- In 2022, the Secretary of HHS transitioned the DOD-HHS partnership that was formerly called Operation Warp Speed into ASPR as the HHS Coordination and Operations Response Element or H-CORE. Moving H-CORE fully into ASPR gives ASPR sole responsibility for the development, manufacture, and distribution of the nation's COVID-19 vaccines and therapeutics.
- The Office of Industrial Base Management and Supply Chain seeks to build permanent Industrial Base Expansion (IBx) capabilities, inclusive of global supply chain situational awareness, market capabilities, and rapid acquisition execution, to reinforce ASPR as the authority to coordinate the activities related to medical industrial base expansion and sustainment through the use of Defense Production Act and Emergency Support Function (ESF) 8 authorities.
- The Office of Preparedness is responsible for policy development, planning, analysis, requirements, and strategic planning. This Office also manages and operates the HHS Secretary's Operation Center (SOC), intelligence, security, information management and analysis, and is also responsible for the HHS Continuity of Operations (COOP) and the development of the ASPR COOP Plan.
- The Office of Response oversees activities required to coordinate public health and healthcare response systems and activities with relevant federal, state, tribal, territorial, local, and international communities under the National Response Framework and Emergency Support Annexes #8, #6 and #14; and the National Recovery Framework Recovery Support Function #3 Health and Social Services.
- The Strategic National Stockpile (SNS) is part of the federal medical response infrastructure and can supplement medical countermeasures needed by states, tribal nations, territories, and the largest metropolitan areas during public health emergencies.
