2. At the request of the [redacted] (COC, Paul [redacted]) I prefaced the operational briefing with a brief description of how the U.S. intelligence community operates, of the role of CIA, of the need for compartmentation and security, and specifically of how the foregoing considerations make it imperative for the [redacted] to adopt security precautions which will ensure that the information we provide and the [redacted] we undertake [are compartmented] 24 within the [redacted] (and, in fact, discussed by the [redacted] exclusively with our representatives in the field). 24

3. Following the introductory remarks outlined above, I briefed the group on the DCI structure, the DCI operational techniques, and specifically on DCI aims and operations in [redacted]. The [redacted] lent close attention throughout the briefing and examined the exhibits closely, including the DCI intelligence requirements [for Guatemala] 24 and the [redacted].

4. After the foregoing exposition, I explained 24 our aims in exploiting the information with regard to the [redacted] aspect [redacted] control [redacted] 24 [redacted] In this connection I asked for [redacted] close cooperation 24 and coordination of activities, promising that we shall do our utmost and making reference to our [redacted] 24 and watch list.]

5. With reference to the [redacted] case, because of the developments and plans [redacted] explained briefly the status of the [redacted] and the possibility, [redacted] 24
 24 [of his being transferred to Guatemala.] (This was in line with the discussions [redacted] which included our Chief of Station [redacted] 27 or Station [redacted] and the [redacted] 24 advisor, Colonel MEDINA.) I asked that the Guatemalan government take no action unless requested by [redacted] 24
 [redacted] or Colonel MEDINA and said that, [redacted] 24
 24 [is transferred,] one of our people probably would talk to [redacted] in Guatemala.)

6. The [redacted] 24 made a rather impassioned speech in which he covered the following points:

- a. His own long experience in the OAS, in Cuba and in Central America;
- b. His early warnings about Castro-- which were disregarded;
- c. The extent to which Guatemala has lived up to its obligations in the OAS; to which it has 24
 24 [cooperated] in efforts [redacted] against Castro] and to which it has looked toward U. S. leadership;
- d. The failure of the U. S. to take aggressive action against Cuba and the need for taking a hard line, including the use of force in support of military activity by the free Cubans and the other American countries;
- e. His appreciation that the Soviets will not be willing to risk a nuclear war over Cuba;
- f. Condemnation of Mexico for her dealings with Cuba, for failure to abide by her obligations in the OAS, and for permitting the Castroites to operate out of Mexico against other American countries;
- g. The need for action against Mexico;

16/7/71

k. Acceptance of security restrictions and his decision to hold the information to those present.

7. In replying to the remarks of [redacted] I said that we appreciate the cooperation of Guatemala in the [redacted] and that we shall be most interested in the exploitation of the possibilities in the present case. I added that the matter of using force against Cuba is a policy matter on which I was not competent to comment but that the decisions made by the United States Government are based on careful study of detailed information including information on Soviet intentions and capabilities.

8. At the conclusion of the meeting, [redacted] asked for a copy of the LCI requirements (which he already had gone over closely) and took the copy with him to study further.
