Records Control Schedule

Mission and Organization

The Office of the Assistant Director of National Intelligence for Acquisition, Technology, and Facilities (AT&F) was previously the Office of the Deputy Director for Acquisition and Technology (DDNI/A&T), which had been renamed from the DDNI/ Future Capabilities, which, in turn, had replaced the DDNI/Acquisitions, an office that had previously assumed some functions from the DDNI /Management. This Office is responsible for leading the Intelligence Community (IC) effort to enhance returns on investments in technology and facilities. AT&F is comprised of five divisions treated in this schedule: Acquisition, Facilities, Operations, Procurement, and Science and Technology. An additional component, Architecture, Engineering, and Integration (AE&I), was relocated to the Office of the Associate Director for Systems and Resource Analysis (SRA) in mid 2009. The Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Agency (IARPA) resides organizationally within AT&F, which is responsible for facilitating its development, but IARPA is treated in a separate records control schedule.

Application of Records Control Schedule Disposition Instructions

The disposition instructions in the records control schedule are mandatory. Any Federal records received or created by AT&F personnel or contractors not specifically covered by this schedule or the General Records Schedules are to be retained until such time as an applicable disposition authority approved by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is obtained. To take into account the fluid nature of electronic filing, those responsible for implementing this schedule should be aware that record copies of record types described in this schedule are to receive the prescribed disposition wherever they are filed.

The records subject to this schedule date principally from 22 April 2005, the date of commencement of operations by the ODNI, and forward. However, ODNI records may include legacy records that were incorporated into or brought forward to the ODNI files for the purpose of continuity of operations. In general, records created and received by the Director of Central Intelligence and his Community Management Staff, the ODNI's predecessor, were managed under the CIA Records Control Schedule. In addition, the ODNI has used the CIA schedule retirement authority on an interim basis until the approval of the ODNI Records Control Schedule.

The Information Management Technical Officer with responsibility for AT&F records will support effective implementation of the disposition requirements of this schedule through the development and issuance of appropriate operational guidance and supplementary instructions necessary to assure adequate and proper documentation of the official mission, responsibilities, and actions of the Office.

Note on Sensitivity of AT&F Records

The majority of the records addressed in this schedule are classified as national security information in accordance with statutes and national policy directives. Most of the records series described in this schedule contain information classified to the TS/SCI level, requiring planning for their continued security until they are declassified or destroyed. The user of this schedule should assume that the subject records are highly classified unless noted otherwise. In addition, certain series may contain material covered by the Privacy Act or potentially exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act for reasons other than national security, such as law enforcement information or commercially sensitive ("trade secrets") information. An effort has been made to note these series.

Note on Vital Records

Records management personnel should be alert to the need to identify vital records so that they can be accessed quickly when needed. Vital records are (1) those that specify how the ODNI will operate in case of an emergency or disaster, (2) those necessary to the ODNI's continued mission critical operations during and after an emergency, and (3) those that must be preserved to protect the legal and financial rights and interests of the ODNI and of persons affected by the ODNI.

Note on Electronic Records

The AT&F and staff maintain record copies of many official files in electronic form on both shared and individual network drives. In addition, some staff members may keep some files on their individual local drives, although this is discouraged. Records kept on both the network and local individual drives that are not disposable under the General Records Schedules (GRS) or under this schedule, as approved, are to be moved or copied to the network shared drives or kept in paper files, as appropriate, to be retained or destroyed in accordance with an approved ODNI disposition authority.

Records Descriptions and Disposition Instructions

Item	Title &Description	Disposition
ATF 1	Controlled Correspondence Action Files The Front Office and each of the subordinate units is assigned a range of AT&F numbers to identify its correspondence action packages. NOTE: This tracking system is similar to that of the ODNI Executive Secretary system in design and function.
ATF 1a	Chronological File/"Chron Log" Correspondence management files, consisting of paper copies of all significant incoming and outgoing correspondence and taskings, including both review of tasks assigned to other components and action items for which AT&F is the principal. Contains copies of signed Front Office outgoing and comeback copies of DNI outgoing. Filed in folders under month and year, and ATF (vice FC) number thereunder.	Permanent. Retain in office 3 years and then transfer to ODNI storage area. Transfer to NARA in five year blocks when most recent file in block is 30 years old.
ATF 1b	Correspondence Management Database A Lotus Notes database tracking system that parallels the Chronological File, containing taskings, incoming correspondence that results in action, and outgoing (scanned) signed correspondence file by system-assigned serial number (format: FC-YY-0000). Searchable by assigned subject term and other basic fields.	Permanent. Maintain electronic files in active system until no longer needed, copy to verified accessible format and medium as required for preservation and continued reference. Transfer to NARA when 30 years old in a medium and format acceptable to NARA in accordance with standards set forth in Federal regulations.
