

Station 2

The House of Representatives is led by the Speaker of the House, who is a member of the political party that holds the most seats. The Speaker's party influences most decisions, and the House often works at a faster pace than the Senate.

The House in Session (According to the Minority Point of View) April 16, 1908
National Archives Catalog Number: 6010752

Station 2

Every state has two Senators, and the Senate operates differently from the House of Representatives. Senate rules and procedures can make the legislative process take more time. This cartoon pokes fun at the slow, deliberative pace of the Senate.

It's Comin'. But Not with a House-like Gait May 29, 1897 National Archives Catalog Number: 306161