs. Military Service Departments submit requests for review or copies via eMilrecs. In unusual cases where the Service Department stipulates that it is unable to accomplish its action without access to the original record at a location other than the NPRC public Research Room, NPRC personnel follow the procedures in par. 3 below.

3. Non-routine access to accessioned records. The Military Service Department may temporarily withdraw a record already transferred to the National Archives in special cases where the Department can guarantee the record's preservation and safe return within 30 days or less. Extensions of the loan period beyond 30 days must be requested in writing; extensions beyond 90 days must be approved by office heads. Any such withdrawal will be accomplished in accordance with NARA 1611. Such withdrawal will be considered a rare process only for the most compelling reasons and may only be requested in writing by the following Service Department officials: the Chairman of the Board for Correction of Military Records; the Commanding Officer of the military service Personnel Command; the OMPF Program Manager; or the Departmental Records Officer. These individuals are hereinafter referred to as "authorized officials." Requests from authorized officials will be submitted via email to stlarr.archives@nara.gov. Whenever possible, the custodial unit (NRPAO) should offer copies instead of the original documents. Protection and proper handling of the record is required. The following conditions apply:

a. Handling notice. Each record loaned to an authorized official will be covered by a "Requirements for handling a NARA record" notice detailing required handling for that record.

b. Loan documentation.

(1) The custodial unit that maintains the OMPF (NRPAO) will negotiate a written loan agreement with the borrower. Refer to NARA 1611, Appendix A for the "Terms and Conditions for Interagency Loans \(page 11\)".

(2) The custodial unit (NRPAO) must also document each loan of record on the NA Form 14014, National Archives and Records Administration Loan Receipt. The Chief of NPRC's Archival Operations and Facility Planning Branch (NRPAO) signs NA Form 14014 for an outgoing loan of an OMPF.

c. Determination of requester's need. In accordance with NARA 1611.9 and 1611.13, the custodial unit (NRPAO) must determine that the requester's need for the original record is based on the following criteria:

(1) The requester cannot fulfill his or her purpose in any other way.

(2) A copy or certified copy of the record cannot be used.

(3) The requester cannot meet required needs by using the records in a NARA facility.

(4) The loan is authorized by the appropriate statute.

(5) The volume of holdings requested is so large that it is impractical to make copies.

(6) The request is not for the purpose of answering routine reference inquiries by the public or other Federal agencies.

d. Determination of physical condition. In accordance with NARA 1611.10, any record loaned must be determined by the custodial unit (NRPAO), in consultation with the NPRC Preservation Officer, to be in a suitable physical condition. An original record in fragile condition or which is otherwise deteriorated may not be loaned. In such cases, the custodial unit (NRPAO) will provide a copy of the record.

- e. Specially protected or high-value records. In accordance with NARA 1611.10, an original specially protected or high-value record may not be loaned unless an exception is made in writing by the Archivist of the United States. In all other cases, NPRC will provide a copy of the record.
- f. Suspension of loan process. In accordance with NARA 1611.10, NPRC may suspend further loans of original records to the Service Department in the following circumstances:
- (1) The authorized official fails to return a record within the time period specified on NA Form 14014.
  - (2) The authorized official returns a loaned record damaged or in worse condition than it was when withdrawn.
  - (3) The authorized official returns a loaned record inappropriately altered or modified, with documents missing, or numbered pages out of sequence.
- g. Documentation of record condition. In order to document the condition of an original record that is to be loaned and establish that it is received back in the same condition with all documents intact, the custodial unit (NRPAO) will ensure that the following actions are taken:
- (1) Prior to the loan of the record, the NPRC Preservation Branch (NRPAP) will complete a condition report for the entire file, including examination and photo documentation of the record.
  - (2) The documents that make up the OMPF will be numbered consecutively, page by page.
  - (3) A photocopy of the paginated record will be produced.
  - (4) Upon its return, the record will be examined by Specialists in NRPAP to verify that it has been received back in the same condition as prior to withdrawal with all documents in consecutive numerical order.
- If mission priorities in NRPAP preclude accomplishment of any of the items in paragraphs (1) thru (4) above, the custodial unit (NRPAO) will arrange for a contractor to do the work according to NARA preservation standards and protocols, the contract cost to be borne by the Service Department requesting loan of the record.
- h. Handling responsibilities of record recipient. The Service Department must return a borrowed record in its original format. If the Service Department copies or scans any documents in the record, the Department must follow NARA preservation standards and protocols. These standards prohibit use of automatic document feeders. Flatbed copiers and scanners must be employed in all cases. Original documents may not be destroyed, modified, or permanently withdrawn from the record. Documents may be added only as mandated by the appropriate Military Service Secretary acting through the Board for Correction of Military Records. If modification of any documents is mandated by the Board, such modification must be accomplished by adding modified documents to the file, segregating the original documents, and returning them, with the record, in a separate folder marked "Access Withheld under FOIA Exemption 6b." If withdrawal of any documents is mandated by the Board, the withdrawal shall be accomplished by segregating the documents, placing the documents in a separate folder marked "Access Withheld under FOIA Exemption 6b," and returning them, in the folder so marked, with the record.

- i. Documentation of chain of custody. Records loaned to the Service Department must be transmitted to the NPRC authorizing official (Chief, NRPAO) who signs the NA Form 14014 for outgoing loans and the Terms and Conditions for Interagency Loans. The Borrower must also sign the NA Form 14014 and Loan Agreement.
- j. Transportation of loans. After the documentation in par. i is completed, NPRC transmits the OMPF by the appropriate method prescribed in NARA 1702.10. The Borrower returns the loaned OMPF to NPRC via registered mail. The cost of transmittal will be charged to the Service Department. Any further transmittals within the Service Department must be documented by a receipted attachment to the NA Form 14014 accompanying the record, and a comprehensive record of the chain of custody must be maintained by the authorized official. Failure to accomplish this requirement will result in suspension of further loans to the Service Department.

Attachment

1. General Information. Requests for replacement of awards are received from former members of the Armed Forces. Requests are also received from the next of kin of former members. Awards and medals are issued when the originals have been lost, destroyed, or rendered unfit for use through no fault of the person to whom they were given. Normally, only one medal or award is issued for any given action or circumstance. Awards may, however, be issued to the next of kin, even if they were previously issued prior to the veteran's (or retiree's) death. Duplicate posthumous awards may be furnished to the parents of deceased veterans (or retirees) when awards were given to the widow or widower. Requests concerning entitlement only to medals and awards are also received.
  - a. Requests for Army Air Corps and Air Force awards. NPRC has responsibility for providing verification of entitlement for some awards; however, NPRC does not furnish the actual award. This function is the responsibility of the Air Force Personnel Center. Note: The Department of the Air Force is responsible for servicing requests for awards earned by members of the Army Air Corps or Army Air Force who served prior to July 1, 1948.
  - b. Requests for Army awards. On November 4, 1998, the function of processing Army replacement medals and certain certificates was transferred to the National Personnel Records Center (NPRC). The Memorandum Of Agreement (MOA) establishes guidelines and responsibility in regard to processing requests from veterans for replacement of Army medals and certain certificates. The MOA also stipulates that NPRC will not make Army award determinations. They will be forwarded to the Department of the Army, Total Army Personnel Command (PERSCOM), ATTN: TAPC-PDO-PA, 200 Stovall Street, Alexandria, VA 22332-0471.
  - c. Requests for Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard awards. NPRC does not process these requests. Forward all such requests to the Navy Liaison Office in this building.
2. Request entitlement to award be noted on DD Form 214. Prepare DD Form 215, Correction to DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty. Add the awards not shown on the DD Form 214. Include the area of operations for the AFEM; e.g., "Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal (for Vietnam)." Send the original DD Form 215 to the veteran (or retiree) using the appropriate pattern letter. See the Case Reference Guide for distribution of the remaining copies of the DD Form 215.
3. American Gold Star Mothers. Requests about American Gold Star Mothers are processed by NPRC. Requesters seek verification of service to determine eligibility for membership in the organization. Reply on the request form and place a copy in the personnel record. Check the items on the request form that are correct and supply additional or correct information. If the record shows that determination of line of duty status wasn't made, enter in the appropriate space, "Record shows no determination as to line of duty status." Requests concerning Navy and Marine Corps personnel are worked from the medical records. Route reply and record through the Navy Liaison office for review.
4. Requests for copies of documents related to awards. If found in the record and specifically requested, all technicians are responsible for furnishing copies of certificates, commendations, justifications, and documents relating to an award.
5. Army Medals. Army medals will be processed in accordance with NPRC 1865.124, dated April 30, 1999.

NOTE: THE REMAINDER OF THIS MEMORANDUM PROVIDES INSTRUCTIONS FOR PROCESSING REQUESTS FOR AIR FORCE AWARDS AND CERTIFICATES (INCLUDING ARMY AIR CORPS AND ARMY AIR FORCE).

6. Entitlement not determined by NPRC. Awards for Air Force medals for which NPRC does not determine entitlement are listed in app. A. Consult Air Force Regulation 900-48, Awards, Ceremonies, and Honors, for additional information on these awards.
  - a. App. A, Part I. The Air Reserve Personnel Center (ARPC) or Air Force Personnel Center (AFPC) is responsible for determining entitlement to the awards listed in Part I of app. A.
    - (1) Review of records. To ensure that the ARPC or AFPC has all the necessary information from which to make a determination of entitlement, review the military personnel record and the Air Force Awards and Decorations Card File. This Card File may provide verification of entitlement to certain awards not found in the military personnel record. (See app. B, Part I, for a list of decorations contained in the Card File.)
    - (2) Action. Refer the request, record, and a copy of the appropriate information from the Air Force Awards and Decoration Card File to ARPC or AFPC using NA Form 13008, Loan or Transfer of Records. EXCEPTIONS: If the request is a Congressional inquiry, forward to AFPC, ATTN: CSH. If the request is for medals pertaining to reserve service, forward to the ARPC. Notify the requester of the referral using the appropriate pattern paragraph/letter. NOTE: See apps. C or D for special instructions in processing requests for the Prisoner of War Medal or Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal.
  - b. App. A, Part II. The offices listed in this part are responsible for determining eligibility for the types of awards shown. Refer the requester to the appropriate address using a pattern paragraph/letter.
7. Request for "all medals" or entitlement to a specific medal. Other than those medals listed in app. A, verify entitlement to medals and awards by analyzing the information provided in the request and reviewing the separation document(s). In addition, examine AF Form 7, Airman's Military Record, AF Form 11, Officer's Military Record, AF Form 1712, Uniform Military Personnel Record, Service Record Book, orders, citations, and other data in the individual's record. Also certain decorations were awarded for specific periods of service, which may not be shown on the separation document. (See app. B, part II for a list of these awards. See app. E and AFR 900-48 for additional guidance.)
8. Response to the requester when entitled to award. Prepare four copies of the NA Form 13059, Transmittal of and/or Entitlement to Awards, (available from "Get Forms" on Microsoft Word) and place the original and copy 1 in the box for mailing to ARPC or AFPC (see exception), mail copy 2 to the requester, and attach copy 3 to the request and file in the record. (See fig. 1.) See latest revision of NPRC 1865.12, Congressional inquiries at NPRC (MPR), for the number of copies needed when responding to Congressional inquiries. EXCEPTION: For requests concerning aeronautical badges; i.e., Pilot, Navigator/Observer, Flight Surgeon, Flight Nurse, Aircrew Member, and Parachutist, send original and copy 1 to HQ USAF/XOOTW, Warrior Management Division, Washington, DC 20330-5054. If unable to determine entitlement, refer request and record to HQ USAF/XOOTW using NA Form 13008. Notify the requester of the referral using NA Form 13053 or pattern paragraph(s).
9. Entitlement not shown in record and period of service ended prior to December 31, 1963. If a determination for an award is required for the period from 1939 through December 31, 1963, and it is an award listed in app. B, Part I, forward a request to the Organizational Records Section for a search of the Air Force Awards and Decorations Card File. Prepare NA Form 13105, NPRC Search Request and Reply, in triplicate, including the veteran's name, service number, award, and dates of eligibility. (See fig. 2.) If the request pertains to a unit award, also provide the name of the unit. Send the original and one copy to the Organizational Records Section. Attach the third copy to the request and hold with the record until the reply is received. File a copy of the NA Form 13105 in the record showing the results of the search.

10. Entitlement not established. If, after checking all sources of information, it is clear that the veteran is not entitled to an award, respond to the request by pattern letter/paragraph informing the requester that their entitlement could not be verified. If the requester insists on entitlement to an award, respond to the request with an appropriate pattern letter or paragraph. If the requester contacts NPRC again, and insists on entitlement to an award, forward the request with the record to HQ, AFPC, ATTN: DPPPRA. If the request is a Congressional inquiry, forward the request with the record to HQ, AFPC, ATTN: CCXI. See the current version of NPRC 1865.6, Referral and routing matters, for instructions on referral procedures.
  11. Certificates of decoration. The National Personnel Records Center no longer processes requests for replacement of certificates of decoration. Most requests can be satisfied with a copy of the award citation, or order. If a requester insists on having a certificate of decoration replaced, refer the inquiry and the record to HQ Air Force Personnel Center, Attn: HQ AFPC/DPPPRA, 550 C Street West, Suite 12, Randolph AFB, TX 78150-4712.

Appendix C. Request for POW Medal

PREQUEST FOR POW MEDAL

Background. The prisoner of War (POW) Medal is available to eligible veterans or next of kin. The medal may be issued to any former service member who was taken prisoner of war and held captive after April 5, 1917. Any person convicted by a U.S. military tribunal of misconduct or a criminal charge or whose discharge is less than honorable based upon actions while a POW is ineligible for the medal. No more than one POW Medal shall be awarded to a service member or next of kin. Applications are submitted on DD Form 2510, Prisoner of War (POW) Medal Application/Information. Letters are accepted as long as all required information is contained in the letter.

Procedures. AFPC is responsible for the final determination of eligibility for and issuance of the POW Medal. To ensure that AFPC has all the necessary information, a search of all available sources of information will be conducted to determine POW status and conduct of service as a prisoner; e.g., military personnel record, Air Force Awards and Decorations Card File, organizational records, morning reports, POW listings, etc.

When POW status has been established, complete NA Form 13059 in quadruplicate. Be sure to include the registry number (print on form above the Date) and POW status.

(See fig. C-1.) Send one copy to the applicant and advise that the application is being forwarded to AFPC for final validation of entitlement to the medal. Place one copy in the record and forward two copies to AFPC. Attach a copy of the application, discharge covering the period of POW status, and any documents used to verify POW status.

When a veteran's POW status cannot be verified or there is an indication that the character of service was less than honorable, indicate this on the NA Form 13059 and send all four copies of the form with the application and record to AFPC for action. Notify the requester of the referral using a pattern letter or paragraphs.

When the requester does not provide sufficient information to allow a search of POW status, return the application and request additional information.

AFPC will return verified eligibility forms for interfile in the record. The verified NA Forms 13059 will eliminate the need to prepare a DD Form 215, unless specifically requested at a later date.

Appendix D. Request for Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal

REQUEST FOR PEARL HARBOR COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

Background. On November 5, 1990, legislation was passed which established a congressional medal to honor those members of the Armed Forces who were in Hawaii and those civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments who were killed or wounded at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. Presentations of the Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal to eligible personnel or their next of kin were planned to coincide with the 50th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor. The estimated number of former military service personnel who were eligible to receive the medal was about 105,500. There were 68 civilian employees reported killed at Pearl Harbor. An estimate of the number of civilian employees wounded in the attack is not available. The Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal was produced in limited quantities as a one-time issuance. Stock of this medal has now been exhausted and will not be replaced. Purchase of the medal from civilian dealers in military insignia may be possible.

4. Foreign Unit Awards (Kuwait Liberation Medal only) – Reference: App. A.

Air Force Achievement Awards – (Examples include: AFCEM, AFC, AM, BSM, DFC, LM, SS, etc.) These are awarded to recognize specific types of achievement while serving on active duty in the Air Force or as members of the Air Force Reserve or Air National Guard. No achievement awards are awarded to a person whose entire service for the period covered by the award was not honorable, nor to a person whose service for the period covered by the award was terminated under other than honorable conditions. If a person was awarded and presented an award for service before the dishonorable behavior, the award is not revoked unless specifically directed by HQ USAF. Reference: AFR 900-48, Chapter 5.

NPRC DETERMINES ENTITLEMENT FOR THE FOLLOWING:

1. U.S. and Foreign Service Awards – A person is eligible for a service award if that person was assigned or attached to and present for duty with a unit serving in the prescribed geographical area established for the award during the designated time period; was assigned or attached to and present for duty with a unit designated in appropriate administrative orders as having received the award during the prescribed time period; or otherwise meets the requirements for the award stated in AFR 900-48. Reference: App. G, Operations approved for award of the AFEM, and AFR 900-48, Chapter 6.

NOTE: The Philippine government issues a Philippine Defense Medal and a Philippine Liberation Medal to former members of the U.S. Armed Forces who are eligible to receive the Philippine Defense and Philippine Liberation Ribbons. These medals are available from the Philippine government and may not be purchased in the U.S. Furnish information on the availability of these medals only if they are specifically requested. Use pattern paragraphs/letter to refer the requester to: Defense Attaché, Armed Forces Affairs Office, Embassy of the Philippines, 1617 Massachusetts Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20036.

2. Foreign Awards and Decorations – Major commanders in active theaters of operations authorized to accept unit awards tendered by friendly foreign nations to units no higher than wing level: During military operations against an armed enemy of the U.S. and for one year thereafter; while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an opposing foreign force; or while serving with friendly foreign forces engaged in an armed conflict against an opposing armed force in which the U.S. is not a belligerent party. Reference AFR 900-48, Chapter 7.
3. Awards and Decorations Devices – The term device includes, but is not limited to, ribbons, bars, lapel buttons, rosettes, oak leaf clusters, stars, arrowheads, and similar accessories used in the Air Force decorations, awards, and recognition program.

NOTE: The Gold Star Lapel Button is usually requested using DD Form 3, Application for Gold Star Lapel Button. Application by letter will be accepted, provided sufficient information for determination of entitlement has been furnished. Verification of entitlement is made using NA Form 13059.

NOTE: The Honorable Service Lapel Pin, issued to every service member that was honorably discharged between September 1939 and December 1946, is known by other names; e.g., "Badge of Service" and "Ruptured Duck." AR-PERSCOM used to issue this pin to requester that asked for the "WWII 50th Anniversary Medal." AFPC and the Navy Liaison Office, however, do not; instead they advise requesters that no such medal is issued by the military service departments.

REFILING AND INTERFILING MILITARY PERSONNEL AND MEDICAL RECORDS

1. Background.

- a. Responsibilities. Refile archives aids are responsible for refiling personnel/medical folders and for interfiling new material into folders already filed at NPRC. Refilers have the responsibility to do accurate work. A record that is filed in the wrong place may be lost permanently.

- b. Filing systems. Military personnel and medical records held at MPR are filed according to various records systems.

(1) Alphabetically by last name of veteran.

(2) Numerically by registry number. This system assigns consecutive numbers to folders when they are entered into the records block. The registry number for each folder is cross-referenced on the computer with the veteran's name and usually one other identifier (either service number (SN), social security number (SSN), or date of birth).

(3) Numerically by service number (SN). This system also includes the few records that are filed according to the "terminal digit" method. Under this method used at NPRC to file Marine Corps officers' personnel folders, every SN which ends in the same three digits is filed in the same subgroup. The folders are then arranged in numerical order within each subgroup, according to the remaining (first) digits.

- c. Record arrangements. Records stack areas at MPR generally contain ten-high shelving units, three cube cartons wide. Fig. 1 shows the most common arrangement of records on shelves; however, certain areas may differ (e.g., N-Registry records block is arranged from left to right, rather than the more common right to left arrangement illustrated in fig. 1). As fig. 1 shows, cartons are stored "two deep" when they are all part of the same records block. When cartons are "veneered," the "back boxes" belong to a records block that is separate from the front boxes.

NOTE: Detailed information about record arrangements may be found in the Job Aids under Diagram of First Floor Files, Diagram of Second Floor Files, Diagram of Third Floor Files, Diagram of Fourth Floor Files, and Diagram of Fifth Floor Files.

- d. Safety. When working in file areas, observe appropriate safety precautions outlined in NPRC 5910.1B, Safety.

2. Refiling.

- a. General instructions. Refile a personnel or medical folder into the same records block from which it was pulled, unless the folder was improperly filed originally.
- b. Chargeout forms. When a folder is taken out of file, the searcher leaves a form in file to show where the record has been sent. Any of the forms used to show where a folder has been sent and where it belongs when it is returned to file are referred to as "chargeout forms" or "chargeout cards". The forms most commonly used as chargeouts are the MPR Search Request Form (fig. 2); GSA Form 7013, File Chargeout Card (fig. 3); NA Form 13087, Request for Records (fig. 4); NA Form 13008, Loan or Transfer of Records (fig. 5); and NA Form 13096, Finding Aid Report (FAR)(fig. 6). When refiling the folder, remove the chargeout form from file. After the batch of refiles is completed, return all chargeout forms to the lead archives technician/section chief.
- c. Request forms found in file. Sometimes a copy of the form that a requesting agency used will be found stapled to or used as the NPRC chargeout form. The most common request forms are:

- VA Form 3101, (fig. 7)
- AFHQ Form 84, Request for Loan of Master Personnel Record (fig. 8)
- ARPC Form 81, Records Search (fig. 9)
- DAS Form 54, Request for Official Military Personnel File (fig. 10)
- DD Form 877, Request for Medical/Dental Records or Information (fig. 11)
- DD Form 877-1, Request for Medical/Dental Records from NPRC (fig. 12)
- NAVPERS Form 1070, Navy Record Request and Control (fig. 13)
- Optional Form 11, Reference Request-Federal Records Centers (fig. 14)

When refiling the folder, remove the request and/or chargeout forms from file. After the batch of refiles is completed, return all requests and chargeout forms to the lead archives technician/section chief.

- d. Refile problems - complete GSA Form 7134, Routing Aids for File Problems (fig. 15). It may not be possible to get to the location where the folder or interfile material belongs. A box may be missing or someone might be working where you need to reach. A refile folder or interfile document in the batch might be out of its proper order; it may belong several aisles back, for example, where you have finished working. Whenever the job cannot be accomplished routinely, complete a GSA Form 7134. When there is doubt whether to refile, return the folder or interfile material, with the GSA Form 7134 attached, to the lead archives technician/section chief.
- e. No form found in file. If you do not find a chargeout form in the file, do not refile the folder. Complete a GSA Form 7134 or the Log for CMRS Request/FAR Not Found Sheet (fig. 16) and return the folder with form attached to the lead archives technician/section chief. The lead technician/section chief will determine if the refiler was in the correct records file location. An on-line probe will be made to verify that the registry number is correct and has not been deleted. Case Management and Reporting System (CMRS) will be checked to determine which searcher failed to leave a chargeout card.
- f. Folder wanted elsewhere. When the folder being refilled is wanted by another office/agency, the request for the folder is shown by a form that was placed in the file. Usually, NA Form 13131, Important Notice (fig. 17) is used. When you find an NA Form 13131 or similar form, remove it, attach it to the folder, and give both to the lead archives technician/section chief. Be sure to complete a chargeout form (chargeout to office/agency requesting the record shown on the NA Form 13131) and place in the record location.
- g. Interfile material found while refiling. If you are refiling a folder and find interfile material attached to the chargeout form or in an Interfile Papers Pouch (fig. 18), remove the interfile material and place it in the military service folder. Remove the Interfile Papers Pouch and the chargeout form from the file. After the batch of refiles is completed, return all chargeout forms along with any Interfile Papers Pouches to the lead archives technician/section chief.
- h. No registry label on folder. If there is no registry label on the folder to be refilled, complete a GSA Form 7134 or the Log for CMRS Request/FAR Not Found Sheet and return the folder with the form attached to the lead archives technician/section chief.

3. Instructions for refiling in alphabetically filed records blocks.

- a. Check the name and service number shown on the folder against the name and service number on the chargeout form which was placed in file to show that a folder was removed.
- b. When the service number and name do not match, do not refile the folder. Use a GSA Form 7134 to record the exact information from the form which was left in file. Attach the GSA Form 7134 to the folder and return to the lead archives technician/section chief. Do NOT remove the chargeout form.

- c. When one of two items of identification does match, and there is an obvious error about the other item, such as a misspelled name or service number digits that are out of proper order, refile the record.

4. Instructions for refiling in numerically filed records blocks.

- a. Records filed by service number. If the name and service number/social security number are the same on both the folder and the chargeout form which is found in the file, refile the folder.
- b. Records filed by registry number. The MPR Search Request Form; GSA Form 7013, File Chargeout Card; and NA Form 13008, Loan or Transfer of Records, are the forms most often used when charging out military records. If the name, SN/SSN, and registry number on the chargeout form which was left in the file is the same as the folder, refile the record. If the registry numbers do not match, do not refile the folder, even when the name and/or service number are the same. Many years ago, a registry file conversion project was done to relocate/reaccession records from a Consolidated Registry File (all services) to Service Registry Files (A, N, F). Some records were charged out of file at the time they were due for conversion, and could not be relabeled. In such a case, you will find either of two forms in the spot where the folder had been: a GSA Form 7257, Attention (fig. 19) or a GSA Form 7258, Warning (fig. 20). The GSA Form 7258 will be attached to a chargeout form. Follow the instructions on either the Attention or Warning Card. DO NOT FILL OUT A GSA FORM 7134.
- c. Two records with identical numbers. In cases where two records have the same registry number, prepare chargeout cards (charge to Refile Section), remove both records, complete GSA Form 7134, attach form to records, and return to the lead technician/section chief.

5. Instructions for chargeout forms. It is imperative that all chargeout forms removed from the files be returned to the lead technicians/section chiefs. The lead technicians/section chiefs will forward all chargeout forms to the support clerks in the Records Retrieval Branch headquarters. Chargeout forms are separated into three groups: MPR Search Request Forms (generated by CMRS), other registry file chargeout forms, and other non-registry chargeout forms. The MPR Search Request Forms are wanded as Refiled. For non-CMRS chargeouts, the clerks create refile batches in CMRS and key in the registry number from the chargeout forms assigning the batch to the refiler on the batch control sheet. No wandling or keying is required for non-CMRS, non-registry chargeouts. If the Records Retrieval support clerks do not receive ALL chargeout forms for processing, CMRS will continue to show that the record is charged out even though the record has been refiled; therefore, the record will not be available for ordering via CMRS if a subsequent request is received.

6. Interfiles. The Center also receives miscellaneous papers that are forwarded to NPRC by the service departments to be added to an existing folder. Once you find the correct location, place the interfile material in the folder.

- a. Instructions for interfiling in records blocks filed alphabetically or by service number. The batch of miscellaneous papers to be interfiled is accompanied by written instructions advising of the records block(s) in which to find the appropriate folders. Compare the name and service number on the interfile material with the name and number on the folder or chargeout form. It is the correct location if:

- (1) Both the name and number correspond, or
  - (2) One of the two corresponds, and there is an obvious error on the interfile material, such as misspelled name or changed-order of service number digits.
- b. Instructions for interfiling in registry system records blocks. Material to be interfiled into a registry file normally has a computer printout attached. Occasionally, the registry number will appear on the material to be interfiled. Place the interfile material in the folder only if the name, SN/SSN, and registry number on the printout (or on the interfile material) matches the information on the folder.
- c. Instructions when interfile material does not match file information. When the name and/or service number do not match, do not interfile the materials. Complete a GSA Form 7134, attach it to the interfile material, and return to the lead archives technician/section chief.
- d. GSA Form 7108, Flag (fig. 21). Do not place any interfile material in a record if a GSA Form 7108, Flag is filed in the record. Instead, complete a GSA Form 7134. Turn in GSA Form 7134 with the interfile material to the lead archives technician/section chief.
- e. Instructions for handling interfiles when the folder is not in file.

Chargeout information or GSA Form 7257, Attention GSA Form 7258, Warning found in file	Put chargeout information and/or GSA Form 7257/7258 with the interfile material horizontally (sideways) in an Interfile Papers Pouch. Place all in file. (The pouch temporarily holds interfile material until it can be put in the record upon its return to file.)
GSA Form 6850, Wanted Card (fig. 22) GSA Form 7073, Important Notice (fig. 23) or No chargeout card found in file	Complete GSA Form 7134 , Routing Aids for File Problems. Turn in GSA Form 7134 and interfile material to your lead archives technician/section chief.

7. Obsolete forms. Several of the forms mentioned in this memorandum are no longer used. However, you may still come across several of these forms when refiling or interfiling. A list of obsolete forms is listed below:

- GSA Form 6850, Wanted Card
- GSA Form 6957, Request for Records (fig. 24)
- GSA Form 6963, Loan or Transfer of Records (fig. 25)

TRANSITION TRAINING

1. Definitions.

- a. “Initial training” is the period of instruction provided to all newly assigned/promoted employees. Training includes both (1) explanations of all relevant NPRC, NRP, and branch issuances, instructions, and memoranda, and (2) on-the-job experience under the 100% review of the trainer.
- b. “Transition” is the period of on-the-job experience following initial training during which the employee is not subject to the employee performance rating system for the quantity and quality factors. The employee’s work is subject to review in accordance with the provisions of NPRC 4430.1E, NPRC Batch & Audit System. The immediate supervisor reviews all errors identified and, for those operations requiring a percentage audit, can increase the percentage of audit to ensure quality control. The supervisor is responsible for monitoring and evaluating the progress of his/her trainees in transition and providing any necessary instruction.
- c. “On standard” means the employee’s work is subject to the audit system and the employee is accountable for his/her quality and quantity of production. Employee performance as it relates to quality and quantity ratings are based “on standard” performance.

2. Documentation. Upon completing each phase of initial training, the trainee initials or signs the NA Form 13145, Individual Learning Chart, in the remarks column (see fig. 2) to verify that the training recorded on the form was received. After the required initial training has been completed, the trainee begins transition. The Individual Learning Chart is annotated as indicated in fig. 2. NOTE: Transition time includes only time on the job (operation) for which training was provided. Leave, holidays, and off operation time are not considered transition time.
  3. Length of transition period. Figure 1 prescribes periods of transition. The employee’s Individual Training Chart is annotated to show the date transition has ended and is initialed by the Branch Chief or Assistant Branch Chief (fig. 2). The employee must be informed when the transition period is over and that he/she is placed “on standard.”
  4. Subsequent Training. Documentation of subsequent or follow-on training is added to the Individual Learning Chart. The remark line can be used to annotate or explain additional training information and the number of training hours involved. ## CHAPTER 1. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Purpose.

a. This memorandum describes the career advancement plan and the requirements for career ladder promotions in the AFN-M Core environment.

b. The Career Advancement Plan (CAP) provides a systematic process for determining whether employees have the competencies necessary for progression to the next higher grade level in the career ladder. The purposes of the Career Advancement Plan are:

(1) To facilitate recruitment and retention by offering a process to continually develop the organization's workforce;

(2) To provide a career development program by defining the competencies required, providing related developmental activities, and presenting objective measures of competencies for promotion; and

(3) To provide upward mobility opportunities for NPRC employees.

2. Authority.

a. Part 335, Title 5, Code of Federal Regulations.

b. EPA 9335.1, General Services Administration Merit Promotion Plan.

3. Coverage. This directive applies to NPRC/AFN-M employees who are in career ladder positions within the core environment.

4. Definitions.

a. Benchmark. A defined level of competency, usually supplemented by examples.

b. Candidate. An employee in a career ladder position in the core environment who has started the certification process to progress to the next level in the career ladder.

c. Career Ladder Position. A position which has a full performance grade level based on the work required by the organization. Positions in a career ladder may be filled at a lower level for recruitment, retention, and workforce development purposes.

d. Certification/Assessment Panel. The certification assessment panel consists of the Employee Development Specialist or an alternate and two core coaches. The panel:

(1) Provides a 3rd-party review at the discretion of the candidate; interviews candidates and reviews promotion packages to assess whether candidates have demonstrated the required competencies at the appropriate benchmark levels, and

(2) Certifies whether the panel assessment demonstrates attainment of required competencies at benchmark levels.

e. Certification/Assessment Tools. The instruments used to assess whether a candidate has the required competencies at the required benchmark levels. Various assessment tools are used for the different grade levels within a career ladder. The assessment tools include:

- (1) Competency exercises or 90-day technical competency review
- (2) A coach rating and recommendation;
- (3) At the employee's discretion, a self-assessment and panel review.

f. Certification Plan. The pattern of certification assessment tools used to determine a candidate's readiness to advance to the next grade level in the career ladder (see figure 1). The Certification Plan becomes more rigorous at critical points in the career ladders to parallel changes in competency requirements.

g. Competency. An observable pattern of knowledge, skills, abilities, behaviors, and other characteristics that employees need to successfully perform work-related tasks.

h. Competency Exercise. Specially developed cases used to assess technical competency. The competency exercises parallel actual cases to the maximum extent possible.

i. Technical Competency Review. A 90-day review of work at the current grade level measured against a standard that would represent successful performance of the more complex work mix of the next higher grade level.

j. Competency Progression. The critical competencies and associated benchmarks at each grade level of the career ladder. The employee must acquire and demonstrate the required competencies at both the current level and the next higher level before being promoted.

k. Core Environment. A teaming organization that has a dual focus -- on group performance as well as individual development and performance.

5. Responsibilities.

a. Director, National Personnel Records Center. The Director oversees the program and develops implementing policy and guidance.

b. Assistant Director for Military Records. The Assistant Director ensures the program is carried out in accordance with this directive and makes the final decision on career ladder promotions when the Core Manager does not concur with the Coach and/or panel recommendations.

c. Director, Talent Acquisition Division. The Director provides human resource program guidance and support to management and employees in the development and execution of the Career Advancement Plan.

d. Core Managers. Core Managers:

(1) Provide guidance and direction to the core teams on issues concerning the Career Advancement Plan.

(2) Foster a learning environment within the core to assist team members in developing the required competencies for career ladder promotions.

(3) Review Coach and/or panel recommendations on career ladder promotions to ensure consistency and appropriateness, and approve/disapprove career ladder promotions.

(4) Prepare written justifications for review and action by the Assistant Director for Military Records for career ladder promotions when their decisions vary from Coach and/or panel recommendations.

e. Core Coaches. Core Coaches:

(1) Provide guidance and information to team members on Career Advancement Plan requirements.

(2) Assist team members in identifying career goals and competencies required to achieve those goals and in assessing their strengths and weaknesses.

(3) Assist team members in creating individual developmental plans (IDPs) to develop desired competencies.

(4) Provide on-the-job learning experiences to assist team members in developing competencies.

(5) Prepare assessment of candidates in career ladder positions for Core Manager and/or panel review and provide feedback to candidates on these assessments,

(6) Serve on Certification Assessment Panels for the purpose of conducting panel interviews of candidates, reviewing candidates' career ladder promotion packages, and determining if panel participation demonstrates attainment of competencies at the minimum level.

f. Employee Development Specialist (EDS). The EDS:

(1) Assists Core Coaches and employees in preparing individual development plans to gain competencies required for career ladder advancement;

(2) Upon request, schedules candidates for competency exercises, administers and scores competency exercises, and provides candidates with scored results for inclusion in promotion packages;

(3) Schedules and facilitates Certification Assessment Panels. Identifies Coaches to serve as panel members, notifies candidates of scheduled interview times, ensures promotion packages received from candidates are available for review by the panel, participates as a voting member of the panel, and forwards promotion packages with panel recommendations to the appropriate Core Manager.

g. Employees. Employees:

(1) With guidance from the Core Coach, prepare IDPs to identify gaps in competencies possessed compared to those required at the next higher level in the career ladder and learning activities to develop those competencies;

(2) Participate actively in on-the-job learning activities identified in IDPs;

(3) Through self development, acquire knowledge and skills which will help demonstrate competencies required at the next level in the career ladder;

(4) When basic eligibility requirements have been met and the required competencies have been acquired and demonstrated, initiate the required steps identified in the Certification Plan for progression to the next level in the career ladder.

CHAPTER 2. CERTIFICATION/ASSESSMENT PROCESS

1. Overview. To progress to the next higher grade level in the career ladder, candidates must go through a certification assessment process to determine if they are eligible and to evaluate their possession of required competencies.

2. Eligibility for Promotion. The Talent Acquisition Division determines eligibility for promotion and will make this determination upon receipt of a promotion request. However, candidates should ensure they meet time-in-grade qualification and performance requirements before submitting an application for promotion. Normally, career ladder promotions will require 1 year time-in-grade. Advancement applications should be submitted no earlier than 90 days before meeting time-in-grade requirements. Packages submitted too early will need to be re-accomplished as individual performance variables are subject to change over time. If you are unsure of when you will meet time-in-grade requirements for the next grade level, you can review OPM's General Schedule Qualification Standards for Clerical and Administrative Support Positions, available online, or contact your supervisor. If the supervisor is unsure, he/she will contact the servicing HR assistant for advice.

a. Basic Requirements. To be eligible:

(1) Candidates must meet time-in-grade and qualification requirements as stated in the U.S. Office of Personnel Management's General Schedule Qualification Standards;

(2) Candidates must have a current rating of record of Fully Successful or higher; and

(3) Candidates must have a rating of at least Fully Successful on current critical elements that are also critical to performance at the next higher grade of the career ladder.

b. Application for Career Ladder Advancement. Candidates meeting eligibility requirements may then initiate the NPRC Test Form 00-4, Career Ladder Advancement Application (see figure 2), and proceed to the Coach and/or Self-Assessment stage. Candidates who do not meet eligibility requirements cannot continue with the assessment.

3. Competency Assessment. Competency assessment consists of the certification/assessment tools being completed that are required for promotion to the next higher grade level. The tools used for each grade level progression in the career ladder are shown in the Certification Plan (see figure 1). At any point in the process, candidates may choose not to continue. For example, based on the career ladder self-assessment, a candidate may decide additional experience and training is necessary before continuing.

4. Competency Exercises. Competency exercises for each of the grade levels within the career ladders consist of cases designed to assess the candidates' possession of, and ability to, demonstrate the required technical competencies. Candidates who do not wish to take the exercises may elect an alternate method of demonstrating required technical competencies, discussed later in this chapter, in lieu of the exercise.

- a. For levels in the career ladder that require a competency exercise, candidates must schedule the exercise with the Employee Development Center (EDC). The EDC schedules candidates on a first come, first served basis as space is available in the training facility.
- b. Candidates may schedule and take the competency exercise for the next grade level after 9 months time in their current Core career ladder position or when eligible for promotion, whichever date is earlier.
- c. Candidates may participate in the competency exercise once every 60 calendar days.
- d. Candidates will be allowed up to two hours to complete the exercise. Candidates may use personal resource references and Center online guides to complete the exercise.
- e. Competency exercises are proctored by the EDC.
- f. The EDC will provide candidates their scored exercise within five work days of completion of the exercise.
- g. A score of 95% on the competency exercise is required for the candidate to be further considered for promotion.

5. Alternative to Competency Exercise. Candidates who do not wish to take the Competency Exercise may elect the following alternate method of measuring the 3 technical competencies required for advancement. This alternate method is not mandatory and is at the discretion of the technician. All remaining assessment tools and processes will still apply.

a. For candidates desiring an alternative to the competency exercise and seeking promotion to GS-5 or GS-6, coaches will complete and document the following 2-part technical competency review.

(1) Candidate must be meeting or exceeding the Fully Successful standard for quality.

(2) Candidate's SDA for the last 90 days must be at or above the midpoint of the Fully Successful SDA range for the current grade level. For example, if the technician's current Fully Successful SDA range is 21 – 24 cases per day, the midpoint would be 22.5 cases per day. This midpoint measure represents the minimum standard necessary to ensure a successful SDA at the next higher grade level given a more complex work-mix requirement.

b. For candidates desiring an alternative to the competency exercise and seeking promotion to GS-7 or GS-8, coaches will complete and document the following 2-part technical review.

(1) Candidate must be meeting or exceeding the Fully Successful standard for quality.

(2) Candidate's SDA for the last 90 days must be at or above Fully Successful for the current grade level. The midpoint measure for these grades is not required since the work-mix at the next grade level does not become more complex.

c. Coaches will document the technical competency review results on the NPRC Test Form 00-4 in lieu of a competency exercise sign-off on the advancement application.

6. Career Ladder Self-Assessment. Completion of this assessment is at the discretion of the candidate. Candidates at all levels of a career ladder have the option to complete the NPRC Test Form 00-5, Self - Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 3) to demonstrate acquisition of required competencies at the benchmark level for the next grade level in the career ladder. Candidates may complete the Self-Assessment and submit it for his/her Coach's consideration during the Coach assessment or after the Coach's assessment if the candidate decides they would like a 3rd-party review by the career ladder panel. If completed, the Self-Assessment form (NRPC Test Form 00-5) becomes part of the candidate's application for career ladder advancement.

7. Coach Assessment and/or Recommendation.

a. After successful completion of the competency exercise (or alternative technical competency review), candidates must submit their application for career ladder advancement (NPRC Test 00-4, Career Ladder Advancement Application), and other documents as indicated on the NPRC Test Form 00-4 to their team coach. Coaches will complete their assessment of candidates' competencies using NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4). This Coach Career Ladder Assessment will become part of the promotion package.

b. For candidates progressing to the GS-4 level, coaches will recommend or not recommend promotion based on an assessment of the candidates' possession of the competencies required at the GS-4 level. The recommendation will be documented on the Coach-Career Ladder Assessment Summary page (page 13) of the Coach Career Ladder Assessment (NRPC Test Form 00-6) and on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4). If the coach recommends promotion, the application package will be forwarded to the Core Manager for his/her decision. If the coach does not recommend promotion, the coach will additionally complete an individual assessment of applicable competencies using NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4) prior to forwarding the package to the Core Manager.

c. For candidates progressing to the GS-5 level or higher, coaches will complete the NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4). Coaches will assess candidates' possession of the selected general competencies as demonstrated by actual performance, completion of learning activities on the candidates' IDP, and/or through review of the candidates' competency examples on the career ladder Self-Assessment (if provided).

d. To recommend promotion at any grade level, coaches must determine that candidates possess the assessed competencies at the minimum benchmark level or higher for the grade level to which promotion is being considered.

e. In completing the coach assessments, coaches will provide one-on-one feedback to the candidates. Feedback sessions should normally be accomplished within 10 workdays after receipt of career ladder advancement applications. After this feedback session, candidates will be given the opportunity to elect a third-party panel review of the application.

(1) If the employee declines the panel review and does not want to complete the Self - Career Ladder Assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5), the package is forwarded to the Core Manager for his/her decision.

(2) If the employee declines the panel but wishes to complete a self-assessment for consideration by the Core Manager, the package is returned to the employee, and forwarded to the Core Manager after the candidate has completed the self-assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5).

(3) If the employee requests a panel review the package is returned to the employee to complete the self-assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5). The employee will forward three copies of the complete application package to the Employee Development Center.

8. Panel Review. A panel review is optional but available for a candidate who desires a third-party review of his/her career ladder application packages before the package is sent to the Core Manager for a decision. The panel review consists of a package review by a three-member panel and a structured interview, if prescribed in the Certification Plan (see figure 1). The three-member panel includes one member of the Employee Development staff, or alternate, and two core coaches from cores other than that to which the candidate is assigned.

a. An applicant may make a panel review election anytime before his/her application package is sent to the Core Manager for a decision. Panel elections or declinations are documented on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4). Employee Development will schedule panel reviews within two-weeks of receiving a complete career ladder advancement package as described on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4).

b. Each panelist will review and individually score the application package against the minimum benchmarks established for each competency. For those advancements requiring only a panel review (not a panel interview), the panel will make no additional assessment. The panel will certify whether the package demonstrates or does not demonstrate possession of competencies at the minimum level based on the application package and supporting documentation.

c. If required, panel members will also conduct a structured interview to further assess general competencies listed in the Certification Plan (see figure 1).

d. After the individual review and scoring, the panel members will collectively prepare a summary certification based on a consensus among panel members. To certify attainment of competencies, the panelists must determine that the candidate's panel participation (package and/or interview) demonstrates attainment of the assessed competencies at the minimum benchmark level for the grade level to which promotion is being considered.

e. The EDS forwards candidate applications along with panel assessments and certification to the appropriate Core Manager.

9. Core Manager Decision.

a. The candidate's Core Manager reviews the recommendations of the Certification/Assessment Panel and makes the final decision to approve or disapprove a career ladder promotion within five workdays of receipt.

(1) If a career ladder promotion is approved, the Core Manager ensures the appropriate personnel action is initiated and submitted to the Human Resources Operations Branch.

(2) If a career ladder promotion is not approved, the Core Manager provides verbal feedback to the candidate with advice and guidance in identifying learning activities to strengthen and build competencies. Candidates may reapply for career advancement after a six-month period of time.

(3) If the Core Manager's decision is different from the Coach's recommendation or the panel's recommendation, the Core Manager prepares and forwards written justification along with the career ladder advancement application to the Assistant Director for Military Records for concurrence.

b. Review by the Assistant Director for Military Records. The Assistant Director for Military Records reviews career ladder advancement applications and justifications referred by the Core Managers when they support decisions that differ from the panel or Coach's recommendations. If the Assistant Director concurs with the Core Manager, the application is returned to the appropriate Core Manager for action. If the Assistant Director does not concur with the decision, the Assistant Director advises the Core Manager and ensures that appropriate action is taken.

c. Application Package. Original applications and attachments will be returned to candidates. Copies of applications and attachments will be forwarded to the candidates' coaches for retention in their employee individual development files.

CHAPTER 3. SCORING AND WEIGHTING OF ASSESSMENT TOOLS

1. Scoring of Assessment Tools.a. Self-Assessment and Coach Assessment.

(1) These assessments will be scored on a pass/fail basis. For candidates to pass the assessments, they must meet or exceed the minimum benchmark level for each of the competencies assessed.

(2) A "fail" on either assessment will not prevent candidates from continuing with the career advancement application process if they so desire.

b. Competency Exercise or Technical Competency Review Alternative.

(1) Candidate must meet minimum benchmark standards for either the competency exercise or the technical competency review to continue with the career advancement process.

(2) The competency exercise will be scored based on the number of correct answers on the technical competency exercises. A score of 95% must be achieved by candidates to pass the competency exercise and to continue with the career advancement process.

(3) The technical competency review alternative will be measured based on a 90 day review of the candidate's performance. Those seeking promotion to GS-5 or GS-6 must have an accuracy rate of Fully Successful or higher and SDA which is at or above the midpoint of the Fully Successful range for his/her current grade. Those seeking promotion to GS-7 or GS-8 must be at or above Fully Successful for both quality and SDA at his/her current grade level.

c. Structured Panel Review and/or Interview.

(1) This assessment will be scored on a pass/fail basis. For candidates to pass this assessment, they must meet or exceed the minimum benchmark level for each of the competencies assessed.

(2) A "fail" on either assessment will not prevent candidates from continuing with the career advancement application process if they so desire.

2. Weighting of Competencies and Assessment Tools.

a. All competencies in the competency profile have been determined to be essential to successful performance in the Core environment. The technical competencies have been determined to be critical and, therefore, receive more weight than the general competencies in the assessment, certification, and promotion process.

b. With the exception of the competency exercise, all of the assessment tools carry an equal weight in the assessment process.

c. The competency exercise is the critical assessment tool. A score of 95% must be achieved by candidates to be considered for promotion. A failing score on the competency exercise is disqualifying.

3. Impact of Assessment Tools on Recommendation/Decision to Promote.

a. If candidates pass all assessment tools, promotion would normally be recommended by the panel and approved by the Core Manager.

b. If applicants fail the competency exercise or technical competency review, they may not continue with the career advancement application process, but may retake either assessment after a 60 day development period.

c. If candidates pass the competency exercise or technical competency review, but fail one or more of the other assessment tools, the candidates may still be considered for promotion to the next higher grade level. The panel and/or the Core Manager will make such recommendations/decisions on a case-by-case basis through a thorough review of the application materials and other available information.

CHAPTER 4. PROGRAM INTEGRITY MAINTENANCE

1. Overview. To ensure that the Career Advancement Plan and its attendant programs, assessments, and documents retain their maximum effectiveness, it is necessary to impose information security protocols on certain aspects of the program.

2. Competency exercise.

a. Multiple sets of competency-based cases will be utilized in the competency exercise. All cases will assess the same set of competencies.

b. All competency exercise information is strictly confidential.

c. Release or unauthorized use of privileged information from the competency exercises is a chargeable offense under the NARA penalty guide for which disciplinary action may result. This may include reducing the candidate's score on the exercise to 0 (zero). Additionally, the candidate will be ineligible to retake the exercise for a period of six months.

3. Structured interview.

a. Multiple sets of competency-based structured interview questions will be utilized in the interviews. All questions will assess the same set of competencies.

b. All structured interview question information is confidential.

Release or unauthorized use of privileged information from the structured interview assessment is a chargeable offense under the NARA penalty guide for which disciplinary action may result. This may include reducing the candidate's score on the interview to 0 (zero). Additionally, the candidate will be ineligible to complete the career advancement application process for a period of six months.

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Purpose.

a. This memorandum describes the career advancement plan and the requirements for career ladder promotions in the AFN-M Core environment.

b. The Career Advancement Plan (CAP) provides a systematic process for determining whether employees have the competencies necessary for progression to the next higher grade level in the career ladder. The purposes of the Career Advancement Plan are:

(1) To facilitate recruitment and retention by offering a process to continually develop the organization's workforce;

(2) To provide a career development program by defining the competencies required, providing related developmental activities, and presenting objective measures of competencies for promotion; and

(3) To provide upward mobility opportunities for NPRC employees.

2. Authority.

a. Part 335, Title 5, Code of Federal Regulations.

b. EPA 9335.1, General Services Administration Merit Promotion Plan.

3. Coverage. This directive applies to NPRC/AFN-M employees who are in career ladder positions within the core environment.

4. Definitions.

a. Benchmark. A defined level of competency, usually supplemented by examples.

b. Candidate. An employee in a career ladder position in the core environment who has started the certification process to progress to the next level in the career ladder.

c. Career Ladder Position. A position which has a full performance grade level based on the work required by the organization. Positions in a career ladder may be filled at a lower level for recruitment, retention, and workforce development purposes.

d. Certification/Assessment Panel. The certification assessment panel consists of the Employee Development Specialist or an alternate and two core coaches. The panel:

(1) Provides a 3rd-party review at the discretion of the candidate; interviews candidates and reviews promotion packages to assess whether candidates have demonstrated the required competencies at the appropriate benchmark levels, and

(2) Certifies whether the panel assessment demonstrates attainment of required competencies at benchmark levels.

e. Certification/Assessment Tools. The instruments used to assess whether a candidate has the required competencies at the required benchmark levels. Various assessment tools are used for the different grade levels within a career ladder. The assessment tools include:

- (1) Competency exercises or 90-day technical competency review
- (2) A coach rating and recommendation;
- (3) At the employee's discretion, a self-assessment and panel review.

f. Certification Plan. The pattern of certification assessment tools used to determine a candidate's readiness to advance to the next grade level in the career ladder (see figure 1). The Certification Plan becomes more rigorous at critical points in the career ladders to parallel changes in competency requirements.

g. Competency. An observable pattern of knowledge, skills, abilities, behaviors, and other characteristics that employees need to successfully perform work-related tasks.

h. Competency Exercise. Specially developed cases used to assess technical competency. The competency exercises parallel actual cases to the maximum extent possible.

i. Technical Competency Review. A 90-day review of work at the current grade level measured against a standard that would represent successful performance of the more complex work mix of the next higher grade level.

j. Competency Progression. The critical competencies and associated benchmarks at each grade level of the career ladder. The employee must acquire and demonstrate the required competencies at both the current level and the next higher level before being promoted.

k. Core Environment. A teaming organization that has a dual focus -- on group performance as well as individual development and performance.

5. Responsibilities.

a. Director, National Personnel Records Center. The Director oversees the program and develops implementing policy and guidance.

b. Assistant Director for Military Records. The Assistant Director ensures the program is carried out in accordance with this directive and makes the final decision on career ladder promotions when the Core Manager does not concur with the Coach and/or panel recommendations.

c. Director, Talent Acquisition Division. The Director provides human resource program guidance and support to management and employees in the development and execution of the Career Advancement Plan.

d. Core Managers. Core Managers:

(1) Provide guidance and direction to the core teams on issues concerning the Career Advancement Plan.

(2) Foster a learning environment within the core to assist team members in developing the required competencies for career ladder promotions.

(3) Review Coach and/or panel recommendations on career ladder promotions to ensure consistency and appropriateness, and approve/disapprove career ladder promotions.

(4) Prepare written justifications for review and action by the Assistant Director for Military Records for career ladder promotions when their decisions vary from Coach and/or panel recommendations.

e. Core Coaches. Core Coaches:

(1) Provide guidance and information to team members on Career Advancement Plan requirements.

(2) Assist team members in identifying career goals and competencies required to achieve those goals and in assessing their strengths and weaknesses.

(3) Assist team members in creating individual developmental plans (IDPs) to develop desired competencies.

(4) Provide on-the-job learning experiences to assist team members in developing competencies.

(5) Prepare assessment of candidates in career ladder positions for Core Manager and/or panel review and provide feedback to candidates on these assessments,

(6) Serve on Certification Assessment Panels for the purpose of conducting panel interviews of candidates, reviewing candidates' career ladder promotion packages, and determining if panel participation demonstrates attainment of competencies at the minimum level.

f. Employee Development Specialist (EDS). The EDS:

(1) Assists Core Coaches and employees in preparing individual development plans to gain competencies required for career ladder advancement;

(2) Upon request, schedules candidates for competency exercises, administers and scores competency exercises, and provides candidates with scored results for inclusion in promotion packages;

(3) Schedules and facilitates Certification Assessment Panels. Identifies Coaches to serve as panel members, notifies candidates of scheduled interview times, ensures promotion packages received from candidates are available for review by the panel, participates as a voting member of the panel, and forwards promotion packages with panel recommendations to the appropriate Core Manager.

g. Employees. Employees:

(1) With guidance from the Core Coach, prepare IDPs to identify gaps in competencies possessed compared to those required at the next higher level in the career ladder and learning activities to develop those competencies;

(2) Participate actively in on-the-job learning activities identified in IDPs;

(3) Through self development, acquire knowledge and skills which will help demonstrate competencies required at the next level in the career ladder;

(4) When basic eligibility requirements have been met and the required competencies have been acquired and demonstrated, initiate the required steps identified in the Certification Plan for progression to the next level in the career ladder.

CHAPTER 2. CERTIFICATION/ASSESSMENT PROCESS

1. Overview. To progress to the next higher grade level in the career ladder, candidates must go through a certification assessment process to determine if they are eligible and to evaluate their possession of required competencies.

2. Eligibility for Promotion. The Talent Acquisition Division determines eligibility for promotion and will make this determination upon receipt of a promotion request. However, candidates should ensure they meet time-in-grade qualification and performance requirements before submitting an application for promotion. Normally, career ladder promotions will require 1 year time-in-grade. Advancement applications should be submitted no earlier than 90 days before meeting time-in-grade requirements. Packages submitted too early will need to be re-accomplished as individual performance variables are subject to change over time. If you are unsure of when you will meet time-in-grade requirements for the next grade level, you can review OPM's General Schedule Qualification Standards for Clerical and Administrative Support Positions, available online, or contact your supervisor. If the supervisor is unsure, he/she will contact the servicing HR assistant for advice.

a. Basic Requirements. To be eligible:

(1) Candidates must meet time-in-grade and qualification requirements as stated in the U.S. Office of Personnel Management's General Schedule Qualification Standards;

(2) Candidates must have a current rating of record of Fully Successful or higher; and

(3) Candidates must have a rating of at least Fully Successful on current critical elements that are also critical to performance at the next higher grade of the career ladder.

b. Application for Career Ladder Advancement. Candidates meeting eligibility requirements may then initiate the NPRC Test Form 00-4, Career Ladder Advancement Application (see figure 2), and proceed to the Coach and/or Self-Assessment stage. Candidates who do not meet eligibility requirements cannot continue with the assessment.

3. Competency Assessment. Competency assessment consists of the certification/assessment tools being completed that are required for promotion to the next higher grade level. The tools used for each grade level progression in the career ladder are shown in the Certification Plan (see figure 1). At any point in the process, candidates may choose not to continue. For example, based on the career ladder self-assessment, a candidate may decide additional experience and training is necessary before continuing.

4. Competency Exercises. Competency exercises for each of the grade levels within the career ladders consist of cases designed to assess the candidates' possession of, and ability to, demonstrate the required technical competencies. Candidates who do not wish to take the exercises may elect an alternate method of demonstrating required technical competencies, discussed later in this chapter, in lieu of the exercise.

- a. For levels in the career ladder that require a competency exercise, candidates must schedule the exercise with the Employee Development Center (EDC). The EDC schedules candidates on a first come, first served basis as space is available in the training facility.
- b. Candidates may schedule and take the competency exercise for the next grade level after 9 months time in their current Core career ladder position or when eligible for promotion, whichever date is earlier.
- c. Candidates may participate in the competency exercise once every 60 calendar days.
- d. Candidates will be allowed up to two hours to complete the exercise. Candidates may use personal resource references and Center online guides to complete the exercise.
- e. Competency exercises are proctored by the EDC.
- f. The EDC will provide candidates their scored exercise within five work days of completion of the exercise.
- g. A score of 95% on the competency exercise is required for the candidate to be further considered for promotion.

5. Alternative to Competency Exercise. Candidates who do not wish to take the Competency Exercise may elect the following alternate method of measuring the 3 technical competencies required for advancement. This alternate method is not mandatory and is at the discretion of the technician. All remaining assessment tools and processes will still apply.

a. For candidates desiring an alternative to the competency exercise and seeking promotion to GS-5 or GS-6, coaches will complete and document the following 2-part technical competency review.

(1) Candidate must be meeting or exceeding the Fully Successful standard for quality.

(2) Candidate's SDA for the last 90 days must be at or above the midpoint of the Fully Successful SDA range for the current grade level. For example, if the technician's current Fully Successful SDA range is 21 – 24 cases per day, the midpoint would be 22.5 cases per day. This midpoint measure represents the minimum standard necessary to ensure a successful SDA at the next higher grade level given a more complex work-mix requirement.

b. For candidates desiring an alternative to the competency exercise and seeking promotion to GS-7 or GS-8, coaches will complete and document the following 2-part technical review.

(1) Candidate must be meeting or exceeding the Fully Successful standard for quality.

(2) Candidate's SDA for the last 90 days must be at or above Fully Successful for the current grade level. The midpoint measure for these grades is not required since the work-mix at the next grade level does not become more complex.

c. Coaches will document the technical competency review results on the NPRC Test Form 00-4 in lieu of a competency exercise sign-off on the advancement application.

6. Career Ladder Self-Assessment. Completion of this assessment is at the discretion of the candidate. Candidates at all levels of a career ladder have the option to complete the NPRC Test Form 00-5, Self - Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 3) to demonstrate acquisition of required competencies at the benchmark level for the next grade level in the career ladder. Candidates may complete the Self-Assessment and submit it for his/her Coach's consideration during the Coach assessment or after the Coach's assessment if the candidate decides they would like a 3rd-party review by the career ladder panel. If completed, the Self-Assessment form (NRPC Test Form 00-5) becomes part of the candidate's application for career ladder advancement.

7. Coach Assessment and/or Recommendation.

a. After successful completion of the competency exercise (or alternative technical competency review), candidates must submit their application for career ladder advancement (NPRC Test 00-4, Career Ladder Advancement Application), and other documents as indicated on the NPRC Test Form 00-4 to their team coach. Coaches will complete their assessment of candidates' competencies using NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4). This Coach Career Ladder Assessment will become part of the promotion package.

b. For candidates progressing to the GS-4 level, coaches will recommend or not recommend promotion based on an assessment of the candidates' possession of the competencies required at the GS-4 level. The recommendation will be documented on the Coach-Career Ladder Assessment Summary page (page 13) of the Coach Career Ladder Assessment (NRPC Test Form 00-6) and on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4). If the coach recommends promotion, the application package will be forwarded to the Core Manager for his/her decision. If the coach does not recommend promotion, the coach will additionally complete an individual assessment of applicable competencies using NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4) prior to forwarding the package to the Core Manager.

c. For candidates progressing to the GS-5 level or higher, coaches will complete the NPRC Test Form 00-6, Coach Career Ladder Assessment (see figure 4). Coaches will assess candidates' possession of the selected general competencies as demonstrated by actual performance, completion of learning activities on the candidates' IDP, and/or through review of the candidates' competency examples on the career ladder Self-Assessment (if provided).

d. To recommend promotion at any grade level, coaches must determine that candidates possess the assessed competencies at the minimum benchmark level or higher for the grade level to which promotion is being considered.

e. In completing the coach assessments, coaches will provide one-on-one feedback to the candidates. Feedback sessions should normally be accomplished within 10 workdays after receipt of career ladder advancement applications. After this feedback session, candidates will be given the opportunity to elect a third-party panel review of the application.

(1) If the employee declines the panel review and does not want to complete the Self - Career Ladder Assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5), the package is forwarded to the Core Manager for his/her decision.

(2) If the employee declines the panel but wishes to complete a self-assessment for consideration by the Core Manager, the package is returned to the employee, and forwarded to the Core Manager after the candidate has completed the self-assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5).

(3) If the employee requests a panel review the package is returned to the employee to complete the self-assessment (NPRC Test Form 00-5). The employee will forward three copies of the complete application package to the Employee Development Center.

8. Panel Review. A panel review is optional but available for a candidate who desires a third-party review of his/her career ladder application packages before the package is sent to the Core Manager for a decision. The panel review consists of a package review by a three-member panel and a structured interview, if prescribed in the Certification Plan (see figure 1). The three-member panel includes one member of the Employee Development staff, or alternate, and two core coaches from cores other than that to which the candidate is assigned.

a. An applicant may make a panel review election anytime before his/her application package is sent to the Core Manager for a decision. Panel elections or declinations are documented on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4). Employee Development will schedule panel reviews within two-weeks of receiving a complete career ladder advancement package as described on the Career Ladder Advancement Application (NPRC Test 00-4).

b. Each panelist will review and individually score the application package against the minimum benchmarks established for each competency. For those advancements requiring only a panel review (not a panel interview), the panel will make no additional assessment. The panel will certify whether the package demonstrates or does not demonstrate possession of competencies at the minimum level based on the application package and supporting documentation.

c. If required, panel members will also conduct a structured interview to further assess general competencies listed in the Certification Plan (see figure 1).

d. After the individual review and scoring, the panel members will collectively prepare a summary certification based on a consensus among panel members. To certify attainment of competencies, the panelists must determine that the candidate's panel participation (package and/or interview) demonstrates attainment of the assessed competencies at the minimum benchmark level for the grade level to which promotion is being considered.

e. The EDS forwards candidate applications along with panel assessments and certification to the appropriate Core Manager.

9. Core Manager Decision.

a. The candidate's Core Manager reviews the recommendations of the Certification/Assessment Panel and makes the final decision to approve or disapprove a career ladder promotion within five workdays of receipt.

(1) If a career ladder promotion is approved, the Core Manager ensures the appropriate personnel action is initiated and submitted to the Human Resources Operations Branch.

(2) If a career ladder promotion is not approved, the Core Manager provides verbal feedback to the candidate with advice and guidance in identifying learning activities to strengthen and build competencies. Candidates may reapply for career advancement after a six-month period of time.

(3) If the Core Manager's decision is different from the Coach's recommendation or the panel's recommendation, the Core Manager prepares and forwards written justification along with the career ladder advancement application to the Assistant Director for Military Records for concurrence.

b. Review by the Assistant Director for Military Records. The Assistant Director for Military Records reviews career ladder advancement applications and justifications referred by the Core Managers when they support decisions that differ from the panel or Coach's recommendations. If the Assistant Director concurs with the Core Manager, the application is returned to the appropriate Core Manager for action. If the Assistant Director does not concur with the decision, the Assistant Director advises the Core Manager and ensures that appropriate action is taken.

c. Application Package. Original applications and attachments will be returned to candidates. Copies of applications and attachments will be forwarded to the candidates' coaches for retention in their employee individual development files.

CHAPTER 3. SCORING AND WEIGHTING OF ASSESSMENT TOOLS

1. Scoring of Assessment Tools.a. Self-Assessment and Coach Assessment.

(1) These assessments will be scored on a pass/fail basis. For candidates to pass the assessments, they must meet or exceed the minimum benchmark level for each of the competencies assessed.

(2) A "fail" on either assessment will not prevent candidates from continuing with the career advancement application process if they so desire.

b. Competency Exercise or Technical Competency Review Alternative.

(1) Candidate must meet minimum benchmark standards for either the competency exercise or the technical competency review to continue with the career advancement process.

(2) The competency exercise will be scored based on the number of correct answers on the technical competency exercises. A score of 95% must be achieved by candidates to pass the competency exercise and to continue with the career advancement process.

(3) The technical competency review alternative will be measured based on a 90 day review of the candidate's performance. Those seeking promotion to GS-5 or GS-6 must have an accuracy rate of Fully Successful or higher and SDA which is at or above the midpoint of the Fully Successful range for his/her current grade. Those seeking promotion to GS-7 or GS-8 must be at or above Fully Successful for both quality and SDA at his/her current grade level.

c. Structured Panel Review and/or Interview.

(1) This assessment will be scored on a pass/fail basis. For candidates to pass this assessment, they must meet or exceed the minimum benchmark level for each of the competencies assessed.

(2) A "fail" on either assessment will not prevent candidates from continuing with the career advancement application process if they so desire.

2. Weighting of Competencies and Assessment Tools.

a. All competencies in the competency profile have been determined to be essential to successful performance in the Core environment. The technical competencies have been determined to be critical and, therefore, receive more weight than the general competencies in the assessment, certification, and promotion process.

b. With the exception of the competency exercise, all of the assessment tools carry an equal weight in the assessment process.

c. The competency exercise is the critical assessment tool. A score of 95% must be achieved by candidates to be considered for promotion. A failing score on the competency exercise is disqualifying.

3. Impact of Assessment Tools on Recommendation/Decision to Promote.

a. If candidates pass all assessment tools, promotion would normally be recommended by the panel and approved by the Core Manager.

b. If applicants fail the competency exercise or technical competency review, they may not continue with the career advancement application process, but may retake either assessment after a 60 day development period.

c. If candidates pass the competency exercise or technical competency review, but fail one or more of the other assessment tools, the candidates may still be considered for promotion to the next higher grade level. The panel and/or the Core Manager will make such recommendations/decisions on a case-by-case basis through a thorough review of the application materials and other available information.

CHAPTER 4. PROGRAM INTEGRITY MAINTENANCE

1. Overview. To ensure that the Career Advancement Plan and its attendant programs, assessments, and documents retain their maximum effectiveness, it is necessary to impose information security protocols on certain aspects of the program.

2. Competency exercise.

a. Multiple sets of competency-based cases will be utilized in the competency exercise. All cases will assess the same set of competencies.

b. All competency exercise information is strictly confidential.

c. Release or unauthorized use of privileged information from the competency exercises is a chargeable offense under the NARA penalty guide for which disciplinary action may result. This may include reducing the candidate's score on the exercise to 0 (zero). Additionally, the candidate will be ineligible to retake the exercise for a period of six months.

3. Structured interview.

a. Multiple sets of competency-based structured interview questions will be utilized in the interviews. All questions will assess the same set of competencies.

b. All structured interview question information is confidential.

Release or unauthorized use of privileged information from the structured interview assessment is a chargeable offense under the NARA penalty guide for which disciplinary action may result. This may include reducing the candidate's score on the interview to 0 (zero). Additionally, the candidate will be ineligible to complete the career advancement application process for a period of six months.

CHAPTER 1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON RECORDS HOUSED AT CPR

1. Official Personnel Folders (OPF). An official personnel folder (OPF) is created for each employee of the Federal government. When an employee stops working for the Federal government, the OPF for that employee is sent here for storage. When a former employee is hired by a Federal agency, that agency should request the OPF from this Center.
  - a. Registry. The Registry file was started on April 1, 1965. Under the Registry system, each OPF is assigned a Registry number, which is entered into the computerized index, along with the employee's name, date of birth (DOB) and social security number (SSN). The OPF's are then filed in the stack area in Registry number order. When a record is requested, the employee's identification is used to conduct a computer search. If the requested record is part of the Registry file, the Registry number is printed on a computer pullslip that is used to locate the record.
  - b. Consolidated – The Consolidated file was started on January 1, 1952 and ended March 31, 1965 (when the Registry file was established). The Consolidated file is not indexed on the computer. The records are filed in order by the SOUNDEX codes assigned to the employee's last name (see Figure 1-1).
  - c. Agency – The Agency file contains records through December 31, 1951. The Agency file is a collection of separate runs, which contain the OPF's of separate Federal agencies. Most of these runs are in alphabetical order; some are in order by SOUNDEX code.
  - d. FNO. A foreign national overseas (FNO) is an employee of the Federal government who is not an U.S. citizen and who worked outside of the United States, its territories and possessions. Some FNO records are filed in the Registry, Consolidated and Agency files. Most FNO records are filed in the collection created specifically for FNO records. FNO records are added to the FNO files after being pulled from other collections. The FNO files are maintained in alphabetical order.
2. Employee Medical Folders. An employee medical folder (EMF) is created for each employee of the Federal government after receiving any medical treatment while employed. When an employee stops working for the Federal government, the EMF for that employee is sent here for storage. When a former employee is hired by a Federal agency, that agency should request the EMF from this Center.
  - a. Registry – The Registry file was started on October 1, 1984. Under the Registry system, each EMF is assigned a Registry number that is entered into the computerized index, along with the employee's name, date of birth (DOB) and social security number (SSN). The EMFs are filed in the stack area in registry number order. The employee identification is used to conduct a computer search when these records are requested. If the requested record is part of the registry file, the registry number is printed on a computer pull-slip that is used to locate the record.
  - b. Non-Registry – Employee medical folders dated prior to October 1, 1984 are retired under accession numbers. These numbers are not accessible through the registry file system.

3. Military Dependent Medical Records and Civilian Emergency. These inpatient and/or outpatient records regard the dependents of Army and Air Force military and other civilians who have received treatment at military medical installations.

Note. Navy dependents and the retired records of military service members are maintained at the NPRC Page facility.

- a. Inpatient records. Treatment received by an individual admitted for hospitalization are documented in inpatient records. Inpatient records are normally not combined. Records for different occurrences of hospitalization are created and filed separately from one another. An inpatient record is cut off when the individual is released from each occurrence of hospitalization. Records are normally retired to NPRC one year after the cut off date. Hospitals with a clinical record library normally retire records five-years following the cut off date. These records are filed by accession numbers and are not accessible through the Registry file system.
- b. Outpatient records. Examination and treatment records not related to hospitalization are considered outpatient records. Usually, an outpatient record for an individual is an accumulation of documents of services received from various facilities where the individual received treatment. This record "follows" the individual, and is usually transferred to the applicable facility when the individual relocates. Records are retired to NPRC one year after the cut off date from the last facility providing valid benefits. These records are filed by accession numbers and are not accessible through the Registry file system.

SOUNDEX Code Instructions

The SOUNDEX code system issued to create a code out of an individual's last name. The SOUNDEX code is always one letter and three numerical digits. The letter used in the code is the first letter of the name. The numerical digits are assigned to the other letter in the name as follows:

1 -- B F P V
 2 -- C G J K Q S X Z
 3 -- D T
 4 -- L
 5 -- M N
 6 -- R
 Not Coded -- A E I O U W H Y

EXAMPLE: S M A R T
 S 5 - 6 3 = S-563

1. Stop coding when three numerical digits are assigned to a name.

EXAMPLE: R I C H A R D S O N
 R - 2 - - 6 3 = R-263

2. If the name does not provide enough letters to assign three code numbers, complete the SOUNDEX code with zeroes. Zeroes appear only at the end of the SOUNDEX code, never before or between other numbers.

EXAMPLE: S A L T                      S H E A
 S - 4 3 = S-430                  S - - - = S-000

3. When two or more letters of the same code value appear together, code them as a single letter and assign only a single number.

EXAMPLE: S H E P P A R D
S - - - 1 - 6 3 = S - 163

4. If two letters of equal code value are separated by H or W, code them as a single letter and assign only one number. However, if two letters of equal value are separated by A, E, I O, U, or Y - code each letter and assign two numbers.

EXAMPLE: S A C H S                      S A L M O N
S - 2 - - = S - 200      S - 4 5 - 5 = S - 455

5. Disregard the second letter of a name if it has the same code value as the first letter of the name; do not assign a number.

EXAMPLE: S C H M I D T
S - - 5 - 3 - = S-530

6. Code hyphenated names (and names with more than one part) as if they were single, undivided words. Code abbreviations as if they were spelled out.

EXAMPLE: St. James, Richard                      Smith-Weber, Carole
S A I N T J A M E S                      S M I T H W E B E R
S - - 5 3 2 - - - - = S-532      S 5 - 3 - - - 1 - - = S-531

CHAPTER 2. GENERAL AND INITIAL INQUIRY PROCESSING

1. General processing. Mail clerks in the Mail and Data Input Section will receive, open, date tag, and sort all correspondence, forms and inquiries. Correspondence is received via U.S. Postal service, express mail, fax, and e-mail. Note: Routine request for records or information that are received by fax in other offices, should be forwarded to the Mail and Data Input Section for processing.
  - a. Date tagging. Mail clerks will attach only one date tag to each inquiry upon receipt in the mailroom. Date tags are stapled to the inquiry, along with the requestor's envelope, in the upper right corner of the correspondence.
  - b. Sorting. Mail clerks will sort incoming correspondence into forms and inquiries and forward to the mail analysts for further analysis and screening.
2. Analysis/screening of inquiries. Mail analysts in the Mail and Data Input Section will analyze and screen inquiries to perform any special tagging and handling required, including the following functions:
  - a. Tagging inquiries. Mail analysts will insure each inquiry has a date tag before further processing; and if missing, will attach a tag for the current date.
    - (1) Red tag. The analyst will attach a red tag to the date tag on each inquiry if it regards a:
      - Congressional - Correspondence received from a Congressional office on behalf of an individual.
      - White House – Correspondence received from the White House on behalf of an individual.

- VIP - Correspondence from a state Governor, head of a Federal agency, or similar official on behalf of an individual.
- Priority - Correspondence received with a reply due within 14 days or less.
- Complaint - Correspondence received indicating a complaint of a general nature or a specific nature, especially regarding previous service provided.

(2) Tracer tag. The analyst will attach a tracer tag to each inquiry that the requestor indicates is a "second request" or "follow-up request", or in some manner indicates a previous request has been sent and reply has not been received.

(3) FOIA tag/cover. The analyst will attach a FOIA tag and a NA Form 13028, FOIA Request to inquiries received from non-Federal requestors citing the FOIA.

(4) List case tag. The analyst will attach a list case tag to inquiries requesting information on two or more individuals.

3. Processing inquiries. The mail analyst will screen inquiry for authorization, and determine whether inquiry requires forwarding, return, normal processing, or other special handling.

a. Authorization/signature requirement. The mail analyst will screen inquiry to insure the proper signature authority is included which allows the release of the information requested.

(1) Government agency request. The signature of the former employee is not required if the request is from a government agency (federal, state or local).

(2) FOIA inquiry. Certain information has been designated by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) as releasable information under the Freedom of Information Act. This information is releasable to any requestor without the former employee's authorization, and includes name, position titles and occupational series, grades, annual salary rates, and duty stations.

Note. If a requestor seeks the releasable items and also seeks information about a former employee's ability and characteristics, DO NOT RETURN the request for signature. Personal information (abilities, characteristics, performance, etc) is not releasable under any circumstances.

(3) Inquiries on deceased individuals. A signed proof of death document is required for all requests regarding deceased individuals. When signature/proof of death is not included, the request must be returned to the requestor using the NA Form 13022.

Note: If subject's date of birth is over 100 years, a signature or proof of death is not required.

b. Incorrect/incomplete inquiries. Inquiries containing incorrect or incomplete information will be processed as follows:

(1) Missing or unclear information. Requests that do not contain sufficient information (name, SSN or DOB) to process, that contain conflicting information, or do not clearly state what is being requested, will be returned to the requestor on NA Form 13022, Returned Request Form. Indicate by the form check boxes the specific information that is missing and required, or add a statement on what information is needed to properly process the inquiry.

(a) Routine Correspondence. If an emergency, or short deadline, the Mailroom Supervisor will call for information.

(b) SF 127's and SF 184's. Do not return these forms if there is missing or incomplete information. The Mail Room Supervisor will call the Federal agency to obtain missing information. If negative, when run by SSN, then run by name and DOB, attaching all FAR's to request.

(2) Missing return address. If the inquiry does not provide a return address on the requestor's envelope and on the request itself, and does not contain a contact phone number, conduct a computer probe for file location and file without action. If no record on file, dispose into witness disposal. If the request contains a phone number, call the requester to obtain a complete mailing address. Use the following table to determine proper action, and when to return inquiry to requestor for more information:

Processing Inquiries with Incorrect/Incomplete Information
Inquiry/request is Missing	Conduct Computer Probe/Inquiry	Return inquiry to requestor	Action Required (Reply using NA Form 13022)
DOB and SSAN	No	Yes	Check boxes requesting DOB, SSAN and employing agency, employment dates if not provided.
SSAN	Yes, by Name and DOB	Yes, If computer inquiry is negative	Check boxes requesting SSAN, DOB, employing agency, employment dates if not provided.
		No, if computer inquiry is positive	Forward to Agency Reference Service Section for action.
DOB	Yes, if SSAN is provided	No, if computer inquiry is positive	Forward to Agency Reference Service Section for action.

		Yes, if computer inquiry is Negative	Check boxes requesting DOB, SSAN, employing agency, employment dates if not provided
Insufficient information to determine purpose of request	No	Yes	Check box indicating: "Please state exactly what information or documents you need."
Return Address (missing in correspondence and on inquiry envelope, phone number not available)	Yes, to determine file location, if SSAN or DOB is provided, then:
	If record on file	No	File inquiry in record with no action.
	If record not on file	No	Dispose of inquiry into witness disposal.

- c. Court orders, subpoenas, requests from attorneys and copying services. Forward these inquiries to the Fee Clerk for processing.
- d. Containing money orders, cash or checks. Forward inquiries containing any form of payment to the Fee Clerk for processing.
- e. FOIA. Inquiries citing or requesting information under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), Public Law 93-502, or 32CFR 86, or 5 USC 552 require the following actions:
  - (1) Respond to requestor by completing and providing requestor a NA Form 13034, Notification of Receipt of FOIA Request.
  - (2) Forward FOIA inquiries received from third parties to the Fee Clerk, since third party FOIA requests are subject to processing fees.
  - (3) Forward non-chargeable inquiries to Reference Service for processing.
- f. Requests received from NPRC (MPR). Date-stamp the top of inquiries from NPRC Military Personnel Records (MPR). A date tag is attached only if received from MPR without a date tag. DO NOT ATTACH A SECOND DATE TAG. Separate inquiries into civilian employment and dependent medical requests, and route for normal processing.
- g. Congressional cases. Attach a "Congressional" sheet to all Congressional, White House or VIP inquiries. Forward to Reference Service branch without any further action.

- h. List cases. Inquiry that requests information and/or documents on two or more individuals. Conduct a computer probe if applicable and forward list cases to Reference Service for processing. Note. Return requests from Federal agencies received on a Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Folder, when form is a request for information on more than one individual.
- i. Complaint cases. Examples of complaint cases are shown in the chart below. Process inquiries citing a complaint in the following manner:

(1) General complaints - Forward inquiries citing a complaint of a general nature regarding NPRC services or procedures to Reference Service.

(2) Specific complaints – Forward inquiries citing a complaint and specifying that an error has occurred in processing a previous response to the Audit Staff.

Examples of complaints:

- Failure to provide all or part of the information requested in a previous inquiry, for any reason (i.e., information not available in record, not found information denied incorrect information provided).
  - Failure to respond to a previous inquiry entirely or within a reasonable amount of time.
  - Refusal to accept and process a telephone inquiry.
  - Release of information or records to unauthorized sources.
  - Charging incorrect fees for services.
  - Incorrectly forwarding an inquiry to another office or agency for processing.
  - Returning inquiry to requestor for additional information when information was provided by requestor, or available in the personnel record.
- j. Military records. Inquiries requesting information from, or regarding military personnel, medical, academic, tax, organizational, or training records are processed at NPRC MPR (Page facility). (Exception: Entrance and separation military X-rays are processed at CPR). Forward inquiries regarding military records to:

Mailroom, NPRC Military Personnel Records (MPR)
St. Louis, MO 63132-5100

- k. Dependent records of a Navy service member. Inquiries requesting information regarding a dependent medical record of a Navy service member will also be forwarded to NPRC MPR (9700 Page facility) for processing.

Note. When an inquiry requests information regarding military and civilian records, process the request for records at CPR first. The inquiry will be forwarded to MPR for action after CPR's response has been prepared in the reference service branch.

- l. Non-reference inquiries. Requests for general information on civilian records holdings, NARA or CPR functions or policies, potential research projects, or regarding procedures for submitting reference requests, are examples of non-reference inquiries. These are inquiries that do not pertain to information within individual record holdings at CPR. Forward all non-reference inquiries to the Chief, Reference Service Branch.
- m. FNO service. If the inquiry involves FNO employment, do not return the request to obtain a social security number. Most FNO employees will not have a SSAN. Do not return if request indicates DOB is unknown, unavailable, or contains a partial DOB. When appropriate, conduct a computer probe by name, date of birth and forward to Search section for processing.

- n. Emergency relief agency service. If the request involves employment with any of the emergency relief agencies (i.e., CCC, WPA, NYA) do not return the request for more information. Code the request "C5" and forward to the Correspondence Section. (See Figure 2-1 for a list of commonly used acronyms, including most emergency relief agencies.)
- o. Genealogical requests. If the next of kin (NOK) is requesting information or documents regarding an individual, and does not provide adequate information to process, do not return the request. Code the request "C6" and forward to the Correspondence Section.
- p. Requests for records not retired at NPRC.

(1) Some agencies do not retire records to NPRC, since some federal service includes Government service outside of the Office of Personnel Management's (OPM) record keeping authority, and are not under the Government-wide system of records (OPM/GOVT-1). Partial listings of some of these agencies are:

- Restricted agencies - Agencies listed in the Operating Manual, The Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping (see Figure 2-2).
- Additional restricted agencies - A partial listing of other agencies known as restricted, and outside of OPM/GOVT-1 authority (see Figure 2-3).
- D.C. Government agencies - A partial listing of District of Columbia (D.C.) agencies known as restricted, and outside of OPM/GOVT-1 authority (see Figure 2-4).

(2) If the request involves only employment with any of these agencies, and the computer inquiry is negative, return the request with this statement on NA Form 13022:

The agency named in your request does not retire personnel records to this Center. Please submit your request directly to that agency.

- q. Requests received via fax machine. Inquiries for copies of documents/employment verification are to be processed under the normal guidelines (see Chapter 3). Requests for transfer of records are to be processed as usual (see Chapter 4).

CHAPTER 3. DETAILED PROCESSING OF CORRESPONDENCE

1. General. Mail analysts in the CPR Mail and Coding Section will perform the following actions in processing inquiries, forms and correspondence:
  - Analyze forms and correspondence to assign the appropriate grade level and routing code to inquiry/correspondence.
  - Conduct a computer probe and obtain a Finding Aid Report (FAR) on each inquiry.
  - Forward inquiry/correspondence to the Search Section for retrieval of applicable record.

2. Grade level coding and routing. Mail analysts determine the proper grade level coding, and the appropriate routing of correspondence for providing a response to the inquiry. Look for key words in the inquiry to determine exactly what information is being requested. Assign routing codes to indicate the appropriate processing office and grade level ability of processor. If the inquiry requests more than one type of information, assign the highest level routing code. See component part of a routing code chart, below.

Note. If the correct routing code cannot be determined, write a brief summary of the problem, and give the inquiry to the Lead/Supervisor of the mailroom. Do not seek information from reference service section personnel.

Component parts of a routing code

Work unit – The first component is the letter of the routing code indicates the work unit responsible for completion of an inquiry - C – Correspondence Section

Grade level – The second component is the numerical digit indicating the processor's grade level. This coincides with the GS rating scale. (For example a grade level code 4 is a GS-4 level assignment)

Generally, correspondence will be assigned one of the following codes based on the information or document(s) requested. (See Figure 3-1 for a more detailed list of routing codes.)

Code: C4

- Copies of personnel documents
- Copies of personnel folder
- Employment verification
- Dates of employment verification

Code: C4M

- Documents from medical folders
- Medical folder requests from other than Federal government agencies
- Asbestos litigation (Note: forward to Fee Desk)
- SF 184 containing USPS address in block 5 or as the return address

Code: C4 + M

- Request for both OPF and EMF

Code: C4F

- Restricted Agency in block 5 or return address
- Multiple persons with the same SSN
- SF 127 or SF 184 with no return address

Code: C5

- Payroll information
- Retirement contribution
- Buy back retirement fund
- Exact employment dates
- Payroll information requests from state unemployment offices (ES Form 931)
- CCC (Civilian Conservation Corp)

Code: C6

- Family history, genealogy
- US Postal rural carriers
- Subpoenas, court orders
- List Case (prior to registry)

3. Finding Aid Report (FAR). A computer pullslip generated from the Registry system. The pullslip will indicate either a file location or the name and address of the current or former Federal employer. The FAR will be attached to the inquiry prior to forwarding to Search or the Reference service branch for action.

4. Registry Number. A computerized indexed number assigned to an OPF or EMF showing the file location.

- a. Registry Number - Positive. A positive hit exists if the computer probe indicates a Record exists in the registry file. The registry number is printed on the computer pullslip. Insure the routing code is written on the request and the pullslip. Use a paper clip to attach the pullslip to the front of request. Place all requests having a code "C" in the "C" box.
- b. Registry Number – Negative. A negative exists when the computer pullslip does not indicate a registry number for the requested record. A negative may be indicated by a "Not found" or an "E" or "S" entry, or when the registry number provided does not concern the record being requested.

(1) Negatives – Correspondence Section action. Forward the following types of negatives, with negative pullslips attached to the back of request to the Correspondence Section for action. Routing codes on these requests should be coded "C5":

- Requests received on PS Form 316, US Postal Service Records Information Request
- Inquiries coded "C5" or "C6"
- Inquiries submitted for the following agencies (for which folders were not always created) will be coded "C5":
  - Forest Service
  - Post Office (Christmas/summer/other short periods)
  - National Park Service
  - Bureau of Reclamation
  - Relief agencies (CCC, WPA, etc)

(2) Negatives – Search and File Section action. Send negatives regarding the following type of requests, with negative pullslip attached, to the Search and File Section:

- (a) FNO employment - Indicate FNO on the request.
- (b) Farm Credit Bank records
- (c) Medical records – (Must contain employing agency name)

(d) Regarding employment before April 1965 (exception: PS Form 316) - Assign the SOUNDEX Code (see Figure 1-1) for each last name given in the request.

Note. If the date of separation is before 1952, or if request regards medical records, the employing agency name must be provided. If agency name is not provided, return request to requestor.

(3) "C4" requests that have pullslips with only "E" or "S" hits. Send this type of request back to the requestor. Use NA Form 13056, check box referring to last employing agency, attach white copy of pullslip behind reply form.

EXCEPTION: If the request indicates that the requestor has already contacted the last or current employer without success, assign a "C4" code and send to the Reference Service section. Any other type of requests that require a composed reply should also be coded "C4" and forwarded to the Reference Service section.

(4) Negatives – Return to requestor. Most other negatives will be returned to the requestor using NA Form 13022, Returned Request Form, or NA Form 13056, Response Letter, using either one of the following statements:

- On NA Form 13022 check the box which states:

"We are unable to locate the requested record based on the information you have provided. Please check the information contained in your request. If you can furnish any corrected information or any additional information to verify the claimed service, please resubmit your request."

- On NA Form 13056 check the box which states:

"A search of our records did not reveal a record of the claimed Federal employment. If additional information or documentation can be submitted to verify the information shown in the request or to otherwise support the claimed employment, we will make a further search. If you resubmit, please return all correspondence."

(5) Registry Numbers – conflicting information. The following circumstances require the actions indicated when information on the pullslip is questionable or conflicts with inquiry information:

Questionable Pullslip Information Action
Circumstance	Return inquiry to requestor	Action	Routing
Former employee is a woman and records filed under more than one name	No	Attach pullslip	Forward to Ref Svc for action

CHAPTER 4. PROCESSING REQUESTS FOR OFFICIAL PERSONNEL FOLDERS (OPFS) AND EMPLOYEE MEDICAL FOLDERS (EMFS)

1. Processing requests for OPFs. Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Record, is the form required for Federal agencies to request the transfer of personnel records. If only one copy is received, route to mailroom batch clerk, do not return. Batch clerk will make the additional copy. These requests are also known as "Loans and Transfers". Processing requires a computer probe. Enter employee identification to obtain a Registry number to locate the requested record:

- a. Registry number-Positive. A computer probe is positive when the resulting computer pullslip reveals a registry number for the record requested. Mark the routing code on the Finding Aid Report (FAR) as "OPF". Update the file location. Use a paper clip to attach the pullslip to the request. Place all requests that have "OPF"code in the "S" box for action.
- b. Registry number-Negative. A computer probe is negative when the resulting computer pullslip reveals no registry number exists for the record requested. A negative may be indicated by a "Not Found, E or S" entry, or a registry number for a record not requested.

2. Processing requests for EMFs. Standard Form 184, Request for Employee Medical Folder is the form required for Federal agencies to request the transfer of employee medical folders. (Optional Form 11, Reference Request – Federal Records, and DD Form 877, Request for Medical/Dental Records or Information, may also be used) and should be submitted in duplicate. (Make an additional copy if only one copy is received, do not return inquiry.) These requests, also known as records transfers, require a computer probe, by entering employee identification to obtain a Registry number to locate the requested record:

- a. Positive probe. A computer probe is positive when the resulting computer pullslip reveals a registry number for the record requested. Mark the routing code on the Finding Aid Report (FAR) as "EMF". Update the file location. Use a paper clip to attach the pullslip to the request. Place all requests that have "EMF"code in the "S" box for action.
- b. Negative probe. A computer probe is negative when the resulting computer pullslip reveals no registry number exists for the record requested. A negative may be indicated by a "Not Found, E or S" entry, or when a registry number provided is not for the record requested. Process negative pullslips as indicated on the following chart:

Negative Pullslip Action
If pullslip is NEGATIVE and regards	Return inquiry to requestor	Action	Routing
SF 127 with "E or S" entry	Yes	Staple white copy of pullslip to top of SF 127.	Return to requestor.
	No	If request shows separation date during or prior to April 1965	Change code to "C4F", assign SOUNDEX code(s) for each last name and forward to Agency Reference Service Section.

SF 127 with "Not Found" entry	No	If request shows separation date during or prior to April 1965	Change code to "C4F", assign SOUNDEX code(s) for each last name and forward to Agency Reference Service Section.
	Yes	If request submitted by agency that retired record to CPR	Check box on SF 127 stating:
			"Folder not located. For a former employee . . .
		If separation date is less than 6 months	"Folder not received. Suggest you contact last employing office."
		If separation date is more than 6 months	"Our search did not reveal a record of claimed civilian Federal employment. Please submit any additional information or documentation that will help verify this employment."
If no separation date is shown	"Further information is needed before we can locate the record needed to process your request. Please complete the items marked below." (Check appropriate boxes)

SF 184 from State Dept Showing accession number in remarks	No	Run FARs (should be negative) and staple to back of request	Forward to Agency Reference Service Section
SF 184 with "Not Found" entry, "E" or "S" hit	Yes	Staple pullslip to back of request.	Return to requestor.
SF 184 showing only an "OPF" location	No	Attach pullslip to front if separation date is prior to 1/10/1984.	Forward to Agency Reference Service Section.
	Yes	If dates are after 10/1/1984	Return to requestor. "Folder not received. Suggest you contact last Federal employer."

3. Improperly submitted inquiries for records transfers. Federal agency requests for personnel records (OPFs) must be submitted on Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Record. Federal agency requests for medical records (EMFs) must be submitted on Standard Form 184, Optional Form 11 or DD Form 877. Improperly submitted requests for records transfers will be returned to the requestor under the guidelines on the following chart:

Processing Improperly Submitted Requests for OPFs/EMFs/Medical Records
Reasons for Return	Return Inquiry to Requestor	Reply to requestor on NA Form 13022 and check the following statement on the form (or perform other action indicated):
Insufficient copies received (two required)	No	Make a duplicate copy and process as usual.

Federal agency requesting Records Transfer submitted using other than SF 127	Yes	A request from a Federal agency for the transfer of an OPF must be submitted on a Standard Form 127, Request for Official Personnel Folder, or an authorized equivalent. Please resubmit your request on SF 127 in duplicate.
Federal agency requests Medical records using SF 127	Yes	Standard Form 127 may not be used to request the transfer of medical records. Please submit Standard Form 184, Request for Employee Medical Folder in duplicate. (Optional Form 11, Reference Request – Federal Records Center; or DD Form 877, Request for Medical/Dental Records or Information may be used.)
Federal agency requests multiple records using a single SF 127 or SF 184	Yes	Please submit a separate Standard Form 127 (or change SF 127 to SF 184 if applicable) for each individual record being requested.
Non-Federal request using SF 127 or SF 184	Yes	The request form you submitted is only for the use of Federal agencies. Please submit your request in letter form. Do not return SF 127 or SF 184 to requestor.
Federal agency requests employment info, transcripts or document copies using SF 127	Yes	Standard Form 127 may not be used to request information or copies of documents. Please resubmit you request on agency letterhead. (Optional Form 11, Reference Request – Federal Records Center, may be used.)
Federal agency requests Pay information, or days worked on SF127	No, if regarding the following agencies: Forest Service National Park Service Post Office (short periods of service) Bureau of Reclamation	Process as normal, forward to Personnel Reference Service Section for action.

	Relief agencies (CCC, WPA, etc)
	Yes	Standard Form 127 may not be used to request information or copies of documents. Please resubmit you request on agency letterhead. (Optional Form 11, Reference Request – Federal Records Center, may be used.)
DOB and SSAN Missing	Yes	Further information is needed before we can locate the record needed to process your request. Please complete the items marked below: (SSAN and DOB)
Return address missing/incomplete or unclear	Yes, if phone number is not available	Please complete the return address block on all copies of SF 127 (or change SF 127 to SF 184 if applicable).
	No, if phone number is available	Call requestor to obtain complete address.

4. Unclear return address. If the SF127 does not clearly indicate that the requestor is a Federal agency, apply the guidelines below for returning or accepting requests and use the following statement on the NA Form 13022:

The return address must clearly show the name of the Federal agency with which your office is affiliated. Please enter the agency.

a. Accept the request if the return address gives the name or abbreviation of a Federal agency or military department. Some examples are:

- USAF or AF (Air Force)
- USA or DA (Army/Department of the Army)
- USN (Navy)
- USMC or MC (Marine Corps)
- USDA (U.S. Agriculture Department)
- IRS (Internal Revenue Service)
- USPS (United States Postal Service)

b. Accept the request if the return address is a military installation and the address contains one of the following terms:

- Adjutant General (AG)

- Civilian Personnel Office (CPO)
- Commander (CMDR)
- Headquarters (HQ)

c. Return the request if the return address contains only an office symbol with the name of a military installation. The return address must give the Federal agency name because some military installations may include offices on non-Federal activities such as contractors or private business concerns. Some examples are:

- AFB (Air Force Base)
- NAS (Naval Air Station)
- APO (Army Post Office)
- Ft. (Fort)

5. Processing SF127's from, and/or for "Restricted Agencies". If the return address on the SF127 is from a restricted agency (see partial listings of restricted agencies in Chapter 2, Figures 2-2, 2-3 and 2-4) or if section 5 of the SF 127 contains a "restricted agency", code the request "C4F". If the computer probe is positive, forward request to the Agency Reference Service Section for processing. If the computer probe is negative, process request as you would any other negative SF 127.

CHAPTER 5. PROCESSING SPECIAL REQUEST AND GENERAL PURPOSE INQUIRIES

1. Processing special request inquiries. The following types of inquiries are examples of special requests. Mail Analysts will perform the actions indicated below to process requests regarding:

- a. Locators. Requests received from the OPM, Washington, DC office in attempts to locate the whereabouts of current/former employees. If the pullslip for a locator request contains only one Registry number with a "refile" location and there are no other items on the pullslip, stamp the pullslip with the locator stamp. Attach the pullslip to the request and forward to the Search section, keeping all locators together. If the pullslip shows any other entry ("not found" – all "E" or "S" hits; any Registry number showing a "folder" location), attach the pullslip to the back of the request and forward to the Personnel Reference Service Section supervisor.
- b. Personnel Records filed in the vault. When the pullslip contains a Registry number preceded with "OPF Vault", deliver the request to the supervisor of the Agency Reference Service Section.
- c. Requests for forwarding service. Conduct computer inquiry if the request contains the necessary identifying information. DO NOT RETURN the request for more information. Send ALL request (whether positive or negative) directly to the Personnel Reference Service Section supervisor.
- d. Requests which contain lists of personnel folders retired to NPRC in the same shipment as a requested folder. Occasionally, a request is submitted with lists of personnel folders that were retired to NPRC at the same time as the requested folder. Usually, this means that a previous request was submitted and we were not able to located the requested folder. Give all such requests to the Mail and Data Input Section Supervisor or Lead for review.
- e. Requests for information not included in the coding lists. If a request is related to civilian personnel information, but if requested information is not shown in the lists of routing codes, do not code the request. Send the request directly to the Personnel

Reference Service Section supervisor. Examples include:

- The history of post offices or rural routes
- The verification of civilian prisoner of war (POW) status
- The history or status of "star route" postal carriers

- f. Requests for medical record and personnel record. If a requesting agency properly requests both the OPF and EMF on a former employee by submitting both SF 127 and SF 184 (or equivalent), code both forms accordingly; keep both together and forward to the Agency Reference Service Section Lead Technician.
- g. Request from the MPR. NPRC MPR (9700 Page) often requests verification of military service information using NA Form 13026, MPR-CPR Request/Reply Form. The form requests information from one or more of the following sources: a voucher, a x-ray, an OPF, or combination thereof. All requests received on this form should be forwarded to the Personnel Reference Service Section supervisor.
- h. Unemployment claims. Requests from the State of Missouri Division of Employment Security (see sample - Figure 5-1) for information on former/current employees of NPRC are to be forwarded to:

National Archives & Records Administration
 C/O TALX UC eXpress
 P. O. Box 66945
 St. Louis, MO 63166

i. Request for General Purpose Records.

- a. IRS. Requests for reference service on tax records retired here by the Internal Revenue Service are delivered to the Agency Reference Service Section with no further action from the mailroom.
- b. General Purpose. The Agency Reference Service Section is responsible for reference service regarding general purpose records at NPRC (111 Winnebago), including Postal Service money orders, Treasury checks, local agency records, Virgin Island Corporation records and other miscellaneous types. Requests for these records are delivered to the Agency Reference Service Section with no further action from the mailroom.
- c. Military Dependent Medical, Civilian Emergency, Military Entrance/Separation X-rays. NPRC (111 Winnebago) has the medical records of Army and Air Force military dependents; civilians treated at military medical installations; and military entrance/separation x-rays. Requests for these types of records are forwarded to Reference Service Branch with no further action from the mailroom.

The Appendix contains history, guidance and considerations used in properly processing PA inquiries. This includes detailed historical data, definitions, and guidance issued at the time of the occupation of the islands through liberation and following. This documentation is commonly referred to in providing accurate assessments of valid PA service since it defines what constitutes valid service dates, and other guidelines. Archive Technicians must be familiar with this extensive background, history and guidance to properly process PA inquiries. Guidance includes:
  - Name variations, and letter variation listings
  - Aliases
  - Valid types of service, i.e., USAFFE, Guerrilla
  - Valid service dates
  - Valid locations where service was performed
  - Valid units and their dates of operation
  - Understanding Terminology regarding the PA
  - Criteria for determining casualty status
  - Valid affiant information
  - Invalid affiants
5. Forms. This memorandum provides for the use of internal forms, inquiry forms from other Government agencies, and archival forms (used as a matter of record). (Chapter 2, Figures 2-1 through 2-46 contains examples or samples of the forms listed below.)

- a. Internal forms and forms provided by authorized Government agencies. These are forms originating from other Government agencies; or are forms originating from this Center, furnished in response to inquiries received. Some of these forms are completed concurrent with processing an inquiry, and filed as a matter of record in the claims folder. This is accomplished by documenting the service-related evidence found in archival documents, from the individual's claims folder, or from information provided by an authorized Government agency. Allowable evidence or proof of service received from the veteran or their representative may also be documented on these forms.

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL INFORMATION, RESPONSIBILITIES AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. General.

- a. Reference services. The responsibility for providing reference services on the collection of PA records and archives holdings was transferred by Memorandum of Agreement from the U.S. Army Reserve Personnel Command (AR-PERSCOM) to NPRC in October 1999. Reference services for authorized agencies and for individuals are provided for under provisions of the Missing Persons Act (MPA) of 1940, the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), PL 77-490, the National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940, the Nationality Act of 1940, Immigration & Naturalization, the Social Security Act, PL 734, 81st Congress, as amended, and other laws granting Veterans Affairs benefits.
- b. Guidance. Reference material used to process PA inquiries includes historical data, and may be extracts of guidance, rosters, listings, etc., issued by the War Department, the US Army, authorized agencies, such as the Veterans Administration, or the Philippine government. Much of this information is dated from the time of occupation to after the liberation of the islands. For example, the "Reference Manual from the Recovered Personnel Records Branch" (AR-PERSCOM) is a consolidated collection of previously issued guidance, and contains the following:
- Circular No. 305, War Department, July 18, 1944
  - Staff Memorandum No. 14, HQ, US Army Forces Western Pacific, Recovered Personnel Division, titled Interpretation of the Missing Persons Act, December 27, 1945
  - War Department Plan for Casualty Administration Upon Reoccupation of Philippines, November 7, 1944 and C1, March 21, 1945
  - Veterans Administration Technical Bulletin, December 3, 1951
  - Military Order, Organized Military Forces of the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines Called into Service of the Armed Forces of the US, July 26, 1941
  - General Orders, HQ USAFFE relative to "call into service" and "induction" of PA Units.
  - Listing of Historical and Important Dates 1941-1949 and their significance to the Philippine Army
  - Dates of Capitulation of Areas within the Philippine Islands to the Japanese Forces
  - Notes of the 121st Infantry, dated April 12, 1949 regarding the Japanese Invasion of the Islands
  - List of Pre-War Philippine Constabulary Units
  - Executive Order No. 68, President of the Philippines, titled Demobilization of Elements of the Philippine Army and other Guerrilla Units in the Field, September 26, 1945
  - Circular No. 59, Commonwealth of the Philippines Army Headquarters, APO 500, titled USAFFE Personnel to Report for Duty, July 3, 1945
  - Notes on the Philippines Army (1941-1942) and bona fide USAFFE Units, including mobilization dates
  - Dates of Last Payments Prior to Surrender

- Guide for determining dates (of death or joining a guerrilla unit) when exact dates are not in records of evidence
- Monthly Rates of Pay (Philippine Army)

2. Content of Philippine Army military organizational records

- a. General information. The NPRC portion of the total PA archives holdings consists of PA military organizational records. It does not include records of Americans who served in the Philippines during World War II, that is U.S. Army members or Philippine Scouts. The PA military organizational records are used to establish identity and MPA status regarding Philippine Army USAFFE personnel and recognized guerrillas, and include:

- Guerrilla alpha card files
- USAFFE alpha card files
- Guerrilla casualty rosters
- Common name files
- Individual letters of recognition
- Initial and revised guerrilla rosters (reconstructed)
- Troop and casualty rosters
- Prisoner of war (POW) rosters
- Payroll records, NSLI records
- Provincial hospital records
- Manila tribune
- Bad affiant records (card files)
- Discharges/orders
- Special/general orders
- Claims folders (alphabetical order, by name)
- Various reference manuals and informational listings

- b. Claims folders. Part of the military organizational records referred to as "claims folders" are actually reconstructed records, which were and are created in response to claims made under provisions of the MPA. They are not official military personnel records comparable to Military Personnel Record Jacket (MPRJ) 201 file folders.

3. Inquiry processing.

- a. Authority. All inquiries are processed as provided for under the provisions of the FOIA and the MPA, and include P.L. 77-490; Title 38, U.S.C; P.L. 101-649, P.L. 734, P.L. 99-145, AR 20-50, AR 25-50, and AR 672-5-1.

- b. Categories of inquiries. Inquiries received for processing primarily consist of agency and individual.

(1) Agency inquiries. Inquiries received for processing most frequently originate from the following three authorized Government agencies:

- Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). Inquiries regarding verification of service for benefit entitlement.
- Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). Inquiries concerning establishing eligibility for naturalization based on service.
- Social Security. Inquiries for verification of service to determine eligibility for Supplemental Security Income based on service.

(2) Individual inquiries. Inquiries are also received from individuals, most frequently Filipino Nationals, from their next of kin, or from their legal representatives.

- c. Types of inquiries processed. Following are the types of inquiries most often received for processing. Detailed processing procedures are explained in Chapter 2 of this memorandum, and in the Appendix.

- Statement of Service (SOS)
- Immigration and Naturalization (INS)
- Department of Veteran's Affairs (VA)
- Special Correspondence (White House, Congressional, or FOIA)
- Routine Correspondence (Turn-around, and miscellaneous correspondence of a general nature, or from an individual requesting general information regarding benefits)
- Claims and Appeals
- Decorations and Awards

- d. Initial receipt/processing. PA inquiries are entered into the center case management database upon receipt in the mailroom, and forwarded to the PA Section for processing. The PA support person accesses this system to enter further data unique to searching and processing PA casework such as possible name variations, date of birth, unit/organization in which veteran served. A search request/report is created and attached to each inquiry from the database information. Inquiries are sent to PA searcher for record information retrieval in the PA organizational records.

(1) PA Archives Search. The searcher determines the type search required, claims folder, archives, or both from information on search report and inquiry. Search is performed alphabetically, by name, alternate spellings of name, and other information on inquiry. The searcher will enter the search results on the search report for each inquiry, and provides inquiries, claims folders, and search reports to the support person for assignment of case to PA technician.

(2) PA Archives Technician. The technician accesses the database to enter appropriate tracking information regarding each inquiry throughout processing (i.e., suspense of case when information is required/requested from other agencies for case completion) Processing of inquiries by the PA archives technician includes the following considerations, and is detailed in Chapter 2:

(a) Military organizational records. Claims folders and other military organizational records and archival information are filed alphabetically by the subject individual's name or listed alphabetically on rosters. In many cases, numerous files may be found under the same or similar spelling of the last, first, and middle name. It is common for Filipinos to use the mother's maiden name as their middle name/initial. Errors were common when the original processing of PA veterans occurred following the end of the war. Incorrect spelling of surnames, and transposed middle and surnames were common. The following is also used to locate and match the correct claims folder with the subject of an inquiry: organization, grade, service number, place of birth, date of birth, home address, next of kin, and mother's name. In addition, name and letter variations listings are consulted for alternate letter use of letters in surnames, and cross-checking common alternate spellings of surnames (See Chapter 2, Figure 2-47).

(b) Positive identification. Considering the varied sources of information in the records collection, processing inquiries requires research of a detailed, investigative nature. It is necessary to crosscheck several sources of information in this collection to retrieve and provide reliable data. Extreme care must be exercised in identifying and correctly matching a particular claims folder with the subject of the inquiry. Positive identification can be determined only when identifying data of record agrees with inquiry data.

(c) Proof of Service. Certain records provide sufficient proof of military status, either as a member of the Philippine Army USAFFE, or a recognized guerrilla. These are the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) records, military orders, USAFFE and approved Guerrilla rosters, hospital and POW records. This service data evidence is provided to the applicable authorized Government agency for their determination of certain veteran benefits.

(d) Scope of the Missing Persons Act, Public Law 77-490, as amended. A MPA determination is a decision, signed by a properly delegated official, establishing a record of status, death, and other essential dates, exclusive of determinations of facts of dependency. Under the provisions of Section 5 of this Act, reviews are made of the cases of persons missing or missing in action for continuing the missing status, making finds of death, and determining the date upon which death shall be presumed to have occurred for purposes specified therein. These determinations are made when records are incomplete or conflicting and are based on regulations and policies in force at the time. MPA "determinations" covered under this memorandum regard providing reference services for members of the Philippine Commonwealth Army (including recognized guerrillas) who were called into the service of the United States Armed Forces between July 26, 1941 and June 30, 1946. MPA determinations are performed by the requesting agency based on the service data provided from the PA military organizational records.

(e) Evidence considerations and evaluation of evidence. Evidence found in the Military organizational records is used in conjunction with other available service data to facilitate establishing and documenting PA military service by the authorized requesting agency. Extreme care must be exercised to identify authenticity and applicability of evidence as pertains to the inquiry at hand by comparing:

- Consistency of all testimony submitted by the claimant with evidence on file and known historical data, and determining whether an affiant's (defined as "one who swears to an affidavit") military service is established by archives, and if he was in a position to give testimony regarding the alleged soldier.
- The affiant's testimony with evidence accumulated in the claims folder of the alleged soldier, noting the degree of consistency between them.
- Acceptability of evidence will be recorded on NPRC Test Form 02-03. If evidence is not consistent and reasonable doubt exists as to acceptability, the decision should be against acceptance, and should be noted as such on this form.

(f) Bad Affiants. When a Memorandum for Record is found in the file identifying the person as an unacceptable affiant because of testimony which contained false statements and misrepresentation of facts, no further action will be taken to evaluate any affidavits (current or past) prepared by that person. All folders of bad affiants will be marked by a blue horizontal line or band down the center of both sides of the claims folder (approximately an inch wide) to facilitate easy identification of bad affiant folders.

- i. Affidavits or certificates evidence. This type of evidence may be used alone or in conjunction with any other evidence. Statements of affiants must be subscribed and sworn to before persons authorized to administer oaths, i.e., Justice, Judges, Justices of the Peace, Clerks of Court, Notaries Public, Chiefs or Assistant Chief of Bureaus and Offices, Provincial Governors, Mayors, and Commissioned Officers of the Philippine Commonwealth Army, and Philippine Constabulary in active service. Statements of commissioned officers of the Philippine Army or Philippine Constabulary may be accepted even if not under oath provided they were made while in active service and in the form of a certificate (not required for statements of RA, AUS, or PS officers). Certificates of public official narrating certain facts that are of record in their offices are also acceptable. Statements of other persons not under oath may be acceptable if witnessed by DA Field Investigator of the former AGRD. To qualify as an affiant for another person, the affiant must be in a position to make the statements to which he is attesting and if attesting to service of another, the affiant's own service must be established. Statements made in affidavits must be checked with the affiant's claim folder or archival information to verify his competency. There are additional restrictions when using this type of evidence. All affidavits must be dated prior to July 1, 1948, and already be part of the individual's claims folder.

ii. Processing Affidavits. These affidavits (Form Numbers 23, 49 and 649) were completed by soldiers at the time of return to military control and are identified as "Affidavits for Philippine Commonwealth Army Personnel". They were also considered as applications for arrears in pay under the MPA and were generally filed prior to July 1, 1948. A Processing Affidavit or an Arrears in Pay claim form must be present in the claims folder to process a certification of service.

iii. Next of Kin Affidavits. Form 3 (accompanied by Form 7), Form 3a, Form 9, and Form 48 for military personnel were completed by the next of kin in cases where the subject died prior to return to military control or prior to processing.

(g) Documentation of evidence. NPRC Test Form 02-03 must be completed regarding all applicable service data evidence on the subject individual of every inquiry, whether negative or positive, from information obtained from the military organizational records.

i. Positive evidence. If after analyzing all available archival information, an individual's service with the USAFFE or recognized guerrilla forces on or after December 8, 1941, can be established, positive evidence is documented on NPRC Test Form 02-03. In addition, a NPRC Test Form 02-05 or 02-05A will be prepared when service has been established under the MPA.

ii. Negative evidence. If insufficient archival information is available to establish an individual's alleged service with the USAFFE or recognized guerrilla forces on or after December 8, 1941, the individual will be determined to have no status under the Act, or negative service is established. If negative status is established, the Archives Technician will complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, and finalize the inquiry.

(h) Inquiries requiring additional information. If additional information is needed to resolve discrepancies with the inquiry and military organizational files, requests for additional information may be sent outside NPRC. In certain exceptional cases, it may be necessary to request documentation through the VA, from Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines, Camp Emilio Aguinaldo, Quezon City, Philippines. Such requests may be necessary when a PA USAFFE veteran is alleged to have been discharged on or after Jun 30, 1946, and available evidence indicates individual may be been court-martialed or discharged other than honorably. A request may be sent for court-martial information or finding of the proceedings of the Board of Officers. Other documentation may be requested, from authorized offices, or from the individual, such as finance records, including all pay and allowances, insurance data used to identify subject and beneficiaries, death certificates or reports and basis for issuance, and processing papers on Return to Military Control (RTMC).

CHAPTER 2. PROCESSING PROCEDURES BY INQUIRY TYPE

1. General. This chapter contains guidance for processing PA inquiries by the types most frequently received. It explains the various processing considerations and the steps needed to provide accurate service history data for the PA veteran to authorized Government agencies and individuals. It also contains copies, or examples of the various forms used in processing inquiries or documenting evidence regarding PA veterans.

Note. The Appendix to this memorandum provides additional details on the background and history of the Philippine Army. These details and definitions must be consulted and used in determinations of more complex cases. Allowable affidavits from affiants, category of service, dates of service, and status of the veteran's service, etc., are just some of the considerations in the verification of service. This historical information and guidance must be compared to evidence available in the military organizational records, and must be allowable under the guidelines provided (i.e., comparing claimed service dates against proper and allowable dates of service for particular named PA units).

2. Department of Veteran Affairs (VA). Only persons who performed military service in the Armed Forces of the United States, i.e., veterans and their dependents are entitled to veterans benefits. This includes individuals who served, in conjunction with the US military, as members of the Philippine Commonwealth Army, and recognized Guerrilla forces. Those former members are potentially entitled to benefits under the laws administered by the VA and through determination of status under the MPA, as amended. These benefits may include granting compensation for service-connected death or disability, hospitalization benefits, and/or benefits under the National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940. The VA does not determine service, but instead refers this matter to the proper agency for determination. Most inquiries regarding VA claims are received for processing on a VA Form 3101 (See Figure 2-14).
  - a. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records, and details regarding positive service are provided to VA on NPRC Test Form 02-03, and a copy of this data is filed in the claims folder. This form is filed in the claims folder, and not provided to the VA when negative service is determined. Information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including various incidents thereof, death data, medical data, and insurance data is considered necessary for properly adjudicating a VA claim. It is important therefore to use great care and accuracy in providing service history data, since eligibility for benefits is determined from this data.
  - b. Processing procedures. Review inquiry and any claims folder information to determine whether inquiry is a previous determination (previously worked case), or an inquiry with no previous determination.

Note. For expediency in case completion, complete and provide response to previous determination type inquiries first, as detailed below, since previously documented information is readily available in claims folder.

(1) Previous determination. If a Form 46, ARPC Form 632 or 646 or NPRC Test Forms 02-03 or 02-12 is contained in the folder, case has previously been worked, possibly as another case type. Compare information in the claims folder and on the inquiry. Remove documentation requested by VA from claims folder. Provide the duplicate carbon in the claims folder, if any, of the PA AGO Form 23, otherwise, provide a copy of Form 23 to the VA. In addition, provide any originals of any medical or clinical documentation in the claims folder to the VA. The original, or copy of any medical or clinical documentation is not retained in the claims folder. Prepare an NPRC Test Form 02-03, Additional Information, from the service history data in the claims folder, and provide a copy of the form to VA.

(2) No previous determination. Perform an archival search for inquiries having no claims folder, or those inquiries having no previous determination. If no previous determination has been made, and evidence of service appears to be positive, determine qualifying service and eligibility status. This is accomplished by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates (see note below) legitimate for PA service, and by comparing with Form 23 and VA Form 3101 information. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archive information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla service is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

(a) If no previous determination and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, 02-04 and/or 02-05, based on type of service. Provide the following documents to VA, attached to VA Form 3101: Any originals of any physical or clinical documentation in the claims folder, one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-03, and any carbon copies in the claims folder of Form 23, (or provide a copy of Form 23), any court martial proceedings, Army Board proceedings, record of NSLI, and any POW information. The originals or copies of medical or clinical information are not retained in the claims folder. (If subject is deceased, provide two copies of NPRC Test Form 02-03 to VA.) File one copy of original request (VA Form 3101) in claims folder. Search archives of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI), and if positive, provide one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-10 to VA.

(b) If no previous determination and service is NOT verified as positive.

[1] If Guerrilla service negative. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Affiant information cannot be used to verify Guerrilla service. Stamp original of VA Form 3101 as NEGATIVE, and return by mail to VA liaison office. Inquiries originating from the VA Manila office are returned to that office, and routed through the liaison office. File one copy of VA Form 3101 and one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-04 in the claims folder.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 USAFFE PA Air Corps – Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

[2] If USAFFE service negative. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA affidavit information for further evidence of service. This is accomplished by searching for affiant claim folder and comparing affiant information against information available on subject individual in inquiry. Claims folder must contain affidavits from affiants which are already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

[a] If USAFFE service negative and no record of service exists. Review request and determine whether there is a negative or positive archives hit on rosters. For an archives hit to be positive, the information found in the archives must agree with information in the claims folder.

<1> No archives hit on rosters. Create a new claims folder. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Stamp original copy of VA Form 3101 as negative and return by mail to VA. File one copy of VA Form 3101 and NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04 in the claims folder.

<2> Positive archives hit on rosters. If there is evidence of service on rosters, but no claims folder exists in the military organizational files, request additional information from VA to complete inquiry. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-01, Request for Additional Information on VA Form 3101 (for Form 23 information), and mail to VA. Suspend case completion, and upon receipt of the Form 23 information from VA, inquiry can be completed.

[b] If USAFFE service negative and a record of service exists. If claims folder information indicates a record of service does exist, compare to archives information to determine whether archives hit is positive or negative.

<1> If a positive archives hit. Complete VA Form 3101 and prepare NPRC Forms Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Mail original VA Form 3101 and one copy of Form 02-03 with appropriate documentation, to the VA. File one copy of VA Form 3101 and the original of NPRC Forms 02-03 and 02-05 in the claims folder.

<2> If a negative archives hit. Search for secondary evidence in the claims folder by searching for affiant evidence. If claims folder contains one affiant - affiant must be the rank of sergeant or above. If claims folder contains two or more affiants – affiant can be any rank. If two or more affiants, at least two affiants information must match in individual's record. Compare the affiant information in the claims folder of subject of inquiry, and determine whether information matches. If information matches positive service is verified. If information does not match, negative service is verified.

 Positive service is verified. Complete VA Form 3101 and prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Mail the original VA Form 3101 and one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-03 with appropriate documentation to the VA. File one copy of VA Form 3101 and the original of NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05 in the claims folder.

 Negative service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Complete VA Form 3101 and mail negative report to the VA. File one copy of VA Form 3101 and NPRC Forms 02-03 and 02-04 in the claims folder.

3. Immigration and Naturalization (INS). Immigration and Naturalization Service inquiries are normally submitted to NPRC on INS Form N-426, Request for Certification of Military or Naval Service. Inquiries may be received in other forms, or from individuals who served or allegedly served with the Philippine Commonwealth Army, including recognized guerrillas, in the service of the United States during the period December 8, 1941 and June 30, 1946.

a. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records, and details regarding positive or negative service are provided to INS on Form N-426. A copy of this form, upon completion, is filed in the claims folder. Information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including evidence of beginning and ending dates of service, location of service, release and alienation data is furnished on Form N426. This data is used by INS for properly adjudicating a INS claim. It is important therefore to use great care and accuracy in providing service history data.

- b. Processing procedures. The general processing procedures detailed in processing Veterans Affairs inquiries also apply to INS processing with the exception of the following:

(1) Review the claims folder (if any) to determine a positive match with the individual on the inquiry. Determine eligibility status by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates legitimate for PA service. (Compare Form 23, Form 22A, or Form 9 \(for deceased\) and Form N-426 information). Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

(2) Review inquiry by comparing with claims folder information to determine whether Inquiry is a previous determination (previously worked case), or an inquiry with no previous determination.

Note. For expediency in case completion, complete and provide response to previous determination type inquiries first, as detailed below, since previously documented information is readily available in claims folder.

(a) Previous determination. If a Form 46, ARPC Form 632 or 646, or NPRC Test Forms 02-03, or 02-12 are contained in the folder, case has previously been worked, possibly as another case type. Compare information in the claims folder and on the inquiry. Extract information requested by INS from claims folder, and provide requested information on the Form N-426. File one copy of request and reply information in the claims folder.

(b) No previous determination. Perform an archival search for inquiries having no claims folder, or those inquiries having no previous determination. If no previous determination has been made, and service evidence indicates positive service, determine qualifying service and eligibility status. This is accomplished by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates (see note below) legitimate for PA service, and by comparing with Form 23 and inquiry information. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable service dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information. Prepare an NPRC Test Form 02-03, from the service history data in the claims folder, and provide a copy of this form to INS.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

[1] If no previous determination and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, 02-04 and/or 02-05 based on type of service. Complete the reverse side of INS Form N-426 with applicable information. File a copy of original request from INS, front and reverse side, and originals of NPRC Test Forms in claims folder.

[2] If no previous determination and service is NOT verified as positive.

[a] If Guerrilla service negative. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Indicate negative service on Form N-426. Stamp and apply seal to reverse side of Form N426 at the bottom of form. Mail original of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 and NPRC Test Form 02-04 in the claims folder.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 USAFFE PA Air Corps – Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

[b] If USAFFE service negative. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA affidavit information for further evidence of service. This is accomplished by searching for affiant claim folder and comparing affiant information against information available on subject individual in inquiry. Claims folder must contain affidavits from affiant that is already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

<1> If USAFFE service negative and no record of service exists. Review request and determine whether there is a negative or positive archives hit on rosters. For an archives hit to be positive, the information found in the archives must agree with information in the claims folder.

 No archives hit on rosters. Create a new claims folder. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Complete Form N-426 to indicate negative service. Mail original copy of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 and originals of NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04 in the newly created claims folder.

 Positive archives hit on rosters. If evidence of service exists on rosters, but no claims folder exists in the military organizational files, request additional information from VA to complete inquiry. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-01, Request for Additional Information on VA Form 3101 (for Form 23 information), and mail to VA. Suspense case and upon receipt of the Form 23 information from VA, inquiry can be completed.

<2> If USAFFE service negative and a record of service exists. If claims folder information indicates a record of service does exist, compare to archives information to determine whether archives hit is positive or negative.

 If a positive archives hit. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05 or 05A. Form N-426 is noted on reverse of form with service entry location, service dates, branch of service, and type of discharge. Stamp and apply NPRC seal to reverse side of Form N-426 at the bottom of form. Mail original of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 and originals of NPRC Test Forms in claims folder.

 If a negative archives hit. Search for secondary evidence in the claims folder by searching for affiant evidence. If claims folder contains one affiant - affiant must be sergeant or above. If claims folder contains two or more affiants – affiant can be any rank. If two or more affiants, at least two affiants information must match in individual's record. Compare the affiant information in the claims folder of subject inquiry, and determine whether information matches. If information matches positive service is verified. If information does not match, negative service is verified. Stamp, date and apply NPRC seal to reverse side of Form N-426 at the bottom of form. Mail original of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 in claims folder.

{1} Positive service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Form N-426 is noted on reverse of form with service entry location, service dates, branch of service, and type of discharge. Stamp, date and apply NPRC seal to reverse side of Form N-426 at the bottom of form. Mail original of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 and originals of NPRC Test Forms in claims folder.

{2} Negative service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Complete Form N-426 to indicate negative service. Mail original copy of Form N-426 to INS. File one copy of Form N-426 and originals of NPRC Test Forms in the claims folder.

4. Statement of Service. Inquiries regarding "Statement of Service" or "Certification of Service" normally are received from three sources. These sources are the Social Security Administration (SSA), regarding retirement benefits, or inquiries from SSA regarding PL 106-109 inquiries, or from individuals requesting a statement of service.

- a. General. SSA inquiries are usually submitted to NPRC on Form SSA 654-U4, Request for Information from Uniformed Services. Inquiries may be received in other forms, and from other sources regarding individuals who served or allegedly served with the Philippine Commonwealth Army, including recognized guerrillas, in the service of the United States during the period December 8, 1941 and June 30, 1946.
- b. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records, and details regarding service status are provided to SSA on Form SSA-654-U4. A PA Form letter, Statement of Service, is also provided to SSA regarding evidence of positive or negative service for the individual subject of inquiry. Information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including evidence of beginning and ending dates of service, location of service, release and alienation data is furnished on this form letter. A copy of SSA-654-U4, and the PA Statement of Service form letter are filed in the claims folder. The data provided to SSA is used for properly adjudicating a claim. It is important therefore to use great care and accuracy in providing service history data.
- c. Processing procedures. The general processing procedures detailed in processing Veterans Affairs inquiries also apply to statement of service processing with the exception of the following:>

(1) Review the claims folder (if any) to determine a positive match with the individual on the inquiry. Determine eligibility status by comparing cited dates of service in the inquiry against the listing of service dates legitimate for PA service. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable service dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as either USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

(2) Review inquiry by comparing with claims folder information to determine whether Inquiry is a previous determination (previously worked case), or an inquiry with no previous determination.

Note. For expediency in case completion, complete and provide response to previous determination type inquiries first, as detailed below, since previously documented information is readily available in claims folder.

(a) Previous determination. If a Form 46, an ARPC Form 632 or 646, or NPRC Test Forms 02-03 or 02-12 is contained in the folder, case has previously been worked, possibly as another case type. Compare information in the claims folder and on the inquiry. If inquiry is from SSA on a Form SSA-654-U4, extract information from claims folder and complete form; if inquiry is a SOS or SSI inquiry, complete PA form letter, Statement of Service. File one copy of all completed forms in claims folder, and return completed form to requestor.

(b) No previous determination. Perform an archival search for inquiries having no claims folder, or those inquiries having no previous determination. If no previous determination has been made, and service is found to be positive, determine qualifying service and eligibility status. This is accomplished by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates (see note below) legitimate for PA service, and by comparing with Form 23 and inquiry information. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information... Prepare an NPRC Test Form 02-03, Additional Information, from the service history data in the claims folder, and provide a copy of this form to SSA.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

[1] If no previous determination and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, and/or 02-05 based on type of service. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, indicating positive service, selecting the appropriate paragraphs from the PA library, or if applicable complete PA Form Letter, Statement of Service, or the reverse side of SSA-654-U4. File one copy of the response, and the original inquiry from the requestor in the claims folder, or file one copy of the completed forms in the claims folder. Mail the original of appropriate response to the requestor.

[2] If no previous determination and service is NOT verified as positive

[a] If Guerrilla service negative. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraphs from the PA Library, or complete PA Form Letter, Statement of Service, or the reverse of Form SSA-654-U4, as appropriate. File one copy of the written response with the original inquiry from the requestor, or one copy of completed form, and one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-04 in the claims folder. Mail the written response to the requestor.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942

USAFFE PA Air Corps – Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942

Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

[b] If USAFFE service negative. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA affidavits information for further evidence of service. This is accomplished by searching for affiant claim folder and insuring affiant documentation matches information available on subject of inquiry. Claims folder must contain affidavits from affiants which are already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

<1> No archives hit on rosters. Create a new claims folder. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-03 and 02-04. Prepare a written response for DD Form 149, and 293, or a letter indicating negative service. Mail original copy of written response, either the DD Form 149 or 293, or letter to the requestor. File the original inquiry from the requestor, and one copy of DD Form 149, 293 or letter, and NPRC Test Forms in the newly created claims folder.

<2> Positive archives hit on rosters. If evidence of service exists on rosters, but no claims folder exists in the military organizational files, request additional information from VA to complete inquiry. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-01, Request for Additional Information to VA (for Form 23 information), and mail to VA. Suspense case, and upon receipt of the Form 23 information from VA, inquiry can be completed.

[c] If USAFFE service negative and a record of service exists. If claims folder information indicates a record of service does exist, compare to archives information to determine whether archives hit is positive or negative.

<1> If a positive archives hit. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraph from the PA library, and mail the written response to the requestor. File one copy of the written response, one copy of the NPRC Test Forms, and the original inquiry from the requestor in the claims folder.

<2> If a negative archives hit. Search for secondary evidence in the claims folder by searching for affiant evidence. If claims folder contains one affiant - affiant must be sergeant or above. If claims folder contains two or more affiants – affiant can be any rank. If two or more affiants, at least two affiants information must match in individual's record. Compare the affiant information in the claims folder of subject inquiry, and determine whether information matches. If information matches positive service is verified. If information does not match, negative service is verified.

 Positive service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraphs from the PA library and mail the written response to the requestor. File one copy of the written response, one copy of the NPRC Test Forms and the original inquiry from the requestor in the claims folder.

 Negative service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraphs from the PA library and mail the written response to the requestor. File one copy of the written response, one copy of the NPRC Test Forms, and the original inquiry from the requestor in the claims folder.

5. Claims and appeals. Claims and appeals inquiries regard appeals on prior certifications to the Department of Veterans Affairs, or other Government agencies. An appeal may contain new evidence that alone, or in conjunction with other evidence in the PA archives/claims folder, warrants a re-determination of service. Examples are:

- Documents showing military service at the outbreak and/or during World War II.
- Proof of identity, if lack of identification or wrong application of an archive was the cause of previous denial.
- Reference to or location of archives, which were not previously located, authenticated, or considered in prior determination.
- Discovery of obvious errors in prior determinations.

a. General. Claims and appeals inquiries are normally submitted in the form of a DD Form 149, (no title), forwarded from the Army Board of Corrections, from individuals requesting records correction. An appeal may also be a letter from an individual, their Power of Attorney, or legal representative. These inquiries regard individuals who served or allegedly served with the Philippine Commonwealth Army, including recognized guerrillas, in the service of the United States during the period December 8, 1941 and June 30, 1946.

b. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records. In these cases archive information is re-examined to provide any previously missed details regarding positive service, to search for mis-filed claims folders, and other archive and affiant information, and to ensure the previously provided service certification was correct.

c. Processing procedures. The general processing procedures detailed in processing Veterans Affairs inquiries also apply to claims and appeals processing with the exception of the following:

(1) Review the claims folder (if any), to determine a positive match with the individual on the inquiry. Establish eligibility status by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates legitimate for PA service. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as either USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

(2) If previous determination was negative, and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, 02-04 and/or 02-05 based on type of service. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraph from the PA library based on evidence of service re-determined, document the re-determination, and mail the written response to the requestor. File one copy of the written response, the original inquiry from the requestor, and the NPRC Test Forms in the claims folder.

(3) If previous determination was negative and service is NOT verified as positive. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA archive and affiant information, if any for further evidence of service. Any affiant information must be compared to, and match information available on subject individual in inquiry. Claims folders must contain affidavits from affiants which is already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 USAFFE PA Air Corps – Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

(a) Positive service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraph from the PA library, and mail the written response to the requestor indicating a re-determination. File a copy of the original request, and response, and one copy of the NPRC Test Forms in the claims folder.

(b) Negative service is verified. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Prepare a written response to the inquiry, selecting the appropriate paragraph from the PA library and mail the written response to the requestor. File one copy of the written response, the original inquiry from the requestor, and NPRC Test Form in the claims folder.

6. Decorations and Awards. Inquiries regarding Decorations and Awards normally are received from individuals, or their next of kin, who served or allegedly served with the Philippine Commonwealth Army, including recognized guerrilla forces, in the service of the US Armed Forces in the Philippines for the period of December 8, 1941 and June 30, 1946. Only those persons for whom a positive service identity can be established are potentially entitled to decorations and awards.

a. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records, and is used to determine positive or negative service regarding eligibility for decorations and awards. Information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including evidence of beginning and ending dates of service, location of service, release and alienation data, and awards eligibility data must be verified.

b. Types of Awards. The following decorations and service awards are appropriate for former USAFFE/Guerrilla veterans, when eligible by service history data:

Presidential Unit Emblem – for service during the periods December 8 – 31, 1941; January 6 through February 14 1942; or December 7, 1941 through May 10, 1942. Note: Oak Leaf Clusters will not be awarded to Filipino Nationals.

American Defense Service Medal – for service prior to December 7, 1941.

POW Medal – Awarded to PA USAFFE veterans credited with POW time.

Combat Infantry Badge – Awarded to infantry PA USAFFE from a unit of regimental size or smaller. Entitles veteran to a regular Bronze Star.

Purple Heart – Conditions for awarding the Purple Heart are the same as for member of the United States Armed Forces. Periods during which the veteran is carried in a status of "Pre-War Service" or "Missing", or "No Casualty" are not considered in evaluation eligibility for this award.

Accolade – Awarded when veteran was killed in action.

c. Processing procedures. The general processing procedures detailed in processing Veterans Affairs inquiries also apply to decorations and awards processing with the exception of the following:

(1) The Archives Technician will review the attached claims folder (if any), searched from the PA military organizational files, to determine a positive match with the individual on the inquiry. Determine eligibility status by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates legitimate for PA service. (Compare Form 23, Form 22A, or Form 9 (for deceased) and inquiry information). Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as either USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

(2) Review inquiry by comparing with claims folder information to determine whether inquiry is a previous determination (previously worked case), or an inquiry with no previous determination.

Note. For expediency in case completion, complete and provide response to previous determination type inquiries first, as detailed below, since previously documented information is readily available in claims folder.

(a) Previous determination. Examine claims folder information. If a Form 46, and/or ARPC Form 632 or 646, or NPRC Test Forms 02-03 or 02-12 is contained in the folder, case has previously been worked, possibly as another case type. Compare information in the claims folder and on the inquiry. If information available in the claims folder is compatible with inquiry information, verify qualification for award.

[1] If qualification for award is verified. If information in the inquiry is substantiated in the claims folder, qualification for award is verified. Complete DA Form 1577, Authorization for Issuance of Awards. Mail the original with copies 2 and 3 of DA Form 1577 to the US Army Soldier and Biological Chemical Command, IMMC, Soldier Systems Directorate, 700 Robbins Avenue, PO Box 57997, Philadelphia, PA 19111-7997. Mail copy 4 to the individual award recipient. File original inquiry from requestor, one copy of DA Form 1577, and one copy of DA form 1577 in claims folder.

[2] If qualification for award is not verified. If information in claims folder does not support inquiry award requested, prepare form letter by selecting appropriate paragraph from the PA Library to respond to requestor with explanation of non-qualification. File one copy of response with original inquiry in the claims folder.

(b) No previous determination. Perform an archival search for inquiries having no claims folder, or those inquiries having no previous determination. If no previous determination has been made, and service is found to be positive, determine qualifying service and eligibility status for award requested. This is accomplished by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates (see note below) legitimate for PA service, and by comparing with Form 23 and inquiry information. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archive information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

[1] If no previous determination and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, 02-04 and/or 02-05 based on type of service. Review inquiry and claims folder and compare information to verify qualification for award.

[a] Qualification for award is verified. If qualification for award is verified by information in the claims folder, complete DA Form 1577, Authorization for Issuance of Awards. Mail the original with copies 2 and 3 of DA Form 1577 to the US Army Soldier and Biological Chemical Command, IMMC, Soldier Systems Directorate, 700 Robbins Avenue, PO Box 57997, Philadelphia, PA 19111-7997. Mail copy 4 to the individual award recipient. File original inquiry from requestor, one copy of DA Form 1577, and one copy of ARPC Forms in claims folder.

[b] Qualification for award is not verified. If information in claims folder does not support inquiry award requested, prepare form letter by selecting appropriate paragraph from the PA Library to respond to requestor with explanation of non-qualification. File one copy of response with original inquiry in the claims folder.

[2] If no previous determination and service is NOT verified as positive.

[a] If Guerrilla service negative. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Indicate negative service on inquiry response by selecting the appropriate paragraphs from the PA Library. Mail original of response to the originator of inquiry. File one copy of response and NPRC Test Form in the claims folder.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942

USAFFE PA Air Corps – from Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942

Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

[b] If USAFFE service negative. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA affidavit information for further evidence of service. This is accomplished by searching for affiant's claim folder and insuring affiant information matches information available on subject individual in inquiry. Claims folder must contain affidavits from affiant which is already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

<1> If USAFFE service negative and no record of service exists. Review request and determine whether there is a negative or positive archives hit on rosters. For an archives hit to be positive, the information found in the archives must agree with information in the claims folder.

 No archives hit on rosters. Create a new claims folder. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Prepare a response to the originator of inquiry from the PA Library pattern paragraphs to indicate negative service. Mail original of response to originator of inquiry. File one copy of response and NPRC Test Forms in the newly created claims folder.

 Positive archives hit on rosters. If there is evidence of service on rosters, but no claims folder exists in the military organizational files, request additional information from VA to complete inquiry. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-01, Request for Additional Information to VA (for Form 23 information), and mail to VA. Suspend case and upon receipt of the Form 23 information from VA, inquiry can be completed.

<2> If USAFFE service negative and a record of service exists. If claims folder information indicates a record of service does exist, compare to archives information to determine whether archives hit is positive or negative.

 If a positive archives hit. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. If qualification for award is verified by information in the archives, complete DA Form 1577, Authorization for Issuance of Awards. Mail the original with copies 2 and 3 of DA Form 1577 to the US Army Soldier and Biological Chemical Command, IMMC, Soldier Systems Directorate, 700 Robbins Avenue, PO Box 57997, Philadelphia, PA 19111-7997. Mail copy 4 to the individual award recipient. File original inquiry from requestor, one copy of DA Form 1577, and one copy of NPRC Test Forms in claims folder.

 If a negative archives hit. Search for secondary evidence in the claims folders by searching for affiant evidence. If claims folder contains one affiant - affiant must be sergeant or above. If claims folder contains two or more affiants - affiant can be any rank. If two or more affiants, at least two affiants information must match in individual's record. Compare the affiant information in the claims folder of subject inquiry, and determine whether information matches. If information matches positive service is verified.

{1} Positive service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05 or 05A. If qualification for award is verified by information in the claims folder, complete DA Form 1577, Authorization for Issuance of Awards. Mail the original with copies 2 and 3 of DA Form 1577 to the US Army Soldier and Biological Chemical Command, IMMC, Soldier Systems Directorate, 700 Robbins Avenue, PO Box 57997, Philadelphia, PA 19111-7997. Mail copy 4 to the individual award recipient. File original inquiry from requestor, one copy of DA Form 1577, and one copy of NPRC Test Forms in claims folder.

{2} Negative service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Prepare a response to the originator of inquiry from the PA Library pattern paragraphs to indicate negative service. Mail original of response to originator of inquiry. File one copy of original request, one copy of NPRC Test Forms, and one copy of reply in the claims folder.

7. Routine Correspondence.

- a. General. Inquiries categorized as routine correspondence are normally received from the general public residing in the Philippines, who are requesting information regarding individuals who served, or allegedly served with the Philippine Commonwealth Army, including recognized guerrilla forces, in the service of the US Armed Forces in the Philippines for the period of December 8, 1941 through June 30, 1946. This type correspondence is usually "turnaround" type, either directing the requestor to contact the appropriate agency for a response, or forwarding the inquiry to the appropriate agency, if known. These instructions apply to those inquiries that are routine or repetitive in nature, or which cannot be segregated as a request from a Government agency, or do not regard the following:

Decorations and Awards
 Claims and Appeals
 Statements of Service
 Special Correspondence (Congressional or White House)

b. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records. Information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including evidence of beginning and ending dates of service, location of service, release and alienation data and other information provided to individuals in response to routine correspondence inquiries, must comply with the Freedom of Information Act of 1974 (FOIA) and the Privacy Act as releasable data.

c. Processing procedures. All general inquiries received from individuals, their next of kin, or representative will be responded to except when specific authority to file without action is received from the Supervisor.

(1) Copies of claims folders information, and other archive information requested from individuals residing in the Philippines are provided in accordance with NPRC policies and directives and must comply with the FOIA and Privacy Act guidance.

(2) Requests for copies of records from persons residing in the US (or naturalized citizens residing on Guam) will be released in accordance with NPRC policies and directives and must comply with the FOIA and Privacy Act guidance.

(3) Select the appropriate paragraphs from the PA Library in providing a response to requestor, providing appropriate information under above guidelines. Provide the address of the appropriate organization or agency to which the inquiry should be directed if known, or forward the inquiry to the appropriate organization.

8. Special Correspondence. Inquiries classified as special correspondence usually regard Congressional, White House, or Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) correspondence.

a. Service history data. This data is based on evidence available in the PA military organizational records, and details regarding positive service may be provided to the originator of inquiry. This may include information regarding service in a regular Philippine Army unit during or after the liberation, including various incidents thereof, death data, medical data, and insurance data, etc. It is important therefore to use great care and accuracy in providing service history data.

b. Processing procedures. Special correspondence requires priority processing from receipt and initial processing through completion.

(1) Review the claims folder for previous denial information, and appropriate action required for processing is determined. Verify eligibility status by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates legitimate for PA service. Service must be within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid for PA service. Verify service as either USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla service is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

(2) Review inquiry by comparing with claims folder information to determine if inquiry is a previous determination (previously worked case), or an inquiry with no previous determination.

(a) Previous determination. Examine claims folder information. If a DARP Form 46, and/or ARPC Form 632 or 646, or NPRC Test Forms 02-03, or 02-12 is contained in the folder, case has previously been worked, possibly as another case type. Compare information in the claims folder and on the inquiry. Determine if inquiry can be answered from information regarding previous determination. Prepare written response with appropriate paragraphs from PA Library. File one copy of response, and original inquiry in claims folder. Mail response to originator of inquiry.

(b) No previous determination. Perform an archival search for inquiries having no claims folder, or those inquiries having no previous determination. If no previous determination has been made, and service is found to be positive, determine qualifying service and eligibility status. This is accomplished by comparing cited dates of service in inquiry against the listing of service dates (see note below) legitimate for PA service, and by comparing with Form 23 and VA Form 3101 information. Service must have occurred within the range of allowable dates to be considered as valid PA service. Verify service as USAFFE, Guerrilla, or both by reviewing the archives information and claims folder information.

Note. The listing of legitimate service dates pertaining to USAFFE and Guerrilla service is derived from Appendix 13, titled, Notes of the Philippine Army 1941-1942, Bona fide USAFFE Units, in the Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) of the Recovered Personnel Records Branch, MPRC, dated August 31, 1955. This SOP pertains to Circular No. 305, War Department, Washington 25, D.C., July 18, 1944.

[1] If no previous determination and service is verified as positive. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03, 02-04 and/or 02-05, based on type of service. Prepare written response with appropriate paragraphs from PA Library. File one copy of response, and original inquiry in claims folder. Mail response to originator of inquiry.

[2] If no previous determination and service is NOT not verified as positive

[a] If Guerrilla service negative. If evidence of service is negative, complete NPRC Test Form 02-04, indicating negative service. Affiant information cannot be used to verify Guerrilla service. Prepare appropriate response to originator of inquiry using paragraphs from the PA Library. File one copy of response, NPRC Test Form 02-04 and original inquiry in claims folder. Mail response to originator of inquiry.

Note. Guerrilla service cannot be verified by affidavits, and may only be used to verify USAFFE service. For Guerrilla and USAFFE time the following service time is considered as valid:

USAFFE Time – from Sep 1, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 USAFFE PA Air Corps – Aug 15, 1941 to May 7, 1942
 Guerrilla Time – from May 7, 1942 to Jun 30, 1946

[b] If USAFFE service negative. If service cannot be verified with reasonable certainty, search the PA affidavit information for further evidence of service. This is accomplished by searching for affiants claim folder and comparing affiant information against information available on subject individual in inquiry. Claims folder must contain affidavits from affiants which are already documented, and affiant information must have occurred and be documented prior to June 30, 1948.

<1> If USAFFE service negative and no record of service exists. Review request and determine whether there is a negative or positive archives hit on rosters. For an archives hit to be positive, the information found in the archives must agree with information in the claims folder.

 No archives hit on rosters. Create a new claims folder. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-04. Prepare appropriate response to originator of inquiry using paragraphs from the PA Library. File one copy of response, one copy of NPRC Test Forms, and original inquiry in claims folder. Mail response to originator of inquiry.

 Positive archives hit on rosters. If there is evidence of service on rosters, but no claims folder exists in the military organizational files, request additional information from VA to complete inquiry. Prepare NPRC Test Form 02-01, Request for Additional Information, to VA (for Form 23 information), and mail to VA. Notify originator of inquiry of reason for delay in processing. File one copy of NPRC Test Form 02-01, one copy of notification of delay in processing to originator, or memorandum if originator is notified by telephone, in claims folder. Suspend case and upon receipt of the Form 23 information from VA, inquiry can be completed.

<2> If USAFFE service negative and a record of service exists. If claims folder information indicates a record of service does exist, compare to archives information to determine whether archives hit is positive or negative.

 If a positive archives hit. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05. Prepare appropriate response to originator of inquiry using paragraphs from the PA Library. File one copy of response, one copy of NPRC Test Forms and original inquiry in claims folder. Mail response to originator of inquiry.

 If a negative archives hit. Search for secondary evidence in the claims folder by searching for affiant evidence. If claims folder contains one affiant - affiant must be rank of sergeant or above. If claims folder contains two or more affiants – affiant can be any rank. If two or more affiants, at least two affiants information must match in individual's record. Compare the affiant information in the claims folder of subject of inquiry, and determine whether information matches. If information matches positive service is verified. If information does not match, negative service is verified.

{1} Positive service is verified. Prepare NPRC Test Forms 02-03 and 02-05 or 05A. Prepare appropriate response to originator of inquiry using paragraphs from the PA Library. ## Appendix A

1. General. The Philippine Commonwealth Army was called into the service of the Armed Forces of the United States (US) by virtue of the Presidential Order issued on July 26, 1941. Service of the Commonwealth Army in the US Armed Forces terminated as of 2400 hours, June 30, 1946, by virtue of GS #168, AFWESPAC, June 25, 1946, which released the military forces of the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines from duty in the US Armed Forces. Veterans of the Commonwealth Army are considered to have rendered valid military service in the United States Armed Forces. The term "Commonwealth Army" refers to persons who served before July 1, 1946 in the organized military forces of the Government of the Philippines, while such forces were in the service of the USAFFE, pursuant to the military order of the President of the United States dated July 26, 1941. Included were organized guerrilla forces under commanders appointed, designated, or subsequently recognized by the Commander-in-Chief (CIC), Southwest Pacific Area, or other component authority in the US Army, including individuals who were discharged from such service under conditions other than dishonorable.
2. Categories of valid service. There are five categories of valid service for members of the PA:
  - a. PA USAFFE – Philippine Army US Armed Forces Far East. Members who were inducted into the USAFFE service on or before the surrender of these forces on May 5, 1942.
  - b. PA USAFFE Guerrillas - Philippine Army US Armed Forces Far East Guerrillas. Personnel who had military service with the US Armed Forces on or before May 5, 1942, and later had service in the guerrilla forces recognized by the US Army as manifested on Initial Reconstructed Rosters, Casualty Roster of recognized guerrilla units, or in letters of individual casualty or non-casualty recognition. An inquiry for PA USAFFE guerrilla service, which is valid as a recognized guerrilla, but fails to establish the identity of the individual as a PA USAFFE, will be treated as a civilian guerrilla inquiry and will be handled accordingly.
  - c. Civilian Guerrillas. Personnel recognized by the US Army as manifested on Initial Reconstructed Rosters, or casualty roster of recognized guerrilla units, or in letters of individual casualty or non-casualty recognition. These individuals did not have military service in the US Armed Forces prior to May 6, 1942, but only subsequent service in the guerrilla forces.
  - d. Regular PA service. Personnel who served in a regular component of the PA during or subsequent to the liberation but not later the June 30, 1946. Members of the PA USAFFE serving with a guerrilla unit, and recognized civilian guerrillas, will be considered to have regular PA service from the date of their processing into the PA, or the date of service in a regular component of the PA, whichever is earlier. Regular PA service may begin from the date a soldier entered a military hospital for treatment or from the date of his detention by the CIC, US Army, provided he was processed immediately following release from such hospitalization or detention for service in a regular component of the PA, or for immediate discharge. Regular PA service of a PA USAFFE soldier who has no recognized guerrilla service will be considered to begin on the date he reported to a Replacement Battalion for processing.
  - e. Current Enlistees. Personnel who entered into a valid enlistment contract in the PA for the first time during or after the liberation of the Philippines from the enemy (1944-1945), but prior to July 1, 1946. These persons had neither PA USAFFE nor recognized guerrilla service. They were neither recovered nor processed into the PA, but are considered as regular members of such forces during the term of their enlistment. Service of current enlistees maybe established by evidence such as enlistment record, military orders, morning reports, etc. Secondary evidence of enlistment, such as affidavits, will not be accepted.

3. Organizations. The organization to which a person allegedly belonged must be a bona fide PA USAFFE unit. This may be determined by consulting the list of bona fide PA USAFFE units published by the former AGRD, or the numerous histories which have been compiled on PA USAFFE organizations which are part of the PA military organizational files.

4. Proof of PA USAFFE service.

- a. The requirements to prove that a person is a veteran are the basic claim forms, satisfactory evidence of military service, and discharge or separation from the service, and in death cases, proof of death (actual or presumed). If evidence of these facts is not available, the claimant must furnish it. In some cases, a certain amount of evidence indicating that the person performed military service may be indicated in the claims folder, but it does meet the requirements.
- b. PA USAFFE service for members of the PA or Philippine Constabulary may be established by military or non-military records. The records should be authentic official documents executed by competent authority. (If an original military record is received that is important in establishing service and its authenticity cannot be verified from the archives in the military organizational files, the following evidence may be used, depending on its accuracy, completeness, reliability, and validity as evaluated and determined by analysis and review:

- (1) National Service Life Insurance record if verified as pertaining to the soldier and is Based on an application made prior to May 7, 1942.

- (2) A verified Casualty Record showing the soldier was killed in action, captured, died, or treated at a field hospital, aid station, or other military medical installation for battle wounds or sickness prior to May 7, 1942. Casualty certificates and medical tags or records containing this information must first have been verified as authentic by the properly designated person or persons, or must be supported by entry in the list of casualties in the field in the military organizational files. If the name of signatory is legible, copies will be made of medical tags or records dated between December 8, 1941 and May 6, 1942 inclusive and filed in the individuals' claims folder for future use in establishing signatory's service.

- (3) Records and Death Certificates form POW Camps which can be verified from the PA archives or from other sources acceptable as authoritative. Such records include the rosters of personnel concentrated at O'Donnell Concentration Camp, the O'Donnell Death Rosters, Malaybalay POW records, and Bilibid Prison records. Other POW data, such as the Report of the Puppet Governor of Pampanga and the Manila Tribune Files, are also of value in establishing PA USAFFE identify, even though they do not constitute official military records. Since civilians were also held by the Japanese in the Prison camps, appearance of a person's name on these records and identity as a POW do not identify the person as a soldier. Military grade or rank or service number must be shown to establish military identity.

- (4) Manila Tribune Listings of Released POW identifying the subject, and indicating the military rank or grade, or that the released POW was "ex-USAFFEE, or ex-soldier".

- (5) Lists of ex-POWs Employed by Toyo Menka Keisha must show military identity or Comparing the listing with evidence in the claims folder to establish military identity.

- (6) Other archive data, such as rosters, payrolls, general or special orders, combat narrative, etc., which exists in the archives and which are either authenticated original copies or acceptable true copies. These archive records must be dated prior to May 7, 1942, except that special orders of the Visayan-Mindanao Forces dated as late as May 10, 1942 and other archives dated after May 7, 1942 may be given consideration when they establish that service of the person concerned was rendered prior to May 7, 1942.

- c. When proof of PA USAFFE service rests solely on any of the documents mentioned above and entries do not conclusively identify the document as pertaining to the subject of the claims, the documents must be supported by either:
- (1) Acceptable affidavit of at least one soldier who was a member of the same unit (not larger than a regiment) as the subject. Such affidavit must state or infer how the affiant came to know of subject's PA USAFFE service and must be fully compatible with details of affiant's own service as shown by his claims folder. The mere fact that an induction date was not stated is not a valid reason to find the affidavit unacceptable; or
  - (2) Acceptable affidavit of at least one former member of the PA USAFFE who, although not a member of the same unit as the subject, has knowledge of the fact that the individual reported to a place of induction after being called to active duty, indicating the date and place of induction and circumstances under which he became acquainted with such facts.
- d. In the absence of any of the PA USAFFE archives referred to above, PA USAFFE identity may be established as follows:
- (1) Authentic orders of call to active duty supported by acceptable evidence that the subject so reported prior to May 7, 1942. Such evidence may be in the form of affidavit as described above.
  - (2) Certain original guerrilla archives (such as those of the 6th and 8th military districts) wherein the PA USAFFE identity of the soldier can be presumed to have been well known to his unit commander and wherein his PA USAFFE identity is clearly stated. This applies only to guerrilla units which were, in essence, unsundered PA USAFFE units consisting principally of persons who had been members of PA USAFFE organizations under unsundered PA USAFFE officers. Such archive evidence must be weighed carefully and accompanied by other evidence in the form of acceptable affidavits before being given full weight as proof of PA USAFFE identity. "Reconstructed" guerrilla records or records of late date will have no value as proof of PA USAFFE identity. Only authentic early records on file in the military organizational files will be considered.
  - (3) Photostatic copies of "Government of Commonwealth of the Philippines, Certificates of Deposit" are acceptable proof of military service and may be used in identifying PA USAFFE personnel and establishing active military service, provided that certificates show rank and organization and can be identified positively as pertaining to the person concerned. The certificates must have been properly authenticated by an official of the Philippine Government, an Adjutant General, or Assistant Adjutant General on duty at Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines. The authentication will be found on the reverse side of the certificate. The certificate must also bear the official stamp of the US Government Benefits Sections, Welfare Branch, OTAG, General Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines.
  - (4) Acceptable affidavits of at least two soldiers who were members of the same unit (not larger than a regiment) as the subject and have knowledge that he actually served as a member of the unit. The affidavits must state or infer how affiants came to know of the subject's service as a member of the PA USAFFE and must be fully compatible with the details of affiants' own service as shown by their claims folders. The fact that an induction date was not stated is not a valid reason to consider the affidavits unacceptable.
  - (5) Acceptable affidavits of two former PA USAFFE soldiers who, although not member of the same unit as the subject, have knowledge of the fact that he reported to a place of induction after being called to active duty, indicating the date and place of induction and the circumstances under which they became acquainted with such facts. These affidavits must be supported by affidavits of the municipal mayor and the chief of police who held these offices at the time of the call of the subject to active duty and who have knowledge of the fact that he was so called and was notified of the call.

(6) PA USAFFE service may be established by one affidavit or any commissioned or non-commissioned officer (sergeant or above) who indicates that soldier served in the same unit in which affiant served. The affidavit must have been executed prior to July 1, 1948, and affiant PA USAFFE service must be established. If more than one affidavit is available in the claims folder, case cannot be considered as a "one affidavit case". Affidavits of municipal officers will not be considered in determining whether or not case is a "one affidavit case".

- e. Members of Philippine Constabulary units, except those who became actual casualties (KIA, WIA, MIA, or POW) as a result of the unit's engagement against the Japanese, will not be considered to have entered USAFFE service until they are actually inducted. Application of the procedure is restricted to casualties in Philippine Constabulary units which were actually opposing the enemy in organized combat and under orders of their superiors. Mere membership in the Philippine Constabulary is not sufficient to grant this status. There must be acceptable evidence that the casualty of the person was a result of his action against the enemy and that action was a result of competent orders. If a Philippine Constabulary member's active service terminated because he became a casualty during action against the enemy prior to the date he (or his unit) was inducted into the USAFFE, his PA USAFFE status will begin on the date of actual resistance against the enemy, provided his induction date cannot be established, or if his unit was inducted after he became a casualty, or the unit was never inducted.

5. Breakdown of PA service.

- a. Pre-War Service. Only members of the PA USAFFE who were inducted into the service of the US Armed Forces prior to December 8, 1941 qualify for this service, and can be established by the following evidence:

(1) Official archives, such as payrolls, troop rosters, etc., showing the soldier was actually on duty and serving with a bona fide unit of the PA which had been inducted into the service of the US Armed Forces.

(2) A soldier's allegation made at the time of processing may be accepted in the absence of positive evidence to the contrary to establish pre-war service, provided the organization in which service is claimed was a bona fide PA USAFFE unit and mobilized into the US Armed Forces.

- b. Beleaguered Status.

(1) Official entry. Beleaguered status will begin on the date of actual induction into the PA USAFFE or December 8, 1941, whichever is later.

(2) Official termination. Generally, beleaguered status will not extend beyond April 8, 1942 for those elsewhere in the Philippines. If the place of service cannot be determined, beleaguered status will not extend beyond May 5, 1942. When evidence indicates that a soldier was engaged in actual combat against the enemy while serving in an organized PA USAFFE unit, beleaguered status may be extended to April 15, 1942 for those in Bataan or May 24, 1942, for those elsewhere in the Philippines. If the evidence indicates that actual combat operations against the enemy, surrender to the enemy, separation from unit, or disbandment or disintegration of unit in combat. Beleaguered status interrupted for any of the reasons (except death) may be regained upon rejoining any organized PA USAFFE unit prior to May 6, 1942. A soldier who was separated from his unit to carry out an official mission in accordance with orders from competent authority will be determined in a beleaguered status as long as he was engaged in accomplishing that mission, but not after May 6, 1942.

(3) The 14th and 121st Infantry, PA, were inducted into the US Armed Forces on January 5, 1942, and April 8, 1942 respectively. Beleaguered status of members of the 24th and 121st Infantry will not begin before January 5, 1942, or April 8, 1942, as the case may be.

- c. Prisoner of War Status.

(1) Determinations of POW. A soldier will be determined to be in a prisoner of war status during periods he was held under physical restraint (concentration, confinement, or internment) by the Japanese or their controlled agencies because of his previous military status or suspected anti-Japanese activities. The status of a soldier immediately prior to his capture and detention by the Japanese or their agencies is not necessarily the determining factor in deciding whether he was a prisoner of war. If he became a prisoner of war immediately after or on the occasion of the termination of beleaguered status, unless there is evidence to the contrary, it is presumed that the reason for the restraint was his PA USAFFE status. Soldiers who had no anti-Japanese or guerrilla activities and those who were puppet government officials or employees, may in some cases, be determined to be prisoners of war even though prior to capture, their status is properly determinable as No Casualty Status. Soldiers seized in the general roundup of former high ranking PA USAFFE officers in the latter part of 1944 or early 1945, or in a general roundup of PA USAFFE personnel, such as was staged in Guadalupe in December 1944, may have been in a No Casualty Status because they were employed by the puppet government or were following civilian pursuits; however, there is historical background for the presumption that they were seized because of their former military status. Soldiers seized in a general roundup of inhabitants (or all male persons) by the Japanese or their agents, are not properly determinable as prisoners of war, even if they had former PA USAFFE status. They may be properly determined as prisoners of war if it is shown that they were engaged in guerrilla activities and that the roundup was conducted as a retaliation for those guerrilla activities. Persons identified as guerrillas or PA USAFFE by the "magic eye" during general zoning may also be determined as prisoners of war, even though, at the time of seizure, they were no longer engaged in anti-Japanese activities. A soldier held under physical restraint by any guerrilla unit or by the US Army on suspicion of disloyalty is not a prisoner of war. Further, prisoners of irregular armed bands or bandit groups, such as that of Emilio Escobar ("Sagad") are not prisoners of war, even though their PA USAFFE or guerrilla status may have been the cause of their seizure.

(2) Proof of POW Status. POW Register and Death Roster of persons concentrated at Camp O'Donnell, Capas, Tarlac, Malababay, Old Bilibid, Tacloban, Leyte, Camp Bongabong, Camp Luna, Parang, etc., which are available in the military organizational files will conclusively establish the POW status of a person regardless of evidence submitted to the contrary. If the person's name is not listed in any of these records, or POW status is claimed for having been confined elsewhere, his POW status will be determined to be such as may be established by satisfactory evidence.

(a) Death March POW. If a soldier's PA USAFFE status is established, and he claims POW status for the Death March only, consistency and compatibility of statements in his claims folder in its entirety and the War Claims Commission Form 602 may be considered basis for a positive period of POW status, must always be shown as terminated by escape, and will not be considered compatible to the situation if alleged to have extended beyond April 30, 1942.

(b) Capas Death Certificates. When a veteran claims PA USAFFE and/or POW service, and proof of POW service rests solely on a Capas Death Certificate which may pertain to him, it shall be a matter of procedure to accept the Capas Death Certificate as pertaining to the living veteran only when the records show that the certificate was previously used in establishing the same veteran's PA USAFFE status for arrears in pay. A complete check of all other possible claims folders/military records must be made in every case prior to making the certificate a part of the living claims folder.

(c) Manila Tribune Listings of Released POW. When PA USAFFE service is established, these records may be used as proof of POW status. Military rank must be shown or paragraph heading must indicate a military status.

(d) Registration Forms Made by PA USAFFE Personnel. Original documents Commonly referred to as Proclamation #1 (Application for Registration under Proclamation #1 by the Chairman of the Executive Commission) and Proclamation #8 (Application for Registration under Proclamation #8 by the Chairman of the Executive Commission) are currently on file in Organization and Philippine Records. In some cases these originals have been photostated and placed in the claims folder of the person concerned. The photostats of these documents or an extract from Organization and Team files, when they indicate that subject was a military member of the PA USAFFE, are determined to be acceptable proof of PA USAFFE service and POW status in accordance with the herein prescribed procedure. Both of these proclamations will receive the same consideration in determining cases as authenticated clinical records, National Service Life Insurance data, POW records, etc., and the same principles regarding their pertinence will prevail when qualifying them for positive action in a case.

[1] Proclamation #1. This proclamation was issued for the benefit of PA USAFFE personnel who were in hiding or who had not been made prisoners of war to grant them the same standing as regularly released POWs. Proclamation #1 is indicative of PA USAFFE service only and the information on the actual application will apply.

[2] Proclamation #8. This proclamation was issued for the benefit of PA USAFFE personnel and POWs who were released from concentration camps because of sickness or other reasons to grant them the same standing as regularly released POWs. Proclamation #8 is indicative of both PA USAFFE service and POW status and the information on the actual application will apply. In adjudicating cases using this proclamation as proof of POW status, the termination date used will not necessarily be the actual date reflected on the proclamation. The termination date will be the most compatible date in accordance with the best available evidence in the claims folder, and consistent with the overall procedure.

(3) POW records with incomplete data. If a claims folder contains a POW extract with only the last name and the first letter of the first name and no other identifying data, that POW record can be used only when all other files of the same last name and first name beginning with that letter are eliminated from consideration.

(a) If it is found that a POW record could pertain to one of several persons, an exhaustive effort will be made to determine to whom the record pertains, and a copy of the determination placed in each file of that same name.

(b) If there is only one file under the name on the POW record, and the information in the file is not compatible with the data on the POW record before the case is completed, a full explanation will be written in the Memo for Record concerning each discrepancy noted.

(c) If a definite decision cannot be made as to which file the POW record pertains, a negative determination for POW status will be made. The Memo for Record will include all the facts considered in arriving at that decision. Upon receipt of further evidence, reconsideration is warranted.

(d) If there is only one claims folder or record and a search of archives does not contradict the possibility of there being only one soldier in the service by this same name, a POW record will be used unless a major discrepancy is noted and made a matter of record in the file.

(4) Termination of POW status.

(a) If a POW of the Japanese was released from a concentration camp or other place of enforced custody under the Japanese Forces to enter a hospital, convalescent home or other institution under the puppet republic, or a charitable organization, his POW status will terminate on the date prior to release from concentration. The date of release and entire period of hospitalization or convalescence will not be determined as POW status.

(b) Educational Corps. An Educational Corp was organized by the Imperial Japanese Forces to train Philippine Army personnel for positions with the Japanese Army and/or the various Puppet Government agencies. One school functional at Camp O'Donnell, Capas, and Tarlac for enlisted men and another at Camp Del Pilar, Dau and Pampanga for officers, and later for enlisted personnel also.

(c) Arbitrary Termination of POW. When the soldier's file contains evidence indicating membership in the Japanese sponsored Bureau of Constabulary immediately following or shortly after his release from concentration camp, and no evidence is found indicating period of constabulary training, deduct 30 days from the date he indicated on his processing paper as the last date of POW. In applying this procedure in the case of former pre-surrender constabulary officers and enlisted men, the arbitrary deduction will be 15 days instead of 30 days.

(d) Camp Casisang, Malaybalay. POW concentrated at the POW Camp Casisang, Malaybalay, had been either released or transferred prior to January 12, 1943. Released prisoners were allowed to take up residence in the town of Malaybalay, but were no longer in a POW status. Prisoners not released were transferred to Cagayan, and then to other places; therefore, no POW status beyond January 11, 1943 will be granted for periods of alleged concentration at Malaybalay POW Camp.

(e) O'Donnell Concentration Camp. If a soldier was confined at O'Donnell Camp, and the date his POW status began cannot be determined from the evidence, he will be presumed to have been a POW from May 6, 1942. Similarly, when the date of termination of his POW status cannot be determined, he will be presumed to have been a POW until January 25, 1943, the last date that the concentration camp existed as such. POW status at O'Donnell after January 25, 1943 is not authorized.

(f) Medical personnel and Field Grade Officers whose files do not contain documentary evidence proving POW status at O'Donnell Camp beyond August 8, 1942 will be determined to have been released August 9, 1942.

(g) Cebu Concentration Camp. POW status will be allowed soldiers at this camp only if their names appear on the Cebu Provincial Jail Roster. POW status will terminate on November 15, 1942 at Cebu Camp.

(h) Lists of Ex-POW employed by Toyo Menka Keisha. This evidence is similar to the Manila Tribune Listings and may be used to establish POW status. Soldiers whose names appear on these lists will not be considered as POW during periods of actual employment. The ending dates of POW status will depend on the case involved. When this date cannot be resolved, the limiting date for POW status at O'Donnell Concentration Camp will be used.

d. Determining Guerrilla Service.

(1) General. Recognition of guerrillas was performed by the Guerrilla Affairs Division, Armed Forces Pacific (AFPAC), later Armed Forces West Pacific (AFWESPAC) and Philippine Ryukyus Command (PHILRYCOM). Recognition may be individual or by unit. The guerrilla service of a person is considered recognized with active service if his name appears on a reconstructed roster, casualty roster, or individual letter of recognition. With the close of the recognition program on Jun 30, 1948, no additions, deletions, or changes to the rosters are authorized; therefore, when a person's name appears on an approved roster and an examination of the file reveals proof that he did not, in fact, render service in the guerrilla forces, a negative Missing Persons Act determination will be made.

(2) Troop Rosters. There are two types of Troop Rosters, the Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster and the Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster. The Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster contains the names of all recognized members of a unit, exclusive of recognized casualties and those individually recognized members of unit, exclusive of recognized casualties and those individually recognized. Any person, other than those recognized as casualties or individually recognized whose name is not listed on the Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster, is not recognized, and has no recognized guerrilla standing. The Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster contains the names of recognized members of a guerrilla unit who are entitled to a revision or extension of their recognition dates. This revision is limited to guerrilla organizations whose dates of recognition had been revised, that is, set back or extended. Not all recognized guerrilla units had their dates of recognition revised. Originally, the recognition of guerrilla units was set as of a certain date, generally beginning on the date of attachment of the guerrilla unit to a using unit of the US Liberation Forces in 1944 and 1945. There are however, certain units whose original dates of recognition were later revised so as to grant members of the unit recognition from an earlier date. Certain units have only one troop roster that serves as both a Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster and Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster. Most units whose recognition dates have been revised have the two rosters. In determining the period of a soldier's recognition, reference will be made to the letter of recognition and the list of recognition dates of all recognized guerrilla unit. When a unit has both a Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster and a Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster, the appearance of a person's name on the Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster only is not considered sufficient to grant him recognized guerrilla standing. This is because the Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster is merely a roster of members already recognized who are entitled to a revision of dates of recognition. On the other hand, if a person's name is listed on the Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster, he is entitled to recognized guerrilla service for the period indicated on the Reconstructed Initial Troop Roster, or in the absence thereof, for the period established by evidence but not earlier than the original date of recognition of the unit. For those persons who are listed on both rosters, the period of their recognized guerrilla service will be that indicated as the period of service on the Reconstructed Revision Troop Roster, or in the absence thereof, that period established by evidence, but not prior to the date of recognition or date of activation of the component unit in which he served, whichever is later.

(3) Seventh and Tenth Military Districts. Persons whose names are listed on the Reconstructed Initial Troop Rosters of the 7th and 10th Military Districts will not be granted recognized guerrilla service for any period unless their names are also manifested on authentic archive records of the unit concerned which may be included in the file or in the custody of the Organization and Philippine records. This requirement is added because the Reconstructed Initial Troop Rosters of these two commands were compiled from the archive records – organization rosters, orders, payrolls, vouchers, etc., kept by the organizations, and were recovered. It is necessary to verify names of persons listed on the Reconstructed Initial Troop Rosters of these two commands with archive records. If a person's name appears on an archive record of the 7th or 10th Military District but is not carried on the approved roster, he is not recognized.

Note. The revised data of recognition of any unit in the 10th Military District will be determined by referring to the Catalog of Guerrilla Organization Records. If a member of the 7th or 10th Military District is listed on a casualty roster or is individually recognized, the existence of archive records is not a prerequisite for valid recognition, i.e., the casualty roster or letter of individual recognition is a sufficient criterion for recognition. Unlike the Reconstructed Initial Troop Rosters of the 7th and 10th Military Districts, the casualty rosters and letters of individual recognition for these commands were acted upon and considered by Guerrilla Affairs Division independent of the archive records; however, archives check should also be made on each individual listed on the casualty roster or letter of individual recognition. Archive records will provide reliable information regarding the incidents of the veteran's service. In many cases, archive records have shown definitely that certain persons listed on the casualty rosters were civilians – not military personnel.

(4) Casualty Rosters. In unit recognition, the names of recognized members of the unit are listed on a Troop Roster or a Casualty Roster. The most common types of casualty rosters are classified as Killed in Action (KIA), Killed in Line of Duty (KILD), Died in Line of Duty (DILD), Wounded in Action (WIA), and Missing in Action (MIA). There are also rosters regarding CAPTURED by the enemy, Injured in the Line of Duty (IILD), and Wounded in Line of Duty (WILD). Soldiers who are recognized as WIA, WILD, or IILD are considered recognized from date of joining, date of casualty, or date of recognition of the unit, whichever is appropriate. Soldiers who are recognized in any type of casualty roster will be considered recognized from the date of recognition of the unit, or from date of joining, whichever is later. Exception: If a soldier entered into a casualty status prior to date of recognition of his unit, he may be considered recognized on the date of casualty. Dates of casualty may be indicated on the casualty roster or letter of individual casualty recognition. If convincing evidence shows this date to be in error, a deviation may be made. In all casualty recognition, the object is twofold: namely, recognition as a guerrilla as well as recognition of the injury or death, so as to give it prima facie presumption of service connection.

(5) Individual Recognition. Individual recognition may be for one day only, usually in casualty recognition, which is the date of casualty; or it may be for a fixed period from a given date to another given date, both dates inclusive. In certain instances, and individual recognition may not be for a fixed period, but one which has the effect of recognizing the individual concerned with the organization to which he belonged. In this case, the recognition of the unit applies to the individual. The letter of individual recognition should always be consulted to determine the period of recognized guerrilla service. Individual recognition may be accorded to one who may have belonged to a guerrilla organization that has never been recognized. In these instances, that fact is stated on the letter and the inclusive periods of recognition are always given.

(6) Hospital Confinement. When evidence indicates a soldier was confined in a Army hospital on the indicated ending date of service, he is not discharged on that date, but is still considered in the service, but not after June 30, 1946.

(7) Terminal Date Guerrilla. A terminal data guerrilla unit is one that has been recognized for a fixed period with an initial and a terminating data of recognition. In some units, like those of the Zambales Military District, the revision of recognition was not a setting back, but an extension from a given data to another given date. This was because the recognition dates of the units affected were limited to a fixed period. A person listed on a troop roster, regardless of the unit, having a period of service that includes both a beginning and an ending date is considered a terminal date guerrilla and is therefore considered discharged on the indicated ending date. Terminal Data Guerrillas who were processed into Regular Philippine Army service, and actually served therein without an intervening break at time of termination of recognition, are not considered as separated from the service.

(8) Special Instructions (name on approved roster).

(a) Beginning and Ending Dates on Roster. If a soldier's name appears on a recognized guerrilla roster and period of service is indicated with beginning and ending dates, the only requirement for determination is to identify the name appearing on the roster with the subject. If the Form 23 or other papers in the claims folder are consistent, the case should be concluded, provided it is the only file of record of same name wherein service is claimed with the same organization.

(b) Beginning Date on Roster (Discharge Certificate Available). If the beginning date of service is indicated on the roster, but no ending date, and a discharge certificate is available in the claims folder, use the date on the discharge certificate as the last date of service. Only the identity of the soldier is required.

(c) Beginning Date Only Available. If no evidence or indication of a specific date of discharge is available, an arbitrary date of discharge of September 26, 1945 will be used if no evidence is present to the contrary. If Form 23 indicates a specific date of discharge, this date will be used rather than the arbitrary date, if consistent.

(d) No Period of Service Shown on Roster. If no period of service is indicated on the roster, the period of service will be determined based on data contained in the claims folder and in compilation of data prepared for guerrilla units. Full use will be made of recognition dates of the unit in determining the periods of service of a soldier, other evidence not being contrary.

(e) When guerrilla units in the 10th military district show activation on or about November 1942, service begins the last day of that particular month.

(f) Inactive period shown on revised roster. If an inactive period is shown on the Approved guerrilla roster and specific dates are not indicated, such as "inactive 8 months", the breakdown of service will begin with one day recognized guerrilla service for the date of joining of induction and the eight months of inactive service will follow, being identified as "No Casualty Status".

(g) Service Under an Alias. Some persons claim to be listed on approved guerrilla rosters under an alias. The following are requirements to establish the identity of a soldier who is alleged to be listed on an approved guerrilla roster under an alias:

[1] Affidavit of Commanding Officer. Affidavit executed by the CO of the guerrilla unit to which soldier belongs establishing that he is the CO of the guerrilla unit from a certain date to a certain date; that he personally knows the soldier; that he authorized the use of the alias by the soldier for purpose of military secrecy during operations; that the alias appearing in the recognized roster and the true name refer to one and the same person; and that he will hold himself pecuniarily liable for any wrong payment made to that person whom he has identified.

[2] Joint Affidavit of Two Disinterested Persons. A joint affidavit of two disinterested persons, belonging to the same unit as the soldier, who have personal knowledge of the fact that he is the same person as the alias in the roster; that they are not related to the soldier, that they have personal knowledge of these facts because they belong to the same unit; and that they hold themselves pecuniarily liable for any wrong payment made to that person whom they have identified.

Note. All affidavits must be dated prior to June 30, 1948 and be a matter of record.

[3] Records Check for Other Claims. A records check will be made for the existence of claims under the various names in all cases in which aliases or discrepancies in name are involved. The results will be documented in a Memorandum for Record. Cases involving identification of a soldier's alias or wide discrepancies in spelling of his name will be submitted to the Supervisor, VA Branch, for approval in a Memorandum for Record, outlining the circumstances of the case and giving appropriate recommendations. In determining the identity of a person so as to grant him military status either as PA USAFFE or guerrilla in this type case, extreme caution will be taken to forestall unscrupulous attempts to identify undeserving persons with names of those whose military service is officially of record.

e. Missing Status. A missing status is the period during which a soldier is determined to be in a casualty status during enemy occupation other than while beleaguered, prisoner of war, or a recognized guerrilla receiving current pay.

(1) Evading capture. A soldier who evaded capture, fled to the hills, or remained in hiding to avoid capture, until his return to military control, will be determined to be in a missing status for such period. Periods of travel to a person's home after evading capture or escape as a POW from the Death March or from concentration camp will be determined as coming within the purview of this section.

(2) Surrender or disbandment of unit. Soldiers remaining with their unit before disbandment or awaiting formal surrender for the period immediately following April 8, 1942 or May 5, 1942, as the case may be, will be entitled to a missing status for such period until actual surrender or disbandment.

(3) Period of illness. A soldier will be determined to be in a missing status during periods of service-connected illness, provided such illness seriously impaired his earning power and caused him deprivation and hardship to an extent greater than that generally suffered by other residents incident to the Japanese occupation. It is realized that this determination will be very difficult to make in most cases. It can be assumed, however, that such illnesses as Dysentery, Beri-Beri, Malaria, and Malnutrition are service-connected. Lacking evidence to the contrary, if a soldier died of any of these diseases within six months after escape from Bataan, or after release or escape from the concentration camp, he may be presumed to have been ill with that disease from the time of escape or release until his death. When a soldier became ill of any of these diseases within this six month period after release or escape, such disease will be presumed to have been contracted prior to release or escape and therefore service-connected. Missing will be awarded only for the periods of actual illness. Intervening periods of No Casualty Status will not preclude the award of missing as indicated. In all cases, the fact of such illness must be established either by an affidavit or the attending physician or by a statement of an established medical institution. If a soldier was treated in a military hospital, he will be determined to be in a missing status during that period of hospitalization, unless there is evidence showing that his illness was not service-connected.

(4) Disability. A soldier suffering from a service-connected disability, such as loss of the use of any one or more limbs, loss of sight of one eye, etc., will be determined to be in a missing status. The requirements of proof outlined in the preceding sub-paragraph will apply. Affidavits of commissioned officers who by reason of their duties, were in a position to know the facts may be accepted to substantiate a claim for disability resulting from injury in the battlefield.

(5) Recognized Guerrilla Service. A soldier will be determined to be in a missing status during period of recognized guerrilla service prior to the date he or his unit began receiving current pay. See "Catalog of Guerrilla Organization Records" for dates of receipt of current pay.

(6) Unrecognized Guerrilla Activities. Member of the Philippine Army USAFFE will be determined to be in a missing status during period of active unrecognized guerrilla service or active participation in the anti-Japanese movement. Unrecognized guerrilla service may be proved by acceptable affidavits or certificates of guerrilla unit commander or any two members, preferably commissioned officers, belonging to the same unit. Credit will not be given for unrecognized guerrilla service to a person who claimed to be an agent of the guerrillas when such claim is based merely on the fact that he provided a meager amount of information to another authentic agent. In order to claim service as an agent of a guerrilla unit, it must be clearly shown that the person was duly appointed as an agent and ordered by competent authority to perform these duties.

(a) Unrecognized Guerrilla Service Under an Immediate Commander.

[1] In order that a soldier may be considered to have guerrilla service under a commissioned officer, it is necessary that he either shall have served in a guerrilla unit under an immediate commander who was a commissioned officer of the US Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or was a commissioned officer of the Commonwealth Army recognized by, and cooperating with, the US Forces.

[2] Immediate commander means the person occupying the military position of direct responsibility for, and control over, the soldier's acts. The term is elastic and may mean the platoon leader and up along the chain of command, depending on who was occupying the position of immediate responsibility for, and control over, the soldier's acts. If a soldier was a member of a company, or a similar unit, his immediate commander should normally be his platoon leader, or company commander (or similar unit commander). If soldier was in a battalion or regimental staff, his immediate commander would be the battalion commander or regimental commander, as the case may be.

[3] Unrecognized guerrilla service under an immediate commander will be established by an affidavit or a certificate of the immediate commander concerned or authentic archive records. When an affidavit or certificate is used, the commander must identify himself as such as state the periods of soldier's active service with a general description of the soldier's duties. If authentic archives are used, they must be verified to ensure that the officer was an immediate commander, that the soldier's period of service was entirely under that officer, and that there were no periods of absence from duty with the guerrilla force for the period involved. Archives may be in the claims folder or in the Military Organizational Records. Archive information that may prove helpful are monthly payrolls, rosters, consolidated reports, orders, miscellaneous unit letters or communications, personnel reports, intelligence reports, various commendations or recommendations, etc. The absence of an archive for a particular period does not in itself establish that a soldier was absent from duty. If a soldier is unaccounted for in the guerrilla archives for a period not exceeding 3 months, his status may be determined as missing for that period. The immediate commander will be the commander under whom the soldier served prior to the period during which archives are not available, provided there is not evidence indicating soldier was transferred. The immediate commander will be the commander under whom the soldier served after the period during which archives are not available if the evidence indicates the soldier was transferred. If neither commander was recognized during the period in question, soldier's status will be determined as missing (Unrecognized Guerrilla Service), not under an immediate commander.

[4] If the immediate commander was a commissioned officer of the US Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, it is neither necessary that he be a commissioned officer all the time, nor that he be a recognized guerrilla officer. It is proof enough that he was occupying the position of immediate commander even if he was not legally a commissioned officer at the time, as long as he was subsequently commissioned for his guerrilla activities. A soldier's service under a commissioned officer of the US Army, Navy, or Marine Corps will be gin on the date the officer became his immediate commander.

[5] If the immediate commander was a commissioned officer of the Commonwealth Army, he must have been a recognized guerrilla officer. He did not have to be recognized as a commissioned officer throughout his period of recognized guerrilla service. He may have been recognized in an enlisted grade for a period and later as an officer; however, he must have been immediate commander with respect to the soldier during the period of his commander's recognition. Soldier's service under such a recognized officer of the Commonwealth Army began on the date the recognized guerrilla service of the immediate commander began, or on the date such commander became soldier's immediate commander, whichever is later. If soldier died or became a casualty due to enemy action prior to the beginning date of his immediate commander's recognized guerrilla service, he may be considered to have served under that commander on the date of casualty only. In determining the length of service under an officer of the Commonwealth Army, a soldier may not be placed in a better position than he would have been had his guerrilla service under such commander been actually recognized. In other words, the unrecognized guerrilla service can neither begin prior to, nor extend beyond the period of recognition of immediate commander, except when soldier died or became a casualty due to enemy action prior to the recognition of his immediate commander. It is emphasized that although the immediate commander was a commissioned officer of the Commonwealth Army, he must have been recognized as a guerrilla officer also. Thus, a commissioned officer of the PA USAFFE who was the immediate commander of a soldier in a guerrilla unit will not be considered a commissioned officer of the Commonwealth army recognized by, and cooperating with, the United States Forces, if such officer was not recognized as a guerrilla commissioned officer.

(b) Unrecognized Guerrilla Service Not Under an Immediate Commander. This type of service is appropriate when a soldier's immediate commander is not recognized or the other requirements of the preceding sub-paragraph 5e\(6\)\(a\) are not fulfilled. Such service is supported by affidavits or certificates of any two recognized members belonging to the same unit as the soldier (preferably commissioned officers). The affiants will identify themselves in the affidavits or certificates stating the soldier's period of active service and a general description of his duties. Authentic archives that do not meet the requirements of preceding subparagraph 5e\(6\)\(a\) may be used alone or in conjunction with affidavits to support periods of unrecognized service of this type.

(c) Unrecognized Anti-Japanese Activity. This term covers service performed by a former PA USAFFE member against the Japanese, assisting the US Armed Forces, including the guerrillas. It should not be confused with "Spy Status". Many types of activities were performed which may be considered in granting unrecognized anti-Japanese activities. The following are a few of the more common activities alleged: Form of intelligence reporting furnished to the guerrillas on Japanese locations, strength, airports, supply dumps and any known military plans or movements; forms of sabotage; obtaining foods, arms or ammunition, radios, medicines, and various supplies for the guerrillas; destruction of communication lines or hampering Japanese movements; housing transient guerrillas and treating sick or wounded guerrillas; etc. It has been noted that many times the person will state in his processing papers, upon return to military control, that he did not join the guerrillas; however, he performed certain "anti-Japanese activities" for a given period. Consideration must be given to granting unrecognized anti-Japanese activity for any such alleged period, if substantiated in any form by an archive or an acceptable affidavit or certificate.

[1] Unrecognized anti-Japanese activity may be based on affidavits or certificates of two PA USAFFE soldiers or recognized civilian guerrillas whose records show them to be in a position to make the affidavits or certificates. The PA USAFFE affiants do not have to be recognized guerillas; however, the statements in their affidavits must coincide with their own official records which place them in a position compatible to the situation.

[2] Unrecognized anti-Japanese activity may be based also on guerrilla archives when the guerrilla unit was not recognized, or when such unit was at one time recognized but subsequently the recognition was revoked.

(d) Spy Status. PA USAFFE guerrilla personnel who were employed by the Japanese or a Japanese-controlled agency in any capacity other than as prisoners of war will be determined to be in a missing status for the entire period of employment if satisfactory evidence is presented in the form of affidavits that state they were "planted" as spies during such employment for the purpose of gathering and furnishing their guerrilla unit information of military importance, and that they complied with instructions of their superior officers. To be accepted, such affidavits should be executed by their guerrilla commanders, who must be at least a Battalion or similar unit Commander. (Units similar to a battalion are: squadrons, separate companies, separate troops, separate batteries, or separate detachments.) The affiants must describe themselves in the affidavits as the soldier's battalion or similar unit or higher commander. To establish spy status, it is essential that before soldier was "planted" he must have been a member of a guerrilla unit under the command of the officer who executed the affidavit.

(e) Civilian Employment During the Liberation. A soldier employed in any capacity, other than military, by the US Army or Philippine Commonwealth Government, during the liberation, but prior to return to military control, whether or not a regular salary was received, will be determine to be in a missing status for the period of such employment.

(f) Confinement by Guerrilla Unit. A soldier who was held in confinement or under physical restraint by a guerrilla unit will be determined in a missing status for the period of confinement, provided he was released without trial by court-martial, or if tried by court-martial, he was not convicted. If the soldier was killed or executed without trial, his case will be decided on its merits, taking into account the cause or causes of confinement.

(g) Period of Absence, Missing or Missing in Action (whereabouts unknown) in Finds of Death Cases.

f. No casualty status. This is any period after December 8, 1941 during which sufficient evidence is not available to establish that a soldier is entitled to benefits under the Missing Persons Act.

g. Desertion and Absence Without Leave (AWOL).

(1) Desertion. The only competent evidence of desertion is the approved findings of a general court-martial. The inclusive periods during which a soldier was absent in desertion will be the period so stated in the approved findings of a general court-martial.

(2) AWOL. If convincing evidence is on file showing that the soldier's unauthorized absence was excusable and justifiable, no determination of AWOL will be made. Mere lack of intent, however, is not sufficient excuse. When a soldier has been tried by a court-martial for AWOL, his acquittal or conviction constitutes a conclusive determination of the question. In the absence of a finding or decision by a court-martial, a determination that soldier was AWOL may be made in the following instances:

(a) When a soldier is listed on the records of his organization as AWOL.

(b) When soldier admits AWOL in a statement which is a part of the evidence on file.

(c) When statements of the soldier's superior officers or other members of his unit, who were in a position to know, indicate that he was AWOL.

(d) When a soldier was absent and not performing active military service for unexplained or unjustified reasons.

(e) Several troop rosters (usually for unit on Mindanao) in organizational and military records indicate that some soldiers "deserted". These rosters are dated after May 7, 1942.

[1] If a soldier's name on one of these rosters is followed by the remark "deserted" and a specific date of desertion of May 5, 1942 or earlier is given, the soldier will be considered as AWOL from that date until beginning date of recognized guerrilla service, beginning date of unrecognized guerrilla service under an AUS or recognized guerrilla officer, or date of return to military control.

[2] Soldiers listed on these rosters with date of "desertion" given as May 6, 1942 or later will be considered to have evaded surrender and will be considered in whatever status is appropriate on the basis of claims folder.

[3] Soldiers listed on troop rosters of the 101st Division (PA) initiated after the units were surrendered with the remark "deserted", but no specific date of desertion is given, will be considered as having been with the unit through May 5, 1942, and to have entered whatever status is appropriate based on claims folder evidence, except that "Missing" under Staff Memo 14 "with his unit prior to disbandment" is not appropriate, because the roster's existence indicates the unit did not disband and the soldier's name being listed as a deserter indicates that he did not surrender with his unit.

(f) A soldier listed on the records of his organization as a deserter who in fact was a deserter, but was not tried for desertion will be considered AWOL. A soldier maybe determined AWOL also if after being tried by a competent court-martial for desertion, was acquitted on a technicality, or if convicted, the sentence was disapproved by the reviewing authority on a technicality, provided the findings show that soldier was absent without authority, but not under circumstances amounting to desertion.

(g) Confinement by Civil Authorities. A soldier arrested and confined by civil authorities for a civil offense will be considered AWOL. If released without trial or not prosecuted, or if tried was acquitted, he is restored to duty from the date of arrest.

(h) AWOL from a Guerrilla Organization. A PA USAFFE soldier who joined a Guerrilla organization and absented himself from duty without authority may be determined AWOL during the period of absence, provided his organization is a recognized unit, or if not, his unit commander is individually recognized, regardless of whether or not the soldier is recognized.

(3) Determination of Period of AWOL.

(a) A soldier will be determined as AWOL from the beginning date of unauthorized absence to the date of his arrest by, or surrender to, military authorities, or reporting to duty.

(b) If a PA USAFFE soldier joined a guerrilla unit and went AWOL as provided in subparagraph 5g\(2\)\(h\) above, his period of AWOL will be terminated upon entry into a POW status or missing status by joining another guerrilla unit, whether or not the latter is a recognized unit. In such cases, a period of AWOL will be determined only during the period of recognition of the unit or of the unit commander.

(c) A period of AWOL not exceeding 24 hours will not be considered AWOL, except when a soldier went AWOL and died before the lapse of 24 hours. In such cases, a finding of Not in Line of Duty is proper.

(d) Clinical and Medical records frequently reveal period of AWOL that should be indicated in the determination of soldier's status.

(e) The period after August 15, 1945 to the actual date of return to military control is an AWOL status unless the absence is supported by acceptable evidence of sickness or other bona fide reasons which would warrant a Missing or No Casualty Status. Note. Compatible statements of soldier may be considered acceptable.

h. Return to Military Control.

(1) Determination of Date (PA USAFFE).

(a) No Recognized Guerrilla Service. A PA USAFFE soldier who has not recognized guerrilla service will be considered to have returned to military control on the date he reported to a replacement battalion for processing, not the date his processing actually began or was completed.

(b) Recognized Guerrilla Service. A PA USAFFE soldier who has recognized guerrilla service will be considered to have returned to military control on the date he reported to a replacement battalion for processing or on the date his guerrilla unit came under the operational control of the 6th or 8th Army, whichever is earlier. (The date a member of a recognized guerrilla unit came under the operational control of the 6th or 8th Army is the date when he was first attached to any unit of the liberation forces. If this date cannot be ascertained, the date he began receiving current pay will be considered as the date of attachment.) The date of return to military control cannot be earlier than the date of initial landings of Liberation Forces on the island where his unit operated. This is the first possible date when he could have been attached to the US Army. The first landing of US Liberation Forces were made on Leyte, October 19, 1944 and on the Island of Luzon, January 9, 1945. For dates of landing on other Philippine Archipelago Islands, refer to the letter of recognition of the guerrilla unit that operated on each island. (See list of dates of capitulation or areas within the Philippines to the Japanese and date of liberation of areas by American Forces in Reference Manual.)

(2) Confined by CIC. A PA USAFFE soldier who was confined by the CIC, or in a US Army Evacuation or Station Hospital will be considered to have returned to military control on the date his confinement began, unless he had previously returned to military control in accordance with the preceding sub-paragraphs.

(3) AWOL. A member of the PA USAFFE, a recognized guerrilla, or a current enlistee who while under military control became absent from duty without authority and later reported or was returned to duty, will be considered to have returned to military control on the date he reported or was returned to duty.

(4) Subsequent to June 30, 1946. A member of the PA USAFFE who reported to military control in the PA after June 30, 1946 will not be considered to have returned to military control under the Armed Forces of the US.

6. Grades, Promotions, Rates of Pay.

- a. When the PA USAFFE service of a deceased soldier has been established, but nosatisfactory evidence of grade is available, he shall be determined to be in the lowest grade possible, i.e., private, or if the evidence clearly show that he as a commissioned officer, he shall be determined to be a 3rd Lieutenant. Grades may not be determined on the basis of military position held, except that civilian drivers and mechanics inducted into the PA USAFFE shall be determined in grades not to exceed the following:

Ambulance drivers – Private Drivers (other) – Private First Class Mechanics – Corporal

If at any time there is an indication of civilian status or when the person refers to his status as a civilian driver, civilian mechanic, civilian radio operator, civilian telephone operator, etc., appropriate check should be made for "War Department Civilian Employee File", civilian payroll data, and NPRC Memo 1865.125 - General Background and miscellaneous correspondence procedures unique to the Philippine Army Records information in the "Unit Histories" or organizational and military records. When official records and affidavits conflict, official records will prevail.

- b. Original Grades. PA USAFFE soldier's grades as of December 8, 1941 or date of call to active duty, whichever is later, will be determined from the grade shown in Special Orders of Call to Active Duty, National Service Life Insurance Records, Casualty Reports, organizational and military records, promotion orders issued by authorized Headquarters prior to May 6, 1942, or from acceptable affidavits of unit Commanders, executive officers, personnel officers, first sergeants, platoon sergeants, squad leaders, and company clerks.
- c. Promotions. All enlisted men's promotions or appointments in commissioned ranks prior to May 6, 1942 will be determined from available evidence and records, which may be any of the following: Special Orders issued by Headquarters, USAFFE or USAFIP, Fort Mills, Corregidor; Regimental Special Orders for non-commissioned officers; Company Orders – only for enlisted men claiming promotion to or demotion from the grade of private first class; Confirming Orders issued by Headquarters, Army of the Philippines, with authority from the Commanding General, AFPAC, AFWESPAC, or PHILRYCOM; and acceptable affidavits of persons, such as unit commanders, executive officers, personnel officers, first sergeants, platoon sergeants, squad leaders, and company clerks, stating that orders were in fact issued for the promotion or commission in question. When official records and affidavits conflict, official records will prevail.

(1) POW Record or Death Certificate. When such record shows a grade higher than that shown in a NSLI record, the soldier will be presumed to have been promoted to the higher grade on the first day of the month following the insurance policy's effective date. If the effective date of promotion will be after the termination of beleaguered status or the effect will be promotion from an enlisted grade to a commissioned rank, the promotion will not be considered, the lower grade will prevail. Promotions of officers will not be presumed under this procedure.

(2) Guerrilla Ranks and Grades.

(a) When a PA USAFFE soldier's name appears on a recognized guerrilla roster or individual letter of recognition with a higher rank or grade than his last PA USAFFE one, the guerrilla rank or grade will be accepted beginning on the date of recognition or effective date of promotion, whichever is later.

(b) If a PA USAFFE soldier is a recognized guerrilla with a rank or grade lower than his PA USAFFE one, guerrilla rank or grade will not be considered in the grade determination.

(c) All guerrilla promotions after the date of recognition or date of induction, whichever is later, will be considered in the grade determination, however, the highest acceptable guerrilla rank or grade will be the one shown on the guerrilla roster. A rank or grade higher than that shown on the recognized roster will be considered only when it has been confirmed by Headquarters, Army of the Philippines, with authority from the Commanding General, ARPAC, AFWESPAC, or PHILRYCOM.

(d) Discrepancies. When a discrepancy exists regarding a soldier's grade, the following rules will govern:

[1] If a soldier is carried on a recognized roster in different grades, the lower grade will be considered his recognized grade.

[2] If the name appears in more than one roster with different grades and the rosters bear the same date of recognition, the lower grade will be considered his recognized grade and he will be considered to belong to the unit on whose roster his name appears with the lower grade.

[3] If his name appears on rosters of different units, with different grades, his grade on the roster that was approved earliest will be considered his recognized grade.

(3) After Death. When a soldier's recommendation for promotion was approved prior to his death, and appropriate promotion orders were issued after his death, the grade to which he was promoted will be considered his highest grade.

d. Pay and Allowances. (See Reference Manual, Recovered Personnel Records Branch, for monthly rates of pay and allowances of officers and enlisted men of the Philippine Commonwealth Army.)

7. Date and Character of Discharge. The date and character of a soldier's discharge from the service may be extracted from his discharge certificate, Form 55, Special Order of Discharge; WD AGO Form 40; WD AGO Form 100, clinical records; or final endorsement of service record. a discharge may be honorable, other than honorable, or dishonorable. Every effort should be made to obtain copies of the Special Orders of Discharge from the organizational and military records. The guerrilla special orders authorizing the discharge of a PA USAFFE may be accepted as proof of discharge in the absence of evidence in conflict. In case of discrepancy between one record and another in the date of discharge, the date shown on the special orders will be accepted. AFP may be consulted only in cases where the discharge data is material to the determinations. Those requests will be routed through the VA.

a. Determination of Date. A soldier will not be discharged from the PA in the service of the US Armed Forces after June 30, 1946. In any case where evidence indicates a soldier continued serving in the PA after June 30, 1946, he will be considered as having been automatically separated on that date.

b. Determination of Character.

(1) In determining character of separation, it is necessary to obtain information from the organizational and military records regarding court-martial proceedings, if any, against the soldier which might affect the character of the automatic separation from service.

(2) If the soldier was discharged dishonorably after June 30, 1946, the case will be suspended and a request to AFP for Board or court-martial proceedings will be made to determine whether the act affecting dishonorable discharge was committed on or prior to June 30, 1946. Such request will be dispatched through the VA.

(3) If a soldier died after discharge allegedly any date prior to June 30, 1946 and no discharge certificate or Special Order of Discharge is of record, and the claimant has indicated an inability to furnish the documents, the date and character of discharge will be administratively determined from the evidence in his 201 file and archive records without recourse to an outside agency.

8. Death Status.

a. Fact of Death. The fact of death may be based on any of the following evidence. True copies of documents are acceptable if they are certified by the legal custodians of the documents. Documents certified by a commissioned officer of the Philippine Army or Philippine Constabulary (in active service) or by a DA Field Investigator may be acceptable also.

(1) Conclusive Proof. The following may be considered conclusive proof of death if not contradicted in any material aspect:

(a) Certified true copies of death certificates issued by Local Civil Registrars when evidence shows that the entries on the original certificate were made on or shortly after the date of death.

(b) Certificates of death issued by duly established medical institutions based on existing records accompanied by a statement signed by the custodian thereof that the original records were made by one whose official duty was to record such events and that entries thereon were made on or shortly after the date of death.

(c) An affidavit signed by the medical officer or physician who attended the deceased at time of death, giving date, place, and cause of death.

(d) An affidavit of at least one disinterested person who personally knew the deceased in life, and who actually saw and positively identified the dead body, or was present at the burial. The affiant must state the circumstances surrounding the death, how they came to this knowledge, and they must have been likely in the normal course of events.

(e) A death certificate or casualty report showing that the soldier died after being processed into the PA and while still in the service thereof. This document is considered an official report of death.

(f) Official Guerrilla Casualty Roster or Burial Certificate (Church Record) which is corroborated by a statement of the next of kin that he or she was present at time of death or saw the dead body.

(2) Reasonably Conclusive Proof. The following evidence is considered only reasonably conclusive proof of death:

(a) Death certificates and casualty reports issued by the Veterans Affairs Division or by the Philippine Executive Commission and Bureau of Public Welfare showing the soldier died before being processed into the Philippine Commonwealth Army. If these certificates or casualty reports cannot be verified for authenticity against the list of casualties in the archive records of organizational and military records, they should be discarded.

(b) Official Guerrilla Casualty Rosters of KIA, KILD, and DILD.

(c) Burial Certificates (church records).

(d) Affidavits or statements of persons based on actual perception of death, but not conforming strictly to affidavit referred to in sub-paragraph 8a\(1\)\(d\) above.

(e) Reports of death based on records whose accuracy has not been fully established, or statements of actual perception of the fact of death know under circumstances not fully explained.

b. Date, place, and cause of death. In addition to the fact of death, the date, place, cause, and circumstances surrounding death are necessary in the determination. The cause of death is especially vital for determining its service connection, if any, under the rules and regulations of the Veterans Administration. Every effort therefore should be made to obtain this information and except in finding of death, the statement "unknown cause" or "unknown sickness" should not be shown. If a soldier died of unnatural causes while under military control, a report of investigation or findings or a Board of Officer is necessary. When death or injury was incurred in action or through enemy action, a report of a Board is not necessary; however, there must be evidence proving that death or injury was incurred in action or through enemy action.

(1) Guidelines pertaining to line of duty status are maintained in Special VA Inquiry Section, VA Branch, Entitlements Division, PSD.

(2) When a line of duty determination in death cases is necessary, prepare Memorandum through Branch Chief to Director, PSD, outlining the circumstances of death.

c. Findings of Death. A finding of death is the means of establishing death by presumption when the evidence regarding the fact and date of death are insufficient and the circumstances surrounding death are unknown. A finding of death maybe made at any time after the expiration of twelve months absence when a person is absent, missing, or missing in action (whereabouts unknown), and the information received or a lapse of time without information establishes a reasonable presumption that he is no long alive. In no case shall presumed date of death be subsequent to the date the finding is made, or earlier than the day following the expiration of twelve months absence. The determination of the circumstances surrounding the presumed death will not be attempted. The authority for making a finding of death is Section 5, Missing Persons Act (Public Law 490, 77th Congress, as amended).

d. Line of Duty.

e. Presumption of Death. The presumed date of death shall be fixed in accordance with the following rules:

- (1) A soldier who was last seen, heard from, accounted for or reported to be alive prior to October 23, 1943 shall be presumed dead on October 23, 1944.
- (2) A soldier who was last seen, heard from, accounted for or reported to be alive on or after October 23, 1943 shall be presumed dead on the day following the expiration of twelve months from the date he was last heard from, accounted for, or reported to be alive.

f. Presumption of Death Justified.

(1) When evidence does not indicate actual death, but leaves a possibility of survival, the soldier may be presumed dead. The following evidence is required for a finding of death:

(a) Date and place last seen or heard from after December 7, 1941 must be shown either in official records or in acceptable affidavits of two or more disinterested persons who personally knew the deceased.

(b) Affidavits of two or more disinterested persons from the soldier's locality, certifying to the fact that soldier has neither returned home nor has been heard of to the present. Special attention will be given to affidavits referring to the soldier as "the late ___", or "deceased ___" in satisfying the requirements of proof of non-return. Many instances have been noted where statements under oath as to the surviving relatives of the subject have been acceptable to establish non-return.

(2) When date and circumstances of death are not available and claimant is not or would not be able to furnish additional evidence, an arbitrary presumptive date of death is justified if the file contains sufficient indication of non-return. (Cases with NSLI, POW, medical records, etc., the arbitrary date will be that which is consistent with the type of acceptable archive of record. For instances, a case with POW archive would result in arbitrary date of January 25 1943, other evidence consistent. The cases will not be suspended for proof of death.)

(3) When the name of the soldier is identified in a casualty roster which shows he was KIA, KILD, or DILD, and sufficient evidence is on file to establish that he did not die as indicated on the roster, but instead was missing and has never been seen again, a finding of death is justified.

(4) When sufficient evidence is available to establish that a soldier was serving with a guerrilla unit and disappeared prior to the revised date of recognition of the unit, a finding of death is justified. In such case, he would be considered recognized on the date he disappeared and in a missing status until the date of presumed death.

g. Status Until Presumed Date of Death. When a soldier was determined to be in a casualty status (Beleaguered, POW, Missing, Recognized Guerrilla, or Regular PA Service) on the date of disappearance he will be carried in a Missing Status to the date of presumed death.

h. Death in a No Casualty Status.

(1) A soldier who died while in a No Casualty Status is not subject to the Missing Persons Act; therefore, a determination or presumption of death is neither authorized nor required in any case in which sufficient evidence is available to establish that a soldier died while in this status. If however a determination of death is required for official purposes, the date seven years from date last seen or accounted for will be used and findings of death issued under previous determinations will be cancelled.

(2) If in determining the status of a soldier under the Missing Persons Act, sufficient evidence is compiled to establish that he died in a No Casualty Status, the following procedures will be followed:

(a) A termination date of status under the Missing Persons Act will be established for a person whose whereabouts is unknown while being carried in a no casualty status. The termination date will be the date the person was last seen or accounted for while in a no casualty status.

(b) If a determination of death is not required, a statement will be made that no evidence is available to indicate the whereabouts or activities subsequent to the date the person was last seen or accounted for. Findings of death issued under previous determinations will be cancelled.

(c) No action will be taken on previously determined cases solely to conform to these instructions unless the request is initiated by the Veterans Administration.

i. Death Due to Unnatural Causes. The Supervisor, VA Branch, will decide whether an immediate determination may be made in all cases in which veteran died in the service due to unnatural causes. This includes death by accident, gunshot wounds, shot by person or persons unknown, etc., and the records contain insufficient evidence concerning the facts and circumstances surrounding soldier's death. If the soldier was serving in a regular component of the PA during or subsequent to the liberation of the islands and prior to July 1, 1946, a request will be sent to HPA for any record of an Investigation or findings of a Board of Officers concerning the soldier's death. This request must be approved by the Supervisor, VA Branch. (These instructions are not intended to cover death at the hand of the enemy.)

9. Last date of Entitlement to Pay. The last date of entitlement to pay of a deceased soldier will be determined as follows:

a. If the soldier died after he returned to military control, last date of entitlement to pay is date of death (determined or presumed), date of discharge, or June 30, 1946, whichever is earliest.

b. If the soldier died without returning to military control.

(1) When death (determined or presumed) occurred while in a status of AWOL, Desertion or No Casualty Status, last date of entitlement to pay will be one day prior to date such status began.

(2) When death occurred while POW, Missing or during service with a Recognized Guerrilla or Regular PA Unit on or after October 23, 1944, last date of entitlement to pay will be date of death (determined or presumed), date of discharge, or June 30, 1946, whichever is earliest.

(3) When death occurred while in a casualty status prior to October 23, 1944, last date of entitlement to pay will be:

(a) October 23, 1944 when proof of death is only reasonably conclusive.

(b) On the date the nearest of kin had personal knowledge or official notice of death, or October 23, 1944, whichever is earlier, when proof of death is conclusive.

c. In deceased cases which have been adjudicated for arrears in pay, the arrears in pay determination should be taken into account in determining last date of entitlement to pay. This date should be the last date of entitlement to pay determined for arrears in pay purposes, or the last date of entitlement to pay as determined under this Section, whichever date is later.

10. Cases previously adjudicated for arrears in pay for VA purposes. If a claims folder contains either a prior determination for arrears in pay or a prior certification of service to the VA, or both, the following action is required:

- a. When the claims folder contains a determination for arrears in pay, a search will be made for additional records or archives, which may have been received subsequent to the date arrears in pay determination, was completed. If additional records or archives are received which would warrant a material change in any status of the prior determination, a re-determination of status under the Missing Persons Act is required. If however no additional records or archives are received and prior determination is properly supported, no action is required other than to prepare a NPRC Test Form 02-03.
- b. When the claims folder contains a previous certification of service to the VA dated subsequent to February 11, 1950, and a determination for arrears in pay, the VA certification will be accepted unless it contains a major discrepancy. It will then be compared with the determination for arrears in pay. If the information shown in each certification is compatible, the only action required is a statement in the records that the two certifications are compatible. If the VA certification is verified, but the arrears in pay determination is not compatible, a determination of status under the Missing Persons Act will be completed by transposing status from the VA certification on NPRC Test Form 02-05, or 02-04 and entering a notation in the lower left corner of the form "Cross Reference VA certification dated ____".
- c. When a claims folder contains a copy of a determination sheet sent to VA showing the case was previously determined favorably for arrears in pay for PA USAFFE service only, but the case is now determined negative, the prior determination will be revoked by completing NPRC Test Form 02-04.
- d. The latest determination of status under the Missing Persons Act will always be filed as the topmost document on the right side of the claims folder. When the records contain a determination of status under the Missing Persons Act for arrears in pay purposes, and it is determined to be correct, it will be filed as the topmost document on the right side of the claims folder.

1. Purpose. This memorandum provides procedures for administering the Standardization Program for NRPM correspondence duties.
2. Standardization Program Overview. The Standardization Program has two primary goals;
  - 1) to identify and ensure Center-wide compliance with correspondence related tasks critical to the objectives of protecting privacy, protecting and ensuring the availability of essential source documents, and providing a quality response (see objectives a through c below) and
  - 2) to identify, document, and disseminate "best practices".
  - a. Protecting Privacy
    - (1) Requester receives only the documents he/she is authorized to receive.
    - (2) Requester receives only documents for the individual who is the subject of the request.
    - (3) Response is properly sent to the authorized requester.
  - b. Protecting & Ensuring the Availability of Essential Source Documents.
    - (1) Records are loaned or transferred to the correct agency.

- (10) Participate in the development and implementation of corrections or "best practices".

e. Technicians:

- (1) Follow established best practices and policy.
- (2) Maintain consistent and positive work habits.

4. Standardization Review. The key component of the Standardization Program is a recurring observation of the technician's work to determine his/her level of compliance with the critical tasks identified in paragraph 6, and to identify efficient and effective "best practices" that would benefit Center-wide correspondence efforts. In addition to the critical tasks, each standardization review may include a special interest focus on a specific correspondence related task identified by the Director. Examples might include tasks such as archival record processing, referrals or Core loan and transfer processing. The special interest item checklist will be developed prior to the review and based on established task procedure. The Director will consider factors such as trends in customer perceptions/complaints or the critical nature of the task in determining the special interest item. Newly established processes may also warrant selection to determine the effectiveness of implementation efforts.

- a. Each Correspondence and Organizational Records Technician will normally experience at least one Standardization Review per year; however frequency will be dependent upon factors such as the Center-wide results from previous reviews, changes in business practices, or changes in identified critical tasks. A Standardization Review will include the review of each technician's work. However, small group reviews may be administered to validate changes to the program or critical task listing.
- b. Expert and/or Lead Technicians will conduct Standardization Reviews for each technician using NPRC Test Form 07-01, Standardization Program Review Checklist.
- c. During the review, Expert and/or Lead Technicians will not ask questions of the technician or offer suggestions to the technician, unless observed activities will lead to a violation of law (i.e. direct violation of the Privacy Act).
- d. Each technician's review will take approximately 2 hours, but may last longer if more time is needed to ensure an accurate review of all checklist items. The time devoted to an individual review may be accomplished in split intervals instead of one continuous review. This may be required to capture separate work processes such as "Pre-processing" and "In Core" work.
- e. A typical review day for Standardization Review team members will include preparation, completion of two to three employee reviews, and documentation/data entry of review results.
- f. The following program variances will occur between Core and Organizational Records due to differences in mission and available personnel resources.

(1) Correspondence Cores:

- (a) Core Managers will identify Expert Technicians to conduct Standardization Reviews.
- (b) Typically, no more than three of the Center's Expert Technicians will be conducting Standardization Reviews at any given time. However, additional Expert Technicians may be devoted to this task at the discretion of the Director to reduce the duration of the review cycle. Normally, assigned Expert Technicians will not be from the same Correspondence Core as the subject of the review.
- (c) Participating Expert Technicians will normally be devoted to the task of conducting Standardization Reviews until the work of all available Correspondence Technicians has been reviewed.
- (d) Expert Technician time away from his/her assigned Correspondence Team will be limited to approximately 45 consecutive work-days. This assumes a full team of three Expert Technicians are performing at least two reviews per day. To mitigate the time any given Expert Technician is away from the team, the Director or Assistant Director may authorize smaller group reviews with different Standardization Team Members. For example, one Standardization Team could review all Team A technicians followed by a new Standardization Team that would review all Team B technicians, etc.
- (e) Expert Technicians will not review the work of their own team members, nor will they review of the work of the same employee for consecutive reviews.

(2) Organizational Records:

- (a) An Organizational Records lead technician or the section supervisor will accomplish Standardization Reviews of Organizational Records Section technicians.
- (b) Due to the small number of employees needing reviews, the Organizational Records lead or supervisor will not devote their time exclusively to the task of completing the Standardization Reviews.
- (c) The Organizational Records lead or supervisor may perform consecutive reviews of the same technician's work.

g. A typical Standardization Review process will consist of the following steps:

- (1) The Learning Center Staff will work with Core Managers and Branch Chiefs to identify Expert and Lead Technicians to serve on the Standardization Team.
- (2) Standardization Team members will meet with Learning Center Staff to develop the schedule, develop special interest item checklist, determine individual review assignments, and to ensure an understanding of the process.
- (3) The Learning Center Staff will inform Core Managers, Branch Chiefs and supervisors of general schedule timelines. Individual technicians will not be informed of when their work will be reviewed.
- (4) Standardization Team members will conduct scheduled reviews of assigned employees.
- (5) At the end of each day of review, the Standardization Team members will document and enter review results into the tracking database.
- (6) The Learning Center Staff will distribute individual review results to the employee's supervisor on a weekly basis.
- (7) Standardization Team members will meet with the Learning Center Staff to review overall results, identify trends and "best practices" and develop recommendations.
- (8) The Learning Center Staff will distribute a summary report and recommendations to the Director, Assistant Director, Core Managers and Branch Chiefs.

5. Use of Standardization Review Results

- a. Standardization Review results will be used to determine the Center-wide risk for Privacy Act violations, the risk to our record holdings, and the potential for poor quality responses. To help reduce these risks, trainers and supervisors will use individual results as an indicator of areas requiring employee development. Additionally, the identification, development and publication of "best practices" discovered during the review will be used to improve processes.
  - b. Individual Standardization review results will be provided to the employee's supervisor. Supervisors will discuss the results with the employee.
6. Critical Tasks. The critical tasks identified below are actions that, if not taken, will have an extremely high likelihood of violating the Privacy Act, damaging record holdings, reducing the availability of essential documents, or providing a poor quality response to the requester. Do not consider the listed critical tasks to be the only actions important to correspondence operations. For example, maintaining a clear separation between multiple veterans' documents at the copy machine is a very important action that will help reduce the likelihood of mixed records that can result in a Privacy Act violation. The critical action, however, is to verify you do not have mixed documents just prior to placing them in the response envelope.

Item	Critical Task
1	Maintain only 1 record at a time in his/her immediate work area and limit other records, not alphabetized on the cart, to work pending or for dispatch that day.
2	Maintain correspondence-related material alphabetically on the file cart. (Exception: Only GS-3s working sep docs may file by date.)
3	Promptly return records to support for refile when no longer needed.
4	Follow queue management.
5	Avoid multi-tasking that distracts from the correspondence task currently being performed, i.e. talking on the phone while working a case.
6	Confirm all open documents (electronic and paper) match the case being worked.
7	Communicate with the requester to clarify concerns about customer needs or releasability of documents.
8	Utilize CMRS Notes (creating and reading).
9	Read the entire request to positively determine: (a) What is being requested (b) Requester's entitlement
10	Verify the correct record is being used.
11	Follow record handling procedures.
12	Follow established correspondence guidance.
13	Check for orphaned originals and copies.
14	Keep photocopies in the folder with the record after copy work.
15	Delete data according to release policy and deletion procedures.
16	Verify referral and loan & transfer packages are properly prepared, appropriate for the case, contain enough information for the agency to work the case, and dispatched to the correct agency.
17	Ensure original documents are returned to correct veteran's folder.
18	Immediately prior to dispatching any response, perform a final quality check to ensure a complete response is accurately delivered to an authorized requester. As a minimum, re-verify: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Requester's authorization to receive information/copies being provided.</li> <li>b. Information/documents being provided are for the subject of the request.</li> <li>c. Correct mailing address.</li> <li>d. Response addresses each item requested.</li> <li>e. Documents are placed in the correct envelope.</li> </ul>

Standardization Program Review Checklist for NRPMP Correspondence Technicians

Employee's Name _____ Office Symbol _____ Supervisor's Name _____

Reviewer's Name _____ Office Symbol _____ Review Date(s) _____

Expert or Lead Technicians assigned to the Standardization Team will use this checklist during a Standardization Review to measure compliance with identified tasks and work-habits deemed critical to protecting the veteran's privacy, protecting and ensuring the availability of essential documents and providing a quality response. The review will also focus on identifying effective individual processes and work-habits that might be useful in improving the effectiveness of others.

Reviewer Guidance:

1. Expert or Lead Technicians assigned to the Standardization Team will contact Employee Development staff to establish review assignments and schedules.
2. Prior to beginning a review of the file cart, run and print a CMRS query of the technician's pending requests (Request Status = In Core, Pre-Processing Done, Suspense. Sort results alphabetically by veteran's last name). Records found on the cart that are not showing on the report are likely for closed cases or assigned to another technician.
3. Conduct the review using this checklist. Do not inform the technician of the review prior to showing up at his/her workstation. When you contact the technician briefly communicate the following.
  - a. Introduce yourself and brief the following.
  - b. I will be conducting a Standardization Review. (Technicians should be fully aware of the program, but if you perceive they may be unfamiliar with the program, ask and offer them a copy of the checklist.)
  - c. I will make every effort not to interfere with your work.
  - d. Please continue work as you would if I was not here.
  - e. I will be reviewing records on the file cart, documents in your work areas, observing your work habits, reviewing CMRS data, and your completed work.
  - f. I will not only be reviewing for compliance with critical work habits, but also looking for effective habits that may benefit the entire Center.

			Yes	No
1	Maintains only 1 record at a time in his/her immediate work area and limits other records, not alphabetized on the cart, to work pending or for dispatch that day.	Inspect the technician's work area. Technician should have no more than 1 record in his/her immediate work area. Stacks of records outside the immediate work area should be limited to records being dispatched or pending work that will be completed that day. All other records will be maintained alphabetically on the cart.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	Maintains correspondence-related material alphabetically on the file cart. (Exception: Only GS-3s working sep docs may file by date)	Inspect the technician's record cart and work area. All records, photocopies, and other printed correspondence material must be maintained sequentially on the file cart. A small amount of work in progress may be off the cart, but should not exceed that which can be completed that day. Records and documents will be arranged alphabetically (Only GS-3 employees working sep docs may file by date). Note: Separate shelves may be maintained for various request statuses such as suspense, however, these records will also be maintained alphabetically.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	How many records were for cases assigned to other technicians? _____ How many records were for cases that closed over 3 days ago? _____
3	Promptly returns records to support for refill when no longer needed.	Inspect the technician's record cart and work area. Over 95% of the records on the technician's cart should be for pending cases. Look for records on cases closed for longer than 3 days or records for cases not assigned to the technician.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	Follows queue management.	Is the technician following established queue management practices? An analysis of CMRS date and time fields will help determine queue discipline. Subject : Individual and Team Awards in Correspondence
To : All NRPM Core Employees

This memorandum cancels NRP 2007-07, Subject: Individual and Team Awards in Correspondence, dated April 20, 2007. Changes have been made to the award criteria, amount, and distribution for the Pacesetter and Team Performance Awards in paragraphs 3d(3)-(5), 3e(1)-(2), and 4a(3).

1. Purpose.

a. This memorandum describes individual and team awards available for personnel assigned to NRPM Core environment operations. The level and continuation of these awards is dependent upon the availability of adequate funding in the performance award budget.

b. These awards are in addition to the awards outlined in Chapter 3 of NPRC Memorandum 3630.5, Performance Management Program for personnel in the NRPM Core Environment. The awards described in Chapter 3 include individual performance awards, superior accomplishment awards, and quality step increases (QSI).

2. Coverage. This memorandum applies to all NARA/NRPM employees within a Core Environment and excludes employees in excepted service positions for which employment is not reasonably expected to exceed 120 days in a consecutive 12-month period.

3. Pacesetter Awards.

a. Pacesetter Awards will be awarded to the top producing caseworkers within each core and center-wide, the coaches and expert technicians on their teams, and the core support staff.

b. Caseworkers include those employees on career ladder positions (FPL GS-6) as well as those employees working cases who are on non-career ladder positions (i.e., legacy positions with a FPL of GS-5 or GS-3).

c. To be eligible for a Pacesetter Award:

(1) Employee must be in good standing. An employee is in good standing if during the period on which the award is based she or he has had no disciplinary or adverse actions taken against them, and as of the last day of the period on which the award is based, the employee is not on a leave restriction.

(2) Core/team members must currently be performing at the fully successful level or better, and

(3) Case workers must report 120 hours or more on production during the TASK month for which the award is being considered. Coaches, Expert Technicians, and support staff cannot have more than 40 hours of leave during the TASK month for which the award is being considered.

d. Pacesetter awards will be based on the number of completed quality cases above the required staffday average (SDA) during the TASK month. The awards will be calculated and awarded at the end of each TASK month.

(1) The formula used in the calculation of the number of completed quality cases will be prorated to recognize the varying required SDA of caseworkers.

(2) Work completed on overtime hours will be used in the calculation of completed quality cases for Pacesetter Awards unless otherwise specifically excluded (i.e, for special projects for which additional overtime dollars have been provided).

(3) In order to be eligible to receive a Center-wide Pacesetter Award, technicians must be performing at least 123% of their minimum production standards.

(4) In order to be eligible to receive a Core Pacesetter Award, technicians must be performing at least 105% of their minimum production standards.

(5) Technicians receiving a Center-wide Pacesetter Award will not be eligible for the Core Pacesetter Award.

e. Based on the criteria established above in par. 3d., Pacesetter Awards will be distributed as follows:

(1) A cash award in the amount of $250.00 for each of the top 15 producing caseworkers center-wide (based on quality staffday average).

(2) A cash award in the amount of $75.00 for each of the top 17 producing caseworkers in each Reference Core (based on quality staffday average). Center Pacesetter winners are excluded from eligibility for this award category.

(3) Expert Technicians (Archives Technicians, FPL GS-8) will be given a cash award equivalent to 10% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(4) Coaches (Supervisory Archives Specialists, FPL GS-9) will be given a cash award equivalent to 12% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(5) Each member of the Core Support will be given a cash award equivalent to 2% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned core. Core Support includes the secretary, copy operators, and data entry personnel.

4. Team Performance Awards.

a. Team performance awards are presented quarterly for outstanding team performance.

(1) For a team or a core level staff to be eligible for a team performance award, the team or core level staff must be rated at the Outstanding level on all additional elements of their performance plans. For award purposes, the computation of team/core staffday average will not include cases produced while using non-standard TASK cores as such as those used for training purposes.

(2) For an individual team or core staff member to be eligible to share in the team performance award, the team or core staff member must be on the current performance plan for the minimum appraisal period of 90 days as of the end of the quarter.

(3) For team award purposes, the computation of the team’s percentage of time on production will not include employees who are in their initial training periods.

b. Team performance awards will be awarded on a quarterly basis to coincide with the four three-month periods of the appraisal year (i.e., at the end of March, June, September, and December).

c. Team performance awards will be calculated and awarded as follows:

(1) At the start of the fiscal year, a total quarterly dollar amount (referred to as team award dollars) will be calculated based upon funding available in the performance award budget and set aside for distribution for team performance awards.

(2) Written performance appraisals prepared at the time of quarterly progress reviews will be the basis for determining teams or core level staff performing at the Outstanding level.

(3) The total quarterly team award dollars will be divided equally among all teams and core level staff rated outstanding on the additional elements.

5. Processing of Awards.

a. Pacesetter Awards.

(1) For individuals awards, process following Table 1 below.

b. Team Performance Awards. At the end of each quarter, outstanding team performance will be documented on NPRC Test Form 00-2, Performance Management Program – Performance Appraisal (General Schedule Employees). The completed quarterly appraisal will be routed to and signed by the Rating Official, the Reviewing Official, and the Awards Fund Manager (Assistant Director for Military Records or the Director, NRPC) BEFORE being discussed with the rated employee(s). The completed quarterly appraisal will be forwarded to the Awards Fund Manager within two weeks of the end of the quarter. If approved, the Awards Fund Manager will record the approved award amount on the NRPC Test Form 00-2.

(2) A cash award in the amount of $75.00 for each of the top 17 producing caseworkers in each Reference Core (based on quality staffday average). Center Pacesetter winners are excluded from eligibility for this award category.

(3) Expert Technicians (Archives Technicians, FPL GS-8) will be given a cash award equivalent to 10% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(4) Coaches (Supervisory Archives Specialists, FPL GS-9) will be given a cash award equivalent to 12% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(5) Each member of the Core Support will be given a cash award equivalent to 2% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned core. Core Support includes the secretary, copy operators, and data entry personnel.

4. Team Performance Awards.

a. Team performance awards are presented quarterly for outstanding team performance.

(1) For a team or a core level staff to be eligible for a team performance award, the team or core level staff must be rated at the Outstanding level on all additional elements of their performance plans. For award purposes, the computation of team/core staffday average will not include cases produced while using non-standard TASK cores as such as those used for training purposes.

(2) For an individual team or core staff member to be eligible to share in the team performance award, the team or core staff member must be on the current performance plan for the minimum appraisal period of 90 days as of the end of the quarter.

(3) For team award purposes, the computation of the team's percentage of time on production will not include employees who are in their initial training periods.

b. Team performance awards will be awarded on a quarterly basis to coincide with the four three-month periods of the appraisal year (i.e., at the end of March, June, September, and December).

c. Team performance awards will be calculated and awarded as follows:

(1) At the start of the fiscal year, a total quarterly dollar amount (referred to as team award dollars) will be calculated based upon funding available in the performance award budget and set aside for distribution for team performance awards.

(2) Written performance appraisals prepared at the time of quarterly progress reviews will be the basis for determining teams or core level staff performing at the Outstanding level.

(3) The total quarterly team award dollars will be divided equally among all teams and core level staff rated outstanding on the additional elements.

5. Processing of Awards.

a. Pacesetter Awards.

(1) For individuals awards, process following Table 1 below.

Table 1. Processing Individuals Awards.

(2) The maximum amount of any individual award that can be approved locally is $2,000.00.

b. Team Performance Awards. At the end of each quarter, outstanding team performance will be documented on NPRC Test Form 00-2, Performance Management Program – Performance Appraisal (General Schedule Employees). The completed quarterly appraisal will be routed to and signed by the Rating Official, the Reviewing Official, and the Awards Fund Manager (Assistant Director for Military Records or the Director, NRPC) BEFORE being discussed with the rated employee(s). The completed quarterly appraisal will be forwarded to the Awards Fund Manager within two weeks of the end of the quarter. If approved, the Awards Fund Manager will record the approved award amount on the NPRC Test Form 00-2.

NRP MEMORANDUM

Date : October 9, 2000
Reply to
Attn of : NRP 2001-01
Subject : Federal Customer Complaint Tracking Log
To : NRPC
NRPM

The Performance and Reporting System (PRMS) and the Performance Measurement Log have been updated, effective September 28, 2000, to include a Complaint Log. The purpose of that log is to record complaints from Federal customers about the delivery of the General Purpose records which they have requested. The General Purpose records covered by this log will include military hospitalization records and medical records of military dependents, as well as local agency records. Specialized records, including civilian and military personnel records and the health records associated with them, are not covered by this performance measurement log. The results of this effort will be reported to the Office of Regional Records Services at the end of each quarter.

The Correspondence Section 2 (OR), Records Reconstruction Branch, and the Agency Reference Service Section, Reference Service Branch, will be the most likely recipients of such complaints. The various branch headquarters and cores may also receive some complaints, which should be directed to the appropriate section. When the Records Retrieval Branch is established, all complaints concerning these types of records located at 9700 Page Avenue should be directed to that branch.

All complaints from Federal customers will be recorded on the attached Customer Complaint Form. (An electronic version of this form will be e-mailed to each branch and core. The form will not be printed.) Once the upper part of the form is completed to fully describe the complaint, it is given to a supervisor for investigation. The result of that investigation is forwarded immediately through supervisory channels to the Management Systems Staff. The Staff enters the results into the new Complaint Log database.

The tracking and investigation of complaints is to be implemented upon receipt of this memorandum. If you have questions, please contact Jane Weaver, Management Systems Staff.

NRP MEMORANDUM

Date : December 12, 2000
Reply to
Attn of : NRP 2001-11
Subject : Electronic Records Sort-Out
To : All NPRC Employees

December 12 to December 22, 2000, will be the Electronic Records Sort-Out period at the National Personnel Records Center. This is the second year that NARA has devoted time to sorting out email and other electronic files.

The reason why valuable time will be used for this activity is simple. The volume of files on NARANet continues to grow. Storage capacity has been increased, but that action is not the answer. The greater the number of files, the more NARANet's performance is negatively affected. We must, therefore, manage the electronic files we create and receive.

The Sort-Out is targeting two types of files: 1) Email and (2) word processing and other textual files. Specific instructions follow:

1. EMAIL

- a. Personal Email – Delete messages of a personal nature that you no longer need.

These include, but are not limited to, such items as messages from friends and family beyond NARA, listserves, lunch dates, jokes, and video and audio clips (these last are extremely important to delete since they take up large amounts of storage space). Please keep in mind that NARA Directive 802, Appropriate Use of NARA Equipment does not permit downloading and storing large media files for personal use (See paragraph 802.6a(1)).

- b. Information / Reference Material – Delete messages related to your official duties that were sent to you as "FYIs" but which you were not expected to and did not take action on and which you no longer need.

Examples include informational copies of directives, notices, copies of correspondence and reports forwarded to you to keep you informed but which you did not act on. Remember that notices and directives are available on the Staff Home Page for your continued reference. You do not need to save copies of these issuances on your network and local drives to be able to access them.

- c. Work-Related Email – Delete messages related to your official duties and any associated attachments that you have already printed out and filed in a scheduled recordkeeping system.

Do not delete any message related to your official duties which you have not already printed out and filed. If you identify "official" messages that can be filed in a scheduled record-keeping system but you have not yet done so, print out the message and associated attachments. If necessary for complete documentation, print out the metadata for each message (all information that is included in the Properties screen showing sender, date and time sent, who received, and when opened). File the message in a scheduled recordkeeping system. Only then should delete the electronic message.

- d. Unscheduled? / Don't Know? – If the records are not schedule yet – or you don't know which scheduled recordkeeping system applies, contact your Records Liaison Officer (RLO). If necessary, the RLO may refer your question to the NARA Records Management Team. The RLO for the NPRC is Charles Pellegrini.
- e. Archiving in GroupWise – If you must retain a message and related attachments electronically for convenience for any great length of time, archive it.

GroupWise is configured to delete non-archived email messages automatically after 120 days. Archiving a message will prevent this automatic deletion. NOTE: Archiving is not a substitution for carrying out the NARA-wide policy for preserving email record material as described above.

2. WORD PROCESSING FILES

- a. Personal Files – Delete files that are of a strictly personal nature that you no longer need.

Examples are too numerous to mention in full but can include attachments to listserves saved for reference, other documents downloaded from the internet, correspondence, recipes, and flyers for church or civic organizations created on non-work time.

- b. Work-Related Files

PRINTED OUT AND FILED?—IF "YES":

Delete files that you have identified with certainty as having already been printed out and filed in a scheduled recordkeeping system.

The most common examples are correspondence, memos or reports that you have composed on your PC, and sent on for review and/or final production. The record copy resides in the recordkeeping system, thereby making your electronic version eligible for deletion. However, you can retain the electronic version for convenience if you know that you will need to reuse the file as a template for later versions or you will need to update the file at a later date.

PRINTED OUT AND FILED? – IF "NO":

If you identify a file as eligible to print out and file in a scheduled recordkeeping system but you have not yet done so, print out the file and file the paper.

NARA does not currently have the capability for electronic recordkeeping, so retaining a record copy electronically will not satisfy current NARA recordkeeping requirements. File the printout in a scheduled recordkeeping system. Only then should you delete the electronic message.

- c. Unscheduled? / Don't Know? – If the records are not scheduled yet – or you don't know which scheduled recordkeeping system applies, contact your RLO. If necessary, the RLO may refer your question to the NARA Records Management Team. The RLO for the NPRC is Charles Pellegrini.

- d. d. Storing Files on Your C Drive – Do not store files you must retain electronically on your C drive.

The C drive does not provide the security necessary to preserve these files, especially backups. Network drives (H, S, and others) are regularly backed up.

Instructions on when, specifically, in the next two weeks you will be given time to sort-out your electronic records will be coming from your Branch Chief/Core Manager. Please do your best to make the sort-out a success.

NRPM3, and NRPMZ

2.1.1 Correspondence Requests (reference branches)

The reference branches shall sample their correspondence request load at the level indicated in the table below, provided the request that is being sampled is not processed through the CMS system in use by the Cores.

Branch/Organization	Correspondence Weekly Sample Size
Army Reference Branch	19
Air Force Reference Branch	6

Navy Reference Branch	15
Records Reconstruction Branch	11

Sampling

It has been determined that during the transition phase from branches to cores that the sample is best taken at the point where the requests are bundled for distribution to the correspondence clerk for processing. This may be done by either the Batch and Control Clerk or another designated individual in the branch. An individual that typically works requests should be avoided for this assignment.

The sample shall be representative of the type of work being processed by the branch. Hence, it should contain a mixture of requests in rough proportion to their grade, type and volume. This may not be possible for a single distribution, but that should be the goal over several distributions. However, a single sampling shall be spread out over several types of requests and not disproportionately grouped towards one kind of request. In all other respects the requests selected shall be made randomly without bias.

The individual doing the distribution shall attach a color-coded cover sheet to the request to be included in the sample and fill in the date tag coding and/or Finding Aid Report (FAR) date. From these two items the date the request entered the center shall be determined and recorded on the cover sheet. Also, a folder identifier shall be recorded on the cover sheet that will enable a follow up search to be conducted should one be needed at a later date.

Processing

The correspondence clerk shall work the request as normal (without bias) with the following exceptions. If the request is entered into the CMRS system used by the Cores, than the cover sheet shall be destroyed. Otherwise, the cover sheet shall be attached to the response sent to the mailroom. The branch may require a review of the response before it's dispatched to the mailroom and the dispatch date is recorded on the cover sheet.

The mailroom shall record the date that the response was mailed out on the cover sheet and return the cover sheet to the branch indicated on the cover sheet.

The branch shall enter the data collected on the cover sheet into the NARA Performance Metrics Data Collection and Reporting System (Customer Survey/GPRA). The four values to be entered are a request identifier, request code, entry date into the center, and exit date from the center. The branch shall have an individual identified to enter this information. The information for the previous task month shall be entered into the reporting system by the end of the first reporting week of the next month.

2.1.5 Folder Returns (Records Retrieval Branch)

The Records Retrieval Branch shall sample their folder return (loans and transfers) requests by having each of its three search sections randomly select twelve (12) requests on a weekly basis.

Sampling

The sample shall be representative of the type of work being processed by that section. Hence, it should contain a representative mixture of the kinds of records they return to federal agencies in both type and volume. This may not be possible for a single sample selection, but that should be the goal over several selections. However, a single sampling shall be spread out over several types of requests and not disproportionately grouped towards one kind of return or another. In all other respects the requests selected shall be made randomly without bias.

The individual doing the distribution shall attach a color-coded cover sheet to the request to be included in the sample and fill in the date tag coding and/or Finding Aid Report (FAR) date. From these two items the date the request entered the center shall be determined and recorded on the cover sheet. Also, a folder identifier shall be recorded on the cover sheet that will enable a follow up search to be conducted should one be needed at a later date. The Branch of Service shall also be recorded using the codes indicated in the table below on the cover sheet.

Branch/Organization	Request Code
Army Records	AS
Air Force Records	FS
Navy Records including Marine Corps and Coast Guard Records	NS
Records Reconstruction Records both "R" and "B" File Records	RS

Processing

The section shall work the request as normal (without bias) with the following exceptions. The branch may require a review of the return before it's dispatched and the dispatch date may be recorded on the cover sheet.

At the point nearest to the exit of the folder from the center the date that the return exits the center shall be recorded on the cover sheet and sent to the Records Retrieval Headquarters for entry. This point may occur in the mailroom or the search section depending on the records involved and existing procedures.

The branch shall enter the data collected on the cover sheet into the NARA Performance Metrics Data Collection and Reporting System (Customer Survey/GPRA). The four values to be entered are a request Identifier, request code, entry date into the center, and exit date from the center. The branch shall have an individual identified to enter this information. The information for the previous task month shall be entered into the reporting system by the end of the first reporting week of the next month.

NRPMF-C, Customer Service Team NRPMZ, Search Sections

NPRC has recently obtained pagers for the use of search personnel in responding to emergency and priority requests for records.

Use of the paging system described in this memorandum to retrieve records for a priority or emergency request is absolutely restricted to authorized branch and core personnel. Only those individuals who have received this authorization from their branch or core supervisors may access the pager system.

This memorandum provides guidance on authorization, restrictions, and the proper procedures to request an emergency or priority search using this system.

The attached guidance is effective immediately.

PROCEDURES FOR EMERGENCY OR PRIORITY REQUESTS USING THE SEARCH PAGING SYSTEM

1. Authorization. Only authorized branch and core personnel may request records retrieval utilizing the search paging system.
2. Restricted use. The paging system will only be used for cases that require Immediate action, such as burial cases, man-waiting cases, or medical emergency cases.
3. After hours paging. Emergency request pagers do not replace the pagers used by Center personnel for after hours, call in emergency cases.

4. Procedures. The following information is provided as guidance in the proper use of the emergency records retrieval paging system:

- a. Pager numbers. There is a separate pager number for each floor of the Center. When pager numbers are entered on either of the access methods no spaces or dashes are used.

3142948521
1st Floor

3142948522
2nd Floor

3142948523
3rd Floor

3142948524
4th Floor

3142948520
5th Floor

- b. Pager access methods. There are two methods which can be used to send an emergency records retrieval request to one of the pagers:

(1) Email access. To access a pager using email the following steps are necessary:

Open Groupwise and create a new message. Use the following address format, including the ten-digit telephone number (no spaces or dashes) of the pager for the appropriate floor where record is stored, in the space marked TELEPHONE NUMBER:

Internet:(space) TELEPHONE NUMBER@MyAirMail.com

Example for the 2nd Floor Search Section: Internet: 3142948522@MyAirMail.com

In the body of your email, enter the following information:

Registry Number (example: A 5 999 999)

Name Last, First, Middle Initial (example: Brown, Willie J.)

Charge out information (example: Man waiting, AC3, Core 1, Team B)

(2) Internet access: To access a pager using the internet the following steps are necessary:

Open Netscape Navigator. Select "open page" and type www.MyAirMail.com. You will see a form, similar to an email form, onto which you may type to appropriate information, as follows:

To: Enter the ten digit telephone number (no spaces or dashes) of the pager for the floor where the record is stored.

Subject: This entry is optional. Enter the type of request (burial, man waiting, etc).

Your message: Enter the same three items of information required in email access and include your name:

Registry Number                    (example: A 5 999 999)

Name                                    Last, First, Middle Initial (example: Brown, Willie J.)

Charge out information (example: Man waiting, AC3, Core 1, Team B)

Your Name

After entering the necessary information, press the button on the screen marked "Send Message". Your message will be transmitted to the pager number selected.

Note. The pager will display up to 232 characters. Enter only the information required above. Too much information will make the pager more difficult to read.

NRP MEMORANDUM

Date : March 19, 2001
Reply to
Attn of : NRP 2001-28
Subject : Guidelines for identifying potential special projects
To : All Employees

This memorandum provides guidelines for identifying potential special projects at NPRC. NCP 92-12, Guidelines for identifying potential reimbursable work, dated February 28, 1992, is canceled.

It is extremely important to Center operations to identify all work that may be appropriate for handling as a special project. A special project is work performed by NPRC outside of baseline services. Baseline services include records storage and work performed by NPRC employees on daily, routine operations of the Center. Special project work is defined as services that are provided over and above baseline services and are performed only after special arrangements have been made with the customer and funding is obligated. (For further information on baseline and special project work refer to NRP 99-43, Reimbursable 2000 - general guidance, dated September 22, 1999.)

The most obvious indication that a request should be considered a potential special project is the total volume of records requested. However, some requests for smaller volumes of records should not be automatically ruled out. In the past we have handled special projects that involved just a few hundred records. Other factors that must be considered when evaluating potential projects are:

1. Special handling procedures required; i.e., requester mentions specific timeframes or expedited action and/or work must be kept separate from baseline work;
2. The purpose of the project and work involved in providing the service is outside the mission of NPRC. (Most research projects fall outside the mission of the Center since the purpose and scope of the studies usually do not directly benefit veterans/next of kin, former Federal civilian employees, or dependents of military personnel.);
3. The length of the project; i.e., one time request to the Center or continuing requests over a specific or undetermined period of time; and
4. The requester indicates that he/she has received or is in the process of obtaining funds specifically for the study/project.

Generally, special project work involves retrieval of civilian or military personnel records, civilian or military health records, organizational records, or military and dependent hospital records. However, other types of work involving Center operations; e.g., interfiling, should be considered as a possible special project depending on the work requirements.

Requests for special projects may be received by mail, e-mail, or telephone. Employees are responsible for identifying these non-routine requests in the pending workload and bringing these requests to the attention of their immediate supervisor.

If received by mail or e-mail, the branch/core chiefs should recommend action to the assistant director. If necessary, initiate contact with the requester to clarify information about the proposed work. Take no action on the request using Center resources or make commitments to the requester until a determination is made by the assistant director.

If received by telephone, direct the caller to prepare a written request, addressed to the assistant director, which includes an explanation of the purpose and scope of the proposed work, or refer the requester to Barbara Bauman, Management Systems Staff, at (314) 538-4174.

If you have any questions, contact Ms. Bauman at 538-4174.

NRP MEMORANDUM

Date : April 2, 2001
Reply to
Attn of : NRP 2001-30
Subject : Changes to customer service organization and procedures
To : All Employees

Effective April 1, 2001, the following organization and procedural changes are being implemented to improve casework required by Center customers on an emergency or time sensitive basis.

A Customer Emergency Response Team (CERT) will be provisionally established. It will supplement the already assigned Telephone Customer Service Team (TCST) personnel in room 2077, and will consist of six Archives Technicians who will be assigned from volunteers from the legacy environment. These teams will comprise the center customer service operation, which will also include the Research Room. The Customer Service Operation will be under the provisional direction of the Assistant Director of Military Records, through a Supervisory Archives Specialist.

The CERT is intended to process all inquiries determined to be of an emergency or time critical nature. These will include the burial requests received from the four national cemeteries, client waiting requests, medical emergency requests, media requests determined to be time critical or highly sensitive in nature, e-mail requests or follow ups determined to be of an emergency nature, and other requests determined to be of an emergency nature. Homeless Veteran cases will also be processed by the response team. Congressional inquiries will continue to be worked in the cores and legacy operation. Close coordination and mutual support will be required between the cores and the customer service operation on certain types of cases. The success of this group depends upon quickly processing quality responses. Procedural changes will be implemented to reach our objectives in that regard. Principal highlights follow.

1. Burial inquiries will be received from the four national cemeteries via an e-mail template. FAX will remain as a back up procedure if necessary. Required records will be requested and pulled on a priority request using the pagers recently implemented by the Records Retrieval Branch. (See NRP 2001-24.) The request will be worked by a CERT technician, the template completed and returned to the requesting cemetery. The e-mail will serve as the receiving and sending transmittal verification, as well as the actual service verification document. A copy will be made for inclusion in the file, and the case will be entered into and tracked by the CMS. There will be no FAX or hard copy transmitted.
2. Because of the high rate of recidivism, scanning technology will be employed to process Homeless Veteran cases. These files will generally be pulled utilizing on-line ordering, unless a genuine emergency is established. When worked, the DD 214 or Statement of Service will be scanned into a CMS associated database so that it will be available upon subsequent requests without again pulling the OMPF. Responses will be via e-mail if the requesting shelter has that capability. Otherwise, they will be provided via FAX, with no hard copy surface mail follow up.

3. All other emergency cases will be worked in the CERT essentially within established center procedures. The files will be pulled or searches requested as the urgency of the case dictates, using the RRB pager capability, as needed.
4. If there are follow up requests or inquiries on cases that are already in process, they may be either requested on a priority to be worked in the CERT, or the inquiry forwarded to the core if they are already core assigned. This will be at the discretion of the Customer Service personnel on a case-by-case basis. A designated point or points of contact will be established in each core and the legacy operation for these cases. The follow up will be assigned to the designated individual via the Novell task process. Telephones will not be used for this process. The designated contact individual will be responsible for pulling the case and seeing that it is worked on an emergency basis. The case will be tracked by CS until completed. When a new case must be opened, it will be opened in CMS by our telephone personnel while collecting the information over the phone. To keep hands free for typing, telephone headsets will be required. This requirement also will reduce the risk of injury from awkward balancing of a receiver on the technicians shoulder.
5. The flex time in the Telephone Customer Service Team (TCST) will be modified to allow flexing between 6:45 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. That means that the morning flex band will be between 6:45 a.m. and 8:30 a.m., the core day will be from 8:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., and the evening flex band will be between 3:15 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. Additional schedule adjustments may be required to insure coverage during all periods. This will maximize availability to both our west coast and east coast customers. Clearly, personnel assigned to the TCST will have less schedule flexibility than most others working at the center.

Much of the duplication and hand off activity associated with regular processing will be eliminated in the customer service operation to gain processing efficiencies. Speed and accuracy will be the twin objectives, and close cooperation and mutual support will be required between the customer service operation and the cores if we are to meet our objectives. Our goal is to develop a team whose perspective is "we don't go home until all possible emergency cases are worked." For this reason, quantitative performance measures will not initially be established. Rather, over the course of the first 90 days of operations, performance requirements will be established for performance management purposes.

This memorandum serves as a general announcement and explanation of the proposed changes. More detailed instructions will be forthcoming as the team rolls out and procedures are finalized.

Subject : Processing Homeless Veteran requests

To : NRPM1, NRPM2, NRPM3, NRPM4, NRPM5, NRPMZ

Since the late 1980's, MPR has made special efforts to respond in a timely manner to requests on behalf of homeless veterans. The purpose of this extra attention is for MPR to provide a separation document (DD Form 214 or equivalent) to show whether the person is eligible to receive temporary shelter. Requesters are required to send these inquiries via fax or e-mail to the Customer Service Team (CST) and a response typically has been made within 10 working days.

Effective immediately, the following procedures will be followed in response to requests that are faxed to 538-4898 or received by e-mail and cite the Homeless Veteran program:

1. If the request asks for more than just a separation document, it is not to be processed as a Homeless Veteran case. Instead, the CST will provide the complete answer in accordance with its procedures for responding to emergency requests.
2. The requirement for 10-day turnaround time will continue, but most of the requests that cite the Homeless Veteran program will be answered in the cores, under the following procedures:
  - a. If the inquiry is a true Homeless Veteran request (i.e., it asks for only a separation document to indicate eligibility for shelter), the CST will enter the case into the Case Management System (CMS) as a Homeless Veteran request.
  - b. If CMS indicates a response to a similar request was made after April 2001, the Customer Service technician will determine if a separation document was scanned and can be retrieved from the separation document database. A major clue from CMS that will give the technician a reason to look for a scanned separation document would be the fact that a reply after April 2001 was sent to a homeless shelter, veterans service officer, or VA office.
  - c. If the required separation document is found in the database, CST will retrieve the separation document from the scanned image, fax or e-mail the response, and close out CMS.
  - d. If CMS does not indicate a response after April 2001, then a scanned separation document will not be available and the case will be worked in the cores. The CST initially will print the CMS Tracking Sheet on bright green paper, create a FAR, attach these to the fax inquiry sheet, and deliver the case to the appropriate Search Section at least once daily.
  - e. The receiving Search Section will log in each Homeless Veteran case, then process it as a normal C3 Search Case.

- f. Staff in the Staging Area will manage Homeless Veteran cases the same as other C3 cases, except they will be assigned randomly in pending profile requests without regard to "technician strength." All C3 cases should be routed to technicians quickly to facilitate accomplishment of the Center's 10-day turnaround requirement.
- g. After requests reach the cores, the technicians to whom Homeless Veteran requests are assigned will normally:
- (1) Work Homeless Veteran cases early in the profile, so that the response can be sent within the 10-day time frame. The Homeless Veteran cases will stand out because of the bright green tracking sheet, but the technician must be careful to check the profile when it is assigned, to ensure that these cases (or any others of a priority nature) are completed in a timely manner. Coaches must be sure to review a technician's current profile when the technician is absent for more than one day.
  - (2) Send the separation document via fax, using the Homeless Veteran fax cover sheet on the CMS toolbar. If necessary (as indicated by the requester), provide a certified copy through the USPS. If you are unable to fax the separation document because of equipment or transmission failure, please report the problem to your coach.
  - (3) Log the case out of CMS.
  - (4) Place the copy of the separation document in the core's "Homeless Veteran" box as soon as the separation document has been faxed.
- h. Messengers will pick up the separation document copies in the "Homeless Veteran" box and deliver the copies to the CST.
- i. The CST will scan each separation document into the separation document database and destroy the photocopy.

This procedure is effective upon receipt. If you have questions, please contact Norman Eisenberg, NRPS, at 4171 or by e-mail.

Subject Customer Survey/GPRA Performance Measurement – Metric 2.1.5, Folder Returns (Records : Retrieval Branch)

To : NRPM, NRPMZ, NRPMO-M

Folder Return sampling procedures are changed effective March 31, 2002, as indicated below, in order to simplify and improve data collection efforts. These changes will also make data collection and reporting more statistically accurate and reflective of our center overall performance.

A recent review of the center's current sampling method of folder returns (loans and transfers) distributed and sampled through the mailroom, indicated that disproportionate sampling was occurring. This method was not accurately reflecting our overall performance. For example, sampling was not including the average 6,000 folder requests per week for the VA, which are processed within five days, but not distributed and sampled through the mailroom. This disproportionate sampling was leading to a poor performance indicator for the center.

Folder return sampling data, entered in the Customer Survey/GPRA database is extracted and reported monthly to NR under our Performance Measurement Reporting System (PMRS). The center's performance goal for folder returns (loans and transfers) is 90% delivered in five days or less. Since 75% of our folder return workload involves requests from the VA liaison office, 75% of our sampled data should be derived from the VA folder return requests.

The following must occur to accurately reflect sampling data of folder returns:

Responsibility

The Records Retrieval Branch shall sample folder return (loans and transfers) requests by requiring each of the three sections to randomly select nine (9) VA folder returns and three (3) other agency returns, for a total of twelve (12) requests on a weekly basis. This equates to 36 samples per week and approximately 144 per average month.

Folder Return Sampling/Processing

The sample shall be representative of the type of work being processed by each section. It should contain a representative mixture of the kinds of records returned to federal agencies in both type and volume. However, 75% of the sampling should be taken from the folder returns (loans and transfers) processed and provided to the VA Liaison Office. All other sampling should be spread out over several types of requests and not disproportionately grouped toward one kind of return, and the requests shall be randomly selected without bias.

Exception: Folder returns processed, which were delayed due to verification efforts (i.e., folder charge outs) should be excluded from the sampling.

Performance Matrix Reporting Data – Folder Returns sampling sheet. This sampling sheet will be used in each of the three Search sections to record the sampling data, and completed sheets will be provided to the person responsible for data entry on a weekly basis. (The cover sheet previously used to randomly select and track folder returns (green) will be discontinued.)

Recording Sample Data. The individual assigned the responsibility for sampling in each Search Section shall record the following data in the blocks provided on the sampling sheet:

- o Request Code - The branch of service shown on the cover sheet, and in the following chart:

Branch/Organization	Request Code
Army Records	AS
Air force Records	FS
Navy Records including Marine Corps and Coast Guard Records	NS
Records Reconstruction Records Both R and B File Records	RS

- o Folder Request Identifier – The folder registry number, or other identifier used to enable a follow up search if necessary
- o On-Line Run Date or Date Tag -The date the request entered the center
- o Date Folder Received in Search - The date the folder and request was received in the Search Section following retrieval of the appropriate folder from the files area.
- o The Date Mailed Out of Center (completed date) – The date the folder exited the center (mailroom date of mailing), or the date the folder was provided to the requestor.

Data entry. A designated individual in the Records Retrieval Branch will accomplish data Entry into the Customer Survey/GPRA database. The required data collected on the Performance Reporting Data – Folder Returns sheet and entered into the database at the end of the reporting month, must be entered into the database no later than the 5th working day of the month following each reporting month’s end. The four values that are to be entered into the database (indicated by an (*) asterisk on the form) are:

- Folder Request Identifier *(Registry number, etc)
- Request Code *(AS, FS, NS, or RS)
- Date Folder Received *(Receipt date)
- Date Folder Mailed Out of Center *(Completed Date)

If there are any questions concerning these instructions, please contact Jane Weaver at 538-4237.

Subject : Change in Coding for Army Medals and Fire-Related Requests
To : All NPRC employees, 9700 Page

Effective March 1, 2002, the following changes in coding will occur:

Army medals cases from AM5 to AC5 or RC5. This change is made because the Army Medals Section no longer exists and the need to identify this type of work with a special code of AM (Army Medals) is no longer necessary. To ensure proper routing and distribution to the appropriate Core, the mailroom needs to code Army medals cases as AC5 (non fire-related) or RC5 (fire-related).

Fire-related requests for separation document, when returned to the Center with a completed NA Form 13075 from RC3 to RC5. This change is made because when the requester returns the completed NA Form 13075 to the Center, the mailroom currently codes the request RC3 since the request is for a separation document and is still considered a basic case. The mailroom needs to code this type of case RC5 because its processing will require more extensive reconstruction actions, not typically required at the GS-3 level.

This memorandum serves as a general announcement and explanation of the changes in procedures within the Center.

Subject : Change in Processing for Fire-Related Requests
To : All NPRC employees, 9700 Page

Effective March 1, 2002, the following changes in processing fire-related requests will occur:

1. Mailroom probes on-line registry and BIRLS.
2. If finding aid report indicates B and/or R hits mailroom follows current processing steps.
3. Not founds (complete negatives) are returned to requesters with NA Form 13075, Questionnaire About Military Service or NA Form 13055, Request for Information Needed to Reconstruct Medical Data.
4. If finding aid report indicates auxiliary hits (i.e. QM/QT, etc.), mailroom places requests in specially marked tubs for delivery to Records Retrieval Branch, Second Floor Search.
5. The Records Retrieval Branch technician analyzes requests to determine if there is enough information to process the requests.
6. Requests that cannot be processed due to insufficient information to pursue reconstruction (i.e. "go-backs") are returned to the mailroom with a transmittal note explaining what they are. The mailroom will return the requests to the requesters with the NA Form 13075 or NA Form 13055. "Go-back" requests will not be entered into the Case Management System.

Note: Time spent by the Records Retrieval Branch technician analyzing the requests will be captured in TASK as items processed. Time spent by the Mailroom returning requests with blank NA Forms 13075 and 13055 to requesters will be captured in TASK as reference service.

7. Requests, which have sufficient information to pursue reconstruction, will be delivered to Data Entry, Accession and Disposal Section to be keyed into the Case Management System. Requests will follow current processing steps from that point on.

Processing fire-related "go-backs" in the manner described above will resolve the following:

1. Resolves the current problem of receiving a large volume of potential duplicate requests because technicians closed cases out of CMS when they returned requests for additional information.
2. Resolves the future problem of placing a large volume of requests in suspense because "go-backs" will not be entered into CMS until the additional information is attached and returned.

This memorandum serves as a general announcement and explanation of the changes in procedures within the Center.

Subject : Assignment of Service Requests

To : NRPM1 NRPM5

NRPM2 NRPMO

NRPM3 NRPMZ-0

NRPM4

Many correspondence technicians have expressed an interest in learning more about how service requests are assigned. The following provides clarification.

How are service requests assigned to me?

There are three ways in which a service request may be assigned to you.

1. Most requests are assigned automatically based on business rules embedded in CMRS. The Assignment Manager keeps track of technician availability and assigns cases in accordance with the Center's queue discipline and in alignment with pre-determined complexity ratios based on each technician's grade and organizational element. CMRS business rules also include an automated workflow process to assign cases flagged as potential duplicates to the same technician to whom the original request is assigned. Potential duplicates are assigned without regard to workload, complexity, recon type, etc.
2. Cases may be manually assigned to you by a supervisor or expert technician. For example, in order to achieve our response time goals it is sometimes necessary for a supervisor or expert technician to redistribute requests among technicians after they were originally assigned to a technician by the Assignment Manager.

3. Occasionally timing causes workflow conflicts which result in cases not being assigned by the Assignment Manager. These cases are identified by NPRS analysts who run exception reports and then make manual assignments to technicians.

To summarize, most work assignments are made by CMRS, but sometimes it is necessary for supervisors, Expert Technicians, or management analysts to override CMRS or intervene to ensure the continuous flow of work. Manual overrides and interventions may only be made by supervisors, expert technicians or management analysts and must always be in alignment with the center's queue discipline.

Subject : Pacesetter Awards for Records Retrieval Branch

To : All AFN-MR employees

This memorandum replaces NRP 2010-02, dated January 20, 2010 same subject as above. It makes the following changes: changes the goal for all L&T cases closed in five days or less from 97% to 98% in paragraph 3(e)(3) and within the attachment Records Retrieval Branch Performance Targets for Fiscal Year 2011, as well as the average cycle time for organizational searches (GS-5) from <=10 Days to <=8 Days. The new targets were established in NARA's FY2011 Performance Plan for all center operations.

1. Purpose. This memorandum describes Pacesetter award opportunities for staff assigned to the Records Retrieval Branch (AFN-MR). As in previous fiscal years, the continuation of awards programs is dependent upon the availability of adequate funding in the operating budget.
  - a. Pacesetter award opportunities will be available in addition to the annual performance award opportunities described in NPRC Memorandum 3620.2, NPRC Cash Awards for Performance and Productivity.
  - b. The Pacesetter award opportunities replace the productivity award opportunities outlined in par. 2a(2) of NPRC Memorandum 3620.2, NPRC Cash Awards for Performance and Productivity.
2. Coverage. This program includes permanent employees and students (temps and career experience), but excludes employees in excepted service positions for which employment is not reasonably expected to exceed 120 days in a consecutive 12-month period.
3. Pacesetter Awards.
  - a. Pacesetter awards will be given to the top-performing employees based on their Success Rate (a weighted average between Production Effectiveness levels and records Find Rate) for those employees whose performance plans contain Find Rate and Success Rate requirements. For operations in which no Find Rate and Success Rate have been established yet, the Pacesetter awards will be given to the top-performing employees on the basis of their Quality Production Effectiveness level. Monthly award periods will coincide with TASK reporting cycles for the Search, Refile, and Organizational Records sections. The monthly award period for the Verification Section will start/end one week prior to the TASK reporting month period to ensure inclusion of all records found and timely payment of the awards. Overtime work will be included in the award computations. Pacesetter charts indicating award winners will be posted inside and outside AFN-MR Headquarters and inside each RRB section on a monthly basis.
  - b. To be eligible for a Pacesetter Award, a staff member must:

- (1) Be in good standing. An employee is in good standing if during the period on which the award is based she or he has had no disciplinary or adverse actions taken against them, and as of the last day of the period on which the award is based, the employee is not on leave restriction.
- (2) Perform at Fully Successful level or better;
- (3) Achieve an overall Quality Production Effectiveness level or Success Rate of 105% or greater for the monthly award period;
- (4) For the Search and Organizational Records Sections, report a minimum of 72.5% of all hours on production standards for the monthly award period and must work at least 70 hours during the monthly award cycle. For the Refile Section, report a minimum of 60% of all hours on production standards for the monthly award period and must work at least 70 hours during the monthly award cycle.

c. Pacesetter Awards for technicians will be awarded as follows:

- (1) For the Organizational Records Section - A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to each of the three top-performing employees (includes one GS-3 searcher and two GS-4 or above technicians).
- (2) For the Verification Section - A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to the two top-performing employees.
- (3) For the Search Section - A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to each of the six top-performing employees.
- (4) For the Refile Section - A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to each of the six top-performing employees.

d. Pacesetter Awards for Leads and Supervisors will be awarded quarterly as follows:

- (1) For the Organizational Records Section – A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to the Lead and $150.00 awarded to the Supervisor should the Section exceed its published goals for the quarter.
- (2) For the Search Section – A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to each of the two Leads should the respective Search Section or Verification Search Section exceed its published goals for the quarter. A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to the Lead in Records Distribution Area (RDA) should the Section exceed its published goal for the quarter. A cash award in the amount of $150.00 will be awarded to each of the two Supervisors should the Section achieve all of the published goals for the quarter.
- (3) For the Refile Section – A cash award in the amount of $130.00 will be awarded to each of the three Leads in Refile and $150.00 awarded each of the two Supervisors should the Section exceed its published goals for the quarter.

- e. Pacesetter Awards for Support – An additional quarterly group award for outstanding team performance in the amount of $1,900.00 will be shared evenly among staff occupying support positions throughout the branch (Office of the Branch Chief – (12 positions)), Organizational Records Section - (2 positions), Records Distribution Area - (13 positions) should the staff achieve the following goals for the quarter:

- (1) 99% of all data entry is completed within 8 hours of receipt;
- (2) 99% of all wandling is completed within 8 hours of receipt;
- (3) Greater than or equal to 98% of all L&T cases close in five days or less;
- (4) 100% of emails in Search Request Search box are answered within 4 hours;
- (5) TASK/NEARS report shows no more than 5 errors each pay period; and,
- (6) There are no administrative delays in student appointment actions that require Branch Chief intervention or results in an appointment erroneously expiring.

The goals will be posted in each section of the Records Retrieval Branch and progress will be charted along the way.

4. Processing of Awards.

- a. The Section Supervisors will document eligibility in the AFN-MR CHARTS application and continuously review CHARTS data for accuracy. The CHARTS application will be used to perform calculations and rank eligible staff members. The Branch Chief/Assistant Branch Chief will review the nominations for accuracy and initiate/approve the awards through NARA's Comprehensive Human Resource Information System (CHRIS) Awards program. The Branch Chief/Assistant Branch Chief must maintain a complete documentation file to support all awards to include the following: (1) CHARTS report print-out showing eligibility and (2) a screen print from the CHRIS Awards System showing that the award has been submitted. The Branch Chief/Assistant Branch Chief also must forward to AFN-Budget the confirmation screenshot from CHRIS listing each award recipient and the dollar amount of his/her award.
- b. The maximum amount of any individual award that can be approved locally is $2,000.00.

Subject : Individual and Team Awards in Correspondence
To : All NRPM Core Employees

This memorandum cancels NRP 2006-04, Subject: Individual and Team Awards in Correspondence, dated December 1, 2005. Changes have been made in the award amounts and number of eligible technicians in paragraphs 3e(1) and 3e(2). Paragraph 5a has been amended to show revised awards processing procedures and increased approval limits.

1. Purpose.

a. This memorandum describes individual and team awards available for personnel assigned to NRPM Core environment operations. The level and continuation of these awards is dependent upon the availability of adequate funding in the performance award budget.

b. These awards are in addition to the awards outlined in Chapter 3 of NPRC Memorandum 3630.5, Performance Management Program for personnel in the NRPM Core Environment. The awards described in Chapter 3 include individual performance awards, superior accomplishment awards, and quality step increases (QSI).

2. Coverage. This memorandum applies to all NARA/NRPM employees within a Core Environment and excludes employees in excepted service positions for which employment is not reasonably expected to exceed 120 days in a consecutive 12-month period.

3. Pacesetter Awards.

a. Pacesetter Awards will be awarded to the top producing caseworkers within each core and centerwide, the coaches and expert technicians on their teams, and the core support staff.

b. Caseworkers include those employees on career ladder positions (FPL GS-6) as well as those employees working cases who are on non-career ladder positions (i.e., legacy positions with a FPL of GS-5 or GS-3).

c. To be eligible for a Pacesetter Award:

(1) Employee must be in good standing. An employee is in good standing if during the period on which the award is based she or he has had no disciplinary or adverse actions taken against them, and as of the last day of the period on which the award is based, the employee is not on a leave restriction.

(2) Core/team members must currently be performing at the fully successful level or better, and

(3) Case workers must report 120 hours or more on production during the TASK month for which the award is being considered. Coaches, Expert Technicians, and support staff cannot have more than 40 hours of leave during the TASK month for which the award is being considered.

d. Pacesetter awards will be based on the number of completed quality cases above the required staffday average during the TASK month. The awards will be calculated and awarded at the end of each TASK month.

(1) The formula used in the calculation of the number of completed quality cases will be prorated to recognize the varying required staffday averages of caseworkers.

(2) Work completed on overtime hours will be used in the calculation of completed quality cases for Pacesetter Awards unless otherwise specifically excluded (i.e., for special projects for which additional overtime dollars have been provided).

e. Pacesetter Awards will be awarded as follows:

(1) A cash award in the amount of $75.00 for each of the top seventeen (17) producing caseworkers (based on quality staffday average) in each Reference core.

(2) A cash award in the amount of $175.00 for each of the top fifteen (15) producing caseworkers (based on quality staffday average) center-wide.

(4) Expert Technicians (Archives Technicians, FPL GS-8) will be awarded a cash award equivalent to 10% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(5) Coaches (Supervisory Archives Specialists, FPL GS-9) will be awarded a cash award equivalent to 12% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned team.

(6) Each member of the Core Support will be awarded a cash award equivalent to 2% of the total award amount computed for all caseworkers on their assigned core. Core Support includes the secretary, copy operators, and data entry personnel.

4. Team Performance Awards.

a. Team performance awards are awarded quarterly for outstanding team performance.

(1) For a team or a core level staff to be eligible for a team performance award, the team or core level staff must be rated at the Outstanding level on all additional elements on their performance plans. For award purposes, the computation of team/core staff day average will not include cases produced while using non-standard TASK codes such as those used for training purposes.

(2) For an individual team or core staff member to be eligible to share in the team performance award, the team or core staff member must be on the current performance plan for the minimum appraisal period of 90 days as of the end of the quarter.

b. Team performance awards will be awarded on a quarterly basis to coincide with the four three-month periods of the appraisal year (i.e., at the end of March, June, September, and December).

c. Team performance awards will be calculated and awarded as follows:

(1) At the start of the fiscal year, a total quarterly dollar amount (referred to as team award dollars) will be calculated based upon funding available in the performance award budget and set aside for distribution for team performance awards.

(2) Written performance appraisals prepared at the time of quarterly progress reviews will be the basis for determining teams or core level staff performing at the Outstanding level.

(3) The total quarterly team award dollars will be divided equally among all teams and core level staff rated outstanding on the additional elements.

5. Processing of Awards.

a. Pacesetter Awards.

(1) For individuals awards, process following Table 1 below.

Table 1. Processing Individuals Awards.

3	NRPS-Budget	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Updates local cuff records.</li> <li>• Files paper copies of approved award documents.</li> </ul>

(2) The maximum amount of any individual award that can be approved locally is $2,000.00.

b. Team Performance Awards. At the end of each quarter, outstanding team performance will be documented on NPRC Test Form 00-2, Performance Management Program – Performance Appraisal (General Schedule Employees). The completed quarterly appraisal will be routed to and signed by the Rating Official, the Reviewing Official, and the Awards Fund Manager (Assistant Director for Military Records or the Director, NRPC) BEFORE being discussed with the rated employee(s). The completed quarterly appraisal will be forwarded to the Awards Fund Manager within two (2) weeks of the end of the quarter. If approved, the Awards Fund Manager will record the approved award amount on the NRPC Test Form 00-2.

Attn of : NRPC 2007-01

Subject : Reporting Requirements for Work Performed in the Document Conversion Unit

To : Employees assigned to the Document Conversion Unit

What is the purpose of this memorandum? This memorandum provides reporting requirements for work performed in the Document Conversion Unit (DCU).

When are the reporting requirements effective? On October 10, 2006, CPR deployed the Document Conversion Unit. This Unit will provide scanning services to agencies under OPM's recordkeeping authority that are converting active paper Official Personnel Folders (OPFs) to an electronic format (eOPF). Conversion will begin with NARA's own active paper OPFs to electronic format.

What are my responsibilities? Employees assigned to the DCU are responsible for reporting the volume of completed work and hours expended on the work in the Task Reporting System.

What TASK Organizational Code should I use? A new Task Organizational Code has been established for the DCU. The new Task Organizational Code is "UOD."

What TASK Codes should I use to report my work? New Task Codes will be created and provided to employees by Joseph Stewart, Unit Supervisor.

What Reimbursable Job # and Agency Code should I use? New Reimbursable Job Numbers and Agency Codes have been established to report work related to the conversion of NARA active OPFs.

Job #	Agency Code	When to Use This Code
6800	ENAR	On tasks specifically related to document conversion services performed for NARA, such as document preparation, scanning, indexing, quality control, and box/folder tracking. This includes completed work while receiving on-the-job training. Report the volume of completed during training (but not hours) using appropriate work related Task Code.

6868	EHRI	On tasks which are support functions, such as clerical and administrative tasks, lead technician, supervision, meetings, all types of leave, special interest programs, fire drills, and computer downtime. Report hours using appropriate training Task Code.

Who is the point of contact? Questions should be directed to Patricia Resler, Chief, Civilian Operations Branch, X1-92333, or the supervisor of the DCU.

1. Effective immediately, use the following procedure for those instances where you would normally request a master microfiche from the Marine Corps Liaison Office (MCLNO).

a. Record is charged out or not in file: Every effort will be made to locate a charged-out record before forwarding the request to the MCLNO. If the record is not in file, conduct a verification search before forwarding the request.

1. Attach Finding Aid Report (FAR) and NA Form 13077, Report of Searching Actions, to request.
2. Forward the request, FAR, and NA Form 13077 to the MCLNO via NA Form 13098, NPRC Routing Slip. Be sure to indicate on the NPRC Routing Slip the reason for forwarding the request.

The MCLNO will attempt to locate information so NPRC (MPR) can respond to the request.

b. Microfiche in record is missing, illegible, or incomplete:

1. Notify the MCLNO that a copy of the master microfiche is needed, using NA Form 13098, NPRC Routing Slip. Include on the Routing Slip the veteran's name and service number/social security number. Indicate on the Routing Slip whether the record is missing, illegible, or incomplete. Be sure to include your name, core number and team, and phone number.

2. The MCLNO will request the master microfiche from CPR, duplicate it, and provide it to the technician who requested it.

2. If you have questions regarding this memo, please contact Linda Torrusio at 538-4236.

Subject : "Tracer" Requests

To : All employees: NRPM1, NRPM2, NRPM3, NRPM4

1. Recently we received several "TRACER" requests from the U. S. Coast Guard. The original requests were on Standard Form 180 for specific documents "to credit member for all prior service for pay purposes" (see attached sample). We followed up with the Coast Guard and were told we provided only a portion of the documentation requested. We reviewed our completed response documents and it appears we provided only separation documents in most cases.
2. According to the Release Guide, NPRC 1865.16, we are to "furnish statement of service, showing any lost time, with character of separation or discharge" for any Armed Force seeking data on past military service to compute service for current basic pay purposes. However, NPRC 1865.60, Requests for Verification or Statement of Service, provides an additional option of providing photocopies of documents to military facilities in lieu of a completed NA Form 13041, Statement of Service. You determine the most efficient method of reply.
3. Regardless of the method of response you choose, please read each request carefully and provide as complete a response as possible. If requested documentation is not available in the record, be sure to tell the requester in the response document exactly what you cannot furnish. This will alert the requester we did not inadvertently overlook what was requested, and will reduce these time-consuming "tracers."

Subject : Change in Task codes in the Cores

To : All Core employees

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide information on a change in Task codes in the Cores for reporting completed cases. This memorandum cancels NRPM 2002-07, Case assignment profiles.

Currently the Task codes used by core technicians reflect three categories of work representing case difficulty: Basic; Intermediate; and Advanced. In relation to these levels, case assignment profiles were established as general guidelines for the assignment of work to core technicians. It has been determined that reporting completed cases by level of difficulty is no longer needed.

In accordance with RCP Billing System requirements, completed cases in the cores will be reported as Routine (No Priority) or Priority cases. In addition, we will continue to track our production on non-fire-related and fire-related cases, and distinguish whether the work was accomplished on regular time or overtime.

Effective with the January reporting month (December 29, 2002), new Task codes have been created to reflect the revised reporting requirements. The current Task codes designating Basic, Intermediate, and Advanced levels will be discontinued. Attached is a list of the new and discontinued Task codes.

Subject : Instructions for annotating documents received from unofficial sources
To : All employees

This memorandum implements the use of the “Received from an unofficial source” stamp, effective immediately.

Purpose. The purpose of the “Received from an unofficial source” stamp is to help distinguish between official documents that may be used to verify service for veterans and unofficial supporting documentation provided by the requester.

Responsibility. The primary personnel stamping documents will be those who scan documents into CMRS. This includes, but is not limited to, Mailroom Data Entry Technicians, Core Support Personnel, Customer Service Technicians, Core Managers, Assistant Core Managers, Expert Technicians, and Secretaries. Core Technicians will use the stamp on documentation that they will submit to other personnel for scanning.

Requester’s Original Documents. Please note that when the mailroom and other personnel receive original documents, they will continue the practice of making a copy of the original document to scan into CMRS. Those copies should be stamped with the “Received from an unofficial source” stamp before being scanned. Return the originals to the requester without modification.

Placement of stamp on documents. When stamping the unofficial documents, please try not to stamp over the last name, first name, date of birth, Social Security number, service number, branch of service, or date released from service.

Determining when to stamp documents. Documents received at NPRC from non-government agencies and individuals are considered as received from an unofficial source. The sender of the document, rather than the document itself, determines whether it is considered unofficial. Only government documents received from an unofficial source should be annotated with the “Received from an unofficial source” stamp.

For example, if a veteran or requester sends a DD214, it is considered received from an unofficial source. If the Air Force sends NARA a DD214, it is considered received from an official source.

Please note letters and memoranda from service departments will usually include an attention line with an office symbol. However, if a service department is referring a request from a veteran, any enclosures are considered unofficial, as the source of the request was the veteran.

Below is a guideline to determine if a source is official or unofficial:

Received from:	Stamp Document Unofficial Source?
Requester	Yes
Veteran	Yes
3 rd Party	Yes
Relative	Yes
American Legion/VFW/Similar Organizations	Yes
Law Office	Yes
Military Services	No, if received directly from the service department in an official envelope or directly from a Liaison Officer and the request is not a referral with information provided by the veteran.
Department of Veteran's Affairs	No, if received directly from the Department of Veteran's Affairs in an official envelope and the request is not a referral with information provided by the veteran.
Procurements to other government agencies initiated by NARA technicians.	No, if received directly from the government agency itself for the case referenced in the procurement.
Unsolicited	Yes, if documentation appears to have been provided initially by the veteran or if original source of document is unknown.
City, State, Federal Government Agencies	No, if received directly from the government agency itself and the request is not a referral with information provided by the veteran.
Unknown Source	Yes

Using 'Unofficial' documents to respond to requests. Reconstruction cases will retain the same verification rules now in practice. Medals will be verified by official documentation as identified in the Guide to Reconstruction Sources job aid. However, in the absence of official documentation, for reconstruction cases only, medals may be verified based on documentation provided by the veteran, except when the documentation appears to be altered.

Official documents must be used to verify service in the Armed Forces for all cases, both reconstruction and non-reconstruction.

NRPM 2007-02 dated May 18, 2007 is cancelled.

This revised memorandum provides additional guidance for the use of the “Received from an unofficial source” stamp, primarily for situations involving reconstruction of lost records.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Question	Response
Sometimes a separation document provided by a VA Office (RMC or VARO) is a member copy. Why would we use what the veteran supplied just because it came from the VA?	The VA-provided copy of the DD214 is from the claim folder housed at the VA. If we have a DD214 supplied by the VA that is a member copy, we should validate the service (character, in and out dates) from other official sources before accepting the document as an official document.
If we get a separation document from a state archives or county court house, isn't it one supplied by the veteran? Why would we use that one? If the military documents are sent in with a raised seal from a federal or state agency, may we use them?	The separation document supplied by the state office was sent directly to the state from the service department. If the separation document provided to us from the state is the member copy, we should validate the service dates and character before utilizing the document as official. The member copy of separation documents registered in the County courthouse in the 40s and 50s may be utilized as official with validation of service dates and character. If an unofficial source provided the raised seal document, we cannot utilize that document as official.
Should I stamp the documents in the R-file as unofficial when I work the case?	Do not stamp documents as unofficial if they were previously filed in the record. We do not know that those are truly unofficial.
Why aren't we permitted to use all of the information on the VA Index? Enlistment and Discharge date.	The enlistment date may be used but the discharge date has been historically rated as unreliable.
Which is more reliable, VA Index or AAD? Which should we use first?	The AAD is based on official documents from the SN Index for WWII. These are more reliable than the VA Index.
May we use a verified BIRLS for the enlistment date if we have no VA Index and the discharge date is from an official source? Aren't the discharge and character what drives benefits?	No, do not use BIRLS to verify service.

How do we respond if the veteran has a separation document and we are unable to validate. Is there a new paragraph?	The paragraph is: Fire Related Records &gt; Fire pp, separation document provided more than we can reconstruct. To provide the partial information we have verified, and request additional information from the requester to make an additional search, use the paragraph: Fire Related Records&gt; Fire pp, some info. verified, need additional info. for another search.
If there is an unofficial separation document in the file and the request is for FOIA information, may we use that unofficial separation document to create the FOIA?	We should not respond to a FOIA request with any information that is unofficial. The separation document is unofficial and the FOIA is an official response. We would have to reconstruct or reply that we have no official documents pertaining to the veteran.
If we are unable to use the unofficial document to respond to the service dates on the FOIA response, may we use the medals listed?	This is an official response. Use basic medals as reference, but seek an alternate source to confirm eligibility. Check the unit books for any other awards.
Where are we with follow through searches in OR? May we consistently do these for benefits requests?	When a follow through search is needed for benefits, technicians should obtain concurrence from their Coach or ET and then order the follow through. The Coach or ET will email OR so they know that this is an authorized search. (Note: Because these are time consuming, expensive searches, we want to ensure we have exhausted all other sources for information prior to going to the follow through search.)
I hear we may destroy x-rays. It's been said the big x-rays are the ones off-gassing and not the small chest x-rays that are needed for reconstruction. True and, if so, can we keep those?	Small x-rays are for Navy/Marine Corps veterans and do not impact the major reconstruction effort.
May we send out copies of the documents marked Unofficial? To veteran or NOK?	We may include unofficial documents when we provide a certified or authenticated copy of the record. We are not certifying the authenticity of the record, only that these documents were in the records when the request was received. It is up to the courts or the requester to determine whether the documents accurately reflect the member's service.

If the veteran sends in a separation document and asks that it be sealed, but we have to send an NA13038, may we have a new paragraph explaining that and our inability to reconstruct?	The paragraph is: Get Paragraph > Personnel Related Info > Certify documents from official source only—with NA 13038.
We get dates of service from the civilian record. Is that information supplied by the veteran to the civilian agency and should that be used as an official source?	The military service information contained in a federal civilian personnel record is official.
May we use a VA Form 3101 as an official source?	Statement of service (from previously submitted VA-3101, Request for Information) is one of the items in our guide to reconstruction. The old PIEs requests with the stamp on it indicating who verified the information as well as the box checked saying “verified” may be used as official documents.
If an unofficial separation document is in the file and the veteran wants a correction/DD215. May we do the DD215 from the unofficial separation document?	No. We should prepare an NA 13038 with the correct information. Medals information may be placed in the comments section.
If we see writing on a separation document or documents, what do we consider altered?	There are some authentic documents that have writing on them. When looking at a separation document, one normally sees items that pertain to service or medals adjusted. If there is any doubt, see ET or Coach.
Do we consider Honorable Discharges which include entry and discharge as items that have to be verified?	If received from an unofficial source, documents may not be used to validate service. Service must be verified as noted in the matrix. Consult your Coach if the document appears to be an original or if you feel there are extenuating circumstances.

Note: At any time the Technician is unable to validate service or the veteran through the process above but believes the record contains enough information to be sure it is correct to respond to the request, he/she should see the Coach before denying the request.

Nuclear Deterrence Operations Service Medal (USAF Only)

Last Update: 11/07/2014

This medal is for USAF personnel only and is retroactive to 27 December 1991. Reply to any request received for this specific medal by copying and pasting the paragraph and referral address below to your response letter. THE BACKGROUND INFORMATION IS FOR YOUR INFORMATION AND IS NOT TO BE INCLUDED IN YOUR REPLY.

The specific medal that you are requesting (Nuclear Deterrence Operations Service Medal) is not processed by the National Personnel Records Center. This medal may be awarded retroactively to December 27, 1991. To apply for this specific medal, you must apply directly to:

Air Reserve Personnel Center
HQ ARPC/DPTARA
18420 E Silver Creek Ave Bldg 390 MS 68
Buckley AFB, CO 80011

Background: The Air Force has released the criteria for a new service medal for airmen directly supporting the beleaguered nuclear missile community. Air Force Secretary Deborah Lee James on 27 MAY authorized the Nuclear Deterrence Operations Service Medal. Service members can receive the medal if they were assigned, deployed or mobilized to a wing, center or other organization supporting nuclear deterrence operations for 120 consecutive days or 179 nonconsecutive days, the Air Force said 10 OCT. Subsequent awards will only be authorized when an airman has a permanent change of station move to a qualifying unit. The medal is being developed and is expected to be available in March. "This service medal provides a clearly visible way to recognize the dedication and professionalism of our airmen who are the guardians of our nation's nuclear deterrence," said Col. Zannis Pappas, missile operations career field manager. "Because of our success, often times nuclear deterrence operations can be overlooked as a critical function. The medal acknowledges the special challenges faced by those airmen charged with supporting the nuclear enterprise and will be a point of pride by all who wear it."

The award will be a bronze medal with a laurel wreath symbolizing achievement, an atomic symbol representing the nuclear surety mission, and a star with a disc representing the Air Force. The medal's reverse will have a triangle, alluding to the nuclear triad. The [medal's] blue represents the nuclear dominance in the sky; red represents the power and passion in which we provide nuclear deterrence; green represents the earth and our global capabilities; gold represents the wealth of our nuclear enterprise — our people. "The Air Force continues to demonstrate its support to the most vital part of the nuclear enterprise — the airmen," said Maj. Gen. Garrett Harencak, Air Force assistant chief of staff for strategic deterrence and nuclear integration. "This medal exists as a tangible way to acknowledge the importance of this mission and the dedication and pride that the men and women in the nuclear community show to their country. Having Secretary of the Air Force-level interest testifies to the importance of this decoration and impact on the nuclear operations."

The medal will be worn with an "N" device for airmen dispatched to a missile complex for 179 nonconsecutive days, who directly support intercontinental ballistic missile operations or nuclear weapon carrying aircraft. Airmen will only receive one "N" device, no matter how many qualifying assignments they serve in. When a permanent change of station occurs, airmen may receive an oak leaf cluster. Medal eligibility will be retroactive to Dec. 27, 1991. Currently serving airmen will have their nominations processed through their chains of command. An airman's current group commander will be the awarding authority for the medal. Retired or separated airmen who wish to receive the medal can submit a request to the Air Force Personnel Center recognition section. Family members of deceased airmen can ask AFPC for information on receiving the medal posthumously.

NPRC 1865.46B
January 7, 1981

SUBJECT: OPM requests concerning credit for military service

1. Purpose. This memorandum contains instructions for answering requests from the Compensation Group of the Office of Personnel Management. This office was formerly known as the Bureau of Retirement and Insurance, U.S. Civilian Service Commission. Requests seek information needed to determine eligibility for, and/or the amount of, monetary benefits due Federal civilian employees, under the Civil Service Retirement Act. Credits for military service are allowable under the Act.
2. Cancellation. NPRC 1865.46A is canceled.
3. Reason for revision. NPRC 1865.46A is revised to reflect the changes in Agency names caused by the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978. Instructions are updated on the use of the request forms currently being received at NPRC.
4. Applicability. This memorandum is applicable to all employees in the correspondence/WIF sections of military reference branches and the Records Reconstruction Branch.
5. Forms. This memorandum provides for the use of the following forms:

Regional Form R6-7043, Inquiry Return (with SF 180)
GSA Form 7093, Reply to Inquiry (NCP)
Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records
CSC Form BRI 46-143, Verification of U. S. Military Service

OPM REQUESTS CONCERNING CREDIT FOR MILITARY SERVICE

1. Request form. The Compensation Group of the Office of Personnel Management (formerly the Bureau of Retirement and Insurance, U. S. Civil Service Commission) still uses the old Civil Service Commission Form BRI 46-143, Verification of U. S. Military Service. See fig. 1. This is normally submitted in the original and one copy. The left side is the request portion, containing the identifying information and the service claimed. The NPRC reply is made by placing check marks or writing in information to the right of the dark vertical line.
2. Instructions for completing replies. Fig. 1 is a sample request form, as completed by NPRC.
  - a. General. The entire NPRC reply is usually made on the request form. (See subpar. 2d for exceptions.) The information provided by NPRC results in the determination of eligibility for, and/or the amount of, a substantial monetary benefit. The importance of providing correct information, therefore, cannot be overstressed.

Be sure to verify each item carefully before placing a check mark. It is also important to complete the case quickly. A delayed case can delay the first retirement check, or may make necessary a complete recomputation of a person's retirement annuity.

- b. Name and social security number or service number. Verify these items with the record. For each correct item, place a check mark in the block provided. If an item is incorrect, enter the correct information in the space to the right.

c. Branch(es) and dates of active Federal service. If the branch(es) of military service and the "from" and "to" dates shown on the left are correct, place a check mark in the block provided. If any of the information on the left is incorrect, enter the correct information in the "reply" column(s). If the record shows additional active HONORABLE service (including (ACDUTRA), enter the dates in the reply column(s), as shown below:

SERVICE TO		ALWAYS COMPLETE THIS BLOCK →		SHOW TYPE OF SEPARATION FOR EACH PERIOD OF ACTIVE SERVICE. ↘
		FROM	TO
13/45	✓			HONORABLE
		11/14/45	11/13/49	HONORABLE

d. Active duty for training. ACDUTRA is creditable for retirement purposes. Any ACDUTRA not included in the request portion must be shown in the reply. Show "Training Duty" in the Type-of-Separation column for this. NOTE: Numerous periods of Navy ACDUTRA may be reported by furnishing copies of such records as the retirement eligibility and credit cards, in lieu of transcribing the dates to the Form 143. This method should be limited to cases where the periods of ACDUTRA to be reported are sufficient to warrant it. Also, copies should be furnished only when it is clear that the OPM will be able to make out the ACDUTRA dates. CIRCLE IN RED THOSE PORTIONS SHOWING ACDUTRA.

e. Separation. Show the type of separation of each period of active military service entered on the form.

f. Time lost. Furnish all time lost, unless service was other than honorable. Always check the "None" block, if applicable. Show time lost either in total number of days, or in "From - to" dates, depending on how it is shown in the record.

g. Additional information requested. If any of the three blocks in the lower part of the request portion are checked, provide the requested information in the space to the right or under "remarks."

h. Requests involving multiple enlistments for which all separation documents cannot be obtained. In these cases--which usually involve fire-related records--it is sometimes possible to verify the total amount of prior active service from the available documents, even though the exact DATES of such service are not known. OPM has agreed that this type verification can be made by writing "HONORABLE ACTIVE FEDERAL SERVICE PRIOR TO PERIOD(S) SHOWN ABOVE: _____ years _____ months _____ days" immediately after the period(s) for which inclusive dates are available. This arrangement is based on an understanding that the "Prior service" entries on separation documents reflect only active Federal service for pay and longevity purposes. It is EXTREMELY IMPORTANT that care be taken to pick up only the prior ACTIVE service. The "TOTAL SERVICE FOR PAY PURPOSES" entry may include INACTIVE service, so this figure should never be used without careful examination of the other entries. Following is an illustration of a typical response of this type.

SERVICE	ALWAYS COMPLETE THIS BLOCK →			SHOW TYPE OF SEPARATION FOR EACH PERIOD OF ACTIVE SERVICE. ↘
	TO	FROM	TO
7-20-56		Jan. 7, 1952	Aug. 23, 1954	Hon.
		Aug. 24, 1954	Nov. 7, 1956	Hon.
		Honorable active Federal service prior to period(s) shown above:
		9 years, 9 months, 17 days.

i. Authentication and disposition of request forms. The person who completes the reply enters the NPRC correspondence code immediately above the words "RECORDS OFFICE OFFICIAL SIGNATURE" in the lower right corner, and signs as in fig. 1. Enter the current date, as shown. The duplicate copy of the completed form is filed in the record.

3. Special instructions on requests showing service in more than one branch of service. OPM submits only one request for verification of service, even though service was performed in more than one branch of military service. Such requests are answered in the NPRC branch responsible for the records of the last period served. Information regarding the earlier period(s) is obtained under the procedures outlined in NPRC 1865.2B, app. A, par. 5.
4. Negative replies. If records are not found, based on the information provided in the original request, use a Regional Form R6-7043, Inquiry Return, to transmit a Standard Form 180, Request Pertaining to Military Records. If a record cannot be found after the SF 180 is returned, compose a negative response on GSA Form 7093, Reply to Inquiry (NCP).
