The National Commission on Food Marketing was established for one year by PL 88-354 on July 3, 1964. It was extended for one year by PL 89-20, approved on May 15, 1965. The duties of the Commission were to study and appraise the marketing structure of the food industry. Its goals were to examine changes within the previous two decades and predict likely changes based on current trends; to recommend the kind of food industry that would provide appropriate services to consumers while maintaining an acceptable level of competition among producers; to recommend appropriate legislation, Federal Government regulation, and dissemination of market news to achieve that goal; and to examine the impact of imported food on the domestic food market.

The Commission submitted its final report to the President in June 1966 and was officially terminated 90 days later. No successor agency was named. The 114 cubic feet of records are stored at the Washington National Records Center in accession number 220-67A-156. The records were maintained by administrative division
